FEMALE MEDICAL EDUCATION.

There is now in this city, furnished with proper recommendations, Mrs. Anna Goulding, an approved and successful Agent of the New England Female Medical College, who visits our city for the purpose of giving persons an opportunity to contribute to the funds of the Institution.

She can also give any desirable and proper information of the purpose and object of the institution, to ladies or gentlemen who seek it, and has for distribution the Fourth Annual Report of the Society and the sixth Annual Advertisement of the College from the latter. We copy a few items which will bring the institution before the reader for favorable consideration.

The New England Female Medical College was opened in the year 1848, being, by the period of two years, the first institution of the kind in America; it is located in Boston, and is conducted and sustained by the Female Education Society, organized in the same year, and incorporated by the Massachusetts Legislature, for the purpose indicated by the name of the Association. The officers of the Society, are, of course, the Officers of the College.

Gentlemen and ladies become members of the Association by the payment of one dollar annually, and life members by the payment of twenty dollars. It is optional with the annual members to continue one year or more. The Society has near a hundred life members, and some five thousand have paid the fee of annual membership for one year or more. By the aid of funds thus obtained and other donations of small or larger amount, the Society has done what was practicable to promote the cause of Female Medical education generally, and has sustained its institution for the past five years. As there is need of more funds for these objects, persons disposed to volunteer their aid are respectfully invited to do so. The receipts from the tuition of the pupils have been appropriated towards remunerating the lecturers.

One of the Professors, Dr. Tracy, was formerly a Missionary Physician of the American Board to the Chinese, and is a gentleman of much experience, and author of a valuable work, entitled 'The Mother and her Offspring,' recently published by the Harbers.

In the Preface of this volume Dr. Tracy says:—"For more than nineteen yeas the writer has been engaged in the study and practice of the medical. Unusual circumstances have given him a most familiar social, as well as professional acquaintance with a large number of young women, who, soon after marriage, had removed far away from their paternal homes, and had thus been deprived of those necessary instructions from their elder and more experienced friends which are enjoyed by those more favorably situated. The natural result has been a far more intimate and perfect knowledge of their peculiar wants and feelings than could otherwise have been obtained."

A WIFE WANTED.

A neighbor who keeps an intelligence office, has handed us the following business letter, which we publish verbatim et literatim, suppressing only the name of the man and the town where he lives. We don't apprehend that our middle aged women will all speak at once—but if they do, let them speak to Mr. Gilbert, who will show them the letter with real date and signature.

Rose-Cottage, —— Mass. 19th June 1853.

Keeper of Intelligence Office, Portsmouth:

Sir, I am a bachelor of 50, without incumbrance, I own a very pleasant furnished cottage House and garden of fruits and flowers, and am in easy circumstances, I am temperate in my habits, and honest in my transactions, I want a wife. It is incovenient for me to leave home, but I will be very happy to receive a middle aged American woman, (from 25 to 45) free from disease and incumbrance, who is able and willing to afford $1 per week, or $52 per year, (half it costs for her board,) toward family expenses. Such a lady would find in me a very kind and provident husband, and could not fail to be pleased with my situation which is delightfully pleasant.

If you could furnish me with such a woman I should like to have her come soon as she can, and if agreeable, I would immediately marry her at my house, without subjecting her to any trouble or expense. She would enjoy an easy and pleasant life.—If my offer is accepted I shall be pleased to receive a letter (prepaid to denote sincerity) from the lady, or from you by her authority, stating particulars and when she will surely come. The roses and pinks which abound before my House, are now in full bloom and I should like to have her come in season to enjoy the scene. Please not disclose my name to any except the lady who accepts my offer, which holds good while I am single—succeed and I will remit to you immediately after we wed, twice the usual fee.

Respectfully, — — ——

P. S. My cottage is nearly opposite the E. R. R. Depot here and has no window sashes, and as any of the conductors or express men, who are daily passing, will inform me, is a neat and pleasant place.—N. B. I should like to have the lady come soon as possible.

A "RICH" GOLD PLACER AT NORTH WELLFLEET.—On Saturday morning last, while Capt. Daniel Rich of North Wellfleet, was in pursuit of his horse in the pasture, he discovered a large number of blackfish, a species of whale, some of which were high and dry, and others soon run upon the beach. With the aid of his two boys he succeeded in securing no less than eighty-two of the valuable fish, which yielded from 75 to 80 barrels of oil, worth from 55 to 60 cents per gallon, or say in aggregate, $1300. A pretty good morning's work.

WHO 'S GUILTY?

The Providence Journal referring to the acquittal of Comstock, the conductor of the train which was recklessly plunged into the draw of Norwalk bridge, says "the Judge having told the jury that they must fix their law to suit themselves, it was not strange that they differed, and were so long in agreeing upon a verdict, or, that the minority finally yielded in a matter where they were obliged to trust their own judgment upon points that only lawyers are qualified to decide."

No one shall ever justly reproach us with undervaluing legal skill, or the men who possess it. But we have never been able to see any thing other than a very plain case in this of Conductor Comstock. The Boston Daily Advertiser, though not agreeing with us in the opinion that the jury should judge both law and fact, yet intimates of this case, that the law as settled by the jury agrees with the instructions of the judge, and also with the general course of public opinion. We think so too; and do not believe a jury of twelve men could have been found any where, without packing, who would have brought Comstock in guilty of manslaughter. The most they could have done in that direction would have been to disagree.

We have already distributed the blame where we think it chiefly belongs, between the company and the public; the conductor not being wholly blameless, but by no means so near a man-slayer as hundreds of other parties concerned, whom the law cannot reach.

We do not remember that any nice point of law was raised, unless there might be one so very nice that we could not see it at all.—Plain common sense decided this case—and did it right.

☞ The Knickerbocker for September, though not usually a pictorial, is illustrated(!) with an odd-looking wood cut of an odd-looking Shanghae Rooster, which is accompanied with not a very bad story or history of said rooster. This rare bird, be it known, is on the "editorial table." We think we should decidedly prefer a good Turkey on ours, about Christmas or thanksgiving.

There are a good many rich, racy and humorous papers besides, in the Knick.—Long may it wave. Its publishers are Samuel Hueston, New York: Fetridge and Crosby & Nichols, Boston.

INFRINGEMENT OF COPYRIGHT.—The New York Evening Post calls attention to the fact that an article in the June number of Putnam's Monthly, called "Uncle Bernard's Story," has been copied into the September number of Harper's Magazine, in the usual style of robbery adopted by that periodical. The penalty established by law of reprinting a copyright book, without permission, is a fine of fifty cents on every sheet, half to go to the holder of the copyright, and half to the United States, besides the forfeit of all the printed copies. As the Harper's say they print 125,000 copies of their magazine, the neat little sum of $62,500, to be divided between Mr. Putnam and the government, may "be recovered by action of debt in any court having competent jurisdiction," if Mr. Putnam chooses to follow the matter up, and if it shall prove that the individual articles in a magazine are separately protected by the copyright of the whole.

The Boston Advertiser learns from good authority that the legal advisers of Messrs G. P. Putnam & Co, have been making out an application for an injunction to prevent Messrs. Harper & Brothers from selling the September number of their magazine, and the questions presented by this case will be brought before a legal tribunal.

THE WORLD'S TEMPERACE CONVENTION is in session in New York. Resolves in favor of the Maine law were reported, but the Hon. John P. Hale, though he spoke three times, was very careful to make no reference whatever to the liquor law. Jack can't swallow that."—Boston Chronicle.

That's true: he neither swallows the law nor the liquor. Being himself a total abstinent, he defended a great liquor dealer in Dover some years since, against a prosecution for a breach of the New Hampshire License Law: and we have understood, though we do not vouch for the fact, that he is not in favor of the Maine Law or of liquor laws generally,—but rather of moral suasion.

☞ Rev. G. N. Boardman has refused a call from the Congregational church in Danvers, Ms., with a salary of $1200, and accepts a professorship in Middlebury College, at a salary of $750.

SUNDAY MAILS.—Where the service is limited to a mere carrying of the mail on a great thoroughfare, without any passenger trains attached, a regard is shown for the day and its sanctions which are distinct and conspicuous: and although, as individuals, we should much prefer that the mails, too, should rest on that day, (for they cannot be run without employing the time of sundry individuals, who need a Sabbath and its privileges as much as others) yet, considering the various opinions and interests of men, we doubt whether the religious part of the community can reasonably expect a nearer approximation to their views.—Journal of Commerce.

GUANO.—Baron Humboldt, in a recent letter, states that he was the first who brought guano to Europe, of which Klaproth and Vanquelin published an analysis. During forty years he preached, but always in vain, the usefulness of this substance; but it is only fifteen or eighteen years since it has at last become a great article of commerce.

LOCAL.

"FAREWELL."—Rev. Mr. Holmes preached his farewell sermon at the Pleasant Street Church, yesterday afternoon. His text was from II. Corinthians, 13th chapter and 11th verse: "Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you." The discourse was very interesting and touching, and attentively listened to by a large audience. The services were closed by singing a valedictory hymn, appropriate to the occasion, which we publish on our outside this morning.

During his connection with this society, which has lasted two years and ten months, 109 persons have been taken into the church by baptism.

Mr. Holmes' departure is sincerely regretted by the society which has been under his charge; and he leaves numerous friends outside his own flock. We wish him all success in the new enterprise which is to receive his attention hereafter.

RECOLLECTIONS OF OLD ACQUAINTANCE.

Died, at his residence near Belleville, New Jersey, August 31, John Burley Hill, aged 77. Mr Hill was a native of New Market, but "served his time" in the town of Portsmouth, with Deacon Elisha Hill, and when of age, married here, and went into an extensive business as a ship and carriage blacksmith, and a maker of plough-irons and axes. Several years afterwards he was appointed head blacksmith on the Navy Yard at this station, which place he held for a number of years, and until his removal to the Navy Yard at Brooklyn, N. Y., on account of being appointed to a similar charge of the blacksmith work at that place. There he finished his course as a first class mechanic, retiring when quite aged. He was here an early, we think an original, member of the Mechanic Association; was a member of the Masonic Brotherhood; and also for many years a member, and for several years a Deacon of the North Church.

In all these relations; in those of domestic life; and in quite a variety of fortune and misfortune—he was patient, calm, firm, and in himself generally a happy man; while he was beloved, esteemed and respected by his fellow men and Christian brothers.

This house, in this city, built for his residence, is the one now occupied by Mayor Walker,—and his large blacksmithing establishment, (which was then rather ahead of the times,) stood at the south of it, toward the wharf.

RATHER STICKY.—A truckman, in hauling a load of tar through Fleet street a few days since, dropped one barrel, the contents of which were left near the cross-pavement on Hanover street. It has since been the cause of varied trouble: horses and carriages get besmeared, causing great growling among the hostlers, who find it don't easily curry off the animals whose narrow stalls compel them to lie on their dirty feet, nor facilitate wheel-washing—dogs and cats help spread the plaster everywhere—ladies' fashionably-long trains are finely adapted to remove the nuisance to other situations—nice testy gentlemen may often be seen scraping and rubbing their soles with a will; and altogether, we've had considerable sport from it, since we learned to keep out of it. We wish teamsters would deposit their pitch elsewhere in future.

THE DEATHS AT PENSACOLA.—Mr. Fauntleroy was a purser, and not a Captain. Capt. Baker, is doubtless Brevet Maj. D. D. Baker, well known, and some time a resident in this city.

AN ITEM FOR THE MARVELLOUS. The following remarkable statements were made to us by Mr. Robert L. Ellis, of Medford, deacon of the first Baptist Church in that town, and a very excellent man. On Wednesday evening last, a Mr. Edwards, a member of a band died suddenly at his residence on Ship street. Mr. Ellis kindly called upon the afflicted family to tender his services to perform those offices required at such time. He had been in the house but a few moments when he heard the notes of a post horn coming seemingly from an appartment in the house; the sounds—the same notes were repeateed at intervals of from five to ten minutes, at least half a dozen times. Annoyed by it, he searched the house and vicinity to discover the cause, but without success. There were ten or twelve other persons in the room, all of whom heard the sounds, and all were utterly at a loss to account for them.

Mr. Litchfield, a very respectable man, who occupies a part of the house, suggested that the sounds proceeded from a certain closet.—It was opened, and they were more distinct, On a shelf laid the post horn of the deceased. It was removed by request; the sounds ceased and have not since been heard.

We know Mr. Ellis personally as a gentleman of intelligence and strictest integrity.—He says all who were there will testify to the same facts. Here is, then, an item for the marvellous, which has caused no little excitement in Medford.—Boston Chronicle.

THE WORLD'S TEMPERANCE CONVENTION. OLD BULL'S CONCERT.—New York, Sept 2. the Whole World's Temperance Convention had a large audience last evening. Effective addresses were made by Miss Lucy Stone, P. T. Barnum and Horace Greeley. The Convention is in session again to-day. Rev. Wm. H. Channing, Col. Ephraim L. Snow, Rev. John Pierpont, Lucretia Mott, Mrs Bloomer, and others, will address it.

Ole Bull's concert last evening, for the benefit of the New Orleans sufferers, was so crowded that there was no sitting room for two-thirds of the audience, and hundreds were turned from the doors unable to gain admittance.

LATE FROM VENEZUELA—MORE EARTHQUAKES AT CUMANA.—New York, Sept. 3. Advices from Venezuela of Aug. 18th state that the political disturbance in that state had been nearly settled. Two other earthquakes it is said had occurred at Cumana, completely destroying what remained of the town.—No lives lost. Business was very dull at Porto Cabello. No Coffee in the market. Hides 12 a 12 1-4 c; salted 10 1-4 a 10 1-2 c. Cocoa superior 20 a 20 1-4 c. American Flour $15.

THE PARDONING CASE OF ENDYMOIN.—Auburn, N Y., Sept. 2.—In the case of Endymoin, charged with obtaining his pardon from the State Prison by forged papers, Judge Humphreys decided, this morning, that he could not go behind the Governor's pardon, and therefore Endymoin must be discharged.

AN EDITOR SHOT.—Mr. Hall, one of the editors of the New Orleans Crescent, was shot while in his office, on the 27th ult., by Mr. Houghton, a lawyer. It is feared that his wound will prove fatal.

OUT OF DATE.—A paragraph going the rounds relative to Miss Farley's editing the Lowell Offering, and doing all the work but the printing, is at least two years old. The "Offering" has not been published within that time, and Miss. F. is not a resident of Lowell. It is singular that any Lowell paper should circulate such a paragraph as an item of news.

PROFITS OF CONCERT SINGERS.—Madame Sontag, (who has been one of the most successful of her profession, and therefore is not to be taken as a specimen of the whole,) it is said, deposited with Count Rossi, previous to May last, $42,000 as her net profits from singing, since her arrival in this country. This was done, notwithstanding something like $18,000 was paid for renting concert rooms, nearly $7000 for advertising, and sums of $5000 to $8000 or $9000 to musicians for professional services, besides numerous other expenditures.

Notwithstanding the general impression that Madame Alboni was less successful than Madame Sontag, it is believed that the former lady realized more during her brief stay than the latter. This may be accounted for by the fact that Madame Alboni's expenses were never on a very liberal scale, while those of Madame Sontag have been increased by the engagement of much additional talent.

SONTAG AND THE PRESS.—Madame Sontag has published a letter over her own name, giving a full and unqualified denial to the $15,000 black mail story. The allegation of the Musical Times, moreover, she not only pronounces "absurd," but expresses her belief that it has been advanced with an unworthy motive, and as such she considers it an insult to herself, as well as to the public press. She says that "after examining the accounts of expenses incurred during my stay in this country, I find only one item that has reference to the different newspapers; that is a sum of $6,701.32 for advertising my concerts and operas in all parts of the Union that I have visited."

CROPS IN EUROPE.—From the statements made in dificrent quarters, the New Orleans Bulletin collects the following facts :

The probable result of the harvest in France is variously spoke of, but those best informed appear to apprehend a serious deficiency. The Government seems to entertain some fears on the subject, and has repealed the differential duties on corn. It is more than probable the purchases of wheat and flour, will continue to be made in the English markets from time to time on French account.—In the north of Europe the crops are, on the whole, tolerably well spoken of, but in the south more especially in the Italian States, there is a very serious deficiency.

Most accounts agree in representing the standing crop of wheat as one of the worst seen for many years. The accounts relating to the hay harvest are distressing: the price of hay has risen nearly 50 per cent. Potatoes in England are reported to show unmistakable symptoms of extensive disease.

In Scotland the crops are not much injured by the late rains, the retarding ripening process is the chief cause of complaint there.—From Ireland the accounts respecting the growing crops are, on the whole, favorable; only in partial cases is the disease spoken of. The opinion is that this season it will be less violent and more circumscribed than in any former years.

The potato disease has again made its appearance with considerable virulence in the southern counties of England. The crop in the island of Guernsey, from whence the London market is largely supplied, is universally affected. There is every prospect that the United States will be placed under contribution for a large amount of breadstuffs. Employment is good in Great Britain, with a steady appreciation of wages, and the consumption of food will be on an enlarged scale.—The emigration to Australia will likewise absorb a large amount of provisions.

THE CONCUSSION TRAIN.—A Scotch paper states that a woman came to the railway station at Montrose, panting for breath, and stepping on the platform, cried out in an anxious voice, "Where is it? where is it? where's the concushun train? I want to go in the concushun train!" An elderly man tapped the good woman on the shoulder, and jocosely remarked, "My good woman, I hope there will be no such train as you seek to-day; but you are confounding terms sometimes synonymous; there, that is the excursion train."

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT!

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and illness, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.
Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.
What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—nor cured still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.
In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S
Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.
One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]
First published in 1847, and it is not
SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,
Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

HALF A MILLION COPIES

should have been sold.
It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery, when those we hold most near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be Ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1294, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

THE TWO ARMIES.—The United States army numbers about 10,000 men, and they cost the country last year $8,225,246 for pay, subsistence, clothing, &c. That is to say, $820 per man; or if we deduct the militia expenses, $800 per man.

The Illinois Central Railroad army numbers ten thousand men also, and they receive from the company $3,000,000 per annum, in return for which they labor twelve hours per day upon a work which gradually stretches itself through the most fertile plains, connecting the great lakes with the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, and ultimately with the Gulf of Mexico.

RAISING OF THE CHEROKEE.—The hull of the burned steamship Cherokee was raised yesterday by means of steam pumps and other apparatus, and is now afloat. The fire did little or no damage below the lower deck, and the engine is almost uninjured. A large portion of the cargo has been got out, and a schooner load was sold at auction yesterday.
N. Y. Commercial.

ARTESIAN WELL.—The Artesian well on Court House Square, runs freely a beautiful, pure stream of excellent water—sufficient for all necessary purposes. It is invaluable to the city, and the contractors have demonstrated the fact that water, in sufficient quantities, and of good quality, can be raised to the surface.—Montgomery (Ala.) Journal.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NEGATIVE PRINCIPLE, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting decase; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be taken by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

Doctor Alfred G. Hall may be consulted by letter, or in person at his rooms, No. 15 Winter St., Boston, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. ☞ Medicines, &c. forwarded by Express to any part.

PATENTS.
American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the act of 1836,) is determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others), will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in the U. S. and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity, where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is the

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom
AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE:

N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

READ! READ! READ!
DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,
With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. R. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.
JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

THE GREAT SOLAR ECLIPSE OF MAY 26, 1854.—We saw in the Portsmouth Athæneum a few months since, the calculations of an annular Eclipse of the sun, made by Alfred M. Hoyt, Esq., of this city, accompanied by diagrams of the eclipse at this place and also of its appearance in Boston. Since then we have seen corresponding calculations of the eclipse published in the Illustrated Almanac for 1854. As an annular eclipse of the like magnitude rarely occurs in our immediate locality, its central line being only fifteen miles north of Portsmouth, it will here be a matter of some interest.

During this eclipse the apparent diameter of the moon will be a little less than that of the sun, and therefore the sun cannot in any place be entirely or totally eclipsed. This circumstance also will cause a bright ring of light to be formed around the darkened parts of the sun. This ring will be only about one-third of a digit wide, and will be visible only in the vicinity where the line of central eclipse passes. The eclipse is central in lon. 73° 55 W. of Greenwhich, lat. 44° 14 N.; and in lon. 64° 55 W. lat. 42° 10 N. By finding these positions upon a map, and drawing a line from one to the other, the towns through which the central eclipse passes will be readily discovered. The path of the annular eclipse will be about 100 miles wide, and extend about 50 miles each side of the line described. It will move about 100 miles per minute.

The line of central and annular eclipse begins at sunrise in the Pacific Ocean near the Caroline Islands, lon. 162° 51 E. lat. 6° 43 N., and passes northeasterly near the Sandwich Islands, enters the United States a little north of Astoria in Oregon, and then travelling nearly easterly, passes through Lake Superior to the Atlantic Ocean in York co., Me., 15 miles north of Portsmouth, N. H. It ends at sunset, lon. 51° 53 W., lat. 36° 18 N.

The first time this eclipse ever occurred was in 1813, July 2; since then it has returned 31 times, including its return this year. It occurred in April 1800, in May 1818, and in May 1836. It will return again in June 1872. Its last return will be in the year 2593, Aug. 19.—Portsmouth Journal.

"I don't know," said Mrs Partington, "I don't know about these Angular Saxons being any better than our old fashioned ones." Ike had been reading to her an article upon the destiny of the Anglo-Saxon race. "And as for the race, Isaac," and her voice fell to a pitch of deep solemnity as she spoke, "it is n't proper at all; for when a funeral goes too quick—to say nothing about racing—it always is a forerunner, sometimes, that somebody 'll die before the year's out. The old saxons were full fast enough, naturally; and arter the parish gin our saxon the surfeit of plate for his officious services, it spruced him right up, and it seemed as if it would have pleased him to bury all of 'em he was so grateful. No, no, we don't want any Angular Saxons, Isaac, when our own are full good enough."

Ike, as she was talking, had amused himself with tying the old lady's snuff box in the corner of his handkerchief, and was experimentally swinging it around his head; and she ceased just as the box, released from the knot, dashed against the opposite side, scattering thr pungent powder in plenteous profusion upon the sanded floor. Of course, he didn't mean to do it, and that was all that saved him.—Boston Post.

FALL OF A PIECE OF CHALK.—A destructive fire lately occured at Dover, in England, by which the extensive premises of Walker & Co., oil merchants, and other property, were destroyed, amounting in value to £50,000.—The buildings burnt were situated beneath the cliff—and while the firemen were busily at work, some person cried out, "Take care of yourselves—the cliff is a falling!" The men scattered in every direction—but before all could escape, "a piece of chalk" fell from the cliff, fifty feet long, forty feet wide and sixty deep, and estimated to weigh at least two thousand tons. It fell with a noise resembling the discharge of cannon, and buried beneath it the apparatus of one of the engines and several of the firemen. It was supposed that several persons were walking on the cliff at the time, and when it fell were buried with it, as they were missing. The immediate cause of the accident is supposed to be the great heat of fire, which expanded the chalk.

Three or four weeks ago an amusing incident took place in one of the most splendid of the New York Motels, which is too good not to be related. A distinguished southern gentleman, formerly a member of the cabinet, was a boarder in the house, and preferring not to eat at the table d'hote, had his meals served in his own parlor with all the elegance for which the establishment is noted. Being somewhat annoyed with the airs of the servant who waited on him—a negro of very sooty complexion—he desired him one day at dinner, to retire. The negro bowed, and took his stand directly behind the gentleman's chair. Supposing him gone, it was with some impatience that a few minutes after, the gentleman saw him step forward to remove the soup. "Fellow," said he, leave the room. I wish to be alone." "Excuse me, sir," said Cuffee, drawing himself up stiffly, "but I'm responsible for the silver."

SINGULAR ESCAPE.—Mr. Skinner, of Sherburne, Chenango county, N. Y., in the thunder storm of Saturday evening last, had his barn struck and burnt early in the evening. After this shower was partially over, Mr. S. had occasion to proceed to his pasture, and before he could get back, the shower returned, and the rain fell so heavily that he took refuge in a large hollow tree. After being there a short time, he got a little nervous, and concluded it was better to proceed on in the rain. He had not proceeded eight rods when a thunder bolt shivered the identical tree in pieces! During the shower, his house was struck, soon after he reached it. So, rising above the consideration of his loss, which falls with no little severity upon one of his pecuniary means, must begin an outpouring of thankfulness to God for the Providential preservation of his life.

A MAN SHOT BY A SNAKE.—A letter in the Philadelphia Ledger states that a few days ago a man named Louman, storekeeper in Siddonsburg, York County, was out gunning, when he discovered a large snake, and in order quickly to secure it from running away he placed the butt of his rifle, loaded with a ball at the time, upon the body of the snake, with his hand directly across the muzzle. The snake, in its writhings to free itself, coiled around the gun stock, and with one of his coils struck the hammer, which was down upon the cap at the time, hard enough to discharge the gun, the contents of which entered the ball of the hand near the wrist, and, in a diagonal direction, came out between the juncture of the little finger and the one next to it. Happily no bones were broken.

NEAL DOW'S ANSWERS.

Neal Dow, in the State of Maine of Sept. 5, has a reply to John Neal, mostly personal; but as far as it goes, quite thorough; and more is coming.

In regard to a supposed description of Neal's son, about which he felt aggrieved, Mr. Dow says:

I have only to say, that the description was not intended for him or his son; it was of an ordinary case of ruin by strong drink, which was related to me by the Rev. Dr. Beecher, of Albany, as having occurred in Connecticut. All the context shows, as well as the passage here quoted, that the description does not apply to his case at all. The father of the boy alluded to, was a man of great wealth, of commanding influence in the community, and "every way qualified to lead public opinion."

This tale professes to relate cases of ruin by the use of strong drinks. All of them may have occurred in Europe, for anything which appears in the article. The particular passage complained of by Mr. Neal, does not describe his case at all, in any particular, as he declares; and yet he professes to think it was intended for him. I repeat that the description does not at all apply to him; that it was not intended for him, and that he had no reason that I am aware of for taking it to himself. The whole of it clearly shows that it could not apply to him;—and in connexion with this article, he adds: "And therefore I have called him unprincipled and treacherous." This is a sequitur which no one but Mr. Neal could imagine. It is to be hoped that his religious expectations have a better foundation to rest upon.

Dow gets over several of Neal's stories very well, and reasserts the statements of the police, jailkeepers, &c.—In noticing the great number of fires in Dow's administration, (of which we copied a statement from Neal,)—Dow replies as follows:

His object is to show that the fires and alarms of that year grew out of a spirit of resistance to the Liquor Law. There was not one conflagration during that year, which was supposed to grow out of any such cause. No attending circumstances pointed in that direction; and it remains for Mr. Neal to suggest the firing of a city, as a way for bad men to terrify the community from the enactment of good laws. These fires, so far as they were the result of design, were undoubtedly the work of reckless boys, not properly trained by their parents.

That year, however, was by no means remarkable for the number of its fires, occasioned by incendiaries. Many times before that, Portland had been annoyed by frequent fires—and but two or three years before, the city was so greatly alarmed, that a large citizens' patrol was organized. Many other cities also—where grog shops are tolerated and cherished—have been at times alarmed by incendiary fires. It remains, however, for Mr. Neal to suggest a compromise with incendiaries, by repealing laws which may be obnoxious to them. If these fires had been really the work of bad men, out of resentment for the shutting up of the grog shops, most persons would say, "let them burn our houses, but spare our sons." Mr. Neal may prefer the opposite of that sentiment.

So far as the personal controversy goes, Mr. Dow has the better of it at present.—This, however, is comparatively a small matter.

We hope Mr. Dow will give the moral statistics of Portland for the year ending March, 1853, and also if he can get them, for the six months from March to the present time.—They will be read with interest.

So also, if some responsible person in Bangor, will procure some account of the amount of liquor sold there five years ago, we can compare it with Mr. Neal's statement of the $5000 or $6000 profits of the agency. On this subject, and on all subjects, we wish for facts. Give us these; and we can form our own arguments, and if need be, do our own scolding: but without these facts, we may walk and talk at random.

☞ The September Nos. of the Water Cure and the Phrenological Journals, are received from the Publishers, Fowler & Wells, New York—always welcome visitors. Mr. Morse will furnish them, at $1 per year each, only.

The Servant Maids of New York contemplate a "movement." They held a meeting on Thursday night, and Mrs. Glean delivered a lecture, in the course of which she denounced most bitterly the Intelligence Offices of New York. She proposed that all the female servants unite, and by subscription have a building of their own, which would serve as a registry office, where they would no longer be exposed to the evils under which they now labor. The attendance was not very large, but an effort is to be made for a general convocation, for the purpose of "ameliorating the condition" of the oppressed servants.

The Death of Lopez.—The Cubans of New York had a meeting at the Apollo rooms on Friday to commemorate the second anniversary of the death of Lopez. The attendance was quite large, and Don Gasper Betancourt presided. A catafalque was erected at the upper end of the hall, surmounted by a bronze urn, and variously devised with patriotic and funeral emblems. On either side of the catafalque were plaster statues, representing "Young America" and "Young Cuba." President Betancourt paid an eloquent tribute to the Cuban martyrs. John S. Thrasher and others followed. All the speeches were in Spanish. The ceremonies were conducted with decorum, and were highly interesting.

NAVAL REFORM.

There has much been said and written concerning the reorganization of the naval service, says the Republic, much by men wholly unacquainted with its wants, and much by men who, though they should be acquainted with that service, have been swayed by private interest, or, taking it as a political subject, cared little whether the naval service were benefitted or otherwise as long as their ends were accomplished.

There can be no doubt but there is a necessity for re-organization; first, the navy has been crippled by the abolishment of many of the laws for its government without the substitution of any to fill their place. The old laws were compiled at the time our navy first sprang into existence, and are by no means adapted to the wants of the present day. The abolition of corporal punishment as facts themselves plainly demonstrate, has injured the efficiency of our vessels-of-war, and is at the present time one cause of the difficulty experienced in shipping men to man our national vessels, for the best seamen will not serve where they are not only obliged to do their own work, but in addition that of a set of skulking vagabonds, (always found in a man-of-war,) who fear nothing but the lash, and prefer confinement to exposure and work.

There are many officers of the navy who are incapacitated from service, but having done good service to the country should be honorably retired, making room for those able to perform active service. There are also those whose standing is such as to disqualify them from receiving commands.—Means should be devised for placing such men at least out of the line of the service and supplying their places with officers of character and standing; and no officer, whose standing is not good on the records of the Navy Department, should ever be promoted to the higher grades.

For all purposes of detailing and ordering officers, a navy officer, as adjutant, should be attached to the Navy Department, who, besides relieving the Secretary from this care, would by his knowledge of the personnel of the navy, be better able to assign duties in accordance with the aptness of officers for certain duties.

The Secretary of the Navy should convene a board, carefully selected from the three highest grades of the navy, to form a plan of reorganization, naval laws, &c., and submit such to Congress.

The preceding remaks are from the Portsmouth, Virginia, Transcript, and though the thoughts are not new, are yet entitled to attention, as they come from a paper which generally seem to be well informed in Naval Affairs, and to speak the language of many officers of the Navy. Lamentations over the loss of flogging seems to us about as idle as mourning over the United States Bank—one "institution" being as obsolete as the other. But it ought not to be winked out of sight, that the petitions which prayed for the stopping of the lash, prayed at the same time for the stoppage of the grog, which everyone knows to be one of the most common procuring causes of floggings and troubles on ship board. Stop this: abolish all the bounties for enlistment; give the common sailors good pay, and a chance to rise—and the Navy will rise also.

Great Fire at Augusta.—On Saturday morning at about three o'clock, a fire broke out in one of the mills at the west end of the Augusta Dam. Before any alarm was given, two buildings were hopelessly on fire. When the citizens and firemen came rushing to the rescue, they found the flues with which these mills were furnished for the emergency of fire, rendered useless and destroyed by the flames. To this unfortunate circumstance the immense subsequent damage is in part attributable. Before the devouring element was arrested, it had consumed two saw mills, a spool factory, two planing mills, a grist mill, a boarding house, and an immense quantity of lumber prepared for shipping. In and about these buildings were great quantities of shavings and such-like combustibles, adding tenfold fury to the flames. By this calamnity one hundred men were thrown out of employment. The loss of property is roughly estimated at $140,000.

We also learn that the dam was injured to an extent sufficient to stop the cotton factory below. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Homicide at East Boston.—On Friday night a woman named Mary Baine, who resided on Lewis street, was killed by her husband, Peter Baine, a hand cartman, under the following circumstances:—When Peter came home, he found her in front of his house. He was intoxicated, and told her to go into the back room: but she took no notice of what he said. He then seized hold of her with a view of carrying her there, and on the way, either shoved or struck her so that she fell backward, striking the back part of her head directly upon the floor with great violence. She was heard to exclaim, "Don't kill me." He then dragged her into the room, and went into the front part of the house.—The people in the house paid no attention to the woman, but a child of the deceased, who went into the room where her mother was, returned and said she would not speak to her.—The people then went in, and found that she was dead, not having moved since her husband dragged her in. Her head was probably fractured by the fall. The husband was arrested, and committed to await the result of investigation.

Progress of Portland.—As a couple of gentlemen visiters were looking around Portland the other day, they were met by an old man 87 years of age, who called their attention to a certain locality, and said: "That lot of land, that could not now be purchased for a million of dollars, was once bought by my father for $25, and he was cheated in paying that price." What a change, in the lifetime of one man!—Probably the next census will show a population there of fifty thousand people, and Portland will be likely to keep next after Boston, and perhaps in the course of time, follow hard upon our metropolis. Their public spirit and enterprise deserve this prosperity.

LOCAL.

Tricks of Type.—Types, like "figures, cannot lie,"—but when they get loose, and crooked, they tell strange stories, unless some friend at hand takes the responsibility of putting them straight again. This we shall proceed to do, "just now."

In the Daily of Monday, though our recollections placed the blacksmith's shop of Mr. Hill on the North of Mayor Walker's house, the types took the liberty of putting it on the South, which the Selectmen of that day would by no means have permitted, for it would have been plump in the highway.

Worse than this, even, the trickish types took the windows out of our friend the Bachelor's Cottage, at a most improper time, just as he was wooing a maiden, through the newspaper, to come and be engaged therein. The cottage, by the types, "has no window sashes." This looks badly: and we fear the bachelor may pull out his hair by handfulls in his rage and vexation,—for he wrote, "my cottage has red window sashes," by which he meant they are modern and pretty.

Chowder Party.—A number of the friends of Rev. Mr. Holmes got up a pleasure party yesterday, and went down the river in two large boats, leaving pier wharf about one o'clock. They landed at Frost's Point, partook of a capital chowder on the rocks, and had a grand time in general. The day was not so favorable as could have been wished, but as Mr. Holmes leaves the city to-day, it was the last opportunity they would have of showing their friendship for their late pastor. We rode down to the Point in the afternoon, and were treated in a very hospitable manner by our friends.

Accident in Greenland.—On Wednesday last, the wife of David C. Marston of Hampton, and her mother, were thrown from a wagon in Greenland, and seriously hurt.—The accident occurred by the breaking of some part of the harness, so as to let the wag on strike against the legs of the horse, when he became frightened, and they jumped from the carriage when the horse was going at the top of his speed. *

Small Pox in Hampton.—We learn that there has been of late, six cases of small-pox in Hampton. These cases have all occurred in the family of Francis P. Blake. They have been of a mild type and all are now doing well. Two or three cases occurred some time before, and the pest house being left open and exposed through the carelessness of the proper authorities, it is supposed that the present cases originated therefrom. Too much care cannot be taken in reference to preventing the spread of this contageous disease. *

Hampton Beach Public Houses.—We learn these houses of late have been reaping a fine harvest. The hot weather and the prevalence of disease in our city places have driven out of late, large numbers to the various watering places, and thus good encouragement is given those who provide for their accommodation. *

☞ On the first page, with other matters, will be found an account of the great solar eclipse which is to take place several months hence—the calculation for which was made by our talented and indefatigable townsman, A. M. Hoyt, Esq.

How to bother the Postmasters.—The following superscription is copied from a letter dropped into the Post Office in this city.

for Mrs. Captin L. Coffin JAY Me poust Office for Patrick McCartey N. H.

Queer Biddy.—In Hampton, N. H., a hen afflicted with a morbid philoprogenitiveness, insanely presisted in setting upon a collection of eggs long after they had become addled.—The eggs were at length removed, and a cat deposited a litter of kittens in the nest, which was in a comfortably sheltered nook. The old hen still yearning for maternity, discovered the feline brood, and she is attending them with all her might—clucking around them, and sheltering them with her wings, in a manner quite perplexing to the real parent of the litter. This is a fact.—Boston Herald.

New Orleans, Aug. 29.—The Picayune says that a few days since, ten catholic priests and three Sisters of Charity had the yellow fever, and that the Rev. Father Gauthreaux and Sisters Alfponsa and St. Charles died with it; and that two Jesuit Priests and five Christian Brothers are now sick with the fever.

Among the other victims are Mrs. Dobb, the wife of the clergyman lately deceased, Thomas Dickinson, of Boston, and Sarah Olmsted, of Nawburg, N. Y. The total fever deaths thus far reported are six thousand four hundred and forty-nine.

Norfolk, Va. Sept. 3.—The British ship Samuel, from this port for St. Johns, was overhauled at sea, and searched; two slaves and one U. S. marine were found secreted on board. The captain expressed much astonishment, as he had the ship searched before she left Norfolk.

All hands have been brought back, and the captain has undergone an examination. It is supposed, however, that the crew of the Samuel are the guilty parties.

Cumberland, Sept. 3.—The total deaths for the week reported are twenty, of which a few were by cholera.

Accident.—We learn that Mr. Blakeslee, who has been overseer of the Yard for the Nashua Manufacturing Company, for the last 27 years, fell from a building in Nashua this morning, and was killed almost instantly.—we are not in possession of the particulars.—Manchester Mirror.

The New Lyceum.

Agreeably to published arrangements, a Course of fourteen or more Lectures, under the direction of the MECHANIC ASSOCIATION, will be given the approaching season.

The opening lecture will be given by Rev. T. STARR KING of Boston, to be followed by some of the most popular lecturers in New England.

The Directors of the Portsmouth Lyceum having decided to suspend their course the present season, the Lectures will be given on Tuesday evening of each week, commencing, Nov. 8th.

The price of tickets will be one dollar, to be had at the Bookstores, and of the Directors, C. W. Brewster, W. P. Gookin, Charles J. Colcord, Thos. Norton and James M. Carr.

By order of the Directors.
C. J. COLCORD, Sec'y.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ATLANTIC.

The steamship Atlantic, Captain West, arrived at New York at five o'clock on Saturday afternoon, bringing Liverpool dates to the 24th of August, and making the passage in a little less than ten days.

ENGLAND. Parliament was prorogued on the 20th by commission. The Queen's speech was entirely congratulatory. America was not mentioned. The following are the leading points:—

"My Lords and Gentlemen—Her Majesty has seen with much satisfaction that by the remission and reduction of taxes, tended to cramp operations of trade and industry, you have given fresh extension to a system of beneficient legislation, and have largely increased the means of obtaining the necessaries of life.

"The measure which you have passed for the future government of India has been readily sanctioned by her Majesty, in the persuasion that it will prove to have been wisely framed, and that it is well calculated to promote the improvement of Her Majesty's eastern provinces.

"It is with deep interest and concern that Her Majesty has viewed the serious misunderstanding which has recently arisen between Russia and the Ottoman Porte. The Emperor of the French has united with Her Majesty in earnest endeavors to reconcile the differences which might involve Europe in a war. Acting in concert with her allies, and relying on the exertions of the Conference now assembled at Vienna, Her Majesty has reason to hope that an honorable arrangement will speedily be accomplished."

An honorable arrangement of the Eastern question will speedily be accomplished.—Lord Palmerston stated in the House of Commons that he was confident that the Czar will evacuate the principalities without any unnecessary delay. The Eastern question otherwise offers nothing new, and appears no farther from, or nearer to adjustment than before.

Major General Lord Soulton is dead, aged 69 years. He was one of the Duke of Wellington's most intimate friends and a brother in arms, and served with General Sir John Moore in the campaign of the Peninsula.

Admiral Sir George Cockburn died recently, aged 82 years, and Sir Charles Napier is reported to be at the point of death.

CONTINENTAL AFFAIRS.—A decree of Napoleon fixes an uniform rate of duty on breadstuffs to twenty-five centimes until December 31st, and to the same date no tonnage dues on ships importing corn, and pro rata for parts of cargoes.

The Emperor and Empress of France have gone to Dieppe, and all the ships of war in the channel have been ordered to assemble in that port.

The text of the Austrian protest against the Smyrna affair is published and sent to all foreign ministers. It takes the ground that Captain Ingraham has broken the International law, as explained by Vattel and other jurists.

The import duties on breadstuffs into the two Sicilies has been repealed.

Some popular demonstrations against the authorities were made at Leghorn.

The export of breadstuffs has been prohibited from Greece.

LATEST. Paris, August 23. General Montholon, who shared in the Emperor Napoleon's captivity at St. Helena, died in Paris recently.

A despatch from Russia, dated Tagaurog, Aug. 3d, says that the result of the harvest is most favorable, and large purchases of Breadstuffs are making for exportation.

TURKEY. A conspiracy of Musselmen to kill Christians, has just been discovered at Aleppo.

An Austrian Internuncio officially announced that Austria has no intentions to encroach on the Sovereignty of Turkey, and would, if the Porte desired it, give up the military occupancy of Servia.

PIEDMONT. (Spezzia) August 19. The commander of the American frigate Cumberland gave a splendid ball on board that vessel to the Queen of Piedmont. Captain Ingraham, who had just arrived in the St. Louis, was present.

THE YELLOW FEVER AT NEW ORLEANS.—Mr. J. O. Harris of New Orleans writes, under date of August 31:—

The Howard Association have taken charge of about 9000 cases. Expect they will reach 12,000. Funds received, $70,000, but more are on the way. Bills presented to date, $93,000, and more behind. Our labors in the city are not so arduous, but calls are made on us for the fever outside. A number of cases have occured at the Lake and Mobile watering places. We fear it will spread there.—Deaths last 24 hours, 138; by fever, 110.—Weather bad.

We copy the following from the Delta of August 27:—

Mr. Charles H. Brady, who has had charge of the press-room of the Delta for sometime past, died of the prevailing epidemic, after a short illness, on Thursday, the 25th. This swells the number of victims, of the fever, in our office, to five—to wit: three compositors, one reporter, and one pressman. We have several others who are now down with the fever, and several others who have recovered.—One of our associates, in the editorial department, (Mr. Joseph Brenan,) after passing safely through the fever, has been ever since afflicted with blindness—for some days, total; but quite recently he has experienced a favorable change, and we hope, with the aid of country air, will be able soon to resume his post.

THE FEVER.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—The number of interments yesterday were 133; of fever 110.

Richard Hagan a well knowu citizen died Thursday.

Yesterday business was entirely suspended in accordance with the Mayor's proclamation.

NATCHES, September 3.—The deaths in this city average from 13 to 15 daily, out of a population which does not exceed 400.

MOBILE, Sept. 3.—The interments in this city yesterday were 37, which is a large increase.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the testimonials given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.
Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.
Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and moan, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.
What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him in sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.
In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.
One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]
First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.
It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and the simple [illegible] of our Ignorance is within our reach.
To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.
When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be Ignorant.

SHOPPING.

She stood beside the counter,
The day he'll ne'er forget,
She thought the muslin dearer,
Than any she'd seen yet;
He watched her playful fingers,
The silks and satins toss,
The clerk looked quite uneasy,
And nodded at the boss.

"Show me some velvet ribbon,
Barege and Satin Turk,"
She said, "I want to purchase,"
Then gave the goods a jerk;
The clerk was all obedience,
He travelled "on his shape,"
At length with hesitation,
She bought a yard of tape.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NUTRITIVE PRINCIPLE in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting disease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.
Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.
Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.
He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," and "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.
Doctor Alfred G. Hall may be consulted by letter, or in person at his rooms, No. 15 Winter St., Boston, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. ☞ Medicines, &c. forwarded by Express to any part.

PATENTS.
American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.
Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries, besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE,
"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.
"SIR.—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other Agent. I am very respectfully,
Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.
The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and
Affections of the Lungs.
But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing
DISSOLVENT POWER.
By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore
Anti-Expectorant,
And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.
It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an
APPETISER
It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom
AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.
Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.
It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.
Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered Consumption can be cured! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the venom of disease and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE.
N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

READ! READ! READ!
DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as
Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,
With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.
As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.
Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.
We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of unbounded testimony:
From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore. 3m2eod

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 28, 1852.
I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.
U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
GENOA, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.
Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering much pain from the dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen of that medicine.
Lieutenant—, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.
The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.
I am respectfully yours,

A REMINISCENCE OF THE GRANITE STATE.

BY A MASSACHUSETTS LADY.

In the summer of 185- I spent a few weeks in New Hampshire. While there I made many delightful excursions—took many pleasant rambles over the hills and through the thick woods, which afforded me ample room for observation. The character of the people was marked by firm unflinching integrity and high moral worth. Their politics were purely democratic, which had descended from father to son and had become a fixed principle of action, strong as the granite hills by which they were surrounded; their religion was not confined to any sect—in the village where I spent most of my time, was a Congregational, Baptist, Universalist, and Methodist Society; and in the village adjacent, a Church of the Second Advent.

During my stay, the Association with which this latter church was connected, held a Convention in the woods half a mile from the village, which was attended by large numbers of people from many miles around. At this meeting ten or twelve churches were represented, fifteen to twenty spirited addresses made, and resolutions passed, which were followed by a protracted meeting of five days.

It was at the close of a fine day in August, I took a seat in a carriage with a friend, and rode out to the encampment. The sun was just sinking behind the western range of hills—his head covered by a canopy of gorgeous clouds, from whose bright edges was poured forth a flood of golden light, bathing every hill-top tree and village in his radiant beams. A soft, purple haze rested on the summit of Kearsarge, throwing light and shade on the village at his feet; and as the shadows of twilight deepened into evening, Ungartoocook, which had rested like a black mass against the horizon, was illumined by the silver light of the moon—now at the fall—which displayed his two peaks bristling and bare, covered with loose blocks of granite to their very summits. In the distance could be seen Bradford Pond, its bright waters flashing in the moonbeams like rays of molten silver; and a little further on, a short distance from its shore, nestled down among the trees and half hid by their foliage, stood the village church, quietly reposing in their shadow—its white spire standing out in bold relief, ready to afford protection to the little band of worshippers who had gone forth to join their brethren in the worship of their creator.

Our road wound around and over the top of one of the highest hills, from which every variety of prospect was presented. Through the openings between the trees, could be seen the white farm house, with its neat out buildings, and land in the highest state of cultivation—the whole enclosed by a nice wall of granite. As we ascended the hill, we could see on either side, large fields of corn rising to the top, the broad green leaves waving and glistening in the breeze like the bayonets of an army descending from the heights.

Having gained the first plateau, 80 feet from the base of the hill, we fastened our horse beneath the spreading branches of a large sugar maple, and rested ourselves on a grassy knoll beneath the same shade—the thick foliage completely protecting us from the dew, and from the night wind that swept in fanciful eddies around the hills. Here we could look down upon the scene undisturbed.

The place selected for the encampment, was a large clearing in a valley, in the midst of a thick wood. Many of the trees were of gigantic proportions, interlaced by the luxuriant foliage of wild vines, that afforded shelter and shade for horses and carriages; while the big tent that covered the area, shielded the congregation from the rays of the moon and the idle gaze of the bystanders. Behind the trees, encircling them around on every side, could be seen the Mink Hills, lifting their towering peaks to the clouds. At their base, Warner River flowed gently on, hushing by its low musical murmurs, all nature to repose. The whole scene, as it lay spread out like a map before us, in its quiet beauty, was lovely beyond description.

The valley was reached by natural steps of granite, which projected from the sides of the hill. Carriages of all descriptions, filled with ardent worshippers, beside men, women and children on foot, were winding their way amid the hills, and pressing on in one continued stream toward the main entrance to the valley. Here were stationed the committee, whose duty it was to assist the people in descending, and to assign places within the tent, first to families, and then to all others of the vast multitude that crowded the passage; and so admirably was this performed, that not an accident occurred.

I was reminded of scenes described by Wilson, in his "Lights and Shadows of Scottish Life," when the Covenanters sought the strong holds of their native hills, to worship God free from the persecutions that raged around them—with this difference, however; these were on a free soil, with a right to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience. Their principal speakers were fine looking men, very eloquent and well learned in all the knowledge and doctrine of their particular views and opinions.

The audience, consisting of six hundred people, was attentive, and behaved with the strictest decorum. Many of both sexes addressed the meeting—some with good effect and to the point; others prayed and related their experience. Many were converted to the faith, and all looked and appeared serious and devout. Their singing was admirable, and in those grand old woods had a solemn and impressive effect, especially the chorus of those hymns in which occurred the word hallelujah, which arose in one universal pæan of praise, from at least four hundred voices, making in very deed

"The sounding aisles of the dim wood ring
To the anthems of the free."

True there was no eagle to soar away with affright, but this grand hallelujah chorus, as it broke upon the stillness of evening, roused from their slumbers birds of every description, who by the light of the full-orbed moon, expanded their wings and moved slowly and silently away.

As I gazed upon the scenes around me, I thought how came we in possession of a country so exceedingly bright and fair? How came this continent, once the abode of savages and wild beasts, to become the home of civilized man—to abound in all the sciences and arts of a refined and noble nation? by what magic power had we become the most powerful nation on the globe?

As my mind reverted to the past, some two hundred years ago—I stood on the seashore and looked abroad on the wild waste of waters. The tempest raged with unabated fury; the hollow moaning of the sea sounded like a sad requiem in my ear—for like a speck amid the infuriated billows, I beheld a lonely, tempest-tossed bark, the weary mariners using every means to make a harbor on the ice bound coast they were rapidly approaching. This they finally accomplished, and the stern barren rock received them amid the ice and snow of winter. Surrounded by sorrow and suffering of every kind, did that noble, self-sacrificing, devoted, though small band, plant those seeds of religious liberty and lay the foundations of those civil institutions which have increased from year to year, until they have exalted us above all the nations of the earth, and set us up as an "ensign to the people," under whose ample folds many from all nations are quietly reposing.

As I moved steadily forward to the present, my eye rested on a prosperous and happy republic. We are at peace with all nations.—The stars and stripes float on every sea, carrying in addition to our regular exports, supplies to the suffering and destitute; and in return conveying the sorrowful and oppressed to our own free and happy land—while the spotless folds of the Bethel Flag, unfurled to the breeze in foreign parts—from many a lonely isle and mast-head of our vessels, as well as from our home stations, proclaim the glad news of salvation, free to all. Yes, from those religious principles so firmly implanted by our forefathers, aye, and mothers, sprang all our greatness and all our glory.

But when I attempted to scan the future, all was dark and confused. "Our fathers, where are they?" and who answers where are they. Where are those faithful ones that once sat with us by the fireside hearth, whose spirits were once with ours! Gone! all gone! And upon whom has their mantle rested? Not upon all their sons, as our Legislative Halls and Senate Chambers can amply testify. And for what are they contending? Not for the good of the country—according to the report of their proceedings, but for their own aggrandizement. And to what point does all this tend? Can it be that the government of this great and constantly increasing territory will ever be changed to a Monarchy—that all our free institutions will be fettered—that the Press will be muzzled—that all the train of evils which wait upon the show and pageant of royalty, will be realized in this hitherto free and happy land? The thought was too painful, and I mentally exclaimed, God forbid! Yet there were some facts, so bare and startling in their effects, they thrilled through my mind with indescribable anguish, rousing every thought and feeling into action.

From this train of thought I was aroused by the breaking up of the meeting—and in an hour's time, most of the families composing it were reposing in sleep—no bolts or bars being requisite for safety. Those that came from a distance passed the night on the ground, beneath the tent, thus verifying the saying (for the time being) "Each one shall dwell under his own vine and fig tree, with nothing to molest or make him afraid."

"Aye, call it holy ground,
The place where first they trod,
They have left unstained what there they found,
Freedom to worship God."

LIQUOR LAW IN BOSTON.

The Boston Chronicle of Tuesday contains a full report of the action of the Mayor and Aldermen of that city, on the petition of Lyman Beecher and others, urging the Mayor and Aldermen to enforce the liquor law.

The petition was referred to a committee, and a report came in to the Board on the 5th, signed by Mayor Seaver as Chairman, denying their obligation to do so much as the petition prayed for, and gently expressing their determination not to go one step beyond what they must do. They say "with regard to the appointment of agents to sell liquors on account of the city, the law leaves it to the discretion of the Mayor and Aldermen, to appoint such agents, or not; in the same manner that the former law was construed to give authority to the board to license, or not to license. But it has not been deemed wise to exercise this discretionary power, by the appointment of agents. So far as we have any reliable information of the operation of such agencies, in the cities and towns where they have been established, it is unsatisfactory, and the appointment of so large a number of agents as would be required in this city, besides subjecting the city to an amount of liability which it was not thought prudent to incur, would be itself complained of as a great and annecessary evil.

The committee would further remark, that, while they are willing that the board should be held strictly to the performance of all their duties, as prescribed by the act in question, they ought not to be impliedly censured for not assuming duties and responsibilities which the law does not impose."

The committee have appended the opinions of three eminent lawyers, by which these determinations seem to be borne out. These opinions show pretty clearly the defects of the law; and a good lawyer could readily find therein the requisite hints for amendments.

There is also a minority report, signed by J. Sleeper, which says:

"The most prolific source of crime in our community is intemperance. It is confidently believed that three fourths and probably more of all the violations of the criminal code in this city can be traced, directly and indirectly to this one cause. But how do the unhappy offenders contract ther pernicious habits? The answer is no secret. Every one knows that the tippling shops where liquors are drank at the counter do more than all other causes to create and perpetuate the great army of criminals. It is not a question whether dram shops are nuisances. This is universally admitted. It seems to the undersigned that the Board of Aldermen as the guardians of the city, bound to do everything within the limits of their legal power for the protection and welfare of the citizens, are loudly called upon to see that the statutes, intended to repress intemperance and the crimes which it engenders, are faithfully enforced.

We are not required to decide whether the present liquor law is the best possible,—whether it is better than the old law, or whether it is such a statute as we should have made. * * *

Our police is vigilant in arresting thieves, robbers, burglars, those who break the peace, and the wretched victims of intemperance—Why should they not be equally vigilant in bringing to justice the men by whom these criminals are chiefly made? It seems to your committee that we ought not to inquire how little the liquor law compels us to do towards the suppression of the ruinous business, but rather what powers we have for this purpose."

This report recommends the passage of an order requiring the Chief of Police and his officers to prosecute all keepers of tippling shops, known to them. We hardly need to say, that there is no prospect that such an order will pass, or that the present law, without amendments, will be enforced in Boston. The strength of the opposition there, not only to this law, but to all laws on the subject, has in our own view never been appreciated by the principal advocates of the law.

They do not seem to consider that of the forty thousand foreigners there, freshly imported, nearly all above the age of childhood are free drinkers of the cheapest and mostfiery drinks; and that these, with the very large number of natives, from every class, who are consumers of spirits, make a very large demand, and with the money in their hands call for a large supply, out of which fortunes are made. They do not consider that in every city a genteel and exclusive circle have successfully resisted the vulgar innovators who would banish their jovial glass; and that such a circle, small in a smaller place, becomes larger and at the same time more exclusive and stronger, in a city like Boston. They seem not to be aware that in this magic circle are moving not a few of the men who have made and are making fortunes out of the sale and manufacture of wines and liquors;—that by the influence they exert, they make themselves felt in every department of civil and social life; and that the larger the sales, the faster they grow rich. With appetite and interest thus united, it is no wonder such a feeble law is trampled down—nor that all laws, (even a license law if it had any force) should be opposed. We have no doubt a good time is coming:—but before it comes in Boston, in the shape of a temperance triumph, there must be many a hard fought battle.

For the Chronicle.

SPIRITUAL RAPPINGS—MIRACLES.

A superstitious belief has ever prevailed in the world, and has exercised the greatest sway where the people have been most ignorant. Millions upon millions have believed in witchcraft, demonology and necromancy. Even some men of science and erudition have fallen into the popular delusion. But that any in enlightened New England should now believe in such gross and palpable absurdities, is surprising indeed. Under the new dispensation it is a conceded point that miracles have ceased. But if the modern rappers and necromancers can do what they pretend they do, then we would admit that they perform miracles. For a disembodied spirit, divested of the organs of speech, to hold converse with the living, or to apply physical power to rap; for the immaterial spirit, mind, or soul to return to this earth; or for a table to be moved by the fluid which is in man, these would be miracles. They would be opposed to the laws of nature. The power to change these laws must be derived from the Almighty, and we cannot think that He would delegate the power to such persons as now pretend that they can perform such miracles. In every age there have existed such imposters, deceiving the ignorant. The Old Testament records many such cases, and classes of men. In the 9th chapter of Acts, it is said—"Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus, whom Paul preached. And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so. And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?" The punishment then inflicted upon the seven impious pretenders who had been practising magic and sorcery, was soon made known "to all the Jews and Greeks." Many confessed their sins, and the jugglers and false pretenders "brought their books together" written upon these "curious arts," valued at above fifteen hundred pounds, "and burned them before all men."

It is a lamentable fact that newspapers and books are published and circulated in this country by the pretenders, to impose upon the credulity of the people. It would be difficult to calculate the aggregate of injury they do. The amount of mental suffering and insanity is appalling! And yet the pretenders, who trample the christian precepts and doctrines under foot, are suffered to pass with impunity. Should there not be an enforcement of legal remedies against these enemies of the peace and happiness of society? Were all classes sufficiently enlightened to know that the laws of nature, which are the laws of God, cannot be contravened or changed by human agency, the indignant public voice would at once put down these modern jugglers. At one period of the witchcraft delusion, certain learned men were made dupes of. Their names are always trumpeted abroad for no other purpose than to render the impositions more successful. These "curious arts" have their day. After the mystery is exposed, all feel ashamed of their credulity. The deceptive contrivance often turns out to be the result of simple mechanical ingenuity. We might refer to many instances of the kind. Because men of science cannot always explain the manner in which jugglers perform their tricks, it is no evidence that they are not mere deception. But the true philosopher who studies the laws of nature, and the enlightened christian who holds to the Divine revelation, will not believe that by any human agency the spirits of the dead can be called back to earth to communicate either by signs or language with the living. While some reject this part of the necromancer's pretension, as impious or blasphemous, they will confide in his veracity in respect to other wonderful operations. When we discover a person to be an imposter in some things, it would be unsafe to yield him our faith in respect to any other matters. The spiritual rappings and their attendant follies, like other silly humbugs, will soon pass off; for it is impossible in the nature of things that such pretensions can have any foundation in truth. HOMO.

"Homo" says truly, that it is a conceded point, that Miracles have ceased. But, as we believe that miracles have been wrought, so we ought to believe that more miracles may be wrought hereafter, should the same unerring wisdom see fit, and the same almighty hand direct.

The idea that no more miracles can or will be performed, has no countenance in the scriptures. The Roman Church does not believe it, for she professes to do it even now. We do not know its origin.

Our correspondent evidently does not believe the modern spirits to be genuine; and he has stated his reasons for disbelief very clearly; but he cannot convince spiritualists. They believe in a direct communication between the seen and unseen worlds, as real now as in the days of Noah, Abraham, Isaiah or Paul.

LOCAL.

PORTSMOUTH STEAM FACTORY.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth Steam Factory Corporation was holden at the Court House in this City, on Tuesday; Ichabod Goodwin, Esq., President, in the chair.

Samuel Batchelder, Esq., Treasurer of the Company, presented his annual report, which was read and accepted and placed on file.

The meeting then proceeded to the choice of proprietors' clerk, and elected John N. Handy, Esq., and afterwards unanimously chose the following directors for the ensuing year:

Ichabod Goodwin,	William P. Jones,
John Knowlton,	Samuel Batchelder,
John A. Blanchard,	Calvin W. Clark,
John Collamore.

The President congratulated the stock holders on the present prosperous state of their property. It had many obstacles to contend with, but now stood on a firm footing. This was in a great measure, owing to the perseverance of its treasurer and agents, and he could now see nothing ahead, to check its healthy and successful progress. Messrs. Tredick and Pickering of Portsmouth, and Collamore of Boston, were appointed a Committee to examine the Treasurer's accounts, after which the meeting adjourned.

BOYS' HIGH SCHOOL.

Mr. Israel Kimball, who has for about nine years so ably and successfully presided over the Boys' High School in this city, yesterday sent in his resignation as teacher, to the Committee. Mr. Kimball has always exercised his own judgment in dismissing his school for short periods, and as we have sometimes heard, not exactly in accordance with the rules of the Committee. At the close of the recent August vacation, circumstances in his family justifying him in the step, as he thought, he prolonged that vacation two or three days, after simply organizing the school, many new scholars having been admitted since the close of the last term. He first applied to the Committee for leave to do so, as we hear, but received no decisive answer. Considerable correspondence ensued, and Mr. Kimball, deeming himself unjustly censured by the Committee, tendered his resignation as teacher, and dismissed the school sine die, on Tuesday forenoon.

We understand that Mr. Amos Abbott takes his place for the present.

LONG DRESSES.—On Sunday a very fine and very long dress was seen trailing and cleaning the sidewalks, with a frill of straws attached, which flowed gracefully along behind the wearer.

That's one way of wearing this "love of a dress," the trailing skirt. Here's another, now in fashion at Newport:

"As a preliminary, let the student provide herself with a clean pair of stockings, in addition to half a dozen flounce and pointed petticoats, (the first part of this precaution is, I am sorry to say, too much neglected.) The next step is to grasp the dress and underrigging with either hand, so as to at once elevate and detatch the drapery from the form. The general effect will be heightened by occasionally flirting up the hand.

Thus you get rid of the dirt, and show your gaiters.

☞ Chs. W. Plaisted, of Boston, was arrested on Thursday night, for setting fire to the barn attached to the Telegraph House, in Providence, R. I. and is to be tried by the Supreme Court, Sept. 27.

The Supreme Court of Connecticut has decided in the case of the Eastern Bank, West Killingly, that its notes cannot be used as offset in payment of debts due the bank. The decision applies to those who held the notes at the time of the failure of the bank, as well as others.

If a jury had decided thus, we should say they were wrong.

THE HOP CROP.—It is predicted that the hop crop will be one-third short the present year. Producers in Madison county, N. Y., having contracts to deliver large lots the present fall, have been obliged to go into the market and buy up enough to make themselves good. They had paid as high as 30 and 35 cents. The English crop is also expected to be light. How will the hop growers in the agricultural districts of western New York and of the western states manage to dispose of their great staple, if the Maine law should be introduced among them? That is the question.—Boston Chronicle.

So it is, a very important question. And we have another, almost as pertinent, viz.—What will beome of Old Virginia and Maryland, when everybody leaves off chewing tobacco?

ANOTHER VOICE FROM MAINE.—The Bangor Courier says, John Neal, of Portland, is out again in the "State of Maine" in opposition to the Maine Law, i. e. if a sharp chase after Neal Dow is in opposition to the law, in which he takes occasion to state inferentially and rather too slyly, that the City Agency of Bangor had sold, the last year, sixty thousand dollars worth of liquor. This statement is not true. The Bangor city agency sold no such amount. No, no, Mr. John Neal, not sixty thousand dollars worth, nor fifty thousand, nor forty thousand, nor thirty thousand, nor twenty thousand dollars worth. You are a long chalk from the mark—will you please to correct.

FIRE IN CALAIS, ME.—Three dwelling houses and one large two story building occupied as stores and dwellings, together with three barns, was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning. The fire broke out about three o'clock, and were set on fire by one of two men who had got intoxicated and had gone into one of the barns to sleep, in endeavoring to light his pipe with a match; both men were so badly burnt before they were rescued, that they died about one o'clock the same day. The loss of property is estimated at about $8000.

THE EPIDEMIC, &c.—New Orleans papers of Monday and Tuesday Aug. 29 and 30, say that the fever is dying out for want of material.

The fever was increasing at Mobile. On the 28th ult., eighteen deaths occurred, and on the 29th, twenty-nine deaths. Many of the citizens were leaving, and business was very dull. Amongst the recent victims of the epidemic at New Orleans is T. S. Titcomb of Boston, formerly an operator on the Boston and New York Morse Telegraph Line.

MORTALITY ON SHIPBOARD.—New York, Sept. 5th.—The brig Gustavus, from Kingston, which arrived here to-day, from Aux Cayes, was in charge of Mr. Philbrook, seaman, her late captain, Israel Snow, having died on the passage of yellow fever, while the mate, Joseph Snow, and Wm. Hamilton, seaman, died of the same disease at Aux Cayes. The G. is bound for Boston, but put in here for a navigator.

At Aux Cayes, left schooner John Elliot, of Plymouth for New York. Capt. Thatcher, and mate, Mr. Johnson, are both dead from fever. All the crew have left the vessel.—Reports that the fever is raging at Aux Cays, and that large numbers have died.

A Danish brig lying in. Her crew have nearly all been carried off.

The heat is very oppressive here to-day, and out-door laborers had to quit work for some hours.

THE U. S. EASTERN SQUADRON.—On Tuesday last a salute was fired from the signal hill in honor of Commodore Shubrick, the arrival of whose ship, the Princeton, we noticed last week. The compliment was duly acknowledged and returned from the ship. On Tuesday evening, the U. S. Steamship Fulton, 10, Capt. Watson commanding, arrived here from Charlottetown. On Wednesday morning the Princeton and Fulton got under way for Charlottetown, where they would probably remain for a few days; after which they will proceed on a trip round the north and east coast of the Island, and up the Gulf as far as Gaspe, touching probably at Miramichi and other ports.—Pictou Chronicle, Aug. 30.

H. M. Steamship Argus, Commander Purvis, arrived on Thursday last from the coast of Labrador, met the American sloop-of-war Decatur off Henley harbor, yesterday fortnight. The latter left for St. John's. N. F, L. Herrings had just made their appearance.—Sydney, C. B. News Aug. 27.

"A man by the name of David W. Tinkham in East Bridgewater, on Saturday attempted to kill himself by cutting his throat with a carving knife; but he was defeated by his wife who took the knife from him, and had her hand severely cut in so doing. He then ran to a carpenter's shop and seized a chisel, with which he made a severe wound in his throat, which nearly proved fatal. It is thought he may recover, if he can be prevented from doing further injury to himself. He is a firm believer in the spirit rapping humbug, and has spent much of his time of late in reading works upon that subject until he has become insane."

BEER HOUSES.—The Newark Daily Advertiser says that the increase of beer houses in that city is astonishing. In some streets they occupy almost every basement, and there is scarcely a neighborhood that has not several in its vicinity. The commencement of some of these establishments appear to be very simple. A German obtains a cellar, a cask of beer, a cheese, a loaf of bread, and some "Bretzels," pipe of tobacco, a dozen peculiarly shaped glasses, puts out a sign, "Lager Bier," and the business is started.

A VENERABLE PREACHER—The Bangor Mercury says the venerable Father John Sawyer, now about 98 years of age, has been in attendance upon the anniversary of the Theological Seminary in that city, and by the request of several clergymen and other friends, has consented to preach a sermon at the Central Church. The Billings and Holden Society kindly offered their services as a choir for the occasion. It adds that Father Sawyer, from his long life of usefulness and devotion to the best interests of society, deserves a substantial remembrance from the friends of virtue and good order.

MERITED REWARD.—The Bangor Mutual Marine Insurance Co., through their President, Samuel H. Dale, have presented $40 each to George West, John Rowe, William Edding and Edward Harvey, composing the crew of the schooner Peruvian, for their unremitted and successful exertions in bringing the vessel into port with a valuable cargo, under peculiar circumstances, as the captain had died and the mate was incapacitated from navigating the vessel. A small amount thus bestowed often proves a good investment.

THE RICE HARVEST.—The Savannah Courier says the planters on the Savannah and Ogechee rivers have been for several days engaged in harvesting rice. The crops are represented as being unusually fine, and the yield promises to be very abundant.

The law relative to railroads passed by the last session of the Connecticut Legislature, making it necessary for all trains to come to a full stop at drawbridges, railroad crossings, &c., went into effect on the 1st ist.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Thursday last, an aged resident of Brookline, N. H., while thrashing in his barn, suddenly fell dead, and was found stretched upon the floor with his flail in his hand. He was 76 years of age.

In New York, early on the morning of the 5th, four old frame dwellings on Allen st. were destroyed by fire. Two men named John and Richard King perished in the names.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.
It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the extensive notoriety given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.
Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.
Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the fall consequences of our ignorance.
What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring the competence which its exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.
In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy minds, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S
Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.
One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]
First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.
It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy not of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NUTRITIVE PRINCIPLE, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting disease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a negative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several symptoms, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

Doctor Alfred G. Hall may be consulted by letter, or in person at his rooms, No. 15 Winter St., Boston, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. ☞ Medicines, &c. forwarded by Express to any part.

No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ——

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER.

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered! Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!

N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

"$100 05! On demand I promise to pay to the bearer FIVE MILLS for value received.

READ! READ! READ!

DR. HAMPTON'S

VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and IS WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunnan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Smyrna.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

From the N. Y. Musical World & Times.

BY FANNY FERN.

Look into yonder window; what do you see? nothing new, surely; nothing but what the angels have looked smilingly down upon since the morning stars first sang together.—Nothing but a loving mother hushing upon her faithful breast a wailing babe; whose little life hangs by a slender thread: mortal lips have said, "the boy must die."

A mother's hope never dies. She clasps him closer to her breast, and gazes upwards; food and sleep and rest are forgotten, so that that little flickering taper die not out. Gently upon her soft warm breast she woos for it baby slumbers: long weary nights, up and down the cottage floor, she paces, soothing its restless moanings. Suns rise and set; stars pale; seasons come and go; she heeds them not, so that those languid eyes but beam brightness. Down the meadow, by the brook, on the hill side she seeks with him the health restoring breeze.

God be praised, health comes at last! What joy to see the rosy flush mantle on the pallid cheek; what joy to see the shrunken limbs grow round with health; what joy to see the damp thin locks grow crisp and glossy? What matter, though the knitting lie neglected—or the spinning wheel be dumb, so that the soaring kite or bouncing ball but please his boyish fancy and prompt the gleeful shout? What matter that the coarser fare be hers, so that the daintier morsel pass his rosy lip? What matter that her robe be threadbare, so that his graceful limbs be clad in Joseph's rainbow coat? What matter that her couch be hard, so that his sunny head rests nightly on a downy pillow? What matter that her slender purse be empty, so that his childish heart may never know denial?

Years roll on. That loving mother's eye grows dim; her glossy locks are silvered; her limbs are sharp and shrunken; her footsteps slow and tottering. And the boy? the cherished Joseph? he of the bold bright eye, and sinewy limb, and bounding step; surely from his kind hand shall flowers be strewn on the dim downward path to the dark valley?—surely her son's strong arm be hers to lean on; his voice of music sweeter to her dull ear than seraphs' singing.

No, no. The hum of busy life has struck upon his ear, drowning the voice of love. He has become a MAN! refined, fastidious!—and to his forgetful, unfilial heart, (God forgive him) the mother who bore him is only—"the old woman!"

SIGNS.—When a man finds a great deal of fault with a newspaper which he never fails to read, it is a sign that he has not paid for it.—People seldom pick flaws in their own property.

When a young lady signifies her intention to devote the remainder of her days to taking care of "the old folks at home," it is a significant sign that she would rather not, but is preparing to make a virtue of necessity.

When a young man begins to pay marked attention to his legs and nether extremities, it is a sign that he is "shaky" at the other end. The calf is more than the man.

When the mother of six unwedded daughters "regrets that the time will come when the dear things must be parted," it is a sign that she would like to go into mourning on that account.

When a single gentleman takes studiously to Moore and Byron, grows fond of the Callet, finds it difficult to distinguish calico from muslin, detects himself in the habit of gazing at French pictures in shop-windows, and has a good deal of trouble in passing a clothes line without counting all the long stockings—these are signs that he ought to get married, and the sooner the better.

A SENSITIVE TAILOR.—A Paris tailor committed suicide a few days since by the fumes of charcoal, for a rather singular cause. Not being able to deliver a suit of clothes in time, his customer had transferred an order to one of his rivals. In a letter announcing the cause of his fatal determination, the tailor expressed his desire to have placed by his side, in his coffin, a pair of pantaloons and a paletot, which he considered his chef'd œuvres. "This professional enthusiasm," writes the correspondent of the New York Courier, "reminds me of my old friend Kelly, of Congress square, Boston. Meeting him in the street one day, after he had sent home a new coat, he eagerly demanded how I was pleased with it, and upon my answer that it suited me perfectly, exclaimed, "I was sure of it—I was sure of it; Sir, I cut that coat in a moment of inspiration!'"

MYSTERIOUS.—An incident occurred a few days ago at Columbia Hall, Lebanon Springs, which demands a public investigation. Two gentlemen with a boy 8 or 10 years of age, arrived in a midnight stage, and called for lodgings, but refused to enter their names on the register. At a very early hour the following morning they procured private conveyance for the Shaker village two miles distant, and returned in season to take the first stage to the Canaan station for New York. On paying their bill they were again asked to put their names on the register, but refused.—The boy, when about to leave in company with these gentlemen for the Shakers, was observed to weep bitterly, which excited much sympathy among the boarders, and not returning with the men, suspicion was excited that all was not right. On inquiry it was found that the boy was bound to Richard Bushnell, a leading Shaker.

Several of the gentlemen boarding at the Columbia, subsequently obtained a promise from two head Shakers that they might see the boy and question him relating to his parentage, &c., but in going over for that purpose, was told that the boy had been removed to a Shaker family in a neighboring town.—Hudson Freeman.

A BOX OF HUMAN BONES were discovered in the cellar of house No. 24 Leverett street Boston, by the servant girl, on Saturday evening, who was looking for something in the basement. The girl, upon seeing the "frightful things," ran to her mistress, threw herself at her feet and fainted. When she came to, the poor thing described what she had found, and added—"Marm I always knew this house was haunted, for I have heard the ghosts walking often." The girl was greatly frightened. The box of bones are now in the possesion of Coroner Pratt.

A TRAP.—A person on one of our wharves the other day, observed a sand peep fluttering in the dock. This unusual appearance led him to watch the bird, and he soon found that it was caught by something. He went to it and found that the peep in his travels had accidentally placed his toe in a clam hole, and the clam feeling something in its mouth, had naturally closed its mouth and secured the bird. The clam was dug, and after the curiosity of the neighborhood was satisfied, the bird was released and suffered to go on his wanderings.—Gloucester Telegraph.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1853.

AMERICAN PORCELAIN.

We would not undervalue or depreciate foreign products: yet we glory when we equal or exceed them in the goodness of fruits or grains; in the speed of a ship, or the texture of a cloth. China ware was formerly a rare and expensive adornment of the table and buffet in this country: then Liverpool China so called, reached and went by it as to quality. And now behold we have American Porcelain, an article far superior in elegance, durability and cheapness, to anything of a like nature yet produced in the world,—and can but admire the genius which has achieved so great an American triumph. The American Porcelain Ware excels in all these particulars, the richest and costliest China, while the price is much lower, rendering in every sense of the word a superiority to the American manufacture.

MESSRS. JOHNSON & GOODELL, are now at the Franklin House in this town, where they have on exhibition at Room No. 1, a variety of Porcelain ware, which exceeds in magnificence, any display we have ever seen. The ware embraces almost every variety of articles, such as tea sets, beautiful and massive pitchers, door sets consisting of door and bell knobs, plates, &c., sign letters, domestic crockery, and a host of Ornamental Articles which would take us weeks to enumerate.—The Ladies and Gentlemen of this place and vicinity are invited to call and inspect the ware, and as Messrs. Johnson & Goodell are here for the purpose of establishing an Agency, our business men will do well to give it their earliest attention.

Feeling the importance of giving notoriety to this new and valuable American production, we would in addition to what we have already said, solicit the reader's attention to the following article from the New York Tribune:

American Porcelain.—The custom-house valuation of China, Porcelain, Earthen and Stone ware, imported into this country in the year ending June 30, 1846, was $2,261,331; in 1850, $2,601,393; in 1851, $2,320,022.—The sum actually paid for these articles during the last year by our jobbers was not less than five millions, and by the consumers at least eight millions of dollars. And there is not a particle of reason for our importing these wares from the Old World, outside of the fact that Europe had the start of us with rgard to them, and has so far managed to keep it. We have every natural requisite to their cheap and elegant production, as we trust will soon be made evident. Old dealers have assured us that while almost every ware or fabric extensively produced in this country has been steadily and materially cheapened, the wares we are contemplating now sell at very nearly the price of thirty years ago. Meantime there have been repeated efforts to naturalize the production of the finer wares among us, but hitherto they have resulted in failures. Want of experience in selecting and combining materials; rudeness of apparatus or machinery; inadequate capital; inferior or unreliable workmen, have all contributed to produce these failures.

We trust the days of American ill success in respect to Porcelain are numbered. The establishment of Messrs. Cartlidge & Co., Green Point, L. I., appears to have passed safely the point of peril, and is henceforth destined to expand and flourish, until it shall supply the American market. We therefore fulfil a cherished purpose in giving some account of it.

Mr. Charles Cartlidge, the master spirit, is an Englishman by birth, who, after thoroughly acquiring the art of pottery, in all its finer branches, came out here as a seller of wares some ten or twelve years ago. Extensive travel and inquiry convinced him that Porcelain of the best quality might be made here as cheap as in Europe, and he commenced a series of experiments which led to the foundation of his present business. He now occupies three four story buildings, and employs ninety men in his Manufactory, though his establishment is but three years old. He uses none but American materials in any part, and considers them decidedly superior to any existing in Europe.—He has made important improvements in his process, substituting machinery for hand labor so extensively and profitably that although his master workmen are necessarily drawn from England or France, and of course require much higher wages than they obtained over the water, he yet avers his ability to furnish Porcelain equal in fineness to any European, and far surpassing the imported in hardness, transparency, capacity of resisting fire, &c., at lower prices than any old world Porcelain was ever sold in America.

That the American ware is elegant and excellent our senses vouch; its relative cheapness and worth, as compared with those of rival European products, is a point which purchasers, and especially dealers, will determine for themselves. But if it be as we presume it is, not only a better but a cheaper article than imported Porcelain, why should not the success of the manufacture be regarded as a National triumph!

POETS AND POETRY.—A correspondent, whose opinions in matters of taste are entitled to high respect, suggests that our native poets A. L. and T. B. A. are worthy of consideration for their works sake; and would refer the reader particularly to some lines of the latter, on the Ocean, which may be found in the Daily Chronicle of August 30, as embodying passages of great beauty and poetic thought. Without undue praise of youthful genius, we may safely recommend the cultivation of such talent.

LIFE IN PORTLAND.

Two young men, by the names of William Turner and Orren Curtis, hailing from Livermore Falls and Leeds, were in Portland on Monday, says the Advertiser, awaiting the evening boat to Boston. During the day, they state that they went into Henry Winslow's shop on Union street, where they drank four times apiece, and then at the solicitation of some other of Winslow's customers, retired to another room, and went to staking money on a game, of which they say they were entirely ignorant. They continued playing until Turner lost about fourteen dollars, and Curtis about twenty-five. They did not know the names of the men with whom they played, but testify that Winslow was present during a part of the time they were playing. Monday evening these victims came to the marshal's office, flushed with liquor, and otherwise down in the mouth.

On complaint duly made to the Municipal Court, on Tuesday, Winslow was arrested, examined, and held in $150 with surety for his appearance at the next term of the Supreme Court. Turner and Curtis recognized in $50 each for their appearance against respondent in the case. Winslow was also arrested for selling liquor, and fined $20 and costs. Complaint made by one of the young men on whose testimony he was held to bail for keeping a gaming house.

On Tuesday evening, Turner and Curtis, the above complainants, again went on board on board the boat quite early, for the purpose of going up to Boston. They were presently followed on board by four or five fellows, who commenced using towards them abusive and profane language, which was soon succeeded by personal violence, insomuch that Turner and Curtis were forced to leave the boat, and flee for refuge into the St. Lawrence depot.—Here, too, they were followed and attacked with repeated blows and other insults, until they also fled from the depot up India street.

Their assailants took a hack, and continued the pursuit up the street. At the head of India street, finding themselves hard pressed, Turner and Curtis rushed into the house of Mr. Thomas, on the corner. Into this retreat they were likewise followed, and beaten and dragged from the house to the hack which was in waiting. Curtis was put inside, but during the scuffle to secure Turner, he leaped out and escaped. Turner was overpowered, but into the carriage and held, when the horses were whipped into their utmost speed. They were thus seen leaving the city by Portland street between 6 and 7 o'clock. At a very late hour the Marshal and his deputies were making use of the best advised measures for the capture and arrest of these villains.

MAINE ELECTION.—This great event comes off next Monday. Parties are numerous and issues confused and perplexed. There are ramrods and wild cats, free democrats, regular and irregular democrats, whigs, (we believe, though they don't say much,) and—we are not sure whether there are any more parties or not, though it strikes us that we have heard of four governors—we mean four candidates for governor. Stay; we just now see two communications in the Portland Advertiser, signed A Wild Cat Liberal, and A Liberal Whig. So we give it up, and do not expect to know exactly how many parties there are till after election. We shall keep a sharp look out for the returns of votes.

EXPLOSION OF A FIRE ANNIHILATOR.—The Fire Annihilator which has been on exhibition at the Merchants' Exchange News Room, Boston, for some time past, exploded on Monday forenoon, either of its own accord or by the aid of some mischievous person.—The room was instantly filled with gas, which drove out all the occupants of the room, with no little precipitation and alarm, but no damage was done.

☞ The Anti Slavery Meeting, addressed by W. L. Garrison, Lucy Stone and others, at Metropolitan Hall in New York, on Sunday evening, was said by some despatches to "break up in a row," but as we find it reported in the New York Herald, the "treasonable fanatics" were hissed down when they spoke against the clergy and the Union, and the Herald gently hints that they might have been treated to tar and feathers. We conclude therefore that the rabble who did the hissing, supposed themselves, or at all events assumed to be, the special guardians of religion and government.

DEATHS BY HEAT.—Every one has pitied the poor victims of the heat in New York, this summer. It now appears a large part of the heat was produced by applying "hot and rebellious liquors to their blood."

The New York Medical Gazette has an article intended to disabuse the public of the impression that the recent large mortality in that city was the result of the hot weather alone—arguing that the true cause of death was a paralysis of the stomach, rather than "congestion of the brain," induced by the use of stimulating liquers. The editor says "we record it as a witness and not as a disputant, that we have seen no case of serious or dangerous character, in which the patient had not been indulging in intoxicating drinks, while heated in an atmosphere ranging above 90° in the shade.

☞ Tea was thus referred to by P. T. Barnum, in a speech at the World's Temperance Convention in New York.

"Tea has the nervine property, and we see its effects upon women when they go to tea parties. Tea parties are women's sprees, and when they have taken around a strong cup of tea, just drop in, and you will find them so garulous and talkative that you would think hat the ship which brought the tea from China, had brought the language also."

THE BOYS' HIGH SCHOOL.

Messrs. Editors.—I ask a space in your columns to correct the statement appearing in the Messenger of this day in regard to the unfortunate occurrences in connexion with the boys' High School.

At the close of the last examination of that school the committee announced that the school would recommence on the first day of September. This was received by the school with a general hiss. The committee immediately stated that the vacation could not be extended after such conduct. Mr. Kimball in conversation with the committee said that the time fixed by the committee was inconvenient to him as he wished to attend the commencement of Bowdoin College. The committee told him that it was impossible to enlarge the vacation after such conduct.

On the last day of August Mr. K. met the chairman of the committee in the street, and asked that he might be allowed to dismiss the school from the 1st to the 5th of September, as a friend from the West was in town who had not been here for ten years. The chairman answered that such an extension of the vacation was objectionable on account of the scene at the close of the school. At this time Mr. K. was called off and said "I will see you again in the afternoon."—The chairman answered that he should be out of town, but that Mr. K. could see Mr. Storer.

To this Mr. K. made no objection. Mr. K. said nothing more to the committee, and the next morning at 10 o'clock, they received the 1st note in the series published. The correspondence is substantially correct, but one letter is omitted. This was received a few minutes after Mr. Kimball's letter of resignation, and before the members of the committee had seen it Mr. Kimball placed the keys of the room in the hands of the Secretary.

The school will commence again to-morrow morning. W. H. ROLLINS,
Chairman of High School Committee.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 7.

The following is the letter referred to:

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 7, 1853.
High School Room.

TO THE COMMITTEE:

Gentlemen—I am now ready to dismiss the Boys' High School, and shall do so in 15 minutes from this time, unless otherwise ordered by you. Respectfully, yours, &c.
ISRAEL KIMBALL.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

The Rockingham Fair will hold its exhibition at Exeter on Thursday, September 15, when an address will be delivered by Simon Brown, Esq., of Concord, Mass.

Articles for exhibition must be sent one day beforehand, viz. on the 14th.

Railroad fare to Exeter on the exhibition day, will be at half price on the Portsmouth & Concord, Boston & Maine, and Manchester & Lawrence Roads.

Portsmouth ought to exhibit Fruit and Flowers, in both of which she abounds. She ought also to exhibit a goodly company of her sons and daughters.

☞ A letter has been received in Newburyport, from the ship Guiding Star, which sailed from this port for New Orleans. The letter states that three days out, the steward, by the name of Ham, belonging to this city, in a fit of delirium tremens, jumped overboard and was drowned. On her arrival at New Orleans, all hands, with the exception of Captain Couch, were taken sick with the yellow fever; the ship was then loading for Liverpool, and would probably leave about the 20th of this month.

The man's name was Benjamin Ham; and his age 29.

☞ The Methodist church in this city, is now undergoing repairs, having stood from 1827, when it was built, to this time, without much external repair. It is to be shingled; the battlements, made in niches like stairs, being badly decayed, are to be cut off fair with the roof; and a heavy eave is to be added, of imitation of freestone. The outside view will be materially improved.

SELF HEATING FLAT IRON.—One of the greatest improvements in housekeeping ware which we have seen for a long time, is the modern Self Heating Smoothing Iron. This article was put into our hands some months ago, by Messrs. Raynes & Neil, who advertised it for sale. It has been thoroughly tested in active service, by matron and maid, child and housekeeper; and they all, with one consent pronounce the new flat-iron a great improvement on the old, saving fuel, holders, time and patience. In short it is just the thing for ironing well and easily.

FIREMEN'S VISIT.—The Niagara Engine Co., No. 2, of Manchester, Capt. Waldron, intend visiting Portsmouth on Friday next.—They will be received on their arrival and entertained during their stay, by the Piscataqua Engine Co., No. 4, of this city.

EXPEDITION INDEED.—The fine clipper ship Wild Pigeon, after having made the trip round the world, via California and China, in nine months and fifteen days—we believe the shortest time ever known—has been loaded by Messrs. Sutton & Co., in New York for San Francisco in seventeen bays, and went to sea on Monday, Sept, 5th.

Can a man be considered a loose character who comes home tight every evening? We pause for a reply.

A Rare Chance to secure a valuable Agency.

THE subscribers having taken rooms at the Franklin House, will be happy to show to the inhabitants of Portsmouth and vicinity, samples of their immense stock of

AMERICAN PORCELAIN WARES,

Consisting of a great variety of Staple and Fancy Articles; such as Table Wares, Maize Jugs, Candlesticks, Lamp Pedestals, Mantel Ornaments, Inkstands, Paper Weights, Signet Stamps, Wafer Trays, &c.
Together with a large assortment of Door Furniture, Door Knobs (comprising over one hundred different styles) Shutter, Burnon and Cabinet Knobs, Door Plates, Finger Plates and Carpet plates of a great variety. Also Curtain Pins, Bell Levers, &c., All of which, for beauty, cheapness and durability, are superior to anything ever before offered in the American market.

NOTICE TO DEALERS.

As we establish but ONE Agent in Each place, business men would do well to call and investigate, as the exclusive agency for the sale of the above goods would make, to a business already established, a more valuable acquisition than the same capital otherwise invested would secure.

☞ Call at Franklin House, Room No. 1, where samples of the Goods may be seen and terms of Agencies made known.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 6.—The wife of Arlin, arrested for robbing the Northern Railroad cars, has also been committed to jail, on the charge of stealing jewelry. They will both be examined before a magistrate this afternoon.

The Governor and Council are in session to consider the subject of changing the route of the Great Falls and Conway Railroad. The proposition is opposed strenuously by the Boston and Maine railroad company.

Washington, Sept. 4.—H. F. Jebb, who was recently transferred from the Workhouse to a Clerkship in the Pension office, and who was subsequently arrested drunk and disorderly, was to-day drowned in the Potomac.

DEFALCATIONS IN WALL STREET.—The New York Sunday Atlas states that Joseph Gutman, one of the oldest established custom house brokers, has been missing since last Wednesday. He has left deficiences to the amount of between fifty and a hundred thousand dollars, which the importers, and the banks will lose. The New York Mirror says "it is also rumored that a distinguished politician, financier, sportsman and-so-forth, left last Wednesday in the Cunnard Steamer, without bidding good-bye to his family and friends."

SINGULAR ELOPEMENT.—Elizabeth Gibbon, a young lady of considerable personal attraction, twenty-two years old, the daughter of a deceased major, entitled to a prospective right of some £500 or £700 per year, eloped from Dublin to America lately, with Anthony Flannigan, a loader of turf flats. A relative of the lady pursued them to Liverpool, where they were found consorting together. They were married, and the lady signed away her right for a round bridal portion in hand.—They took passage in the ship Esmeralda for New York.

RIVER THIEVES.—The residents along on the shore of Dorchester and Roxbury Bay have been mcuh annoyed of late by thieves who come in boats, plunder gardens and orchards, and then decamp with their boats well loaded. On Friday night last, officer Tuckerman of Dorchester, who was on the watch, arrested two young men named Thomas Hogan and Michael Fay, in the act of robbing the orchard of Capt. William Clapp, and arraiged them on Saturday before Justice Young, who sent them to the House of Correction at Dedham for fifteen days. On Sunday forenoon the premises were again entered and robbed; and on Sunday afternoon, a boat containing five persons moored again on the shore, and while two entered the orchard, two remained in the boat, and a third stood in the water ready to push off at a moment's warning. Officer Tuckerman was concealed near by, and when the rogues were hard at work, and had filled a large bag with corn, potatoes, apples, pears and peaches, he sprang upon them and arrested Peter Carr and Wendell Lennen. They were both tried on Monday before Justice Young, and sent to Dedham to spend the rest of th month.—Traveller.

An exciting slave case has just terminated at Indianapolis, Ind., by an order from the U. S. Commissioner for the release of the alleged slave, whose name is John Freeman, but who was claimed under the name of Sam, as the property of P. Ellington, of Missouri.—It was so clearly proved that the wrong man had been arrested, that the claimant withdrew his claim. Freeman, the victim of his mistake having been incarcerated in jail since the 21st of June last as a fugitive slave, is about to sue Ellington for damages, and the case will be tried at the October term of the Circuit Court.

ALL AT ONE FELL SWOOP.—We are informed of a singular mortality in the New Orleans associate office of the mercantile agency of Wm. Goodrich & Co., of this city. All the clerks died successively, and then the agent. The doors were locked up by the porter, a colored man, who also died the day after he had telegraphed the state of things to the principal office.—Philadelphia Ledger.

ELOPEMENT.—A despatch from Washington states that "an heiress of wealth, beauty, and tender years, vamosed from the Academy of Visitation, connected with the Convent at Georgetown, on Sunday afternoon, and was soon in the arms of her lover. Great excitement prevailed at the Convent. Search was made in every direction in vain."

DEATHS AT SEA BY YELLOW FEVER.—The ship Clara Wheeler, of New York, from New Orleans for Liverpool, was spoken 27th ult., lat. 36 12, lon. 72 46. Capt. Nelson, of the Clara Wheeler, and five of her crew had died of yellow fever since leaving New Orleans.

ANOTHER REVEREND SCOUNDREL.—A verdict for $5000 was found against the Rev. Byron Waller, of Carroll County, Kentucky, for seduction. Gov. Moreheed appeared for the victim of the reverend sinner, and in his closing speech inflicted a scathing rebuke on the villain.

HOPE FOR THE MORMONS.—At the last meeting of the American Bible Society it was stated that a letter had been received from Gov. Brigham Young, of Utah, acknowledging the receipt of a donation of bibles from the society, and requesting more.

NEW YORK MERCANTILE LIBRARY.—Workmen will probably commence in a few weeks to fit up the Astor-place Opera House, (which it was once proposed to demolish,) so that it may be ready for occupancy by the Mercantile Library Association in the spring.

QUEER ARTICLE OF COMMERCE.—The John Swasey, at Salem, from the west coast of Africa, brings two hundred monkey skins. The first display may be at the next fancy ball.

A gentleman writing from Glen House, N. H., August 26th, says: The thermometer this morning at 6 o'clock, was one degree below the freezing point on the top of Mount Washington.

DEATHS IN MANCHESTER, N. H.—Whole number of deaths in August, 95. Children under 3 years, 49; from 3 to 21 yrs., 23; over 21 yrs., 23.

A translation of the Old and New Testament, in the Irish language, will be shortly issued for general distribution.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity, and by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&w6m je22

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and moans, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and secure to her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S
Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be Ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

WHAT SHOEMAKING HAS DONE FOR LYNN.—About two years ago, Sagamore Hill was laid out in house lots and sold for about three hundred dollars a lot. Within a few days, some of the same lots have been sold for more than $2,000. Mr. Sweetser, of the Broadway Emporium, put up a framed building that he had prepared for San Juan, upon one of these lots, and has just sold it at a handsome profit, for $6000. Buildings are rapidly going up in all parts of Lynn, and real estate is advancing.—Newburyport Union.

The Paris correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer states that Mr. Vanderbilt's yacht has found a faint imitation from a rich bourgeois of Paris, who has caused a car to be built and fitted up at an expense of ten thousand dollars, in which he intends to travel over all the railroads of France. This new vehicle contains a sitting room, two bed rooms, a billiard room, kitchen, wine cellar, in fact everything necessary for a comfortable and elegant habitation.

"DID he not make several visits after the patient was out of danger?" was the question of a lawyer in cross-examining a witness called to prove a doctor's bill, in one of our justice's courts a few days since. "No," replied the witness, "I thought the patient was in danger as long as the doctor continued his visits."

IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS OF
Rich Silks, Paris Dress Goods, Shawls, Gloves, Embroideries, White Goods, Ribbons, &c., invite the attention of Merchants from all sections to their unrivalled assortment of Silk and Fancy Dry Goods,
Imported with special reference to the wants of first class buyers, and in three important particulars, viz.: TASTE, VARIETY AND PRICE, believed to be unequalled.
Messrs. E. L. & C., having been engaged in this business for many years in Philadelphia, where the taste is not unlike, in many respects, to that of the Northern and Eastern States, they would call particular attention to their styles, many of which are controlled entirely by them.
It having been remarked that our business is almost exclusively Southern, we would beg leave to say that our goods are adapted to every section of the United States, Northern, Southern, Eastern and Western, and that in style and price they will be found equal to any other House.
On and after Dec. 1st next, we shall occupy our New Marble Warehouse, now being erected, No 55, CHAMBERS ST., 4 doors from Broadway, directly opposite the Park. 1aw3m jy 11

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.
THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.
The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the Islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and
Affections of the Lungs.
But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing
DISSOLVENT POWER.
By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore
Anti-Expectorant.
And from attentions of trial here. It is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.
It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an
APPETISER
It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom
AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.
Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.
It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.
Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!
N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:
"$50 05 On demand I promise to pay to the bearer FIVE MILLS for value received.
WILLIAM DEVINES."

READ! READ! READ!
DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.
THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as
Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,
With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.
As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.
Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.
We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:
From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.
MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.
I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and am pleased to say I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.
U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.
Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.
Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves for the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.
The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.
I am respectfully yours,

THE BOYS' HIGH SCHOOL.

We have already published the statement that Mr. Kimball has resigned his place as teacher of the Boys' High School in this city, —and also a note from the Committee on the subject. We now give the correspondence between the parties, together with the statement of the affair as given in the Messenger, which appears by its structure to be furnished by Mr. Kimball. There documents together make a tolerably complete history of the whole matter.

The vacation of the school, as fixed by the committee at the close of the recent examination, expired on Wednesday, the 31st ult., and the school should have commenced again on Thursday morning last. On Wednesday Mr. K. called upon the chairman of the committee, and informing him that a highly valued friend was paying him a visit which would terminate on Monday, requested that his vacation might be extended to that day. It was such a request as had never before been refused, but on this occasion he was referred to another member of the committee. Instead of petitioning the committee farther, the teacher met his pupils at the school room Thursday morning, classified them, assigned lessons to each class, and adjourned the school to Monday morning, at the same time addressing to the committee the following note:—

HIGH SCHOOL ROOM, Sept. 1, 1853.

To the High School Committee:

Gentlemen—According to your order at the close of the examination, I have met my school and organized, assigning to each class their lessons, and then I adjourned over till Monday, the 5th of Sep' mber.

I have taken this step from no disrespect to the Committee, or contempt of their authority, but from considerations entirely personal and affecting myself alone. Very respectfully yours,

ISRAEL KIMBALL.

To this note the committee thus replied:

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 1, 1853.

Mr. Israel Kimball—Sir—Your letter of this date informing us of your having adjourned the Boys' High School until Monday next, without consulting the Committee, has been received by us with much surprise; and we shall consider a repetition of such a course on your part a matter which we shall be compelled to notice in a manner less agreeable than the present. Yours, &c.,

WILLIAM H. ROLLINS,
J. M. TREDICK,
SAMUEL STORER,
High School Committee.

Mr. Kimball immediately wrote the following rejoinder.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 1st 1853.

To the High School Committee:

Gentlemen—Your note of this date expressing surprise at my having adjourned the Boys' High School till Monday next has been received, and excites in my mind corresponding surprise. My note to you this morning informing you what I had done, of itself, aside from the statement of reasons made verbally to the chairman of the committee yesterday, I thought sufficient.

I shall at all times hold myself responsible for my doings or misdoings connected with the Boys' High School; but that the committee may rest in no uncertainty in this respect, I will assure them that I shall act in the future as I have for the ten years past independently in matters so nearly personal.

The threat at the close of your note I deem as derogatory for the committee to make as it is insulting for me to receive. Very respectfully yours,

ISRAEL KIMBALL.

The correspondence was continued by the following note from the chairman of the committee.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 2d, 1853.

Mr. Israel Kimball—Sir—Your second communication of yesterday has been received by the committee with very great surprise. I am directed to inform you that you are at liberty to withdraw it at any time today, and that unless so withdrawn it will be placed on the files of the committee. Yours, &c.,

W. H. ROLLINS,
Chairman High School Com.

This note plainly called for no reply unless Mr. K. desired to recall his letter; as he did not, he of course took no notice of it.

Next in order comes the following communication from the secretary of the committee.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 3d, 1853.

At a meeting of the High School Committee held this evening (the committee being all present) it was unanimously

"Voted, That the correspondence between Mr. Kimball and the High School Committee be submitted to the Rev. Dr. Burroughs, who shall be requested to give his opinion of the same and suggest what course shall be adopted in relation thereto."

"Voted, That a copy of the above vote be conveyed to Mr. Kimball, this evening, and if he assent to the same he shall signify it by handing that portion of said correspondence now in his possession to John Bennett, Esq., on or before Monday morning next at 9 o'clock; provided, he do not previous to that time withdraw his second letter to the High School Committee, as suggested by them in their letter to him of the 2d inst."

Extract from the records.

A true copy,
Attest, JOHN BENNETT, Sec'y.

ISRAEL KIMBALL,
Instructor of the High School for Boys.

P. S. The lateness of the hour in which the above votes were passed will prevent my complying with the same by handing this to you this evening, as it is now considerable past 10 o'clock.

J. BENNETT.

This communication Mr. K. received on Sunday, and understanding from conversations with influential citizens that the committee were desirous of settling the difficulty amicably, he on Monday morning returned the following answer.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 5th, 1853.

To the High School Committee:

Gentlemen—Mr. Bennett has handed me a copy of your vote, (passed at a meeting of the committee held Saturday night,) to submit the correspondence held between myself and the committee to Dr. Burroughs &c. While I would not object to this course under certain conditions, I will take the liberty to make to the committee a proposition as a basis for an amicable adjustment of the whole difficulty.

Mr. Bennett has informed me that the committee are under the impression that in adjourning my school on the morning of the 1st inst., I was intentionally and purposely thwarting the authority of the committee, and was influenced in so doing by previous occurrences; and that your note of censure so hastily written, and so pointedly aimed, (in my opinion) was the result of that impression.

But I distinctly and positively disavow being at all influenced in adjourning my school by any occurrences previously having taken place, or of having had regard, at all, to the time allotted me for vacation. (I so stated to the school.) And further, this idea I intended to convey, and thought I could not have failed to convey to the committee, when I assured them in my first note that I had adjourned from no disrespect of the committee or contempt of their authority; but from considerations entirely personal and affecting myself alone; and I had previously stated to Mr. Rollins what those considerations were.

I regret as much as the committee possibly can any breach of the good feeling subsisting up to this time between myself and the committee, and I am willing to meet them on the ground of a mutual withdrawal of the entire correspondence on both sides.

I therefore propose to place the committee's letters in the hands of Mr. Nichols, and they may place mine in the hands of Mr. Toppan, (or any other person they may prefer,) to be by them exchanged and returned to the source whence they originated, or destroyed as they may elect. If this proposition is not satisfactory to the committee, I am prepared to place my resignation in their hands, to take effect immediately or prospectively as may best suit them; only asking in the latter case a reasonable notice. I shall be in school at 9 o'clock this A. M. ready to receive any communication the committee may wish to make.

Very respectfully yours,

ISRAEL KIMBALL.

To this the committee replied—

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 5th, 1853.

Sir, your letter of this date has been handed us. We have carefully examined the proposition you make to surrender the correspondence between us to other parties, to be returned by them to the "source whence they originated or destroyed as they may elect;" which we respectfully decline, for the following reason:—

In our opinion the note of censure which we wrote you for adjourning your school from the 1st to the 5th of Sept. was only what the occasion required, and such as we should again write under similar circumstances; we therefore do not wish to have it placed in the hands of any other parties for the express purpose of having it destroyed or returned to us.

We therefore are of opinion that the proper regulation and government of the school will be best promoted by the resignation of your trust to our hands, to take effect at as early a day as will be convenient to you, which you will please name.

Respectfully, &c.,

WILLIAM H. ROLLINS,
J. M. TREDICK,
SAMUEL STORER,
} High School Committee.

Mr. ISRAEL KIMBALL,
Teacher Boy's High School, Portsmouth.

Mr. Kimball's rejoinder was as follows:—

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 6th, 1853.

To the High School Committee:

Gentlemen—Your letter of the 5th inst., declining my proposition for the settlement of the difficulty between myself and the committee on the basis of a mutual withdrawal of the entire correspondence on both sides has been received.

A proper respect for my own character, and for the good opinion of my friends, forbids me to make any other settlement than a mutual one.

I therefore cheerfully comply with the suggestion of the committee, and hereby resign to "your hands" the office of teacher of the Boys' High School, to take effect from this date.

Very respectfully yours,

ISRAEL KIMBALL.

Mr. Kimball then notified the pupils of the dissolution of their connection, read to them, without comment, the correspondence between himself and the committee, and after expressing the hope that they would treat his successor with the same degree of respect he had received from his pupils during his ten years' connection with the school, took a final leave of them.

To complete the correspondence, we add one letter, of which the committee say it "was received a few minutes after Mr. Kimball's letter of resignation; and before the members of the committee had seen it, Mr. Kimball placed the keys of the room in the hands of the Secretary:"

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 7, 1853.
High School Room.

TO THE COMMITTEE:

Gentlemen—I am now ready to dismiss the Boys' High School, and shall do so in 15 minutes from this time, unless otherwise ordered by you. Respectfully, yours, &c.

ISRAEL KIMBALL.

We also append the card of the Committee, published in the Chronicle of Thursday—leaving out a sentence or two now out of date:

Messrs. Editors.—I ask a space in your columns to correct the statement appearing in the Messenger of this day in regard to the unfortunate occurrences in connexion with the boys' High School.

At the close of the last examination of that school the committee announced that the school would recommence on the first day of September. This was received by the school with a general hiss. The committee immediately stated that the vacation could not be extended after such conduct. Mr. Kimball in conversation with the committee said that the time fixed by the committee was inconvenient to him as he wished to attend the commencement of Bowdoin College. The committee told him that it was impossible to enlarge the vacation after such conduct.

On the last day of August Mr. K. met the chairman of the committee in the street, and asked that he might be allowed to dismiss the school from the 1st to the 5th of September, as a friend from the West was in town who had not been here for ten years. The chairman answered that such an extension of the vacation was objectionable on account of the scene at the close of the school. At this time Mr. K. was called off and said "I will see you again in the afternoon."—The chairman answered that he should be out of town, but that Mr. K. could see Mr. Storer.

To this Mr. K. made no objection. Mr. K. said nothing more to the committee, and the next morning at 10 o'clock, they received the 1st note in the series published. The correspondence is substantially correct.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1853.

MORE BLACK BEGGARS.—Under the head of "an object for the sympathizing," the Boston papers inform us that Mr. London Evans, a colored preacher, and formerly a slave in Georgia, but now legally free, is in that city, asking aid to purchase his wife, nine children and two grand-children from slavery, and get them to Liberia. He has to raise $8000 to effect this. His appearance indicates an honest old man, and wherever he has presented his appeal it has been met with favor. Upon his book of subscriptions stand the names of Edward Everett and other prominent citizens.

This Mr. London Evans must be a very foolish man, to suppose his wife and children will be any better off in freedom, with nobody to take care of them but negroes, than they now are under the paternal and patriarchal institution. To be sure he is now free and has been a slave, and so has experience in both conditions: but then a host of learned men have decided otherwise, and made long arguments favoring slavery, from the Bible and Law Books.

INDIA RUBBER CASE.—In the important India Rubber case, tried last month at Newport, the Circuit Court of the United States, for the District of Rhode Island, we understand the court pronounced an opinion Wednesday morning in the court house in Providence, deciding the case in favor of Day.—This case was brought by Mr. Day to try the title to the so-called Chaffee patent, which Mr. Day claims, and which is said to be worth a million of dollars or more. On the other side it is claimed to be owned by the Goodyear licensers, who claim it under a contract made with Goodyear and one William Judson. So Day's dish is right side up, and Goodyear's porridge is spilt.

CORN.—Indian Corn, is at once a most beautiful and most important plant in this region. Its beautiful clear green stalk and leaves wave in the summer sunshine, and then become brown and rustling in the autumn, as the rich and yellow ear is filled and ripened. The stalk and leaf are valuable fodder for cattle,—the grain one of the most nutritious and wholesome for all granivorous animals, including man, and not excluding the hog.—The present appearance in all this vicinity, is that of a great and good crop.

SHILLABER'S WORKS.—A great many of our friends are inquiring of us why Mr. Shillaber does not make a collection of his prose works, now that his poems are receiving such favor from the public; and sure enough, why doesn't he? His immortal Mrs. Partington has always been a public favorite, and her name would insure a rapid sale for such a collection. There is no need that the book be entirely Partingtonian; let "old Roger" find a niche there, and a score of other characters, who owe their existence to the same fertile imagination. Come, friend Shillaber, what say you? The public, having had a taste of your poetry, will not be satisfied without a companion volume in prose.—Portland Eclectic.

We have been informed by one who knows, that overtures have been made to Mr. Shillaber, by a Boston publishing house, to issue his prose works in a uniform size with the "Rhymes with reason and without." It would doubtless be very acceptable to the public.

TALLEST CORN IN NEW ENGLAND.—The Traveller and some other Boston papers are crowing over some stunted corn that is now growing in Massachusetts and is only fifteen feet high. The Exeter News Letter says, if the editors of those papers will come out in person upon the fertile lands of Rockingham County, we will show them corn in Mr. Francis Lane's garden in Spring street, in Exeter, which has already grown to the height of seventeen feet, and the motto of which continues to be Excelsior.

Peter Bain of East Boston has been committed to jail in Boston, on a charge of killing his wife, Ann Bain, when they were both drunk. He is to await the action of the Grand Jury in November.

RAILROAD THIEVES ARRESTED.—For some months past, says the Concord Democrat, the freight trains on the Northern Railroad have been infested by a gang of thieves, who have been in the habit of entering the freight cars, either when they were stopping, or when going at a slow rate up the heavy grades, and then throwing out sometimes a firkin of butter, sometimes a box of shoes, or boots, sometimes clothing, and sometimes other valuables. The property thus thrown out, has then been secreted, or carried to a place of consignment among the confederates of the stealers. The attempt to sell some boots led to the arrest, last Saturday, of two boys residing at Franklin, named Welch and Pillsbury. The father of the Pillsbury boy is now in the State prison. Subsequently, their confession led to the discovery of large amounts of properrty thus taken; the most extensive depot being at the house of Harrison Arlin of Northfield, who was also arrested, as was also his wife, who are all at the jail in Concord. It is also understood that several others are discovered to be implicated, and will be arrested.

LOCAL.

THE HIGH SCHOOL AGAIN.

We publish on the first page of this paper, the correspondence relative to the late resignation of the teacher of the Boys' High School. For the type we are under obligation to our neighbor of the Messenger, to whom the correspondence was furnished by Mr. Kimball, at the request of the publisher.

Below will be found a reply to the Committee, by Mr. K., and other particulars relating to the affair.

For the Morning Chronicle

BOYS' HIGH SCHOOL AGAIN.

Messrs. Editors.—Over the signature of Wm. H. Rollins, Chairman of the High School Committee, appear, in yesterday's number, several statements materially incorrect. He states that the announcement made at the close of the examination of the Boys's High School, that the school would recommence on the first day of September, was received with a general hiss. Such was not the fact. The examination was held on a sultry day in August; the school had been in session between seven and eight hours, during the day—subjected to a close examination, and cross-examination. The boys were fatigued; but speeches were made and the services were concluded with a prayer.—The people were all standing, and some were leaving. At this unfortunate moment, the Chairman, without any consultation with the teacher, standing in his place, announced to the school, that in consideration of their good conduct and the very fine examination, they had just passed through, (or words to that effect) the school would have a vacation till, &c., naming a shorter time than they usually had & had them a right to expect. The boys were disappointed; they expected a longer time, and with boyish indiscretion, some four or five, to the extent, of the younger lads, did in different parts of the room, start a hiss, so low as hardly to be audible to the spectators in the noisy confusion caused by so many moving their chairs and leaving the room, but which unfortunately was loud enough to catch the quick ear of the committee. It was silenced instantly by the teacher when it caught his dull ear. One member of the committee did threaten the boys what they would do if they heard any more hissing. But the teacher heard no such announcement as the following.—"The commitee immediately stated that the vacation could not be extended after such conduct."

The committee and the audience then retired.—The school was kept in and reprimanded by the teacher; as severely as he could find words to do it with. They were not flogged: flogging is not much used by the teacher; the boys were not in a fit state of mind to profit by such discipline, if he been disposed to administer it; and the teacher was too tired to do it. But believing the committee to be possessed of forgiving minds, and that they would be willing to forgive this offence if repented of, I did advise them to go humbly to the committee, not in a body, but by a respectable delegation of their number, confess the wrong, apologize, tell them that it was done (as it was) without reflection, ask for pardon and forgiveness. This the boys informed me they did do, (five of their number going) and Mr. Rollins assured me the next day that he was satisfied. I believed that that was the end of the hissing affair. I deemed the committee incapable of treasuring it up after this against the boys, or of their meditating any further punishment upon them, much less did I think that for this they would hold me at all responsible. Nor am I responsible.

"On the last day of Aug. Mr. K. met the Chairman of the Committee in the street."—I met Mr. Rollins at the door of the Athenæum—entered into conversation with him in relation to an Assistant for my school: after which I preferred my request that I should be excused from keeping school the remainder of the week; gave him in full the reason for my request. Mr. Rollins made no such statement as "that such an extension was objectionable on account of the scene at the close of the school"; neither did he, in any manner, allude to it. He merely said that he did not want the school to be out the remainder of the week.—What reason he might have intended to give, or would have given, had the conversation been prolonged, I know not. My friend interrupted, and I remarked, I will see you again this P. M. The reply, "I shall be out of town—see Storer," finished the conversation. It was not convenient for me to see Mr. Storer, had I deemed it necessary. It had in all my experience with mine never been deemed sufficient in similar requests to consult one member of the committee, and if it was a matter of sufficient importance he consulted the other members and announced the result to me.—This I think would have been a proper course for the Chairman, had he deemed my request unreasonable, and not dodged it by saying, go to Storer—and then charge me with adjourning my school without consulting the Committee, as in the Committee's first letter.

I had occasion to consult Mr. Rollins, in July, on a leave of absence, to attend the funeral of a brother. I was not then referred to the other members of the Committee, but procured a substitute for the same length of time, viz: 2½ days, and paid him for keeping my school while I went to bury the dead. I never complained of this, or of having to do, for two months, my own labor, and also that of the assistant—the assistant having left the school sick.

But I would have the Committee know that the teacher is a man,—with "eyes, hands, organs, dimensions, senses, affections, passions; fed with the same food, hurt with the same weapons, subject to the same diseases, healed by the same means, warmed and cooled by the same winter and summer" as Committee men.

ISRAEL KIMBALL,
Ex-Teacher of the Boys' High School.

A CORRECTION.—A gentleman interested, desires us to publish the following, in relation to the Committee's Card, which card we republish on the outside to day:—

Messrs. Editors.—Please give me a small space in your Columns to correct an error or mistake in Mr. Rollins' communication to you. "This was received with a general hiss." I sat within ten feet of those that hissed (or chee'd) and directly in front—and can say positively there was not over seven out of thirty-three, and were the youngest boys in age and as scholars—those boys gave their names, and laid themselves open for punishment agreeable to the rules of the school. After the school was closed, a committee, with the assent of the boys that hissed, was chosen to apologize to the committee, which duty they performed perfectly satisfactory to the committee, as the chairman, Mr. Rollins, so expressed himself, which gave the impression that all was settled.

A SPECTATOR.

NEW TEACHERS.—Rev. A. R. Bradbury, at the request of the Committee, has accepted a temporary appointment as teacher of the high school for boys in this city; and took charge of the school on Thursday.

Miss Christiana Henderson, daughter of Mr. George Henderson, of this city, is now filling the place of Assistant Teacher of the Male High School—Miss Curtis having resigned some time since.

PEACHES, have never been better or more plentiful in our market, than they are this year. Excellent peaches, ripe and fresh, raised within short distances, were for sale yesterday at one dollar, and even 63 cents per bushel.

CITY COUNCIL, SEPT. 8TH.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—Engine Company No. 4, applied for Jefferson Hall for the purpose of entertaining their friends from Manchester on Friday, 9th Sept.—granted.

Joshua Johnson presented a claim of $30, for labor on the road and stone wall near his house; the subject was referred to the committee on Roads and Bridges.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—At the quarterly meeting of the Portsmouth Young Men's Christian Association held the 7th inst., the following officers were chosen for the ensuing term:

Lewis W. Brewster, President;
Robert G. Todd, } Vice Presidents;
Horace Webster }
John F. Kennard, Recording Secretary;
John H. Lowd, Cor. Secretary;
Franklin Ellms, Treasurer;
William Seavey, Librarian;
Henry Works, Assistant Librarian;
J. Gilman Folsom, }
Stephen Lovejoy, }
Charles Grant, } Directors.
Franklin Martin, }
Dan'l H. Spinney jr. }

☞ On Thursday, in the Police Court, three boys were sentenced to pay a fine and costs of $3,25 each, for throwing stones, bricks, &c., at a dweling house, and abusing the occupants by opprobrious words. Two of these boys, aged 11 and 12, it is said do not attend school.

A GOOD CARRIER.—There is a vast difference in boys carrying newspapers, especially a sale list. We have tried several boys at Navy Yard Village, Kittery Foreside; and out of half a dozen or more, have at last found the one. Our present carrier there distributes more than three hundred Chronicles per week—very much to our advantage as well as his own, and we hope that of the readers. So prompt and faithful a boy, however, will always be in demand; and we shall lose him as we did his last predecessor, who was so justly promoted.

The lately discharged workmen at the Navy Yard are again at work, new orders having been received.

FIRE.—A shed attached to the saw mill of Moses Hill & Co., in Candia, was burnt on Wednesday last. Loss $300.

FATAL EXPLOSION.—We learn from the Newburyport Herald, that on Wednesday afternoon about 4 1-2 P. M., as the engine Bunker Hill was standing on the track of the Newburyport Railroad, at Groveland, waiting for an excursion train, to take down which she had been fired up, the boiler exploded, throwing the fireman, Mr. Leander Spofford, who had charge of the engine at the time, about 50 feet distant, over a fence, and injuring him so that he died in about half an hour.

The engine was standing on the main track some distance from the cars which had been arranged for the train upon a side track. The two rails upon which the wheels stood, were bent and pressed down into the ground nearly two feet, and the engine was thrown forward about 12 feet, and the tender backward about the same distance. The smoke pipe was thrown about 20 feet in the same direction with the firemen.

The Engine was an old one, employed as a reserve engine, but the boiler shows no defects, and we learn from gentlemen who came down in the train, that the general impression was that steam was making with the safety valve down. There were some people near by where the flying billets of wood and fragment fell, but no person was harmed or touched except the fireman, who was upon the engine.—The boiler burst upon the dome.

Mr. Spofford the fireman was about 45 years old, and leaves a wife and two daughters.—He has been employed on the road about a year. The engineer had just left the engine to arrange the switch, and left Mr. Spofford placing wood on the tender.

INDEPENDENT ORDER OF ODD FELLOWS.—The Grand Lodge of the United States, of this association, assembled at Philadelphia on Monday. The following officers were duly installed:—

Wilmot G. De Sausure, of S. Carolina, Grand Sire.
Horace A. Manchester, of R. Island, Dep. G. Sire.
James L. Ridgely, of Maryland, Grand Secretary.
Joshua Van Zant, of Maryland, Gr. Treasurer.

The following officers were nominated by Grand Sire De Saussure, and confirmed by the G. Lodge:—Rev. Junious M. Willey, of Connecticut, Gr. Chaplain, (re-appointed); John E. Chamberlain, of Maryland, G. Messenger, (re appointed); S. H. Lewyt, of Maryland, G. Guardian, (re appointed); J. M. Cassady, of New Jersey, G. Marshal.

On Tuesday, the members of the Lodge visited Independence Hall, by invitation of the city authorities.

FROM THE BRITISH PROVINCES.—The St. John Freeman of September 3d has this item:

"Arrived yesterday the U. S. sloop-of-war Cyane, Capt. Hollins, and H. M. cutter Netley, Lieut. Newport. There was, of course, some powder expended on the occasion. The Cyane probably follows the Princeton to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, to protect American fishermen, though they will find it difficult to accord the fishermen the protection they desire. The arrival of a whole fleet of steamers would not give them the right of fishing within the prescribed bounds."

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.—We learn from the Portland Advertiser, that about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, Mr. John G. Myers, of Portland, a boarder at the United States Hotel, was riding along the promenade of Munjoy, in company with a woman, when his horse became frightened, and started at the appearance of a ditch, or water-course, crossing the road, causing a bundle of clothes in the carriage to fall out on to the ground.

Mr. Myers alighted to recover them, and as he rose from a stooping posture, a succession of heavy blows, evidently from a slung shot, or some other weapon, assailed him, on his forehead and the top of his head, inflicted by a stout-looking man, evidently a negro.—Myers struck back with his fist, baring his knuckle by the blow. Upon this the assassin made a very loud whistle, and the woman in the carriage heard others coming to his aid. Of this she informed Myers, who turned and was clambering into the carriage, when his assailant seized him by the coat, rending it in twain, and taking therewith his pocket-book, which Mr. Myers says contains valuable papers to a large amount.—But he succeeded in getting into the carriage, by the aid of his companion, turned his horse, and drove immdiately into the city.

It is supposed that robbery was the object of this daring outrage.

SHOCKING MUTILATION.—A Frenchman, named Harmon, a cook in the employ of Mr. Darg, of Newport, cut off his hand at the wrist with a carving knife on the 2d. He had been laboring under religious excitement amounting to insanity, and fancied that his right hand had offended him, and that he was commanded to cut it off. He cut the skin, drew it back and unjointed the wrist.—Prov. Journal.

Mr. T. W. Gillis left his horse and wagon on the bank of the pond near his Sewing Machine works at the "Harbor," last Friday.—Soon after, his attention was called to the fact that his wagon was in the pond. It was ascertained that his horse was attached to it and drowned, having by some means got in unobserved by any one. The horse was worth $150.—Nashua Gazette.

At Cripple Creek, Wythe county, Va., there are two pigs, one of which has six legs, four behind and two before: the other has five legs, three before and two behind. The one with six legs uses them all in walking. The knees are double-jointed, two legs proceeding from each joint. The pigs are now seven weeks old and "doing well." They are both from the same sow.

"During your travels in Canada, Mr. Slocum, did you meet with anything that arrested your attention?" "Yes, sir—a deputy sheriff. He not only arrested my attention, but my person, and marched us both off to Lincoln county jail, for crossing the line without paying duty on a yaller dog."

The Cincinnata Price Current annual statement shows an increase of eleven millions of dollars in the imports, and an increase in river tonnage of 220,000 tons over last year. The hog produce handled there is equal to one-third of the entire crop of the West, and valued at nearly $9,000,000.

A new and very excellent variety, called the orange water melon, is now raised in the Southern States. By cutting into the rind, as you peel an orange, the entire skin peels off, leaving the whole pulp unbroken, which with care, may be divided into quarters, just as you divide an orange.

A stallion seized Mr. Boyington of Oberlin, Ohio, in his mouth, and threw him into the air; when he struck the ground the horse jumped upon him with his fore feet, seized him by the head, and broke his neck short off, severing the jugular vein with his teeth.

Agriculture is a primeval, and the most noble employment of mankind. Without a knowledge of the principles of the science of this art, man would become an uncivilized barbarian, subsisting like the brute creation on a scanty supply of fruit and roots.

MORE MUTTERINGS.—Ezra L. Stephens, an abolitionist, and a devoted friend of Giddings, has been appointed to a clerkship in the Indian Bureau at Washington, and the national wing of the Democracy are greatly incensed thereat.

NEW YORK, Sept 8.—The steamer Bay State exploded her boiler near Black Rock, in the Sound, this morning, severly wounding four children and the wife of Mr. De Wolfe, of Chicago, Mr. Warren, of Dartmouth, Mass., and several others.

Mary Simondson, familiarly known as "Aunt Polly," who arrived at the extreme age of one hundred and twenty-six years, and who had long had her residence in a neat little cottage near Shippensburg, Pa. died suddenly last week.

THE FLOUR TRADE.—The Baltimore Times says it is mentioned as a new and unusual feature in the flour trade, that a demand for it has come to us from the Mediterranean, a part of the world from whence we at one time received supplies.

THE TALLEST YET.—M. J. Bronner of Lowell writes to the Lowell News, that while on a visit to Andover, he saw a stalk of corn nineteen feet high, and it had fourteen ears of corn on it!

MRS. STOWE.—A letter from Frankfort, Germany, states that Mrs. Stowe and Mr. Van Buren and son recently passed through that city.

VERMONT ELECTION.—It is ascertained that there is no choice of Govenor by the people; but the complexion of the legislature is uncertain.

The contributions to the Washington monument during the month of August were $3518.

The Shirley Shakers have been deserted by several members of the Society the past week. Of the number five were females.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 350,000.
It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.
Depot: nd manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.
Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity. and by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&w6m je22

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence,

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.
Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.
What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.
In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S
Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.
One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]
First published in 1847, and it is not
SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,
Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly
should have been sold.
It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.
UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES
Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.
BE NOT DEFRAUDED!
Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauricean, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y.," is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauricean, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.
LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!
No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold most dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.
To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.
When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.
☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (postaid free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

NOVEL METHOD OF TEACHING MUSIC.—A Highland piper having a scholar to teach, disdained to crack his brains with the names of semibreves, minims, crotchets and quavers. "Here, Donald," said he, "take your pipes, lad, and gi' us a blast. So, very well blown indeed. But what is sound, Donald, without sense? You may blow forever without making a tune of it, if I dont tell you how the queer things on the paper must help you. You see that big fellow with a round open face (pointing to a semibreve between the two lines of a bar): he moves slowly from that line to this, while you beat one with your foot and gi' a long blast—if now you put a leg to him, you make two of him, and he would move twice as fast; if you blacken his face, he will run four times faster than the fellow with the white face; but if, after you blacken his face, you bend his knee, or tie his legs, he will hop eight times faster than the white-faced fellow I showed you at first. Now, whenever you blow your pipes, Donald, remember this—the tighter those fellows' legs are tied, the faster they will run, and the quicker they are sure to dance.

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.
The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated Stomach, and
Affections of the Lungs.
But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing
DISSOLVENT POWER,
By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore
Anti-Expectorant,
And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.
It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an
APPETISER
It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom
AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.
Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.
It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.
Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption; and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to enable, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!
N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box.
"[$00 05] On demand I promise to pay to the bearer FIVE MILLS for value received.

READ! READ! READ!
DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as
Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,
With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.
As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.
Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.
We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:
From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.
MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.
I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.
JNO. H. T. JEROME.
A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.
U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.
Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering severely from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.
Lieutenant —— of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.
The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.
I am respectfully yours,

THE FORCE OF LOVE.

A Marriage was celebrated a few days ago in the church of the Rue St. Antoine, Paris, and in the course of the ceremony, a young woman of great beauty, who had been observed pale and agitated in the body of the church, was seized with convulsions. Assistance was afforded her, and when she recovered, the ceremony had terminated, and the wedding party quitted the church. She immediately ran after them, and attempted to throw herself beneath the wheels of the carriage containing the newly married pair, but she was prevented. On this, she flew into a violent passion against the person who held her, and conducted herself so violently that she had to be put into a place of safety. Inquiries having been made respecting her, it was ascertained that she was the sweetheart of the man who had been married, and he had sworn repeatedly never to marry any one but her. Having learned that this marriage was fixed on, she became desperate, and resolved to create scandal. After being locked up for some time a change came over her, and bursting into tears, she spoke of her faithless lover with great tenderness, and said that she would die to secure his happiness. She was conveyed to the hospital, where she became seriously ill, and although every attention was paid to her, she died in a few days.

A case of somewhat similar kind has also to be related:—

A cabinet maker, living in Marais, became passionately attached to a female, who however declined to marry him, because he was not possessed of sufficient fortune. The refusal gave him such a strong desire of being wealthy, that his mind was affected. In this state he fancied he had suddenly become a millionaire, and that every piece of paper which fell into his hands was a bank-note.—On Sunday, he went into a restaurant and ordered a comfortable dinner. When the waiter presented the bill, he produced the prospectus of a writing-master, which had been given him in the street, and representing that it was a 500 franc note, requested change for it. The waiter had him conveyed to the commissary of police. There it was ascertained beyond doubt that he was mad, and he was sent to the perfecture.

WHY MR BUCHANAN NEVER MARRIED.—A correspondent of the New Haven Palladium, writing from Lancaster, Pa., briefly records the reason:—

"A short distance from the city is the country residence of Hon. James Buchanan, American ambassador to the court of St. James. Its general appearance at once indicates that no fair hand is there to train the creeping vines or budding roses to their befitting place—as you are aware that the honorable gentleman still remains in single blessedness! The story is briefly told. Paying his addresses to a young and beautiful lady of this city, each became deeply enamored, and they were engaged. On a given evening, she requested his company to a party of friends, which he declined on plea of business engagements. Circumstances rendering it necessary, he, late in the evening, gallanted a young lady to her home, and on the way—they met. Mortified and chagrined at what she deemed unfaithfulness and desertion, and imagining the worst, she left the city early in the morning, and returned a corspe. Such is the sad story of his early love, nor can the high places of distinction make him forget, nor the wreaths of honor that encircle his brows bury the memory of the early loved and lost."

A very pretty story indeed:—but if he lost such a jealous, nervous and imaginative creature as that, his loss was a gain, and his old bachelorhood a blessing in comparison.

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES.

Mr. Layard, the explorator of Nineveh, recently made the ablest speech that the Eastern question has yet drawn out in the British Parliament. His interpretation of the causes and object of the Russian invasion is different from any other that we have seen.—He says the American missionaries have given Protestantism such a vigorous start in the East, that the Czar, as partiarch of the Greek church, is determined to arrest its progress by every means in his power. In support of this position, Mr. Layard cites the strongest facts.

But however this may be, says the Portland Advertiser, we have long been convinced that these obscure missionaries of ours in foreign lands are among the most potential agencies of the present day. Scattered in almost unknown quarters and dealing single-handed with the myriads in paganism and mental darkness, yet in positive results, they will far exceed the boasted statesmen of the Union,—There is no science among us which has not been enriched by their contributions, and no department of commerce which has not been stimulated by their suggestions. But, more than this, they stand at the cradles of infant nations with the priceless Book in their hands. On opening minds they impress those principles which cannot die. Not alone in religion is this influence felt, but in every province of thought and in every topic which can engage emancipated minds.

Their energy, culture, and tact admirably fit them for their duties. And the steps of their progress are so clear and gratifying that the same men keep up an enthusiasm, which they might never feel at home. Their influence, therefore is incalculable. Whatever morals, whatever politics, whatever science may characterize the nations of the East, a great part of their progress and their power will be due to these missionaries. Let them be sustained in their arduous labors by every one who wishes well for man in any particular.

DEPARTURE OF EMIGRANTS AND MISSIONARIES TO LIBERIA.—The bark Gem, Capt. Lawlin, belonging to Mumford & Co., will sail on the 8th inst., on a trading voyage to the coast of Africa, taking out two missionaries of the Old School Presbyterian Church, viz:—Rev. Edwin T. Williams and Wm. Clemens, with their wives, who go to the island of Carisco. The station has a magnificent bay, and a healthy climate; and the officers of the Colonization Society are desirous that it should be made a point for a new American colony. It is about two hundred miles from the mouth of the River Niger, and will, to a great extent, command its trade, besides being of easy access to the heart of the great river Congo. The Gem discovered on a recent voyage, that India rubber could be procured there in great abundance.

The New York State Colonization Society, at a meeting held on the 1st inst., decided to fit out an expedition to Liberia, to be composed chiefly of emigrants from the North, as soon as the 15th of October: and it is understood that a very intelligent colored clergyman, (Rev. Mr. Rogers, of Newark, N. J.,) will avail himself of this opportunity; also, Mr. Peterson of Rome, N. Y., for the purpose of exploring the country. If their report is favorable, others hold themselves in readiness to follow.

About forty have already offered to go by this expedition, landing at Monrovia, and it is thought that possibly the number may be increased to 100. About the same time another expedition, will leave Baltimore and Norfolk, with over two hundred emigrants. Quite a company is gathering in Circleville, Oo., and in Indiana, with the design of emigrating this fall.

The spirit of emmigration is extending among the colored people at the South and West, and old prejudices are gradually wearing away.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

FISHING TREATY.

A Washington letter to the Boston Times says:

"The fishery question has of late occupied much of the attention of the Cabinet. It is a subject of much difficulty. The fact is, the British got the advantage of us in the treaty of 1818. They secured to themselves the exclusive right to fish within three leagues of their own shores, which embrace the best of the fishing grounds. This was an oversight on the part of our Commissioners, and the British are disposed to exact all their rights. To enforce them they have sent the "Devastation" war steamer and other cruisers to frighten our fishermen, and thus to spread devastation with a vengeance. Their object is to coerce our government into a treaty for reciprocal trade with the Provinces. John Bull is disposed to exact as much as he can, and Mr. Crampton makes the most of "the power of Great Britain." The case was one of much embarrassment to the administration. A squadron has been sent there, but they seem to have very little to do but exchange civilities with the British authorities, while the steamer "Devastation" does all the work of annoyance.

We suppose this paragraph gives something like a true view of the case. Our last war with Great Britain was made ostensibly to secure Free Trade and Sailors' Rights. In the treaty of peace, however, not one word was said about either; and even the North Eastern Boundary question was deferred, to be settled at another time and in another place. So of the fisheries, they were arranged by a treaty in 1818, which is construed by the British in a way which shuts our vessels out from some of the best fishing grounds.

Our fishermen call for more privilege and more protection; and the administration is troubled thereby; for if the other side "got the advantage" by treaty, it will be quite a difficult matter to make them give it up. It must be done, if done at all, by negotiation, and by concessions in some other direction.—These things require time and skill; involve principles, and require mature consideration.

MASSACHUSETTS LIQUOR LAW.

How it Works.—The Plymouth Rock gives the following testimony as to the working of the Massachusetts liquor law in Plymouth:—

"When we took up our residence in Plymouth, we found the town, as we though, for large a place a remarkably temperate town, and for the first six months of our residence here we never saw a man intoxicated, although we doubt not there was intoxication here. But so strictly were the laws enforced that our hotel keepers were punished for furnishing a glass of wine to their boarders, and in more than one instance victualers were prosecuted and fined for selling a glass of cider. This it will be recollected was under under the 'old' law. But this was not stringent enough, and a law was imported from Maine, where it had been got up for political purposes, which was to make the conviction of the liquor dealer much easier, by giving the prosecutor power to seize and taste of his liquor, store it in some place where police officers could help themselves, and keep the decanters and teaspoons for evidence. This law has been in operation eighteen months, and not only have no prosecutions been attempted under it, but so common has liquor dealing become, that daily are men seen reeling through our streets, and we can scarcely approach our office without encountering some victim who is reeling from some den of misery."

The operation of the law, as here portrayed, is, that it don't operate at all. The prosecutor has not prosecuted, and the police officers have not helped themselves,—yet some how, drunkenness has broke loose all on a sudden, and is tumbling its victims about the streets.

This is a swift witness and proves rather too much. The readers will please to observe that these terrible effects are attributed, either to the bare existence of the law without anattempt at execution, or to the suspension of the "old" license law; and also that the commonness of the dealing is followed by a great amount of misery.

If the case is half as bad as the Rock described it, every sober man in the Colony should bestir himself at once to find out and apply a remedy.

If the law is defective, remedy its defects: if radically bad, repeal it and make a better: if no law at all is best, use other means—but at all events pluck these brands out of the burning, if possible.

Our Foreign Relations—Appointments.—We had prepared an article under this head, but we have no room for it this week. It, with other deferred articles, will appear in our next. We observe that the appointments of Saunders, Foresti, and other democratic propagandists are now matters of history. We are sorry for Gen. Pierce.

The above item is from the Boston Pilot, (Catholic) for this week, and shows some disaffection. We shall look for the promised article with some interest.

☞ A telegraphic item of Thursday, from New York, says—"The Women's Rights Convention adjourned last evening sine die. It broke up in a row."

The true reading would probably be, It was broken up by rowdies.

SUN STROKE.—PREVENTIVE.

We have been quite interested in reading that there is an effectual preventive by which the fatal coup de soliel may be warded off or made harmless. A very intelligent and distinguished gentleman of New Granada, has informed the N. Y. Courier & Enquirer, for the benefit of the public, that a very simple and most efficacious expedient is used in the hottest parts of his country to prevent the stroke of the sun. It consists merely in filling the upper part of the crown of the hat, (which should be of straw, chip, or some other light material,) with cotton. With this protection alone, he assures us, men labor in the fields, in the hottest weather, without injury. This is the case at Ocana, where the thermometer is not unfrequently from 114° to 120° Fahrenheit in the sun. He once marched a division of troops under the direct rays of the sun, in one of the hottest valleys of the "Tierras Caliente," and they suffered no injury from the exposure, in consequence of taking this precaution.

It is found that cotton, better than any thing else that has been tried, absorbs the heat from above, and at the same time transmits the moisture rising from the head. Knowing the great value of this practice in his own country, he hopes a notice of it in our newspapers may induce persons to make experiments, and introduce the habit of resorting to the useful expedient in hot weather.

BRUNSWICK COLLEGE.

Gov. Crosby, of Maine, at the Commencement Dinner at Brunswick, made a speech after a shower. The dinner was in a tent, and as a hard shower came on, the dinner, though it passed off pleasantly, was not as well attended as it would have been otherwise.

Gov. Crosby thought that if the audience felt as he did, they would rather go home and change their coats, than stay there in the rain and listen to speeches. He could not help, however, making a few remarks. He saw many things around him that reminded him of times gone by. Twenty-seven years ago on this day, he occupied the same position as a member of the graduating class of to-day.—Twenty-seven years! In truth it seemed as but yester night when we (speaking of the President and himself) were in that little counting room, refreshing ourselves with fish and crackers, and—should he name it—gin and sugar.

Rev. Gorham D. Abbott of New York, offered $1000; and Hon. Bellamy Storer of Cincinnati, $500, towards an Observatory and telescope.

Rev. J. S. C. Abbott said there was still another thing which they wanted: a large and comfortable house on the College grounds, the "White House" of Bowdoin, and in it a lady to welcome its visitors, and children to play around it. The house could be furnished easily, but as to the lady and children—that was left to the President.

The concluding remarks of Mr. Abbott caused considerable laughter, and to keep the ball rolling some one called on the Band to play "Haste to the Wedding," which request was complied with.

THE FEVER.

At New Orleans Sept. 6, the number of interments were 95; of fever 75.

On the 7th the number of interments, including deaths by fever, were only 53.

On the 5th at Mobile the deaths were 43; of fever 33.

A letter from New Orleans, of Aug. 30, says,

The fever is on the decline,—whether permanently or not, we cannot as yet tell: but as the material must be very nearly exhausted, it is presumed that the list of interments will show a continued and progressive decrease; but it will not be less dangerous for unacclimated persons to come here before frost. The ravages of the fever have been truly terrific. Whole families have been swept away by it. The end of the season will exhibit a scene of woe, such as has not been seen or heard of for many years.

The Crescent says,

A few months ago, a merchant of this city took his home and heart a youthful bride, and went to reside in the Fourth District. Wishing to live in privacy, he engaged only one servant—a fresh, green girl, from the Emerald Isle. She took the fever, and in a few days died. Another was hired and shared the same fate. A third and fourth filled the vacancy in the household, and followed in succession the sweeping summons of the same fell destroyer. Following the impulse of natural dread, the merchant went to Mobile to avoid the destructive visitation of the scourge, and the next day buried his young and beautiful bride.—Disgusted with a home where nought but empty chambers served to call up the memories of departed joys, he returned to this city to sell out his household, determined to leave a locality to him so suggestive of sorrow.—He died the next day. When our informant visited the premises, there was but one living creature there. It was a solitary parrot, swinging in its lonely cage, and wailing unwittingly its deserted state.

Arrest of Abductors. The Portland Advertiser states that three of the men engaged in the abduction of Turner in that city have been arrested. Their names are John F. Wait, Agustus H. Raymond, and Charles J. Morrison. Gerry Averhill, the driver of the hack, and the ringleader, as is supposed, has not yet been found. They left Turner in Abbott's tavern at Gorham Corner. The landlord of which house states that Turner came to his house at four o'clock on Wednesday morning, alone, and asked for team with which to go to Saco; this, with a driver, was provided him; and on his way to Saco he related the circumstance of his abduction, saying that he had been roughly handled, that his head was pretty badly bruised, &c. The examination of the abductors is deferred until Turner can be found.

LOCAL.

For the Chronicle.

EDUCATION—VACATION.

It is believed that the common schools in this city are in a flourishing condition,—that the masters are well qualified, and that our youth, generally, have a laudable ambition to acquire rudimental instruction, and thus lay the foundation for future usefulness. But in behalf of our youth as well as all good citizens we have a complaint to make, and care not against whom the accusation may fall.—We are told that some of our schools are allowed a whole month's vacation. This if so, is all wrong, and should no longer be tolerated. It cannot be for the benefit of the pupils, and should not be allowed for the personal convenience of the Teachers. The latter should be out of the question, for the time of each pupil is as precious as that of the teacher.

We would not object to several vacations in a year for a week's duration, for reasonable recreation;—but a month's vacation cannot fail to be attended with injurious effects, as every one will understand. The pupils will be contracting idle and bad habits, and perhaps losing the most valuable part of their existence. We see no reason whatever why our schools should not be kept Wednesday afternoon. How this practice of wasting Wednesday afternoon, unknown we think in any other parts of the state, originated here, we know not, but no good reason can be assigned for it.

There is some reason for a vacation Saturday afternoons. For the other days they devote about six hours per day to their studies—that is to say, about 33 hours out of 160 per week devoted to study. With five-sixths of their time for recreation and sleep, is said to be the practice here to convert in addition one-twelfth part of the year as a vacation, and we think to the positive injury of the pupils.

In our Colleges the Industrious students devote at least half their time to study, and as they generally live at a distance from their home, are with propriety allowed several weeks vacation. The rule is not therefore applicable to our common schools, In respect to youth of a more tender age we are opposed to all hardship or severity of discipline, and are in favor of useful recreation—have had experience as teacher of common schools, and therefore feel qualified to form a judgment upon this important subject in which all have a common interest.

A Friend to our Youth.

We give our correspondent a fair hearing, nevertheless we do not agree with the drift of his remarks; but suppose on the contrary, that a month's vacation at a time, once a year, may be advantageous to the scholar as well as the teacher—and that the health and comfort of both are promoted by it. The half-holiday on Wednesday (formerly Thursday) is a Portsmouth usage at lest half a century old,—probably more. And though no half-holiday, except Saturday, prevails through the state, most of the district schools in the county have vacations, varying from one month to three, between their terms. Opinions vary on such matters—but modern usage favors many vacations, and some of them long ones. About six weeks vacation in a year are allowed, we believe, in this city, and the usage, as to how these weeks shall be divided, is not exactly uniform.

Engine Parade.—The Niagara Engine Company, No. 2, Capt. Waldron, of Manchester, visited this city on Friday, numbering 54 men, handsomely uniformed, and being accompanied by the Manchester Brass Band.

The Company, when at home number 75 men, who all work in one machine shop on the Amoskeag corporation.

They were here received and entertained by the Piscataqua Engine Company, No. 4, Capt. Seymour, as whose guests they dined at the City Hotel. A great number of sentiments were offered on the occasion, and many good jokes cracked, but we refrain from giving them on account of their great number.

The company left Manchester Wednesday morning, and remained in Dover one night.—They will leave for home to-day, and on their arrival at Manchester, says the Mirror, will probably be welcomed by the entire Fire Department of that city.

Remarkable Voyage of a Cow.—A gentleman of this city purchased a cow, on Thursday, at Kittery, and drove her home, leaving her calf behind. In the afternoon she escaped from the pasture and made her way to the bridge, but not being permitted to cross without toll, it appears that some time in the evening she took to the river to swim across. Not having power to stem the rapid tide of the Piscataqua, she drifted against the bridge, and got entangled in such a manner that she could not escape, and yet was preserved from drowning. Thus she remained all night, and until some humane men came to her relief in the morning, with a boat, and towed her ashore. She appears likely to do well. Here in this bereaved and expatriated animal, was maternal affection, anxiety, courage, energy—almost reason, but not quite—for that might have suggested caution. Yet she showed half a dozen of those traits which are among the most admirable in human beings.

THE STEAMER BAY STATE, of the Fall River line, as we published yesterday, met with an accident on Thursday morning, as she was passing through Hell-Gate narrows. In consequence of some disarrangement of the machinery, the cap of one of the steam cylinders was blown off. A large volume of hot vapor was forced into the ladies' cabin.—Mrs. DeWolfe of Chicago and her four children, who happned to be sitting near the door, were scalded; so were Mr. Warren of Dartmouth, Mass., and others who were standing in the gangway. The steamer State of Maine, outward bound, was signalized, and returned to New York in company with the Bay State. Among the scalded are John E. Abbott of Boston, who had his hands scalded, but is rapidiy recovering Two of the DeWolfe children died in the hospital; a third was in a dying condition; the fourth will probably recover.

Miss Charlotte Snow, who was travelling with the DeWolfe family, will recover.

Mr. Thomas Warner of Dartmouth died at midnight.

Mr. Wilson, of New York, and his daughter, were badly scalded.

Miss Haven, of Fall River, hands terribly scalded, is at the Astor House.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

Steamer Star of the West arr. at New York on the 9th, with 600 passengers, and $1,500,000 in gold.

The head of Joaquin, the bandit, has been brought to San Francisco, and was about to be exhibited.

The Rogue River Indians attacked the white settlements in the Northern portions of the State, and murdererd a number of citizens.—Detachments of troops have been sent in pursuit.

The taxable property in San Francisco is estimated at $30,000,000; increase $11,000,000 over last year.

FROM EUROPE.

The Asia arrived at New York, brings Liverpool news to Aug. 27, three dates later than former advices. In the Liverpool breadstuff market, Aug, 26, there was some activity, with the weather unsettled and prices undiminished. The advance on the week ranges from 1 a 1s 6d or upwards to 2s per brl. on Flour. Indian corn began to be enquired for at 6d a 1s advance. American Western Canal Flour, 28s 6d a 29s 6d; Baltimore and Philadelphia, 30 a 30s 6d; Ohio, 30s 6d; sour 26s 6d; Corn, white and yellow, 30 a 32s 6d.

THE EASTERN QUESTION is totally unchanged. Nothing has yet transpired, but everybody regards it as settled. It was reported that the Russians had commenced to re-cross the Pruth, but it was untrue. It is believed that the Vienna conferences were occupied in smoothing points of mere punctilio.

Mr. Ingersoll, on the 24th ult., announced his recall, at the British Court, and Mr. Buchanan was presented to the Queen.

WORLD'S TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—In this body, at New York, considerable excitement was produced, by the introduction, by the Rev. Geo. W. Clarke, of a resolution recognizing the right of women to a seat in the Convention. Miss Antoinette L. Brown ascended the platform, and seated herself among the gentlemen. Mr. Clarke's resolution was voted down with a large majority.

A resolution subsequently introduced by Gen. Carey to the effect that the rostrum was not the proper theatre for the efforts of woman was adopted, when Miss Brown retired from the stage and order was restored.

On Wednesday, the Evening Session was very fully attended. Speeches were made by Mr. Lee of England, Rev. Mr. Wolcott of Providence, and Rev. Thomas Hunt.

DARING ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY.—Hartford, Sept. 6.—A daring attempt to commit burglary was made last night, by two men, upon the residence of Mr. George Bliss, in Bliss street. The burglars endeavored to force open the door, and were resisted by Mr. B., who asked what they required. They replied that they wanted to come in, and would not condescend to tell why; and on Mr. B. calling for his two nephews, Henry and Charles, the burglars very coolly informed him that it was useless to make any noise, as they were both at College. and could not hear his cries for assistance. Upon informing them that he had no money or plate of consequence in the house—which they demanded—they answered, "Your sister has," referring to a sum of $100 which had been paid her a short time since, indicating a perfect knowledge of his affairs, &c. Fortunately a neighbor and a railroad watchman were aroused by his cries for assistance, when the burglars fled, and as yet have escaped arrest, though the Police are making every effort to discover the rogues.

EXTENSIVE BURGLARIOUS OPERATIONS.—The dwelling house of John P. Jewett, Harrison Avenue, Boston, was broken into on the night of Sunday, the 4th inst., while the family were absent from the city. The house was thoroughly ransacked from cellar to attic, and robbed of silver plate, jewelry and other articles, of the value of about five hundred and fifty dollars.

The thief left behind the following letter, written in a good running hand:

SEPTEMBER 4th, 1853.

Dear Sir,—I have been by poverty compelled to rob your house, I can truly say against my "conscience." I have honesty, but poverty knows no bounds.

I shall repay you two fold in a few months.

Yours, truly. "POVERTY."

MORE IMMIGRANTS.—Ship Levi Woodbury, Nickerson, from Liverpool 5th August, arrived at Boston on Friday, with merchandize and 156 passengers, consigned to Train & Co.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.
It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.
Depot and Manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.
Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.
What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—but which better still—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily arising from living upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.
In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer on her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S
Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.
One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]
First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.
It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold most dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (sealed free) to any part of the United States. AMERICAN WINE.

The quantity of wine (says the Boston Transcript) annually produced in the United States has become a subject of deep interest. The census of 1840 gave 124,000 gallons as the produce of that year. It has often been stated that since that period the culture of the grape, and the manufacture of wine therefrom, have grown into a business of considerable importance in the States bordering on the Ohio river, and that several hundred acres have been planted in vineyards in that valley, which yield at the rate of more than 45,000 gallons of wine a year. The total product of the Union, in 1850, was given at 221,249 gallons.

The consumption of wine in the United States, though by no means general, amounts in the aggregate to a large sum. The imports during the year ending June, 1851, were 6,160,000 gallons, of which, probably, three-fourths consisted of the wines of France.—The value or invoice cost of the article was $2,370,000. The average consumption of foreign wines was, therefore, in quantity, but about one quarter of a gallon for each person, and in value only ten cents. The coincidence is somewhat remarkable, that this is almost precisely the rate of consumption of imported wine among the people of Great Britain. But in France, according to official returns, there is produced and retained for consumption 900,000,000 gallons of wine, allowing 25 3-4 gallons to each person in the population.

It appears, from tables in the census returns, that the quantity of ale and spirituous liquors produced in the United States, in 1850, exceeded 86,000,000 gallons. The consumption of malt and spirituous liquors for manufacturing purposes, and as a beverage, appears to have been at the rate of nearly four gallons per head. It is the opinion of many, says the Superintendent of the Census, whose inquiries upon the subject entitle them to respect, that among what are called "civilized" nations, the vice of inebriation has always been found to prevail most extensively where the vine is not cultivated; while, on the other hand, where this species of culture is widely disseminated, the temperance of the people is proverbial.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NUTRITIVE PRINCIPLE, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process, expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional restoring decease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any families adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

Doctor Alfred G. Hall may be consulted by letter, or in person at his rooms, No. 15 Winter St., Boston, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. ☞ Medicines, &c, forwarded by Express to any part.

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the Islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant.

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETIZER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered Consumption can be cured! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where it can be administered, give relief to, nourish life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!

N.B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

READ! READ! READ!
DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND, Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,
VERNON ESKRIDGE, Chaplain U.S.N.

Bridgewater Paint

MANUFACTURED by the Bridgewater Paint Manufacturing Company, New Jersey. The Company have now on hand a supply of this Paint, which they offer to the public as the best article known for roofs, decks and bottoms of steamers and other vessels, and for brick and wood work generally; and from its spark and cinder proof qualities they can safely recommend it as the best and most perfect protection for railroad and other bridges, cars, depot buildings, &c.

The strongest testimonials of the virtues of this article from officers of the army, superintendents of railroads, insurance companies, captains of vessels, painters, &c. may be seen at the store of the subscribers, who having been appointed sole Agents for the same, offer it to the trade at the manufacturers' prices.

MORE FACTS.

We regard the Portland Advertiser as a good witness on the Maine law. And so also do we regard the Boston Transcript.—Having published the testimony of the former on the Maine Law, we now take some from the latter, leaving the court (the public) to reconcile or balance the opposing items.

SALE OF LIQUORS IN MAINE.—The Portland Advertiser and several other journals have expressed doubts in regard to the truth of our statement respecting "the open and undisguised sale of liquors at the hotels of Maine." We now reiterate that statement, and affirm that it is true to the very letter.—We state what we do know, and testify to what we have seen. We call it an "open and undisguised sale," when the article is ordered of a servant at a public table, and is brought in and opened with a loud report, passed round the table, in the presence of fifty persons, and is so common an occurrence that it does not excite any more comment than such a proceeding would in New York. We call it an "open and undisguised sale," when in visiting a fashionable hotel in broad daylight, we find upwards of twenty young men in a public room, where there is a great show of decanters filled, and where the company, the bar keeper, the furniture of the room, and everything which meets the eye, indicates that it is a bar room, with every facility for the open sale of ardent spirits by the glass to all applicants.

We could, if we thought it any object, furnish an array of witnesses to substantiate our statement, and a ream of paper of corroborative proof could be had in twenty-four hours. We should as soon think of denying, as a citizen of Massachusetts, that the statute respecting the legal rate of interest was enforced in State street, as to affirm that the liquor law was obeyed in the state of Maine. We must believe our own senses and positive evidence, in preference of the statements of others, and the negative testimony furnished by those who are evidently not posted up.

GREAT MEN OF THE FUTURE.—The National Era alluding to the passing away of the great statesmen of the country Clay, Calhoun and Webster, and with them the parties, policies and measures of which they were the originators and defenders, says—

Who is to be the next great man of the South? Has South Carolina got anybody in training? Has Virginia anybody to train?—We don't mean men of the Rives, or Cobb, or Walker kind, but somebody that will give history and precedent the cut direct, and undertake the fulfillment of prophecy. Let us venture upon a prediction. The bolder the better and more probable. Here it is.

The next decidedly great man of the South will be an EMANCIPATOR! Don't "stagger at the promise through unbelief." There is nothing else for it. Every thing else is worn out, and this is already wearing in. Some child already born will have this greatness thrust upon him, and our eyes shall see it.—The South now lies like the sleeping beauty in the fairy tale, dreaming of her early glory, mingled with visions of her coming restoration. Some gallant young Knight of the Sun will wake her up presently, the sorceries that enchain her shall be dissolved, and she will queen it again over all the continent, as it is her right, in virtue of her eminent fitness to do so.

The man "sees visions, and dreams dreams."

SIR GEORGE COCKBURN.—The death of Rear Admiral Sir George Cockburn was announced by the last arrival from Europe.—He was one of the oldest officers in the British naval service, and is well known in this country for his operations on the Southern coast and for his connection with the burning of Washington during the last war with Great Britain. During fourteen years he had a seat in Parliament, representing in the course of that period, Portsmouth, Woobly, Plymouth and Ripon. For seventeen years he had a seat at the Board of Admiralty, and was the parliamentary organ of that department throughout a great part of that period. He was eighty two years of age at the time of his death.

LILLIPUTIAN FEMALES.—Mr. Reuben Jones of Andover, has two daughters, remarkable for their lilliputian size. One of them, Phebe Ann Jones, is nearly nine years of age, is 33 inches in height and weighs only nineteen and a half pounds; the other, Martha Maria, is eighteen years of age, thirty-seven inches in height, and weighs thirty-three pounds.

BOLD BURGLARY IN CHARLESTOWN.—On Sunday afternoon, a rogue entered the house of Mr. Augustus Pratt, Irving Place, Charlestown, by opening a window. He deliberately fastened it up by placing a large tin pan under it. The robber then proceeded to the front door, and unfastened it and opened it, thus securing a retreat by two routes. Mr. Pratt, being disturbed by the noise, got up and went down stairs, caught a sight of the robber as he went through the door, and pursued him a short distance, but to no purpose. On Monday night the same person (it is presumed) returned, and again entered the house, went up to the sleeping room of Mr. Pratt, and succeeded in carrying off his pocket book and a gold watch; also in robbing his brother of his pocket book and a watch, without disturbing any one.

MR. CLAPP.—We are pleased to learn that the Rev. Theodore Clapp arrived in this city this morning, and will at once resume his pastoral duties among us. Mr. Clapp had made his arrangements to spend the month of October at the North, where he was quietly ensconced; but learning that the fever was raging here with much severity, he at once, as soon as the health of a member of his own family would permit, retraced his steps homeward.

Mr. Clapp has resided in this city for thirty-three years, and has never been absent from his post during an epidemic. His many friends will be pleased to learn that he is in the enjoyment of good health, and returns with the intention of rendering all the aid in his power to the afflicted.—New Orleans Picayune, Aug. 26.

CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES.—The Quebec Morning Chronicle says:—The Americans want Cuba, and the same writer has frequently told us they want Canada. Canada is fast going to them. Our lumber goes to New York, our flour and cattle to Boston or Portland, our very steamships go to Portland in the winter, and it must be borne in mind that a commercial is the most solid of all political annexations. Canada is already part and parcel of the United States, and we are sorry for it. Nothing but a rush of immigration can save us. The tide of public opinion and of public power is on the turn. Loyalty to Great Britain is on the ebb.

ODD FELLOWS.—The Hartford Courant says that some months since the Mercantile Lodge of the I. O. of O. F. in that city, dissolved their society and divided their funds among their members. On Tuesday evening last the Charter Oak Lodge followed their example, and it is said that the Hyperion Lodge are about taking their steps. The Charter Oak had a fund of about $4000 to be divided among 130 members.

We learn from the Christian Watchman that Miss Martha Whiting, late the accomplished Principal of the Charlestown Female Seminary, who died at Hingham a few days since, has left between five and six thousand dollars to objects of religious benevolence, and from a moderate income gave probably even more than this during her life-time.

IRISH AMERICAN COMPANIES.

The Boston Pilot is publishing a series of able papers on Soldiers, particularly Irish soldiers, and in the fifth number of the series, says:

"We take the organization of Irish American companies in our cities and large towns as an established fact. We do not feel ourselves here called upon to express any opinion whatever as to the necessity, expediency or propriety of such organizations. It is quite sufficient for our purpose that companies of this sort exist, and that, in the nature of things, they are likely to become quite numerous. We deal with them as we do with other established facts, with whose existence it is of no use to quarrel; and in whose fate we are interested. We must take them as they are, and ask,—what is to be done with them now? We offer this consideration in an especial manner to those who are, or have been disposed to doubt the expediency of these Irish American military organizations.

* * * * *

It is, of course, superfluous to discuss the right of Irish Americans to form military companies. The laws settle that matter."

If these things be so, as no doubt they are, then the laws ought to be altered forthwith, so that no new Irish-American, Dutch-American, French-American, or African-American military companies can hereafter be organized.—Any such old companies, already enjoying a chartered and actual existence, must of course be respected according to law, but these should be disbanded by a prospective law, which should terminate their existence at the earliest moment which can consist with their legal rights.

If Irishmen, (Irish Catholics of course, for they and Irish Protestants are not harmonious,)—if Irishmen are to have their national and sectarian military organizations, then every other sect and every other nation should have theirs also, and our republic would be no nation at all, but a mere bundle of military sectarian clans.

The immigrant, when he states his intention to become an American citizen, should aim at being so in deed and truth; and our laws and institutions should be so contrived as to aid him in the work, and not to keep him back.

"Law is Law."—This profound quotation is from the once celebrated but now forgotten law case, Bullum vs. Boatrem. We were reminded of it by reading a long report of a late trial in London, in which the Honorable Mrs. Norton, the poetess, and her husband, being separated, but not divorced, make rather a sorry figure. Mrs. Norton says:

"All this—though it is life and death to me—may not interest the public. But what does interest the public is the state of the law. By the law as it stands, if Mr. Norton can evade his covenant (as he does) by stating that it is null because there was a contract with me—and a man cannot contract with his wife—he can defraud the creditor. But mark, I also can defraud the creditor; for if a creditor sues me, I have only to plead 'coverture'—plead that I am a married woman—and the creditor who could not recover against Mr. Norton, is equally unable to recover against me. Between the facts that, because I am Mr. Norton's wife he can cheat me, and because I am Mr. Norton's wife I can cheat others, the tradesman who supplied me would, by the law of England, utterly lose his money. This does interest the public, and is a state of the law which certainly requires some amending."

Such a thing is English law, after centuries of decisions, and cords of Statutes. There are, between these two nobles, many points of difference; and into their law cases, many nice points of law enter—but a few grains of good sense could settle the equity of the matter in short order. Both of them deserve to be shut up for dishonesty.

Latest from the Salt Lake.—A St. Louis lady, who not long since married a Mormon and emigrated to the Salt Lake City, writes that the Mormon city is in a "first rate place for a new settlement," and notwithstanding sickness in the family and the loss of cows, she is comfortable and contented.—About Brigham Young having many wives, she says, "the number twenty-five is right, and I can tell you he is about the best man living. No man is allowed to have more than one except he can well look after them. Everything here in Salt Lake, is pure and holy. Thomas has no thought of having any more wives! Every man can do as he likes about it."

We hope nobody will deny that ours is a great country, and that the Mormon lady and "Thomas" are a happy couple. By the way, Brigham Young believes in progress, and annexes wives to his establishment faster even than our glorious Union annexes States.—When Utah comes into the Union as a State, we presume her republican form of government will be as pure and holy as her social system is now. Her princes take pattern from Solomon, not more of his wisdom than of his folly.

At the Fulton Brooklyn ferry, on Thursday morning, a youth, about sixteen years of age, attempted to spring on board before it reached the bridge, and at the same moment another boy leaped towards the shore. The two came together about midway, and both fell into the water. The one who had left the boat was rescued, but the other was drowned.

ANOTHER VOICE FROM PORTLAND.

On our first page to-day, is an article headed "More Facts," from the Boston Transcript. To this article, the Portland Advertiser makes the following reply;

We expressed no "doubt" about the matter at all. We stated in the most unequivocal terms that we knew the statement to be not correct. The Transcript writer, as we are informed, has recently visited the White Mountains. A very respectable gentleman of this city, who saw him there, charitably suggests that, under the exhilarating effects of the mountain breezes, he might have mistaken a New Hampshire hotel for one in Maine, not knowing exactly which side of the line he was on.

We say there is no such hotel in Portland as the Transcript describes—where such sights can be seen "in broad daylight," and where there is "every facility for the open sale of ardent spirits by the glass, to all applicants"—not one! It is possible that the Transcript writer may know of some hotel where such a room is kept privately, although we do not.—But if he does, he will be very careful not to name the hotel, unless he desires to annoy the landlord.

Upon this point John Neal says:

"Travellers have brought liquors with them to our public houses. Children carry liquor flasks about with them; bottles are made in the shape of Bibles, so bound as to deceive the eye."

These two opponents of the law make strange statements. One says that the sale of liquors is "as open and undisguised as such sale is in New York." The other, that "travellers have brought liquors with them to our public houses," and "bottles are made in the shape of Bibles so bound as to deceive the eye." Why do travellers bring liquors to our hotels? Why is so much effort made "to deceive the eye," if the liquor is sold in "an open an undisguised manner," to "all applicants?" Will the Transcript settle this question with Joh Neal?

The Why and Because.—A writer in the Boston Transcript says:

"The Portland Advertiser enquires why it is that the Boston liquor dealers are so desirous for the repeal of the Maine law, if the trade in liquors in the State of Maine is as great as has been represented?"

The writer, who is probably a liquor dealer or strong sympathizer, makes the following answer:

"They desire the repeal of that unjust law, not on account of dollars and cents, but because it attempts to make an honorable and necessary calling dishonorable and immoral. It attacks their reputation—the good name of the dealers as a class—indiscriminately and wantonly, it being, in fact, an endorsement of the many derogatory charges that demagogues have made against them."

This writer, whoever he may be, has brought out in these few words, one great reason why the dealers oppose the new law, viz., that it attacks and threatens to destroy their social standing. As we have sometimes put a similar question, we take our share of the answer.

One grand objection urged by temperance men against the old license laws, was, that they tended to keep up the repute of the business, while the consumer of the spirits paid the tax. Every rich distiller and dealer in Boston would doubtless like to see a judicious license law which would not tax them; accompanied with severe penalties against drunkards. But the moment the muzzle of the law's artillery is levelled against themselves, against their profits and their honor, it is treasonable and cruel; and they then easily stir up the whole army below them to defend the birth-right of every freeman to drink what he pleases. Such a contest is now in progress—and we have not yet come near the end of it.

The history of legislation is a curious study, and may be made profitable by men of balanced mind and sober thought. Take for example, the African Slave Trade. At first, encouraged by the preachers, and protected and stimulated by the laws, of England; then planted, "by her fostering hand," in and with the colonies,—and when the colonies had become States, and were forming the Union, it was made an express condition that the importation of slaves should not cease by law till a certain year, but should be under the Ægis of the constitution till that time. But even then, public opinion had so changed as to brand the traffic as infamous, and our wise men left out the word slave. And now behold a change; the law prohibiting the trade, is, after long delay, enacted, and in this law the traffic is denounced as piracy, and made punishable by death. True this penalty has never been inflicted; but the traffic is legally disgraceful, and is actually considered so. Yet, it is a perfectly well known fact, that Mr. John Newton, (afterwards the Rev. John Newton, and the intimate friend of the poet Cowper,) was the captain of a slave ship, all the while deeming himself a christian, and being by his friends considered a man of eminent piety. Behold the change; the same man is now pronounced a saint, bound to heaven—and in twenty years, while doing the same things, he is pronounced a pirate, bound to the gallows.

Apply this same thought to any other trade; public opinion changes; laws change, gradually, it may be,—but they change. Who can resist these changes? Who can hasten them?

We leave this for a lesson to every reformer and every conservative: the one cannot convert the world in a moment, either to temperance or any thing else; the other cannot prevent its being converted.

LOCAL.

"We won't go home till morning."—And probably they did'nt; for it was almost factory bell time before the disturbers, who made night hideous, closed their singing, and groaning and swearing. We don't know positively whether they were fire-men or water-men or liquor-men—but by the noise they made we suppose they train in the last named company. We cannot say where the watchmen were about that time; but it "seems as if" they could not be in the "compact part of the town," for if they had been, the noise must have waked them up. It is rather a good thing that the old livery stable is inhabited only by rats and mice; for if the horses had been there they might have broken their halters before daylight on Saturday morning.

Naval.—The U. S. Ship Portsmouth and the Frigate Saint Lawrence arrived at San Francisco on the 13th and 19 of August from the Sandwich Islands. From a correspondent we learn that on Saturday evening the 13th, as Lieut. Commodore Stanley of the Warren, and Lieuts. Wm. A. Parker and Spotts of the Portsmouth, & a seaman, were attempting to cross from the city to their ships at Saucilito, their boat was struck by a squall and capsized. The accident was seen by no one in the harbor, except the men of the Revenue Cutter Argus, Lieut. Merriman. They immediately manned a boat and after pulling an hour succeeded in reaching the sufferers in time to save them from drowning. A strong tide was ebbing at the time, and but for the sturdy strokes of the Argus men, the sufferers would have been carried out to sea and lost. This is the second time within ten days that lives have been saved by the activity of her men.

☞ The U. S. sloop-of-war Decatur, Commander Whittle, arrived at this port, early on Saturday morning, from the fishing ground. The whole fleet will probably arrive this week, as it was ordered to rendezvous here by the 14th inst.

NEW PERIODICALS.

The Illustrated Magazine of Art, for September, containing very interesting letter press, and a large number of finely designed wood cuts which are neither engraved nor printed so well as they ought to be. Some of them, in spite of these defects, are so spirited, as to be worthy of a careful study. Jan Steen, is a well conceived and well written article.

Cassell's Natural History of the Feathered Tribes part 2.—contains a part of the Eagle Family, a bloodthirsty set of feathered buccaneers as ever flew. Also the Falcon and Hawks, of bad reputation, and no better than they should be as to real character.

All published by Montgomery, New York; F. Parker 35 Washington Street, Boston; and for sale by J. P. Morse Portsmouth.

Santa Anna and Mexico.—Santa Anna has infused more energy into the Mexican government than has ever been manifested before. He is building roads, punishing robbers, and for the first time for many years, shows the Mexicans a government which they are obliged to obey. His movements are benefiting the country, all of them, excepting perhaps, that which is consolidating a powerful and well disciplined army. He is arraying a powerful army, which, if he is disposed to quarrel with the United States Government, will give us no little trouble. He is said to have an army of ninety two thousand men, and is training and arming them in a skillful manner.

Who is afraid of Santa Anna and his army? Our people are too warlike to tremble greatly before any array of force which he can exhibit. As to his improvements, we hope he will make them every day. There is need of all he can do in that line, for the elevation of that General-ridden and Priest-ridden country.

Held for trial for beating his wife.—A New York sojourner at Newport, named Morgan, has been arrested and held for trial, on a charge of beating his wife in a brutal manner, at Touro street House on Monday.—The lady's outcries were heard by the people in the hotel, and Mr. Isaac Howe, of New York rescued her from her husband. Mr. Howe went farther. On Tuesday he procured a writ of habeas corpus, and had Mrs. Morgan taken out of the custody of her husband. On Wednesday there was a hearing of the case, and the unhappy woman was placed under the temporary guardianship of the Rev. Mr. Dumont, and she is stopping at the Bellevue House. The cause of the difficulty has not transpired. Mrs. Morgan is the daughter of Hon. Dudley Selden of New York. The affair has occasioned much excitement at Newport.—Boston Courier.

Whatever the cause may purport to be when it transpires, the occasion must have been that Morgan had drank. Even the Indian does not beat his squaw when he is sober.

Failures of Shoe Manufacturers.—We hear of several failures among the shoe manufacturers in Massachusetts. It is stated that the price of manufactured articles of leather has not been sufficiently increased, to offset the advanced cost of the stock consumed. The Worcester manufacturer who has stopped payment, has been long engaged in the business, and has been regarded as a wealthy man.—Boston Transcript.

NEW YORK, September 9.—In the World's Temperance Convention, this morning, the motion to appoint a permanent National Commissioner was laid on the table by a vote of one hundred and eighty-three. A committee of six was appointed with power to call a World's Convention once in two years. Adjourned sine die.

"SILENT AS THE GRAVE."—This phrase may just now be rightly applied to Commerce street—usually the busiest mart in our city; but now the desolate and forlorn. About 10 A. M., barely a passenger, a cart or dray is seen there; and were it not that here and there, as you pass the open door, you see a solitary clerk reading the paper, and smoking a cigar, one might fancy himself perambulating the "City of Tombs." We look for the day "when a change shall come o'er the spirit of the dream."—Mobile Advertiser, Aug. 31.

Walter D. Haley, who killed John Nelson in a drunken spree at Waynesville, Ohio, has been convicted of manslaughter in the first degree, and sentenced to the state prison for life. Daniel Marle, under indictment for murder, hung himself in jail at Salem, Washton county, Ohio. Dr. Branson, of Mount Carmel, Indianna, aged 30 years, esteemed an honorable man, committed suicide by taking strychnine: no cause assigned, but it is stated that he was recently married. At Waynesville Ohio, David Manson and John Roberts, wealthy farmers, uncle and nephew, quarrelled about a rail fence, when Manson was mortally stabbed. Mr. Alexandra, the Kentuckian killed a few days ago in an Arkansas fight, was the same person who took the life of Mr Lougee, a broker, in his office at Philadelphia several years ago.

THE NEW STATE ALMSHOUSE AT TEWKSBURY MASS.—The house, now nearly completed, stands on an elevated spot, and is well located. It is built of wood, three stories in height, and is constructed so as to form a hollow square. Its front measures 198 feet, and the sides 129 feet each. The building is a cheap structure; and contains the usual accomodations for the Warden and family, the physician, chaplain, &c., with extensive arrangements to accommodate the boarders—spacious cooking and wash rooms, sleeping rooms, school room, hospital, chapel, &c.

As we passed through this large building and considered the immense amount of combustibles which had been worked into it,—with not a solitary brick partition through the entire structure—and calculated the chances of the destruction by fire, we could not but shudder at the prospect of its being filled with human beings. The question was forced upon us whether more than one experiment was to be tried in the creation of these buildings? whether in addition to the experiment of lessening the cost of supporting this unfortunate class, it was intended to ascertain whether the State could not rid herself entirely of their support in rather a summary way.—Cambridge Chronicle.

SCARCITY OF SILVER COIN.—Mr. D'Israeli, a celebrated English writer, assigns the following reasons for the present scarcity of silver coin. It is, in our opinion, the true cause of the present pressing deficiency of silver coin among us:

First, while the annual production of gold has quadrupled, the yield of the silver mines has remained stationary: and, as the influx of gold has given an immense expansion to business of all kinds, and increased the demand for every commodity, silver being no more plentiful now than formerly, has become proportionately scarce.

Secondly, in Holland, and some other European States, silver is the standard of value and hence the excess of exportation to these countries over the importation from them, has to be paid for in silver coin.

Thirdly, and chiefly, in India gold coin is not known among the natives from whom the commodities of commerce are purchased; nor is gold in that country a legal tender; and as the excess of Indian exportation over importation is exceedingly great, there is an enormous drain ot silver from Europe and America, to pay for the excess. In the year 1852, England alone sent fifteen million dollars in silver to India.

SCARCITY OF VESSELS.—From all quarters of our own country we hear that vessels are in demand, especially for foreign voyages, Deal freights from the British provinces north and east of us, are now offered freely at rates that a year or two since would have been readily accepted by any ship owner. Good rates are also obtained to India and the Pacific and if the cotton crop comes up this year to the general expectation, the prospect now is that freights may rule high this fall and winter.—Portland Advertiser.

HIGH ROCK.—The High Rock cottage and estate at Lynn, the property of the late Jesse Hutchinson, have been purchased at auction by his brothers Asa and John, for $6,700, and they intend to make it their place of residence, and to adorn and beautify the house and grounds.

Mr. D. H. Taft, a merchant of Columbus, has been fined $10 and costs for whipping Mr. Elliott, a school teacher, for supposed abuse of his son at school. Mr. Elliott has also commenced a civil suit against Taft, laying his damages at $5000.

The Chambermaids in New York are on a strike for higher wages. Who next? Nurses, probably. They must look out that they do not "hit" the little ones.

A negro who attempted to violate and who murdered Mrs. Cooper, of Smith County, Texas, and also wounded her little son, was caught and hanged on the spot, some 500 citizens being present.

Later news from Mexico has been received. Great dissatisfaction exists against Santa Anna. Several of the States, it is reported, have pronounced against his exactions.

The superintendent of the Poor Farm, at Manchester, N. H., has been fined $5 and costs, and ordered to give proper bonds to keep the peace for whipping a pauper boy.

The new rice crop has commenced arriving at Savannah.

CELEBRATION OF THE SONS OF PORTSMOUTH.

ENGRAVING OF MARKET STREET.

THE beautiful Engraving of Market Street, in this city, with its triumphal Arches and grand Procession of the Sons of Portsmouth, July 4th 1853.—Lithographed by J. H. Bufford, Boston, from a Daguerreotype by Gregory, is now ready for delivery.

This picture represents one of the most beautiful features of that eventful occasion, and is published by Messrs. Albert Gregory and Thos P. Moses, as a pleasing memento of the "glorious gathering."

The above is for sale at the Bookstores, and by the publishers, in Portsmouth; and also in Boston, New York, Lowell, &c.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 250,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence,

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life as much as when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S
Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the perusal of the married or contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispenseable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be Ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

The charge about bribing the press to puff Madame Sontag's concerts is finally reduced to this:—Oliver Dyer says Mr. Helmsmuller told him that about two thousand dollars was paid directly to musical critics and editorial attaches of New York papers. As the whole affair belongs in New York, it will not be necessary to repeat here the assertions or denials of those concerned.—Boston Post.

The St. Paul Democrat states that a remnant of the once numerous Indian tribe of the Pillagers, in that vicinity, have determined upon celebrating one of their ancient rites, by offering a sacrifice to the evil spirit, and it is said that several of the braves have offered to immolate themselves. It is to take place on the 2d of October.

COMMENCEMENT AT BOWDOIN COLLEGE, MAINE.—At the late commencement, the college conferred the degree of LL. D., upon Franklin Pierce; the degree of D. D. upon Daniel R. Goodwin; and of A. M., upon George P. Putnam.

It is said they are now expending upon the White House at Washington, in the shape of repairs and embellishments, the sum of $60,000.

The proceeds of the Crystal Palace exhibition for the benefit of the New Orleans sufferers, amounts to $1,828.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal of the claim within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can have avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay thereat, and all unnecessary trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had as much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE,
"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,
Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NUTRITIVE PRINCIPLE, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and arresting the course of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting disease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

Doctor Alfred G. Hall may be consulted by letter, or in person at his rooms, No. 15 Winter st., Boston, from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. ☞ Medicines, &c. forwarded by Express to any part.

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

it probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered. Consumption can be cured! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is what has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, stop the ulceration, and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this recently sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!

N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

READ! READ! READ!
DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 28, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

THE DAILY MORNING CHRONICLE

is published by

FRANK W. MILLER, SAMUEL GRAY, & THOS. W. MILLER,

At No. 4 Exchange Buildings,

Pleasant Street,.....PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

TERMS $4 a year, payable half-yearly; or $3 strictly in advance. If payment is made for a year, within six months of the time of subscribing, fifty cents will be deducted.

The Weekly Chronicle,

A family newspaper, containing the news of the week, with carefully selected miscellany, &c., is published every Saturday morning—at $1 a year in advance.

ADVERTISING.—For a Square of sixteen lines nonpareil, or less, one insertion 50 cts., three insertions $1, and liberal terms for continuance.

Yearly, quarterly or monthly advertisers liberally accommodated—and their advertisements inserted in both papers without extra charge, thus affording unequalled facilities to business men.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING Promptly executed.

V. B. Palmer, American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and subscriptions at the same rates as required by us. His receipts will be regarded as payments.

KATE YALE'S MARRIAGE.

"If ever I marry," Kate Yale used to say, half in jest, half in earnest, the happy man—or the unhappy one, if you please ha, ha!—shall be a man possessed of these three qualifications:

"First, a fortune;

"Second, good looks;

"Third, common sense.

"I mention the fortune first, because I think it the most needful and desirable qualification of the three. Although I could never think of marrying a fool, or a man whose ugliness I should be ashamed of, still I think to talk sense for the one, and shine for the other with plenty of money, would be preferable to living obscure with a handsome, intellectual man—to whom economy might be necessary."

I do not know how much of this sentiment came from Kate's heart. She undoubtedly indulged lofty ideas of station and style—for her education in the duties and aims of life had been deficient, or rather erroneous; but that she was capable of deeper, better feelings, none ever doubted who have obtained even a partial glimpse of her true woman's nature.

And the time arrived when Kate was to take that all-important step of which she had often spoken so lightly—when she was to demonstrate to her friends how much of her heart was in the words we have just quoted.

At the enchanting age of eighteen she had many suitors; but as she never gave a serious thought to more than two, we will follow her example, and, discarding all others except those favored ones, consider their relative claim.

If this were any other than a true story, I should certainly use an artists privilege, and aim to produce an effect by making a strong contrast between the two favored individuals. If I could have my own way one should be a poor genius, and something of a hero; the other a wealthy fool, and somewhat of a knave.

But the truth is—

Our poor genius was not much of a genius—not very poor either. He was by profession a teacher of music, and he could live very comfortably by the exercise thereof—without the most distant hope, however, of ever attaining to wealth. Moreover, Francis Minot possessed excellent qualities, which entitled him to be called by elderly people a "fine character," by his companions a "noble good fellow," and by the ladies generally, a "darling."

Kate could not help loving Mr. Frank and he knew it. He was certain she preferred his society even to that of Mr. Wellington, whom alone he saw fit to honor with the appellation of rival.

This Mr. Wellington (his companions called him "Duke,") was no idiot or humpback, as I could have wished him to be, in order to make a good story. Of the contrary he was a man of sense, good looks, and fine manners, and there was nothing of the knave about him as I could ever ascertain.

Besides this, his income was sufficient to enable him to live superbly. Also, he was considered two or three degrees handsomer than Mr. F. Minot.

Therefore, the only one thing on which Frank had to depend, was the power he possessed over Kate's sympathies and affections. The "Duke"—although just the man for her in every sense, being blessed with a fortune, good looks, and common sense—had never been able to draw these out, and the amiable conceited Mr. Frank was not willing to believe that she would suffer mere worldly considerations to control the aspirations of her heart.

However, one day when he pressed her to decide his sate, she said to him with a sigh:

"Oh Frank! I am sorry we have ever met!"

"Sorry?"

"Yes: for we must part now."

"Part!" repeated Frank, turning pale.—"Part!" repeated Frank, turning pale.—It was evident that he had not expected this.

"Yes—yes," said Kate, casting down her head with another piteous sigh.

Frank sat by her side; he placed his arm around her waist, without heeding her feeble resistance; he lowered his voice and talked to her until she—proud Kate—wept, wept bitterly.

"Katie," said he then with a burst of passion, "I know you love me! but you are proud, ambitious, selfish! Now if you would have me leave you, say the word, and I go."

"Go!" murmured Kate, feebly—"go!"

"Have you decided?" whispered Frank.

"I have."

"Then, love, farewell!"

He took her hand, gazed a moment tenderly and sorrowfully into her beautiful, tearful face, and then clasped her to his bosom.

She permitted the embrace. She even gave way to the impulse, and twined her arms around his neck; but in a moment, her resolution came to her aid, and she pushed him from her with a sigh.

"Shall I go?" he articulated.

A feeble "yes" fell from her lips—and an instant later she was lying on the sofa, sobbing and weeping—alone!

To tear the tenacious root of love out of her heart, had cost her more than she could have anticipated; and the certainty of a golden life of luxury proved but a poor consolation, it seemed, for the sacrifice she had made.

She lay long upon the sofa I say, sobbing and weeping passionately. Gradually her grief appeared to exhaust itself. Her tears ceased to flow, and at length her eyes and cheeks were dry. Her head was pillowed in her arm, and her face was half hidden in a flood of beautiful curls.

The struggle was over. The agony was past. She saw Mr. Wellington enter, and rose cheerfully to meet him. His manners pleased her—his station and fortune fascinated her more. He offered her his hand—she accepted it. A kiss sealed the engagement—but it was not such a kiss as Frank had given her, and she could scarce repress a sigh!

There was a magnificent wedding. Splendidly attired, dazzling the eye with her beauty thus adorned, with every thing around swimming in the charmed atmosphere of fairy land, Kate gave her hand to the man her ambition—not her love—had chosen.

But certainly ambition could not have made a better choice. Already she saw herself surrounded by a magnificent court, of which she was the acknowledged and admitted queen. The favors of fortune were showered upon her; she floated luxuriously upon the smooth and glassy wave of a charmed life.

Nothing was wanting in the whole circle of her existence to adorn it and make it bright with happiness. But she was not long in discovering that there was something wanting within her breast.

Her friends were numerous; her husband tender, kind and loving; but all the attentions and affections could not fill her heart. She had once felt its chords and sympathy moved by a skilful touch; she had known the heavenly charm of their deep, delicious harmony, and now they were silent—motionless—muffled, so as to speak, in silks and satins. These chords still and soundless, her heart was dead—none the less so, because it had been killed by a golden shot, having known and felt the life of sympathy in it, unconsoled by the life of luxury. In short, Kate in time became magnificently miserable.

Then a change became apparent to her husband. He could not long remain blind to the fact that his love was not returned. He sought the company of those whose gayety might lead him to forget the sorrow and despair of his soul. This shallow joke was unsatisfactory, however, and impelled by a powerful longing for love, he went astray to warm his heart by a strange fire.

Kate saw herself now in the midst of a gorgeous desolation, burning with a thirst unconquerable by golden streams that flowed around her; panting with a hunger which not all the food of flattery and admiration could appease.

She reproached her husband for deserting her thus, and he answered with angry and desperate taunts of deception and a total lack of love, which smote her conscience heavily.

"You do not care for me," he cried—"then why do you complain that I bestow elsewhere the affection you have met with coldness?"

"But it is wrong—sinful," Kate remonstrated.

"Yes, I know it," said her husband fiercely. "It is the evil of an evil seed. And who sowed that seed? Who gave me a hand without a heart? Who became a sharer of my fortune, but gave me no share in her sympathy? Who devoted me to the fate of a loving, unloved husband? Nay, do not weep, and clasp your hands, and sigh and sob with such desperation of impatience; for I say nothing you do not deserve to hear."

"Very well," said Kate. "I do not say your reproaches are undeserved. But granting I am the cold, deceitful thing you call me—you know this state of things cannot continue."

"Yes, I know it."

"Well!"

Mr. Wellington's brow gathered darkly—his eyes flashed with determination—his lips curled with scorn.

"I have made up my mind," said he, "that we should not live together any longer. I am tired of being called the husband of the splendid Mrs. Wellington. I will move in my circle; you shall shine in yours. I will place no restraint on your actions, nor shall you on mine. We will be free."

"But the world!" shrieked poor Kate, trembling.

"The world will admire you the same—and what more do you desire?" asked her husband bitterly. "This marriage of hands and not of hearts, is mockery. We have played the farce long enough. Few understand the true meaning of the terms husband and wife; but do you know what they should mean? Do you feel that the only true union is that of love and sympathy?

Then enough of this mummery. Farewell. I go to consult friends about the terms of a separation. Nay, do not tremble, and cry, and cling to me now—I shall be liberal to you. As much of my fortune shall be yours as you desire."

He pushed her from him. She fell upon the sofa. From a heart torn with anguish she shrieked aloud:

"Frank! Frank! why did I send you from me? Why was I blind until sight brought me misery?"

She lay upon the sofa sobbing and weeping passionately. Gradually her grief appeared to exhaust itself; her breathing became calm; her eyes and cheeks dry; her head lay peacefully on her arm, over which swept her dishevelled tresses—until with a start she cried out:

"Frank! oh, Frank—come back!"

"Here I am, said a soft voice by her side. She opened her astonished eyes. Frank was standing before her.

"You have been asleep," he said, smiling kindly.

"Asleep?"

"And dreaming too, I should say—not pleasantly, either."

"Dreaming!" murmured Kate, "and is it all a dream?"

"I hope so," replied Frank, taking her hand. "You could not mean to send me away from you so cruelly, I knew. So I waited in your father's study, where I have been talking with him all of an hour. I came back to plead my cause once more, and found you here where I left you, asleep."

"Oh! what a horrible dream," murmured Kate, rubbing her eyes. "It was so like a terrible reality that I shudder now to think of it. I thought I was married!"

"And would that be so horrible?" asked Frank. "I hope, then, you did not dream you were married to me."

"No; I thought I gave my hand without my heart."

"Then if you gave me your hand, it would not be without your heart?"

"No, Frank," said Kate, her bright eyes beaming happily through her tears, "and here it is."

She placed her fair hand in his—he kissed it in transport.

And soon there was a real marriage—not a splendid, but a happy one—followed by a life of love and contentment; and that was the marriage of Frank Minot and Kate Yale.

EDUCATION.

Messrs. Editors:—We shall all agree, probably, that no subject is more important than the education of youth—for the state of society in the future will very much depend upon the seed sown in the spring-time of life.—Therefore every candid suggestion of improvement in our school system should be fairly considered. It would afford us pleasure to see our suggestions, if fallacious, refuted. But it is not a sound argument in favor of a custom, that it is time-honored. We demand a better reason for not opening our schools Wednesday afternoons than that the usage is half a century old. The whipping post and the pillory could boast a longer usage. After a relaxation of a day and a half, will any one believe that the physical energies, or the health would be impaired by attending school some 30 or 40 hours during the remaining 5 1-2 days of the week? If not, the conclusion seems to be inevitable that the afternoons of Wednesday should not be lost. We know of no other place where they are lost. A gain of about 23 days in a year, to each of a thousand pupils, is a matter worthy of consideration. We suggested another improvement by having several vacations in a year of a week's duration. Surely a fortnight's duration would be long enough for all useful recreation, especially after so small a portion of the daily time had been devoted to study. Our remarks would apply more forcibly to the higher schools; for as the pupil increases in age, he acquires more physical ability to devote more time to study. We object to a month's vacation as being not only unnecessary for recreation, but as encouraging idleness and other bad habits. In the district schools, generally, in the country, no vacations as such, are allowed. The district schools are continued so long as the money annually raised holds out, and during the whole time a close attention is paid to the studies. But it is objected that here there should be a long vacation in the warmest season of the year. That season cannot be foreknown with precision. The school committee can always grant indulgences, when the state of the weather may require it. There may be more unfavorable seasons for study than the predetermined vacation of a month. Without going into an argument upon this subject, we would only turn the attention of our citizens to it, believing that, upon reflection, their opinions and the decisions of the committees would be founded upon good reasons. In coming to a correct conclusion, much less regard should be had to the personal convenience of the teachers than to the best means of improving those under their tuition.

Within a short period great progress has been made in school teaching, and many other things pertaining to our common school system;—old theories exploded by the introduction of new;—the old mode of instructing the mind by inflicting stripes upon the body, is mostly out of date; and experience proves that the higher the qualifications of the teacher, the more rapid will be the progress of his pupils.

A FRIEND TO OUR YOUTH.

Our correspondent is on the wrong track, entirely; at least it seems so to us. He can find no city nor large town in New England, we think, where there are not two "half school days" in a week.

In many and most country places, now, the scholars have the whole of Saturday, instead of two half days—and in more than three quarters of the country school districts, they have a vacation of a month or more, each Spring and Fall, between the Summer schools. They may not call it a vacation, but it is a vacation, nevertheless, and so far as we know, hurts nobody.

It is our opinion decidedly, that "all work and no play, makes Jack a dull boy." Studious pupils and faithful teachers need rest often, and sometimes long. The progress of public opinion is in favor of their having it, in due season, and in fit proportions.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY, for September, is before us, and opens with an article entitled Arlington House, which contains a large number of minute and accurate illustrations of the Washington and Curtis families, of Revolutionary History, &c. Next comes, A Cruise after and among the Cannibals, with 26 illustrative cuts; then a chapter of Napoleon Bonaparte; Bleak House, &c. &c.

Published by Harper & Brothers, New York: sold by Fetridge & Co, Boston; J. F Shores, Jr. Portsmouth.

We have also received another copy of Putnam's Monthly, (from Mr. Shores,) which we have already noticed.

BIG TOAD.—Some workmen engaged the other day in sawing a locust log in Poughkeepsie, found a large toad snugly secreted in the centre, which was alive, and weighed 7 1-2 pounds. The log is perfectly sound, and is supposed to be 100 years old.

FROM THE BAY.—The Belfast Signal notes the arrival on the 6th of the schooner James Roix, from the Bay Chaleur, and says:

Capt. Otis reports fish very scarce. The schooner Gazelle, Capt. Hows, of Dennis, was taken by an English cutter off Gaspe, and carried into Charlottetown. Capt. O. reports the seizure of three vessels from Newburyport, and three from Cape Ann, off Fox River, but did not learn their names. The mackerel are plenty in shore, but the coast is so well guarded that they cannot be reached. The United States steamers Fulton and Princeton were having a sham fight with the officers, eating ginger-bread, and dancing with the "blue nose" girls.

Quere? or rather Queries?—1, How the two steamers fought the officers? 2, What officers they fought, whether their own, or some other officers? 3, How steamers eat gingerbread? [We thought they ate wood and coal.] 4 and lastly, Where and how the steamboats danced with the blue-nose girls?

Can any body down east answer these important questions?

SAD PICTURE.—On Friday last, in Boston, a child eight or nine days old, was found dead in the lap of its drunken mother. The mother had been drunk ever since the child was born, and took no care of the child at all.—The verdict of the coroner's jury was, that the child died from neglect and want of proper nourishment. The mother was sent to Deer Island for six months, as a common drunkard. A happy deliverance, this, for the little one. But what can be said of the mother?

NARROW ESCAPE.—The Boston Courier says:—"We are happy to state that the injuries to Mr. John E. Abbott of this city, are not at all serious. He opened the door of his state-room after the explosion, and received a slight scald on his face, and his hands were scalded while holding a blanket over his face in his berth to protect him from the hot vapor. He found his situation too uncomfortable, and forced out the window, and escaped, sans culotte, to the deck, with no injury but a few scratches."

ALMOST A SHIPWRECK.—A despatch from Norfolk, Va. Sept. 10, says that the steamship Georgia, which left New York on the 5th for Aspinwall, put into Norfolk on the 10th, in distress, having 8 feet of water in hold.—She encountered a severe gale off Cape Hatteras, causing a leak, and the greatest exertions were required to bring her into port. The passengers and crew are all safe.

A RIOT.—A despatch from Zanesville Ohio, dated Sept. 7, says.

Advices from Somerset, Perry county Ohio, give intelligence of a terrible riot in that place. The Irish laborers on the railroad have the fire arms, belonging to the county, in their possession. Two persons were killed and several badly wounded. The sheriff of Perry county had sent for one hundred armed men, and the city guards have started for the scene. More trouble is anticipated. The life of the Telegraph operator has been threatened. should he transmit any request for assistance.

The above paragraph is a strong illustration of our remark made on Saturday, that no foreign national or sectarian military organization ought to be allowed in our midst.

THE ACCIDENT TO THE BAY STATE.—Since the accounts in our paper of Saturday, another of the daughters of Mr. De Wolf, of Chicago, has died from injuries received upon the steamer Bay State, between Fall River and New York on Thursday morning.—Thomas Warren, aged 36 of Dartmouth Mass., has also died. Miss Charlotte Snow, of Dartmouth, Mass., has been removed by her friends to Poughkeepsie; it was at first thought that her injuries were not dangerous, but it is now said that she is in a critical condition.

The occurrence has thus unfortunately proved more serious than was at first supposed.—The sad void created in the De Wolf family cannot but excite the liveliest sympathy.—Mr. and Mrs. DeWolf were accompanied by their five daughters and three sons. They occupied three state rooms, the ladies having number forty-five and forty-six adjoining each other, in the neighborhood of the engine; and Mr. DeWolf and his sons No. 36. Mr. DeWolf testified at the Coroner's Inquest which was held on Friday, that when he heard the explosion he opened his door; but immediately shut it as the steam came in; he then took his boys out through the window and went along, outside, to Nos. 45 and 46. He first found his daughter Charlotte, who with Mary and Ann were in No. 46: at the time of the explosion they had rushed out into the saloon, and were badly scalded, and the first two have since died. The admirable presence of mind of Mrs. DeWolf, in No. 45, caused the preservation of the lives of two of the children; she covered them with blankets and placed them upon the floor of the state room. Maria, the youngest, was so severely scalded before her mother took her from the berth that she has since died. Thus of the five daughters the two oldest only survive, and one of them is severely injured.

The other testimony before the inquest confirms the statements already made. The boat was carrying about 27 pounds of steam to the inch, being allowed 33 by law. The pin, the breakage of which caused the accident, had been taken out and examined not a month since, and appeared to be sound and strong. Every attention was shown to the sufferers by the officers and passengers of the boat.

A patent has been taken out in England for semi tubular wrought and cast iron traverse sleepers for railways. Many advantages are claimed for the iron over the wooden sleeper, and it is presumed that iron sleepers can be used at less than half the cost of wooden sleepers.

A NUISANCE:—The crowd of loafers to be found every evening, filling the pavement on Congress street, from Somerby's Stable to City Sales Room. Where's the Marshal? x.

THE BEAUTIFUL.—While enjoying an hour's visit at the room of Messrs. Johnson & Goodell, at the Franklin House in this city, viewing their fine display of American Porcelain, one evening last week, we could but notice the difference in the conduct of the ladies and gentlemen present. To be sure all made mistakes alike—a figure 0 was taken for a picture frame, a letter-seal for a cane-head, a bell-pull for a door-fastener, &c.; but the ladies generally had eyes to see and admire the exquisite designs and coloring of many of the articles, while those of the sterner sex were usually anxious to discover some article more directly useful,—a door knob, or something of the sort, and could'nt stop to feast their eyes on even such a show. Well, those who neglected to take a look while they might, must now wait till Messrs. Towle & Adams get their supply of the article above named, which they will do soon, as we learn they have secured the agency for this city and vicinity.

☞ We saw yesterday a most uncommon cluster of Peaches, thirteen in number, all on one twig and touching each other. They were so arranged round the twig, as not to occupy more than a foot in length; all the peaches were large and ripe. They had been 14 in number, but one dropped off. They grew on the farm of Mr. Orr, in Newington.

☞ A living male child, 3 or 4 months old, was placed in a front yard in Exeter, early last Friday morning—abandoned by its parents; but was taken up and adopted by a better family.

DROWNED.—Mr. Nathaniel Nichols, of Haverhill, was drowned on Friday afternoon about 3 o'clock, at Plum Island. He had a boat anchored in the cove, near the Light houses, and attempted to swim out to the boat, which was about two hundred yards from the shore. He had not accomplished more than one third of the distance, when he was observed to fall, and those who saw him called upon him to return. He turned to do this, but almost immediately rolled over upon his side and his head dipped under the water.

Two young lads, sons of Mr. George, the keeper of the Lights, immediately swam out to him and caught him so soon that he did not sink at all, but when they reached the shore with him he was found to be dead.

Mr. Nichols was about 65 years old, and two nephews who were on the island at the time, came down in the boat with him.

An inquest was held on the body, and the verdict returned was accidental drowning.—Newburyport Herald.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12th.

At a dinner given, given Saturday evening to the Hon. Richard P. Stanton, Attorney General Cushing made a speech, in which he declared the United States never should have made peace with Mexico without insisting upon the annexation of Chihuahua and Sonora as well as New Mexico.

Mr. Nicholson, of the Union, denounced Austria in the Costa affair.

General Tilton was decidedly in favor of the annexation of Cuba. None of the Cabinet were present except Mr. Cushing.

Steamship Philadelphia, due at Aspinwall from New Orleans, had not arrived when the Illinois left.

VERMONT ELECTION.—A slip from the office of the Woodstock Spirit of the Age, (Democratic) gives returns from 230 towns—all but 10 in the state—"which are reported to have elected 88 Whigs and 123 Democrats and Free Soil. The number of the latter we cannot at this time determine, but present returns indicate not far from 30. The ten towns to hear from will not materially alter the complexion. The Senate is yet in doubt, but is probably Whig by one or two majority. The Whig County officers in Windsor county are all elected, unless it be the State's Attorny and Sheriff, the run being so very close that it will require the complete returns to decide the matter."

The temperance law cut upon both sides against the Whigs, and in Windsor county they suffered the greatest comparative loss, that of Gov. Fairbanks being 1456, compared with the last year. The Woodstock Mercury says:

In this town the Maine law party elected Justices entirely from among their own class. One or two of the old Justices were dropped by them, thinking they were not orthodox on the Maine law. This is all right enough doubtless; the law should be kept in the hands of its friends as long as there are friends enough of it left to administer it. In many of the towns this is not the case, and the law is left to the tender mercy of its opponents.

Many Whigs have doubtless voted the "Liberal Ticket," so called—upon the whole, the Whigs have had a pretty bad fight of it, and have been pretty roughly treated; abandoned on one side by the noisy advocates of a political temperance party, and on the other by the equally zealous opponents of the new liquor law, it has had more than its share of trouble. Under the circumstances we think the Whigs have done well.

A THRILLING SCENE.—A Drunkard's Life Saved.—A few days since, as the express train for Baltimore was passing the vicinity of Naman's creek, at the rate of forty miles an hour, a horrifying sight was witnessed by those having charge of the train. A man, apparently a fisherman, inhabiting one of the shanties close by, who was laboring under mania a potu, had thrown himself upon the rails for the purpose of self-destruction; but two females, having drawn him off, were engaged in a dreadful struggle to prevent his again throwing himself before the train. One had a deadly grip of his legs, while the other knelt upon his breast, as the iron horse went thundering by, just grazing her clothing; indeed, so close was she, that her own escape from instant death was imminent. The whole scene occupied but an instant, and scarcely any of the passengers were aware of the danger that had been impending. Those who witnessed it were horror struck, knowing the impossibility to prevent the destruction of all three, if the maniac succeeded in struggling only a few inches nearer the rail. What a self-sacrificing love was here manifested, inducing two women to risk their lives in saving one who had perhaps for years been a constant source of misery.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—The New York train due here last evening did not arrive until 4 o'clock this morning, having been thrown off the track near Beverly. The forward brakeman, name Iredell, was instantly killed, and John Cobson, the Engineer, considerably bruised. None of the passengers were injured. The accident was caused by a piece of rail being placed against the sleepers and braced on either side in the position of a turn out.—The locomotive was thrown off into a low place adjoining the track, and turned up on the end. The brakeman was thrown from the gig on the tender and found dead. The passenger cars were displaced from the track and somewhat broken, but no passengers were seriously injured. They reached Camden by an extra train.

RACE.—Our commercial and shipping community were yesterday about noon thrown into brisk excitement in consequence of the telegraph announcing the clippers Hornet and Flying Cloud "below." Between the owners of these two clippers a large wager has been pending on the time which would be made to this harbor.

The Hornet, Capt. Knapp, arrived in 106 days from New York, having left on the 26th April and arrived at this port on the 11th inst. She crossed the equator July 24th, and has made the run thence in 18 days. She was closely followed by the Flying Cloud, Capt. Cressey, also from New York, in 105 days, having sailed April 13th. The Flying Cloud crossed the equator July 17th, since which time she has had Northerly winds. The Hornet anchored about 45 minutes ahead of the Flying Cloud. Both vessels have anchored, and present a beautiful appearance.—Alta Californian.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased to a degree that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The testimonials of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself. The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot: no manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity, and by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&w6m je22*

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the fall consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred. If every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S
Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing the Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be Ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1294, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity, where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER.

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or excrescences from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered. Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fall disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and it is now offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is no an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!!

N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

"($50 00) On demand I promise to pay to the bearer FIVE MILLS for value received.

DR. HAMPTON'S

VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,
VERNON ESKRIDGE, Chaplain U.S.N.

THE ECLIPSE OF MAY, 1354.

In the Chronicle of the 6th inst. we copied an article from the Journal, concerning the great central eclipse of May 26, 1754. In that article were some slight inaccuracies, which are corrected by Mr. Hoyt, in the following communication to the same paper:

In the Journal of last week, I observed a brief account of the great Solar Eclipse of May 26, 1854. The particulars there stated are as nearly correct as could be expected from calculations so general, and on so large a scale, as those from which the facts there given were probably collected.

The method of ascertaining the towns through which the central line will pass, (by connecting two given points by a straight line,) is incorrect, especially when those two points are at so great a distance as the two named in your article, which are about 650 miles apart.

The reason why this is not correct is because the central line is not straight, but curved, with its convex side to the south, which brings the line much nearer to Portsmouth than the distance found by drawing a straight line.

By calculating a large number of points situated at distances not exceeding 16 miles, and in some cases not more than 5 miles apart, and at the same time making the calculation with the greatest possible minuteness, I have ventured to place the central line about 3 miles (instead of 15 as given in the Journal) north of Portsmouth.

This line will enter the state of New Hampshire about 3 1-2 miles south of Dartmouth college, near the mouth of the White river, in the town of Lebanon, and will pass through Lebanon, Enfield, Grafton, Wilmot, Danbury, Hill, Andover, Franklin, Northfield, Canterbury, Loudon, Pittsfield, Strafford, Barrington, Madbury, Dover, Eliot and Kittery, into the Atlantic Ocean.

The width of the path made by the annular phase you have stated to be about 100 miles. This is true where the sun and moon are nearly vertical, as for instance in Oregon Territory, but as it advances to the east, the width of this path increases, occasioned by a diminution in the moon's apparent diameter, as it approaches the horizon.

When passing though New Hampshire its width will be about 124 miles, or 62 miles each side of the central line, moving at the rate of about 97 miles per minute.

The apparent diameter of the moon compared with that of the sun will be about as 18 to 19, and consequently about 9-10 of the disc of the sun will be covered by the moon.

The appearance of the eclipse on the central line will be as in the following diagram.

At Portsmouth the appearance will be nearly the same, the ring of light will be an almost imperceptible fraction wider on the south side of the sun than on the north side.

The eclipse will first strike the earth in the Pacific Ocean, lon. 176° 45′ west of Greenwich, and lat. 1° 22′ south, near the Central Archipelago.

Here the sun will be rising with its upper limb in apparent contact with moon's lower limb.

The southern line of visibility will pass easterly through the Pacific into Central America, and will pass a little north of the Isthmus of Darien, through the southern portion of the Carribbean Sea into the northern part of South America.

The northern line of simple contact will pass about 12° beyond the North Pole, or in lat. about 78° in opposite longitude from us.

The eclipse will end on the earth in long. 73° 41′ west, and lat. 28° 29′ north, near the Bahama Islands. Here the sun will be setting, with its upper limb in apparent contact with the moon.

From Mr. Hoyt's calculations we take the following particulars:

	h	m	s
Beginning of contact, P. M.	4	27	37
Middle of the obscuration	5	41	47
End of the contact	6	47	17

Mr. Hoyt has made extended calculations of this eclipse, and besides projecting several beautiful plans of the occultation, has on a large sheet drawn a map of the State of New Hampshire, correctly divided into townships, through which he has drawn the central line, —the whole beautifully colored, rendering it, aside from its usefulness, a desirable parlor ornament.

N. P. WILLIS.—The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, in a late letter, commenting on the tastes and habits of President Pierce, says:

"The President is fond of display, and is rather foppish in his tastes and style of dress. For instance, he has his hair oiled and curled after the fashion of N. P. Willis, and frequently receives visitors in the morning in an embroidered tunic, or semi-robe de chambre, such as are worn by the flashy and fancy men of New York, supposed and said to be kept by women. His taste and dress for equipage may be traced also to the company he keeps. Pierce Butler, the ex-husband of Fanny Kemble, is his most intimate friend and associate, and, next to Caleb Cushing and the ladies, occupies more of his time and attention than any thing else."

The allusion in the first portion of the above paragraph is somewhat personal, not only in relation to the Chief Magistrate of the United States, but to Mr. Willis, who seems to be by no means proud of the honor, inasmuch as the letter writer conveys an impression in regard to his own habits and tastes, which is altogether erroneous. In his "Idlewild" papers, now in course of publication in the Home Journal, he thus playfully disclaims the charge of effeminacy, so far as is urged against him by the correspondent of the Tribune:

"Now, I may not only rescue the writer of Idlewild from the reproach of setting an example to the Chief Magistrate which is in any way artificial or effeminate, but it may also furnish Mr. Bancroft with an historical item as to the economy and simplicity of republican models, if I record three facts:—First, the humble head which his Excellency the President is thus authentically declared to have selected for his imitation, has hitherto known no external culture or embellishment beyond a daily souse in cold water—never, to my knowledge, having been touched by oil, pomantum, curling fluid, curling tongs, or other unguent, art or emollient. Second, it has never known even the luxury of hair-dresser or barber, having been cut, from boyhood till now whenever and wherever it was inconveniently long, by scissors in my own hands. Third, its daily officiation as a model for the President, (though I was wholly unaware, hitherto, of having ever been seen by his Excellency,) is performed without crest, plume or livery, it being known to friends and neighbors by the covering of a straw hat—which straw hat, I may add, is now near the close of its wear for a second summer, and was bought in the village of Newburn for eighteen cents."

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1853.

MAINE ELECTION.

The State Election in Maine was held on Monday. Returns received by telegraph and otherwise, render it certain that there is no choice of Governor by the people. It is also nearly certain that no distinct party will have a majority in the Legislature, and that there is no great change from last year in the general results.

The vote in Portland for Governor, is as follows:—Crosby, Whig, 893; Pillsbury, Demo., 733; Morrill, Temp. Demo., 390; Holmes, Free Demo., 92. Scattering 6.—This is a very large Whig gain from last year, but other places do not show a corresponding gain.

There is probably an increased majority of the Legislature in favor of the Maine law.

The whole vote is said to be light.

These statements go to show, that while trading politicians have been making a terrible noise about the election, the people have remained comparatively quiet.

More Why—and less Because.—The Portland Advertiser does not treat the Boston liquor dealers quite so courteously as we do, but, in reply to the suggestion that they desire to repeal the law, not for dollars and cents, but because it affects their reputation, the Advertiser says:

"Tell that story to the Marines!" If public sentiment is such as to nullify the law, we don't believe that even the sensibilities of Boston liquor dealers would be sufficiently wounded by its mere existence upon the statute book, not respected or enforced, to make them so very anxious to bring about a change by which their trade would be seriously injured!

Valuable Discovery.—The simplest and best things are found out last. We have often seen the great discomfort and suffering of children travelling over long routes in railway trains; and have sometimes seen water brought in pitchers or pails through a car, for sale; we have seen apples carried in baskets or bags to assuage thirst. But never till this week did we happen to see a quart of water carried in a medicine bottle by a careful mother. Stepping into a train and taking a seat, a little petticoated urchin of two years turned round to look at us over the back of a seat which held him and his mother, who did not look so motherly as she acted. By and by at a momentary halting place, she pulled a bottle from her carpet-bag, containing as we thought, some very fine cologne, having no strange aspect but its large quantity.—But she next pulled out a tiny mug from which she refreshed the thirsty soul of her only son and heir, very much to his satisfaction, apparently, and certainly very much to our gratification at the ease and cheapness with which she kept her boy comfortable and still. We make a note of it, for the benefit of all who travel with children.

Infallibility.—In an article in the Pilot, on the Catechism, we read the following passage, not strange to those who understand the assumptions of the Roman Church to be infallible, but strange and even ridiculous to those who do not.

"Finally, there are certain propositions which are neither according to reason nor above reason, but which are against reason, and which therefore cannot be true. For example, it is impossible that a round thing can, at the same time, be a square thing. It is impossible that two and two make five. It is impossible that the Church can err."

Ribbons, Laces, Embroideries, &c.—We would call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Geo. Turnbull & Co., in this day's paper. They have just enlarged their already spacious store to nearly its former size, and are now prepared to do an extensive business. Such always offer good bargains.

African Emigration.—On the 8th inst., two missionaries, with their wives, sailed from New York, to land about 200 miles north of the river Niger, where the Colonization Society are desirous to form a new settlement. The station has a magnificent bay, and a healthy climate, and will command the trade of the rivers Niger and Congo. India rubber can be obtained there in abundance, and that within a few years, has become an important article for manufacture, and the prices are now very high.

In October, an expedition fitted out by the New York Colonization Society, will sail for Monrovia, with about 100 northern colored men; two clergymen, one from Rome, New York, the other from Newark, N. J. will accompany them, to explore the country, and if the report is favorable, follow with other settlers. From Baltimore, another expedition with 200 emigrants is to sail next month; and owing to the oppressive laws of the Western States, companies are forming in Ohio and Indiana for the same purpose. The work of colonizing and christianizing Africa is rapidly progressing, and while the colonies on the coast are flourishing, the trade with the civilized world is constantly increasing. In another century, Liberia, may become a powerful State, to which the blacks of the whole earth will flock.—Newburyport Union.

Santa Anna and the United States.—Santa Anna lately took farewell of our Minister Mr. Conklin, who has been recalled, when he said:

"It is with deep regret that I witness the departure of your Excellency; and I hope you will express to your Government the sentiments manifested by the Mexican Executive; the good wishes that animate us to draw closer every day the friendly relations between both nations, particularly the prayers uttered for your prosperity, and that of the American people."

A correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune, however, maintains that, notwithstanding this language, Santa Anna has a deadly hate for the United States, and would now go to war with us if he could. He is, however, afraid to move. He can raise neither troops nor revenue. He has the Church against him. A powerful party, waiting only for a leader, is working for his overthrow. But he will, withal, adds the correspondent, make no concession to the instances of the United States Government. There will be no adjustment of the Messilla boundary question, or any other that the United States Executive may have at heart.

Death of an old Musician.—In Boston, on Saturday morning as Mr. Joseph Gear, the well known musician, was passing up Milk street, when near the corner of Washington st. he was struck by some boards projecting from a wagon passing directly behind him, and knocked down, so that his legs protruded over the curb stone, and the wheels passed over them, breaking them both and crushing them in a shocking manner. He was taken up and conveyed to the Hospital, where he died about twelve o'clock. The Transcript states that he was born in Gosport, England, 30th of August, 1768, and was consequently 85 years of age. He has been a resident of Boston about a quater of a century, and was known to all theatre goers, as one of the orchestra, and an expert performer on the double bass.

Die, Rather than Steal.—We published a few days ago, an account of the drowning of a boy by some older companions, who held him under water until life was extinct, in order to compel him, by fright, against his repeated refusals, to enter and rob an orchard. The case occurred near Chicago, Ill., and the editor of the Democratic Press acknowledges the receipt of one letter, containing $10, and another containing $100, contributed for the purpose of erecting a monument to his memory. As other contributions will no doubt be made, there will soon be erected a suitable monument to the memory of the brave little fellow.

Rain Statistics.—The following statements are derived from the tables of a careful and accurate observer, in this city:—The quantity of rain which fell in August was greater than that of any other month for the past twelve years. Since 1841 the average quantity in August has been 4 inches 54 hundredths. The least quantity was in August, 1848, being then 2 and 50 hundreths; the greatest quantity, in August, 1853, being 10 1-12 inches; and the next greatest quantity was in November, 1845, being then 10 inches. The whole quantity of rain this year, thus far, is 33 2-3 inches. The greatest quantity for any one of the past twelve years was in 1850, when it was 54 inches 3 hundredths. The smallest quantity, 1844 and 1846, when it was about 34 50-100.—Salem Gaz.

What is the reason that our baggage masters will not take time to handle over the baggage at the depots? I have heard many bitter complaints of the treatment baggage receives at the hands of the baggage masters. Trunks, bandboxes and valices are thrown out of the cars with as little care or regard as though they were made of solid iron. The consequence is, almost every piece of baggage which the baggage master touches, is more or less damaged. A little more time and care would remedy this great evil. It is a decided nuisance, which the public ought not to tolerate. Let the press speak upon this subject—the travelling public demand that more care should be bestowed in this direction. Let Directors and Superintendants of Railroads look to this annoying evil.—Haverhill Gazette.

The trial of Bishop Doane is still exciting interest in New York. During his address on the 8th, Bishop Doane had occasion to call for the originals of the previous presentments, when they were found not to be in possession of the Court, but are supposed to be among the papers of the late Bishop Chase, who was then presiding officer. The respondent made a point of this, and moved that the originals should be produced or accounted for, but the Court unanimously rejected the motion, on the ground that this was not a Court of Record, and that the printed records of the former Court were in the hands of the respondent, and might be received in evidence.

A Novel Runaway.—About 7 o'clock on Sunday evening, the engineer of the night train on the Trenton railroad, fired up the locomotive at the Kensington depot, and then went to supper. While he was gone, the steam got up and the valve being partially open, the engine started, at first slowly, but soon got under a pretty good head way.—When it reached Frankford, the fire was low, and it was going slow. It was stopped by a gentleman who happened to be on the railroad, the engine reversed, the whistle blown, and started back. When he had got about half a mile, he met the engineer, puffing and blowing, having started in pursuit of his runaway iron-horse.—Newark Advertiser.

☞Father Mathew's wonderful reform in Ireland seems to need doing over again. The London Spectator states that in 1838, 12,206,242 gallons of whiskey were consumed in that country, which decreased to 5,290,650 in 1842. This was with a population of 8,175,000 souls. But now, with a population of 6,518,794 only, no less than 8,208,256 gallons are consumed.

Gotschalk and Matrimony.—It is reported in musical circles that Gotschalk, the great American Pianist, is to be married to a Philadelphia belle, with over two hundred thousand dollars. The marriage will take place after his second series of concerts, which commence in two weeks.

LOCAL.

GAS VS. TREES.

Messrs Editors:—Portsmouth has always been noted as a beautiful place in the summer season. Our town owes this merited reputation, to the numerous beautiful gardens, that abound within its limits, and especially to the luxuriant trees that border many of its streets. A few years ago, through the exertions of some of our citizens of good taste, a large addition was made to our stock of elms and maples, and many of the young trees then set, are now flourishing in vigor and beauty.—The agent of the destruction of any one of these trees, whether by neglect or wilful injury, should be regarded as an offender against the good taste of the public.

One of those venerable Elms which has so long sheltered the passers on Islington st. has been cut off whilst yet in its hale strength, leaving an aching void that suggests the same sensation to the promenader as that of the loss of a large and valuable molar—a void that the dentist or the carpenter can never fill.

Last year the trees around Market Square were all green and flourishing, but now may be seen some half dozen facing the Athenæum, stripped of their leaves too soon, considering the remoteness of winter. These it is thought have been destroyed by the leaking of the pipes, and the consequent saturation of the ground around their roots with the gas.—Some workmen who have had occasion to throw up the earth in their vicinity, have found the effluvia from all parts of the ground to be offensive. It is well known that Hydrogen gas in contact with the roots of trees is destructive to their life; and therefore every good citizen should look to it in the introduction of gas into his street or dwelling where there are or should be trees, that the pipes be so well laid and the joints so well fitted and strongly cemented, as to prevent such sacrilege. The Gas indoors and out of doors is a very beautiful and convenient light; but should not be allowed to interfere with the more beautiful creations of the great Centre of Light. Arbor Vitæ.

"A Nuisance" indeed.—Your correspondent "x" well complains of the loafers in Congress street. If there was one thing more than another that induced our citizens to vote for a city government, it was the idea it would be more efficient to keep order in our streets.

But what is the fact? Last Friday night Congress street was made a regular bachanalian depot for singing, shouting, groaning, swearing, fighting, and otherwise disturbing the peace, till after three o'clock in the morning and not a police officer or watchman made his appearance. This nuisance of obstructing the side-walks by rowdy young men is felt to be a serious evil by the public, and a disgrace to our city. If our city authorities are not willing to do their duty let them resign. As our city Marshal was willing to receive the appointment, I hope he is as willing to do his duty; and I think his attention needs but to be called to this matter to secure its abatemnt. X. Y. Z.

Accident.—As Dr. R. Kittredge was riding up Pleasant street in his sulky, on Tuesday afternoon, when near the foot of Washington street a wagon came in collision with his team, bending the axle so as to turn the off wheel partially under the body of his sulky.—The horse ran a short distance before clearing himself from the harness, and the Dr. was thrown out, dragged some rods by one foot, which caught in some part of his carriage—but though considerably bruised we are informed had no bones broken.

Ship Venice.—The Valparaiso correspondent of the New York Herald, under date of August 1, says:

I am requested by the master of the American ship Venice, of Portsmouth, to give you the following report:—

In lat. 56 deg. 40 min. S., long. 79 deg. 14 min. W., fell in with the Spanish bark Maria, from Guayaquil, bound to Malaga, who a few days before had picked up the crew of the English ship Maria, from Callao bound to Liverpool. She sprung aleak in a heavy southeast gale, and went down in lat. 38 S., long. 90 W.; the captain and crew, forty-two in number, had just time to get into their boats with a few provisions only. The captain of the Venice furnished them with a few provisions and took ten of them on board, and brought them to this port, where she arrived July 25th. The Venice was off Cape Horn thirty odd days, during which time she did not make one hundred miles on her course, experiencing heavy westerly gales, split her sails, stove monkey rails fore and aft on the larboard side, broke main rail, ripping it off its stanchions, stove quarter boat, wheel house, forecastle and gangway;—washing overboard the binnacle, compasses and cabin skylight and filling the cabin with water. The Venice remained twenty-two hours in Valparaiso, taking in water and a few provisions.

BALTIMORE, September 12.—We have no mail south of Mobile to-night. The fever was very bad in that city, and the proportion of deaths has on the increase. Tuesday last was observed as a day of fasting and prayer, all business being suspended.

The Daily Register had so many hands sick that it was forced to suspend publication on Monday.

John Hicks Day, who died a few days ago in the New Hampshire state prison, began his career by stealing from a clothes line in Newport. He burnt Charlestown jail, where he was confined, a meeting-house, tavern and stables, but did not escape. Afterwards he escaped from the Keens jail, and was re-arrested in Vermont, but eluded the New Hampshire officers as they lay asleep with him on the floor of a bar-room, and was not heard of for eight months—when he had got into jail at Utica for theft, and made a confidant of the jailer's daughter, who betrayed him to the justice of New Hampshire. His confession to the girl convicted him of burning the Charlestown jail, and he was sentenced in 1842 to the state prison for life.

ROBBERY.—Mr. Dodge of Hampton Falls, President of the Manchester and Lawrence Railroad, left a carpet bag in the cars at Manchester on Friday evening, which had in it some shirts and railroad securities, the latter being "of no value to any person but the owner." The bag was found in Concord, N. H., and a man and woman, calling themselves Walter Heath and Elizabeth Kendrick, who were passengers in the same car, and are said to be last from Biddeford, Me., have been arrested at Concord.

THE CELTIC EXODUS.—A late number of the Galway (Iceland) Packet states that the emigration mania is daily gathering strength in the whole of the western counties, and adds that "it is melancholly to see the bone and sinew of the land thus flying away at a time when it might be supposed sufficient employment could be obtained at home. But not even the certainty of constant employment, and the high wages which agricultural laborers must receive in the gathering in of the approaching harvest, can induce the Irishmen to remain at home."

LIFE OF DR. JUDSON.—Dr. Wayland's Life and Labors of Dr. Judson is announced in London. The reputation of the subject, and the writer of his biography, will insure for it great sale. The Providence Journal learns that, with characteristic generosity, Dr. Wayland has presented the copyright to the widow of Dr. Judson, and that she has already been offered twenty thousand dollars for it, but has been advised by her friends not to sell it.

THE GEORGETOWN ELOPEMENT.—The name of the young lady who escaped from the seminary of the Georgetown Convent, on Sunday last, is Mary Roach. She is a native of Mississippi, and is said to be worth $300,000 in her own right. She was married on Wednesday, at the National Hotel, Washington, to her lover, G. N. Jordan, proprietor of "Jordan's Springs," near Winchester, Virginia.

Dates from Utah to the 21st of April represent that small pox was alarmingly prevalent among the Indians. Near one thousand have died with it from each of the Cheyenne and Snake tribes. Three hundred of the dead bodies were piled into one hut, which was fired and burnt to the ground.

NIAGARA FALLS.—Table Rock, at Niagara Falls, is now all gone, the last portion having fallen on Friday evening, Sept. 9th. It is stated that an English gentleman who has been endeavoring to ascertain the depth of Niagara river at the Suspension Bridge, has at length succeeded. At one point, he finds the depth to be 125 feet.

TRIAL OF BISHOP DOANE.—On the assembling of the Court on Saturday morning, Bishop McIlvaine took the floor and spoke till two o'clock, in reply to Bishop Doane. After a short recess, the respondent commenced a rejoinder, and occupied the greater part of Monday morning's session with it.

In reference to the arrival at Salem of several hundred monkey skins from Africa the Register says:—

"Monkey skins have formed an article of commerce for several years, and we dare say that many a fair lady has strutted her brief hour in all the glory of a monkey skin muff and rat skin gloves, without suspecting the quality of her finery.

A prisoner who was detected in trying to escape by secreting himself in a sewer connected with a railroad culvert, and for which he was severely punished, hung himself in his cell in Sing Sing prison. He had at that time a ball and chain attached to his leg.

More of the goods stolen from railroad depots have been found in a barn at Concord, N. H., and also between the partition walls of a house occupied by Justus Squires, a shoemaker, who was pardoned out of the State prison. He has fled.

Pliny H. Babbitt, of Barre, Mass., deputy sheriff, has been arrested on complaint of deputy sheriff Baker, that he was accessory to burglaries. He gave bail in $1000.

The Vermont Standard, temperance organ, in summing up the results of the election, concedes that a majority of the House will be in favor of tee repeal of the Maine law.

The New Orleans papers of Sunday week give the number of deaths for the week as 955, including 804 of fever.

Mrs. Otto Goldschmidt had a son on the 5th of August, at Dresden.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherons, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Founded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 960,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity, and by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&w6m jel22*

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that experience which his situation as husband, and the profession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S
Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not
SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. STUDENTS, DO YOU HEAR THAT?—The editor of the N. Y. Express says:

Looking the other day upon a thousand students and graduates of New Haven, where as much attention is given to physical education as elsewhere, we suppose, we were struck with the apparent physical weakness of a vast majority of those who were visiting their Alma Mater. You can tell a clergyman not more easily by the shape of his neckcloth and cut of his coat, than by the tone of his complexion. Pale and wan, either with the burden of study or thought, they looked to us peculiarly American, and were physically very weak. There are plenty of exceptions to the rule, but put all the clergymen together, and you would rather be reminded of the race of Pigmies than the Giants. It is so, though in less degree, with the gentlemen of the other learned professions; and a literary man, or professional man, who is strong and robust, with nature's vermillion in his cheeks, and elasticity in his step, is rather a rare bird to find, whether upon the wing, as a traveller, or caged to his study.

Fast living, the free use of tobacco, and too little bodily exercise, are regarded as the principal causes of this general physical inferiority. Professor Silliman, aged 74, is pronounced the most athletic and healthy man seen at the great gathering of literary men.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

JOHN M. BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NUTRITIVE PRINCIPLE, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting disease; simple proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

The months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural have substantial nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

Doctor Alfred G. Hall may be consulted by letter, or in person at his rooms, No. 18 Winter St., Boston, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. ☞ Medicines, &c. forwarded by Express to any part.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last dicovere Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE:

N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

READ! READ! READ!

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND, Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

GEORGE WILSON.

A few years since, as Mr. Gallaudet was walking in the streets of Hartford, there came running to him a poor boy, of very ordinary appearance, but whose fine intelligent eye fixed the attention of the gentleman, as the boy enquired, "Sir, can you tell me of a man who would like a boy to work for him, and learn him to read?" "Whose boy are you, and where do you live?" "I have no parents," was the reply, "and have just run away from the workhouse because they would not teach me to read." The gentleman made arrangements with the authorities of the town, and took the boy into his own family. There he learned to read. Nor was this all. He soon acquired the confidence of his new associates, by faithfulness and honesty. He was allowed the use of his friend's library, and made rapid progress in the acquisition of knowledge. It became necessary after a while, that George should leave Mr. Gallaudet, and he became apprenticed to a cabinet-maker in the neighborhood. There the same integrity won for him the favor of his new associates. To gratify his inclination for study his master had a little room finished for him, in the upper part of the shop, where he devoted his leisure time to his favorite pursuits.—Here he made large attainments in mathematics, in the French language, and other branches. After being in this situation a few years, sitting at tea with the family one evening, he all at once remarked that he wanted to go to France.

"Go to France!" said his master, surprised that the apparently contented and happy youth thus suddenly became dissatisfied with his situation; "for what?"

"Ask Mr. Gallaudet to tea to-morrow evening," continued George, "and I will explain."

His kind friend was invited accordingly.—At tea time the apprentice presented himself with his manuscripts, in English and French, and explained his singular intention to go to France."

"In the time of Napoleon," said he, "a prize was offered by the French government for the simplest rule of measuring plane surfaces, of whatever outline. The prize has never been awarded, and the method I have discovered.

He then demonstrated his problem, to the surprise and gratification of his friends, who immediately furnished him with the means of defraying his expenses, and with letters of introduction to Hon. Lewis Cass, then our minister to the Court of France. He was introduced to Louis Philippe, and in the presence of the king and nobles, and plenipotentiaries, this American youth demonstrated his problem, and received the plaudits of the court.—He received the prize which he had clearly won, besides valuable presents from the king.

He then took letters of introduction and proceeded to the Court of St. James, and took up a similar prize offered by the Royal Society, and returned to the United States. Here he was prepared to secure the benefit of his discovery by patent, when he received a letter from the Emperor Nicholas himself, whose minister had witnessed his demonstrations at London, inviting him to make his residence at the Russian Court, and furnishing him with ample means for his outfit.

He complied with the invitation, repaired to St. Petersburg, and is now professor of Mathematics in the Royal College, under the special protection of the Autocrat of all the Russias!—Journal of Commerce.

IMPERIAL RAILROADING.—The Parisian correspondent of the N. Y. Times gives the following sketch of Louis Napoleon's and Mrs Louis Napoleon's trip on the cars to Dieppe. The astonishing rate of speed attained speaks favorably, we think, of engineers in black with white kids, and of the holy water scented with orange flowers, compared with the humbler means used in this country.

"The train consisted of a new and powerful engine, driven by M. de Lasseyriere, in a black suit and white kids; of the imperial car, comprising a saloon and two withdrawing rooms, and of five large carriages for the ladies of honor and their suite; besides a car for the managers of the road and sundry counsellors, who had collected to bend and be obsequious. The saloon of the imperial car contained several gilt tables, upon which were albums of views along the railroad to Dieppe, a quantity of daguerrcotypes of chateaux in the eighteenth centurry, a picture of Paris in 1760, and the Tuilleries under Francis 1. These were inteneded to divert and attract the Empress during the ride.—Six ministers accompanied their Majesties from the palace to the train; five aids-de-camp stood reverentially uncovered, as they ascended the steps, while a dozen directors of the road waited off by the engine, so as to be out of the way. At Asnieres was the Prefect of Police, taking the necessary measures for the safety of the august travellers. M. de Lasseyriere drove the train for one hundred and twenty miles at the rate of a mile a minute. I understand that the steam is not generated from common water; holy water was used, and besides that it was scented with orange flowers. The fuel was wood, cut from the confiscated Orleans estate."

A SENTIMENT.—We have seen the following scrap sailing round in the papers for some time, without credit to anybody.

"That calm and elegant satisfaction which the vulgar call melancholy, and sometimes blue devils, is the true and proper delight of men of knowledge and virtue."

Now we wish the owner of it would take it up, and tell us who he is, and what he means by it. If the paragraph really means what it says, we don't know which to admire most, its folly or its falsehood.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1853.

MAINE ELECTION.

This election has moral bearings fully equal in importance to any that are deemed political. We copy from the Portland Advertiser, the following statements in regard to the votes for Governor in Cumberland County; presuming that they are a fair sample of the losses and gains in the State.

This year, in Cumberland Co. the votes are for

Crosby.	Pillsbury.	Morrill.	Holmes.
3288	4705	2075	1264.

Last year the vote in the same towns was as follows:

Crosby.	Hubbard.	Chandler.	Holmes.

From this it may be seen that the vote for Crosby, the whig candidate, has increased, while the vote for Pillsbury is much smaller than that for Hubbard, the regular democratic candidate of last year. The vote for Morril is also much smaller than that for Chandler, while that of Holmes, the free soil candidate has been increased. Crosby gets over his vote of last year 815. Pillsbury loses from the vote for Hubbard 1795. Morrill's vote is 2281 less than the vote for Chandler—and this gives a pretty good idea of the vote through the State.

From this it will be seen that Hubbard received the most of the free soil votes in this county last year, and the votes of a large number of whigs. This year, Mr. Pillsbury, we suppose, has drawn some from the whigs, and a few have voted for Morrill. The vote for Morrill, however, is mostly democratic.

For Senators.—The whigs have elected 2 in Cumberland, 4 in Lincoln, 3 in Kennebec, and 3 in Penobscot. The democrats have chosen 3 in York, and we presume one in Waldo. No choice in Somerset and probably no choice in Oxford. Other districts not heard from definitely.

Representatives.—As between whigs and democrats, the House will probably stand about the same as last year.—but the "Morril democrats," will "hold the balance of power."

These Morrill Democrats, being such strong advocates of the Maine Law, as to make them repudiate regular nominations, will of course take care to keep it on the statute books, and do all they can to promote its excution.

THE PRISONER'S FRIEND.

Mr Charles Spear, the editor and publisher of the Prisoner's Friend, has handed us the number for September, being No. 1. of Vol 6.

The number before us is ornamented with a good likeness of Robert Rantoul, jr. looking very much as he did when he delivered the Eulogy of Judge Woodbury, in the Universalist Church in this city.

The first article in the book, is on the Labors of Hon. Robert Rantoul, jr. particularly in reference to crime and criminals. Then follows an article on imprisonment for Debt; Better than Diamonds; Letter from Mr. Everet, &c. &c.

Mr. Spear says, of this work: Our object is to prevent crime, and not punishment, and to effect a moral reform in criminals. In order to carry out benevolent operations, we must know the cause as well as the remedies of crime. We may accomplish much good, but we need the hearty co-operation of the whole community.

We have read it for years, and know it to be valuable. It is published in Boston, monthly, at $2 per annum.

NEW BOOK.—We have received, we suppose from the publisher, John S. Taylor, 17 Ann street, New York, a little book of 124 pages, entitled The Orphans of the Suicides, or the Rum Plague; a Narative for the Admonition and Instruction of both old and young, Rich and Poor. From the German of Zschokke

It is a graphic tale, or group of tales, all with a single moral, which may be inferred by the title. It is a readable book and may do good.

BOSTON BUSINESS CARDS.—Our semi-annual exhibition of Boston Business Cards, commences in our columns to day, under the direction of V. B. Palmer, advertising agent.

They embrace almost every variety of goods, staple and fancy; and not a few manufacturing and working establishments.

The extensiveness of their advertising is a token of their enterprise, and a guaranty that they have confidence in increased sales, when distant customers read their notices.

LOOK OUT for counterfeit one dollar bills on the Union Bank, Boston. We learn that they are being extensively offered in Portland.

NOTICE TO PERSONS SENDING MONEY.—Inclose the money in a letter,—do not tell the postmaster or any of his clerks,—that you have done so. If this rule is adhered to, and the letter properly directed, it will come safe.

The above is from the Boston Pilot, and is anything but complimentary to the christianity or honesty of post-masters and clerks.

A SINGULAR CASE.—On Sabbath last, a young couple were married in Boston, and on Monday the bride was a corpse. The bridegroom was thus a bachelor, a husband, and a widower in the short space of twenty-four hours.

THE PORT WINE TRADE.—Advices from Lisbon of Aug. 18, received in Boston, state that the crop of grapes had been so much injured by disease, which has become so general in that part of the county, that "the vintage of 1853 would be less than half an average as to quantity." A letter from Oporto, also of the 18th of August, says:—

The market here is in a very excited state, and a lot of old wine, which was selling at 107rs per pipe eight days since, has been closed out at 140rs. You must not expect a gallon of wine from us, to be sold at less than one dollar per gallon, as it will be much more profitable for us to sell here, for the London market. The wine trade in London is very brisk, and no port wine of any quality to be had under £24 per pipe. Jeropega, (called in America "Pure Juice,") such as we bought at 60rs per pipe, some months since, is now worth 120rs. cash; therefore you may be as stiff as you please with that article, as with Brandy at present prices of 150rs per pipe, cash, without casks. The new Jeropega of 1852 will stand at an enormous price, and then cannot be got into Oporto before March, 1854. We expect to see this article reach 150rs per pipe before the month of October, as the low wines of 1853 cannot be made fit for the London market without being blended with at least 15 per cent. of pure juice per pipe.

The failure of the grape crop, or a great deficiency therein, is a great calamity, second only to a similar scarcity in breadstuffs or potatoes. Grapes and raisins are an important species of food in all vine countries, and the peasantry suffer when they are scarce.

In regard to wines and brandies, we presume there will be just as much sold as is called for, at high prices,—and if grapes are scarce in Europe, and apples are scarce in America, still wines will be made from whiskey and other articles, and sold at a great profit; and people will use them, and call them wine.

A TRAVELLING HOTEL.—A Paris correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, in a letter dated August 11, gives the following account of a novel mode of travelling in France. He writes:

"If we are in advance of the world in sea yachts the French have beaten us in the article of railroad yachts. A rich capitalist, Monsieur the Count of L——, has invented and superintended the construction of a railroad hotel, for his own private use, with which he intends to travel over all the railroads of France. It is a complete house with all its dependencies, principal and accessory. There is a parlor, bedrooms, with beds, billiard room, kitchen, office, a cellar which will hold a good store of wine, ice house &c.; in one word all elegance and comfort, the useful and agreeable, of a dwelling the most complete and the most rich. It is very long, and like all French cars very wide. It is made so that it can be transferred from one set of wheels to another, though that seems of no importance, since the roads of France are all, I believe, of the same wide gauge. This travelling hotel has cost its proprietor about 50,000 francs, and is at this moment attracting great attention at the depot of the Orleans railway.

"WE STILL LIVE.—Tuesday was the last moment of the period assigned by 'Professor' Jewett of North Carolina, for the undisturbed physical existence of our planet, for the stranger comet was sure to strike the earth somewhere previous to midnight, and either knock the globe and all upon it to everlasting smash at once; or else cause such changes in the direction of the equator and position of the poles as would produce about the same effect so far as mortals are concerned. Yet the earth is still calmly pursuing its way through the regions of space, and no sign of the predicted direful calamity has manifested itself. Professor Jewett, like Father Miller, will have to discover some error in his calculations, and afford us a few months further grace.

The Boston Courier is responsible for all this; and is, we presume, entirely correct in the statement that the earth rolls on much as it has done for a number of years.

THE FISHERIES.—The Newburyport Herald says:

The report brought by a schooner arrived at Belfast 6th, of the capture of three Newburyport and three Gloucester schooners, and the schooner Gazelle, of Dennis, must be incorrect. If true it would undoubtedly have been heard of before.

We are again called upon to record a fatal riot among some Philadelphia firemen. Last Saturday night, as the Franklin Hose Company was passing the Hibernia Hose House, the former were fired upon by the members of the latter company. Instead of injuring any of the Franklinites, the Hiberians killed one of their own members who lived on the opposite side of the street, and was looking out of the window. Fourteen persons were arrested in the Hibernia's house, in whose possession three revolvers and other fire arms were found.—Boston Atlas.

THE FRUITS OF BLIND REVENGE.—Mr. Silas Mead, a farmer and elderly man, living near Middlesex village, having had a quarrel with the managers of the Vermont Central Railroad, on account of a promised passway over or under the rails, which they found difficult to make to suit, was last Saturday arrested and lodged in jail, for rolling logs across the track just before light that morning, by which, if a timely discovery had not been made, the morning train would probably been dashed to pieces. The proof against him is said to be strong.—Montpelier Freeman.

The down train of cars on the Atlantic and St. Lawrence road on Thursday, when passing Lenoxville, Canada, met with an accident. While going at the rate of forty miles an hour, an axle of the tender broke, and the baggage car was thrown off the track, down an embankment 20 or 30 feet. No lives were lost, and no one seriously hurt. Damage $1200.

LOCAL.

A CHAPTER OF DIFFICULTIES.

Some time ago the schooner Advent came to this port from the South, discharged her cargo of lumber, and dropped down below to sail on her return voyage to the South. Here a mutiny occurred; her crew went to jail, and the vessel with a new crew put to sea. In about a fortnight the vessel returned to this port, dismasted. Now a new difficulty arose; the sailors got the idea that she was haunted, and were afraid to go in her; she lay here waiting for some time. At length a new captain, new officers and crew were obtained, who were not afraid of spirits, and she went to sea again. Somewhere on the coast of York county, Me., the spirits were again busy, and the officers and crew, anchored the vessel, and all but one man ran away and left her, doubtless driven off by evil spirits. Lastly a new crew was sent to take her back to this port, and she now lies at one of our wharves.

Won't somebody nail a horse-shoe on the cabin door.

A FORTUNATE MAN.

Such is our "trusty and well beloved brother" Fuller, of the Gazette. Not only is he editor of that ancient and time-honored periodical, and publisher of the laws of the United States by Authority—but Pension Agent:—and not only Pension Agent, but also Justice of the Peace by appointment of the Governor and Council of New Hampshire.

In the latter capacity he is authorized by our laws to solemnize marriages; of which important fact he apprised the democratic party and all the rest of man-(and woman)-kind by a notice in his Gazette. And now behold at once the benefit of office-holding and of advertising. Brother Fuller has celebrated his first marriage, and we presumed of course he had pocketed his first marriage fee. But novice as he was, and bachelor as he is, he declined receiving a three dollar bill, and made up a budget of blunders in getting off the ceremony; and he cannot tell now for a certainty how it was done—but remembers particularly that he did not forget to "salute the bride," and believes that he administered something like an oath to the parties, beginning with "you solemnly" and ending with "so help you."

But no matter—they are married,—we publish the notice in this day's Chronicle, and they have gone to their home in the country a happy couple, we hope long so to remain.

We had some idea of running an opposition line matrimonial, against Br. F.,—but we can't think of it at his prices.

WASHINGTON TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETY.—At the Annual Meeting of the Portsmouth Washington Total Abstinence Society, held at the Temple on Monday evening, the following gentlemen were chosen officers for the ensuing year, viz.:

A. R. Bradbury, President.
F. W. Rogers, Vice President.
James Nowell, Secretary.
John Christie, J. D. Pillow, Oliver Hanscom, Wm. Tuckerman, S. M. Demeritt, } Executive Committee.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the same place, Monday evening, Sept. 26th.

HANSON M. HART, Chairman.
JAMES NOWELL, Sec.

THE TROT.—Quite an excitement has existed among the sporting men in this vicinity, of late, respecting the speed of a certain fast trotting horse, owned by Messrs. C. H. Sides & Co., and which has long done duty on their hack and in other laborious situations, without attracting much notice—his speed having just been discovered. To test the matter, a bet of $25 per side was made, that the "Doctor" could in 3 minutes 15 seconds, trot over the ground between the 4 and 3 mile-posts on Greenland road—the former being just above the March place, and the other near the residence of John Tabor. This distance was decided by measurement to be fifteen feet short of a mile—so the goal was placed beyond the mile-post.

The trial took place about five o'clock on Wednesday afternoon—Mr. C. H. Sides driving—and the horse lost the wager, coming in in 3 minutes 23 seconds. A large bull-dog, however, was constantly jumping at and worrying the horse for at least one-fourth of the distance, causing him to break badly; and it was the opinion of many of the spectators—and we believe of at least three of the judges, that the "old Doctor" would have had time to spare, but for this troublesome dog.

THAT PUMP AGAIN.—Messrs. Editors,—Our pump has given out once more, and the whole population of Daniel and Penhallow streets are dry. Hundreds of men, women and children are waiting for the pump commissioners to come round. We are afraid that many will be forced to commence a score at the groggeries if the pump is not soon fixed. Where is the Chief Engineer, or the proper officer? Send him along.

FIVE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE FRANKLIN.

NEW YORK, Sept.

The steamer Franklin from Southampton, Sept. 1st., arrived this morning, with London dates of that date.

The French Government has officially announced that the fears which existed respecting the harvest were groundless, and that the quantity of grain is of an average amount, and of excellent quality.

Accounts from Constantinople of the 19th state that the Sultan had adopted the Vienna note without material alteration.

A courier arrived from Constantinople, who states that the Sultan will send an ambassador to St. Petersburgh simultaneously with the evacuation of the principalities.

Accounts from Bucharest state that the Russians would evaccuate the principalities in September, upon which the fleets of England and France would return.

The cholera is spreading in the north of Europe.

The overland India and China mails arrived at Loudon on the 29th Aug.

The failure of the Imperial attack upon Chi-kiang-foo is said to be confirmed. The Imperial fleet had returned to Shanghae.—Chi-kiang-foo is said to be the key to the Chinese Empire.

The Friend of China is of opinion that this fruitless attempt decides the fate of the Empire.

The Rev. Mr. Taylor, the American Missionary, was in the camp of Insurgents during the attack. He says the Insurgents did not suffer the least injury from the cannonade of the Imperialists.

Paris, Aug. 31.—Extraordinary activity prevails in Odessa in the grain market; the stores being inadequate to contain the arrivals, depots had been established in the open air.

The U. S. Frigate Cumberland was at Marseilles.

Constantinople, Aug. 25.—Col. Ruff left yesterday with an autograph letter from the Sultan to the Emperor of Austria, expressive of thanks to Austria for the preservation of peace.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.—BREADSTUFFS.—Markets have been as excited as ever, but on Tuesday the high prices had begun to check business. Western Canal Four 29s 6d; Philadelphia 30s 6d; Baltimore 31s 6d. Indian Corn improved 6d; yellow being held at 32s a 32s 6d.

ESCAPE OF A FUGITIVE.—Marshal Wynkoop, of Philadelphia, arrested on Saturday last, at the Phœnix Hotel, Wilkesbarre, a colored man employed there, named Bitt. The Marshal succeeded in getting the handcuffs on one of Bitt's wrists, but before he could secure the other, Bitt freed himself by a sudden effort, seized up a carving knife from the table, made a lunge with it at the nearest assistant, used the loose handcuff over the heads of one or two others, and, leaving them sprawling on the floor, dashed out into the street. Marshal Wynkoop and his men followed him, giving three or four shots without effect. Bitt plunged into the Susquehannah, determined not to be taken alive. The chase and result excited great interest in the town, but there was no interference by the people. After a time, the Marshal and his men gave up the chase and went away.—Boston Atlas.

COLUMBUS, (Ohio) Sept. 19.—The last rumors from the seat of war at Somerset, were more peaceful. The number of killed were unknown—reported to be about twenty. Rioters had been shot by the Zanesville military. A letter says that order had been restored, and the rioters were being tried for their offences.

THE ACCIDENNT TO STEAMER GEORGIA. Baltimore, Sept. 19*th.*—We learn from the Portsmouth Globe that the steamer Georgia is much injured,—her hurricane deck, state rooms, bulk heads, &c., having been cut up for fire-wood, her wood having been washed overboard. Many passengers lost all their baggage and money. The gale did not abate until Thursday morning, when the British brig Lady came alongside and remained with her until she reached Cape Henry. She was still leaking six inches per hour.

ACCIDENT.—Saturday afternoon three men, named Dennis Collins, Hugh Dorrety and John Matthews, employees under the Boston City Health Department, very nearly lost their lives by descending into the ness-pool in Washington street, opposite Lennox street. They were rendered insensible by the foul air, but were soon rescued and conveyed to the Washington Coffee House, where they received the best medical aid. Dorrety and Matthews recovered in the course of an hour, but Collins was not able to be removed to his home until eight o'clock.

SUDDEN ILLNESS OF A RAILROAD CONDUCTOR.—Mr. William Dole, Conductor on Manchester and Lawrence Railroad, was suddenly prostrated while in a car of the downward train, Tuesday afternoon, with a shock of numb palsy, and all appliances which could be had failed to restore the slightest consciousness. On arrival at Lawrence he was at once placed under the best medical treatment, but still remained insensible. Mr. Dole is an athletic, robust man, and "a picture of health," in the common phrase.

A startling and singular suicide occured in Philadelphia last week. A girl named Mary Burke, a domestic, was engaged to be married, and Thursday last was appointed for the nuptials with a young man, whose name is not given. The parties were to meet at the house of a friend and go thence to a minister, Rev. Mr. Kinnard. The feast was prepared, the groom ready, and friends in waiting, but the bride came not. The next day the papers contained an account of her suicide. A body had been taken from the Schuylkill, and deposited dead and dripping in the dead house. The groom read the account, saw the body, and recognized his bride. So much the great world knows about it. What further tales are in connection, are probably buried.

SINGULAR FACT.—London Journals state that although Grisi has been before the public as a performer for about twenty years, her mother has never seen her upon the stage.—Grisi is not quite five-and-forty; is stout, with fine dark eyes, dark hair, and the cast of features which mark the Hebrew race.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S

Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical limits the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot: nd manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity, and by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&wóm je22

THE OLD BACHELOR'S DEFENCE.

I do not blame a bachelor,
If he leads a single life—
The way the girls are now brought up,
He can't support a wife.

Time was when girls could card and spin,
And wash, and bake, and brew;
But now they have to keep a maid,
If they have aught to do.

I do not blame the bachelor—
His courage must be great
To think to wed a modern Miss,
If small be his estate.

Time was when wives could help to buy
The land they'd help to till,
And saddle Dobbin, shell the corn,
And ride away to mill.

The bachelor is not to blame,
If he's a prudent man;
He now must lead a single life,
And do the best he can.

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, liver, &c.

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER.

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant.

And from attention to this alone, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom
AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last disclosed. Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This not an idle boast, nor is a remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!

N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

"($500 00) On demand I promise to pay to the bearer FIVE HILLS for value received. WILLIAM DEVINES."

READ! READ! READ!

DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER AND KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial &
Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,
VERNON ESKRIDGE, Chaplain U.S.N.

A REHEARSAL.

Castle Garden presents a very different appearance in the day time, during a rehearsal, to what it does at night, when brilliantly lighted and filled with the people in their "Sunday clothes." Having some business with the opera people, we called at the Castle Garden one day last week, and accidentally enjoyed a rich, and to us, an entirely new scene. When we entered the spacious arena, we found the whole of the "powerful orchestra," as the bills say, hard at work on the music of the "Child of the Regiment." Some of them were taking it quite comfortable with their coats off—and we noticed that all who played upon string instruments, or drums, were indulging in a smoke at the same time. This was, no doubt a privation to the wind instruments, who of course could not "blow," and smoke too. The "trombone" seemed to feel it the most, and took revenge on the "violins," by dividing and turning his instrument into a blow pipe, and chewing bits of paper, and hitting the rest of them on the head. The bald spot on the head of the stout German who played the bass viol, seemed to be a favorite mark for his paper balls, but all the balls he could throw, could never compel him to take his bow off the strings to scratch the abused spot, until the proper rest arrived in the music. Now and then only the pate was attended to. Some of the orchestra played their instruments as if they were paid by the day, and cared for nothing else than the arrival of quitting time. Others entered into the work with all their soul, and seemed to be perfectly delighted with their occupation.

On a high seat, at a piano, with coat off, and wristbands turned up, sat the leader, Max Maretzek, who played the piano with one hand, while he beat time with a baton in the other. His whole body moved with the cadence of the music—and as each singer came forward on the stage, he gave them their starting note, both on the piano and with the voice. We were gazing on him, wondering if he took such an interest inthe rehearsal of all operas, when we were astonished to see him throw up his arms in despair, stop the band, and fairly squirm off his seat. At first we thought he might have an attack of cramps in the stomach, but a moment explained all.

The ophicleide, in the remotest corner of the orchestra, had played a wrong note, which nearly tore the shirt off, and the brains out of poor Max. All eyes were now turned upon the unconscious ophecleide—and "dis ish nit right," rang through the orchestra. The singers on the stage stared in wonderment, and Badialli looked daggers. The ophicleide defended his notes, and exhibited his music, which was immediately changed, amid a general expression of German, which of course was all Dutch to us. Madame Sontag was not rehearsing, and it was amusing to hear a soto voice, belonging, we believe, to the "bass drum," singing her roll, to the accompaniment of the orchestra. His efforts were received with applause by the "grand chorus" on the stage, and his fellow blowers. Several dark Italian maidens, we were going to say, were walking about the stage, throwing up their arms and eyes, and going through their role.

The "Regiment," which looks so formidably at night, could not be told now from a meeting of German boot-makers on a strike. One cove among them was a "fanny man," who danced with all his body, except his feet, all the lively airs in the opera. His efferescence of spirits led him to run a cove down, a "feller soger," back in the front rank, which caused the fellow soldier to let out a streak of Dutch as long as your arm.

While this was going on, the grand finale approached, and the people on the stage became intensely excited, and came down to Max Maretzek, who was in the ninth heaven, and in awful perspiration, and shook their fists at him, and stamped their feet, singing all the while with their utmost force. Max returned their fist-shaking by pounding the piano in a most malignant manner.

The orchestra caught the influence, and came down heavy. The bass drum boomed like a distant cannon—the kettle drums rattled in the most terific manner. The "bass viol" seemed dertermined to saw the strings in two, if a bow of horsehair can do it. The "ophicleide" grew red in the face, and the "trombone's" cheeks swelled like a distorted bladder. Grand crash followed grand crash, until we looked above us, to see if the ceiling was still in its place, and then as the last crash was ended, instead of nipping it off short to catch applause, as they do at night, they all set up the most horrid discord that ever saluted mortal ears. A general roar of laughter succeeds this, and the rehearsal is over.—New York Picaune.

JOHN BULL.—A new sense of the greatness of England is gathered from travelling on the continent; for let an Englishman go where he will, the might and majesty of his country seem to be hanging over him like an unseen shield. Let but a hand of violence be laid upon an English subject, and the great British lion couchant in Downing street, begins to utter menacing growls and shake his invincible locks. An English man-of-war seems to be always within one day's sail of everywhere. Let political agitations break out in any port in the globe, if there be even a roll of English broadcloth or a pound of English tea to be endangered thereby, within forty eight hours an English steamer or frigate is pretty sure to drop anchor in the harbor, with an air which seems to say—"Here I am; does anybody want anything of me?"—Hillard's Italy.

HOMICIDE.—Wallace Parker, the keeper of a disreputable dance house in New York, was stabbed and killed in his place on Thursday night by John Holt, who had a quarrel with a girl, in which Parker interfered. The murderer was a native of Massachusetts. Holt stated before the coroner that he was a poultry dealer, and that he was knocked down and beaten before he drew his knife.

THERE is a philosophy in the remark, that "every man has in his own life follies enough—in his own mind, trouble enough—in the performance of his duties deficiencies enough—in his own fortunes evils enough—without being curious after the affairs of others."

BREADSTUFFS.—WHEAT.

A writer in the Boston Journal attempts to show the importance of the winter wheat crop to the farmers of New England—taking into view the great uncertainty of the potato crop; and also alludes to the late rise in the price of breadstuffs in Europe. He asks:

Has the New England farmer any interest in this matter? Europe has advanced the price of his every barrel of flour, and as he goes to the store the price goes up from week to week, crowding harder and harder upon his scanty purse of money. But the children must have bread at any cost. He has long been favored with low prices, but the reverse has overtaken him. Now, with a heavy foreign demand, an incurable potato rot, what is the farmer to do to protect himself against these encroachments upon his purse, to say nothing of his anxiety in his domestic concerns? The question has one and only one solution, raise your own bread. Wheat, rye, barley, oats, corn, are all the natural products of New England soil, and wheat, the most important of them all, and surest of all as a crop, has been lost or nearly abandoned.—This is the month for seeding. Let the skeptical farmer if he hath "faith as a grain of mustard seed," try a single grain of wheat, a quart, or a bushel, and he may find his faith strengthened, his interest increased, and his domestic comforts enlarged.

The writer is wrong about all these grains being the natural products of New England,—and quite wrong in asserting that wheat is the surest of all.

No crop is more uncertain, as every farmer in this part of New England will tell him.

Nevertheless, he is right in advising farmers to raise their own breadstuffs. No farmer in our latitude should fail to raise Indian Corn enough for his family, and for all the sorts of animals he keeps. With abundance of this, he may buy much or little flour, or none at all, just as he pleases.

Wheat as a matter of experiment, and on a small scale, may be sown here; and as a matter of comfort, as well as of prudence, no farmer should depend on any one crop.

PATRICK SNEED.

Not long ago, one Patrick Sneed, a colored man, was arrested at the Cataract, House Niagara Falls, charged with being a fugitive from justice,—an accusation, however, which afterwards turned out to be a mere ruse to get the man, who appears to have been a fugitive slave, into custody. It came out in the course of the examination that a previous attempt had been made, by similar disgraceful means, to obtain possession of the prisoner and his half-brother while residing at Newark, which proved successful on the part of the latter, the prisoner contriving to escape.—These and other suspicious features in the transaction under review, caused the Judge to look minutely and carefully into the case, and he declared that the following facts were established to his satisfaction, viz:

"That the accusation against Sneed was false; that the copy of an alleged weekly newspaper published at Savannah, professing to contain advertisements for the arrest of Patrick Sneed, with the description of his person, was a surreptitious publication, prepared for the purpose of the fraud, and not a regular issue of the paper; that the letters signed A. E. Jones, and professing to be written by the brother of the man alleged to be murdered, and those written by Dillon, the owner of the fugitive, to one of the witnesses against the prisoner, were all written by the same person; That Mr. De Leon, the owner of the prisoner's half-brother, had admitted, after obtaining possession of him, that the charge of murder was a mere ruse, and a false accusation against both; with other facts equally dishonorable to parties implicated. On this state of facts the Judge very properly remarked:

It becomes me to declare, after thus disposing of the case upon the merits, that I am fully convinced of the bad faith of this proceeding, not on the part of the public officers, who have only discharged their duty in an honorable and praiseworthy manner, but on the part of the person who thus contrived to impose upon the authorities. It deserves the condemnation of the community, and as one of the conservators of the peace, while ever desirous of upholding the truth and right, and enforcing obedience to the law, I deem it my duty to denounce the author of this proceeding as deserving not only the censure but the pity of all good citizens. The prisoner must be fully discharged from custody."

Only the meanest men will be engaged in this] mean business. And they, of course, have no scruples of conscience, no prejudices to overcome, when they charge as they commonly do, in New York and Boston, any crime they please, on the fugitive, until they get him confined, and then they bring out their warrant for the arrest and rendition of the fugitive.

☞ We have received a copy of the Municipal Register of the City of Manchester, N. H., from G. A. French, city clerk.

H. M. Davis, Esq., of Henniker, N. H., has raised a water melon which weighed 23 1-2 pounds, and measured 3 feet 1 inch in circumference one way, and 2 feet 10 inches the other.

Another rich mine of plambago has been discovered in Nelson, N. H., near that now worked by the Messrs. French.

A PIECE OF MEXICO.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier has the following:—

While Mr. Webster was at the head of the State Department, Sr. Larrainzar, Minister from Mexico, made such frequent and earnest remonstrances against the neglect of this government to comply with that article of the treaty of Guadaloupe Hidalgo, which requires us to protect the northern provinces against irruptions from the Indians, that Mr. W., was constrained to admit the non-performance of the obligation, and to point out the improbability of our being able to do so hereafter, unless the boundary should be changed by mutual consent. In this view of the position of the two nations, he suggested a sale by Mexico to the United States of a strip of territory south of Gila, sufficient for a line of settlements, and named as the price which this government was prepared to pay for the cession and for a release of claims on account of preceding Indian depredations, $10,000,000. This correspondence, taken in connexion with the Mesilla dispute, has been made the basis of the instructions to Gen. Gadsden. As the country in question has been already depopulated by the savages, and as Mexico confessedly lacks the ability to expel them; and as, moreover, Mexico wants the money to facilitate the reorganization of the government, and we particularly desire the territory for a railroad route and other purposes, there is ample reason to believe that the negotiation will succeed.

All this looks as if we were going to purchase a piece, instead of conquering a peace. It is better, as it is more business like and less war like. It may afford as good picking with less stealing and no murder. This is progress—if the story is true.

Murder in Sherburne.—On Wednesday evening, about 9 o'clock, a double murder was committed in Sherburne, Mass., by John Chapman, on Reuben Cousins and his wife.

The latter were old people, about 70 years of age, and lived on a farm. Chapman is not yet 21 years old, and formerly lived with them.

He called at the house, and by pretending that Mr. Cousins's son was hurt and needed aid, called the old gentleman out of doors, and killed him with an axe. He then went in and knocked down the old lady with the same weapon, apparently killing her; but she revived enough to bear witness against him. Leaving her, he broke into a bedroom to kill an Irish hired man, but woke him instead, and a hard fight ensued, when the murderer fled, and the Irishman alarmed the neighborhood.

The murderer has not yet been taken. His object was probably to steal money, of which about $1000 was in the house.

Caution.—A looker on at the late temperance convention in Massachusetts says:

By looking over the debates and acts of this convention, it will be seen that the most important means of success is believed to be by making it a great political principle—moral means, the force of example, the power of precept, the eloquent exhortations of the wise and good, the honored and the loved, are but to be used as accessories, or perhaps abandoned entirely; the whole matter is to be carried to the, polls—and men are to be elevated to important offices, not so much in consequence of their wisdom, ability, and general fitness for office, as for the devotion they manifest for some particular action in promotion of the cause of Temperance.

We think this too dark a picture. Nevertheless the cautions of such a writer ought not to be disregarded. That cause is mixed up with politics, sure enough—and it cannot be prevented. But we cannot see why all those who choose, cannot employ other and milder measures.

Murderer Arrested.—A man named Manly Ransom, was arrested in Northampton, on Saturday night last, for the murder of his wife in Spencer, in July, 1851. The Northampton Gazette says:—

He assumed the name of Geo. Brown, and had lived in a shanty in a secluded spot in this town for more than a year. He occasionally appeared about the streets, and worked for different people as occasion offered, and was finally recognized by an individual from the vicinity of Spencer, and officers came after him but failed in discovering his whereabouts. In a short time, however, Sheriff Wright got on his track, and soon nabbed him. At the time of his arrest he was in the employ of Mr. Christopher Wright. We understand that he admits the fact of the murder, confessing that he became jealous of his wife, and finally struck her with a knife and fled, not knowing whether he had killed her or not. He represents that he has been miserable ever since fearful the blow had proved fatal. It is stated that there is evidence enough to convict the murderer independent of his confession.

Dodge's Carpet Bag.—The story is going all over the country, by telegraph and news papers, that the carpet bag lost by Mr. Dodge, President of the Manchester and Lawrence Railroad, contained $15,000 in money and money's equivalent. The truth is, the bag did not contain a single dollar's worth of anything that a thief could use. The story of its value was told to induce vigorous measures for its recovery. The loss of its contents would put the railroad to some inconvenience—nothing more. They consisted of deeds, reports, leases &c., with a dirty shirt, and a half a dozen nice peaches. We had prepared for publication—"The Tale of the Lost Carpet Bag, with a Moral;" but the whole affair was too ridiculous to be noticed at length. The moral is—when you lose your carpet bag, give out that it contained a large sum of money, and it will be found without trouble to yourself.—N. H. Patriot.

LOCAL.

☞ The Daily Chronicle is regularly and extensively circulated by carriers in all parts of this city, in New Castle, Kittery (Navy-Yard Village and the Point,) in Greenland and Epping; on the Eastern and P. S & P. Railroads; on the Portsmouth & Concord road to Concord, and in Concord—besides having quite a large transient circulation in all this vicinity. The Weekly Chronicle also goes into every neighboring town and village, and has a growing list. Advertisements inserted in the Daily, appear at least once in the Weekly, in most cases without extra charge; which renders this an excellent medium for communicating with the entire public in this region.

CITY COUNCIL—Sept. 15.

In the Board of Aldermen, last evening, petitions of Messrs. N. Folsom and Sam'l Donnell, for sidewalks, were granted.

Petition of several citizens to have State street graded between Summer and Winter streets, was laid on the table for further consideration.

Mr. Clark's application for license for theatrical exhibition was granted on payment of the usual fees.

On the application of Mr. Sewall in relation to the vacant stalls in the brick Market, the committee reported favorably to letting the same to him at the rate of $30 per year,—he having the privilege of improving them, and assuming the whole care of the market, opening and closing and keeping clean the same. The report was adopted.

Respecting the pay of the extra Watchman, it was reported (and adopted) that they be allowed the same pay as other Watchmen.

The Mayor represented that the walls of the school house at the Plains were in an unsafe condition, and required immediate attention. Voted, that the Aldermen visit the premises Friday afternoon.

The Committee on rooms for High Schools report that more suitable rooms are required; the report was accepted.

A protest was received from Stephen Pearse against the taking of his land by the city, for the purpose of enlarging the school grounds at Gravelly Ridge.

In Common Council,—

An Ordinance was introduced, authorizing a loan of $900 for the purchase of a new Engine. The Rules were suspended by unanimous consent,—and, after a call of the House for that purpose, the Ordinance was passed by the requisite two-thirds vote: all present voting yea.

It was voted, (if the Aldermen concur,) that the Common Council meet hereafter on the first Tuesday evening of each month.—Aldermen concurred.

It was voted (Aldermen concurring) that the Chief Engineer be added to the Committee for purchasing Engines.

A report recommending better School Rooms for the High Schools, was received from the Aldermen, concurred in, and referred to Committee on Schools.

☞ It will be seen by our advertising columns, that Mr J. P. Addams opens the Cameneum this evening, with a Dramatic entertainment. Mr. A. is popular throughout the country as an actor and manager, and is not unknown to our readers. He is said to have a talented and highly respectable company.

☞ We understand the Rockingham County Agricultural Fair at Exeter, which was postponed yesterday by the rain, will come off To-Day: and that the fare to Exeter and back will be at half price.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. Israel Kimball for a lot of very handsome tomatoes, and to Mr. Oliver Philbrick for a lot of fine swee corn—each gift of the donor's raising. Also a basket of excellent Peaches, from Mr. Orr, of Newington.

SONNET.—THE TEMPEST.

The sea raves wildly in its bed to-night,
As if 'twas mad with pain; the waves leap high
And crowd affrighted to the shore to die,
Lashed onward by the Storm King in his might
Who revels now unchained upon the deep:
Yet ere they reach their grave, foaming with wrath,
Their white lips mutter fiercely in their path,
I'm restless with the sea and cannot sleep,
And thoughts like waves come crowding wild and fast.
I look without and see 'mid darkness, oft,
The billows toss their snowy caps aloft
As if to bid defiance to the blast.
O, raging waters scorning man's command,
God holds ye in the hollow of his hand.

Superintendent of public printing.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Patriot writes, that there is a good deal of strife and bickering going on relative to the appointment of a superintendent of the public printing—now filled by Mr. Towers, a whig. There are many applicants, but says the writer, "it is understood that the President means to give the appointment to a particular friend of his own, in New Hampshire, who is an able political writer, and whose pen can then embellish and enliven the sleepy columns of the Union." This has reference, probably, to some one connected with the N. H. Patriot establishment.—Boston Chronicle.

Bay State Stoves.

THE Subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has for sale all sizes of this favorite Stove. Having sold them in this city for five years past, they have been thoroughly tested with wood and coal, and are found perfect in every respect.

Those put in operation four and five years since have had no repairs made upon them, and are to all appearance as good as ever. So great is the popularity of these Stoves, that many imitations of it are put into the market, such as the Granite State, Empire State, &c.; but none of them are equal to it in weight or quality of castings, cooking facilities, or economy of fuel.

To all who are in want of a GOOD Cooking Stove, we would say—buy a BAY STATE, and you are sure to get THE BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

LATER FROM ENGLAND.

The steamer Niagara brings Liverpool dates to the 3d inst.

There appears to be an increasing demand for money in the London Market. This is by no means surprising, without attributing it to any political influences. The redundancy of money in the London market has continued for an unusual length of time. It is followed with the usual consequences of extensive investments abroad, which lead to the export of specie. In such a state of things, as might have been reasonably expected, the Bank of England resorted to the usual salutary expedient of a further increase of the rate of interest.

A rumor is already gaining ground that when Russia evacuates the principalities she will demand from Turkey the expenses of occupation.

Another rumor more improbable is, that Turkey is willing to have the principalities formed into independent states under the protectorate of the four powers.

Turkey continues her armaments. A decree of the 10th calls out 80,000 reserves.—The Russian Consul General in Egypt is recalled in consequence of taking part with the Viceroy in aiding Turkey. A change of Turkish Ministry is looked for immediately after the settlement of the present crisis. Friendly autograph letters had passed between the Emperor of Austria and the Sultan. If the amended note be accepted by the Czar, it was expected that Russia would retire from the principalities this month, and that the fleets would return to Malta and Toulon.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The Queen's movements in Dublin occupy the newspapers. It is duly set forth how Ireland is in a feverish excitement of loyalty, and that the presence of the Sovereign dispels the mists of ignorance and prejudice which had arisen at the bidding of professional agitators. All very satisfactory. The Queen had visited the Exhibition two or three times, witnessed the review of eight regiments in Phœnix Park, and paid a private visit to Dargan at his house at Anville.

LONDON, Sept. 2, eve.—Markets generally active. A large business in Coffee and Sugar; former at high rates, say 1 to 3s on colory and 1 to 2s on other descriptions. Lard in fair demand; Western 56 a 58s. Tea a rather firmer tone; fine and finest inquired for. The Corn market has been excited, but on Tuesday business was checked. American Flour not saleable at over 32s.

A railway collision happened near London. The Lord Mayor, the Bishop of Lincoln, and other respectable personages were considerably shaken up, but not seriously injured.

General Sir Charles Napier is dead.

FRANCE.—The Emperor and his wife were still at Dieppe well received by the citizens.—All well in politics. Our letters from France indicate the probability of a further reaction in breadstuffs. After the recent extraordinary upward movement, the price of bread was not to be raised during the first fortnight of September. Reports say the harvest in France has proved better than was expected. A slight emeute occurred at Rennes. Prince Murat gave a dinner to the officers of the frigate Cumberland at Marseilles.

BELGIUM.—A Riot occurred at Liege 30th ult., owing to the high price of grain, but was speedily suppressed. Vain attempts to excite similar disturbances were made at Ghent and Brussels, &c. It was believed that government would not prohibit the export of corn, but would temporarily open the ports if required. Queen Victoria was expected to visit Brussels soon.

THE NORTH.—The cholera was active at Christiana, Norway, and Carlscrona, and Ystad.

SWITZERLAND.—A public meeting was held at ——— respecting the price of corn.—A committee of twelve was appointed to report.

ITALY.—The newspapers publish the text of the decrees abolishing till December, the import duty on breadstuffs into the Sicilies; also Radetsky's order prohibiting the export of corn from Austrian Italy.

RUSSIA.—Advices from St. Petersburg were to Aug. 24th, and report no particular alteration in commercial affairs. Exchange on London rather less favorable. Immense activity in the Odessa grain market. The French Government had purchased largely.—The average price of wheat was 14 francs 28 centimes to 15 francs 40 centimes per Hectolitre. Freights 6 to 10f.

ATHENS, Aug. 26.—Thebes has been almost destroyed by an earthquake. Cholera has appeared at Berlin.

THE MORMONS.—A St. Louis correspondent of the N. Y. Times sums up the late news from the Mormons, as follows:—

"Much alarm prevails among the Mormons. Some fields have already been desolated, and there is yet a considerable quantity of grain exposed in the fields. There is a deficiency, also, in places of security for cattle. The Governor, Brigham Young, has issued a general order, imperatively ordering an abandonment of the smaller settlements, and a collection of the inhabitants and their cattle into the larger settlements, where the officers are directed to drill the militia, erect forts, and construct corrals for the cattle and horses. In other respects, the colony seems to move on prosperously and harmoniously. The best understanding exists between the Government officers and the local authorities. The business of mining, especially for iron, is on the increase, and several woolen manufactories have been constructed. Utah must be one of the finest sheep countries in the world. It is too far north for the finest wool, but in all other respects the country is fiodeled like those portions of Western Asia where the finest wools have been grown from centuries past."

The Bricklayers' Accident and Burial Society had a jolly time of it lately in London. Two hundred members with their wives and sweethearts sat down to dinner, and afterwards indulged in a dance, thus giving a pleasant aspect to a mournfully conceived name for a society.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S

Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 900,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity, and by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&wém je22

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years; And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his services are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundredth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1324, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

THE CRYSTAL PALACE AND THE GROG SHOPS.—It seems, remarks the Hartford Fountain, that liquor speculations around the Crystal Palace do not pay as well as was anticipated.

The New York Courier and Enquirer says:

"We made, yesterday, a cursory examination of seven blocks in the immediate neighborhood of the Crystal Palace, which according to our recollection, were almost entirely occupied by groggeries a few weeks since.—Out of sixty-five tenements, thirty-four are closed, and over the doors of many are posted in large letters, "To Let." Some half a dozen are appropriated to shows of trifling character, and twenty-five are still kept open as drinking saloons. Their profits must be exceedingly small, for during an hour's walk around the vicinity, we saw twenty-two of these shops entirely without customers, and the remaining three had only seven divided among them."

"Debby, the door bell rings and you must run, light the match and touch the shavings, and let the sticks and brands get on fire in the fire place, or they will think we don't keep a fire in the sitting room, and that would not be genteel."—"Yes'm—there—its all roaring and the bell rings again—shall I go now?" 'Yes,'—'O marm, it was only a pedler!' 'Confound him! Take the fire apart, and get ready for another alarm.'

The Lockport, N. Y. Journal learns that a young lady jumped from Table Rock, Niagara Falls, on the Canada side, on the 1st inst. As she passed the brink, a young man caught her dress, and she fell upon a shelving projection about 15 feet below. The young man leaped after her, when they were both rescued from the most imminent peril.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one Dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ——.

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER.

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant.

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDER REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner,—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered. Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fatal disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!

READ! READ! READ!

DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER AND KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

TERMS $4 a year, payable half-yearly; or $3 strictly in advance. If payment is made for a year, within six months of the time of subscribing, fifty cents will be deducted.

The Weekly Chronicle,

A family newspaper, containing the news of the week, with carefully selected miscellany, &c., is published every Saturday morning—at $1 a year in advance.

ADVERTISING.—For a Square of sixteen lines nonpareil, or less, one insertion 50 cts., three insertions $1, and liberal terms for continuance.

Yearly, quarterly or monthly advertisers liberally accommodated—and their advertisements inserted in both papers without extra charge, thus affording unequalled facilities to business men.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING Promptly executed.

V. B. Palmer, American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and subscriptions at the same rates as required by us. His receipts will be regarded as payments.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE FROM DEATH.—We have received a singular narration of a narrow escape of life at the Falls of Niagara. Mr. E. V. Wilson, of this city, of lightning-rod notoriety, went to the Falls with a party, and among the number was Mrs. N. L. Piper (of the firm of H. Piper & Brother.) The lady at the time was laboring slightly under a species of insanity. It was thought by her husband that travelling and change of air and scenery would do her good, but unfortunately such was not the case. Immediately upon her arrival, she was very desirous to see the Falls; and while standing on the Canada side, at about twenty feet from the falling sheet of water, she slipped her arm from Mr. Wilson, and made a rush toward the precipice. He rushed after her, and just as she was going over, he caught hold of her dress, and by it held her dangling in the air. The dress gave way, and she fell upon a ledge of rock, at a distance of twenty feet. As she thus lay, Wilson, our narrative says, "with great presence of mind looked for a soft place," discovering that a quantity of loose earth was lying on the rocks, he immediately jumped down on it. He was just in time to save her from going over the main precipice. By the aid of a pair of long lines belonging to a team close by, they were both drawn up together. Both suffered from some contusions, but neither was seriously hurt.—Toronto Colonist.

A QUEER VISITOR.—The bark Euphrosyne, Capt. Barris, which has recently arrived at New London, and proceeded thence to New York, where she now is, is a vessel of about 600 tons, built in 1847, in England. She is the property of her captain, who goes about in her, sight-seeing over the world, taking cargoes, however, from place to place, to employ his crew and pay expenses. She is painted in imitation of a brick house upon one side; the other is black. She is last from the Sandwich Islands direct; Capt. Barris having spent four years in sailing about the Eastern Archipelago, and in trading between Calcutta and Japan. He has visited Australia, most of the islands in the Pacific, and the chief ports in India. He has a crew devotedly attached to him, embracing natives of various countries, Japanese, Malays, Mozambiques, Chinese, Hawaiians, English, Irish, &c. The whole number is about thirty, and they live together in common, the captain and mate only occupying the cabin. It is said that the women do a portion of the sailors' work.—These facts are gathered from an account furnished the New York Herald by the mate, Constantine D'Esonza, a native of Penang, India.

A new expedition up the river Tchadda, the eastern branch of the Niger, has been decided upon by the British government. Dr. Barth, attached to the expedition from Tripoli to Bornou, crossed a stream flowing from the south-east, and reported it ten feet deep and three-quarters of a mile broad, 250 miles east of the point upon the Tchadda reached by Laird and Oldfield's expedition of 1832. It is hoped that by this channel a water communication may be opened with the countries south of Lake Tchad. The scientific persons will not exceed three in number. A suitable steam vessel is provided for their conveyance, and the expedition is intended to enter the river in June next, so as to insure three months of rising water for the ascent and return to the sea. The entire arrangement differs from the former ascents of the Niger—the steamer being a private trading vessel, at the sole risk and expense of the contractor, a fixed sum being paid him for the conveyance of the government officers as passengers, who will thus be able to pursue their investigations without exciting the jealousy and distrust of the native chiefs.

ODD FELLOWSHIP IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Granite Lodge, of Nashua, N. H., on Tuesday, celebrated the eleventh anniversary of their establishment of odd fellowship in New Hampshire, with appropriate honors. The procession numbered nearly 500 men, and presented a fine appearance in their neat regalia. The address, by Rev. A. A. Miner, of this city, was excellent; the dinner was superb; the music by the Boston Brigade Band was of their best quality. In the gallery of the hall where the dinner was held, which was tastefully decorated, was a live goat, that was a matter of much sport to the knowing ones, and a matter of mystery to outsiders.

Miss Dix, whose philanthropy in the cause of the insane has made her celebrated, is now at Nantucket, for the purpose of examining the life boats there, and devising means of aiding ships wrecked upon those shores. She is also engaged in collecting funds for providing life boats for Sable Island.

GRIGGSVILLE, ILLINOIS.—The Editor of the Pittsfield Union describes this enterprising town in the following manner:

Griggsville is built up and settled mainly of Eastern men. Hence they are pre-eminently a moral, church going people. Hence, too, they have as good or better schools than any where else in the country. The habits of their forefathers will cling to them not only in these things but others. Although we are not personally acquainted with one tenth of its inhabitants, we can nevertheless unerringly designate its denizens whenever they chance to visit our place. There is a sort of a tidiness about them that a mixed populace, like ours, does not possess; and if this falls, we can "place" them whenever they talk, for their speech "hewways" them. Yankeeism flows as glibly as a pelucid stream over a pebbly bed.

ORTHOPŒDIC HOSPITAL IN LONDON.—A subscription has been opened in London in aid of the enlargement of the accommodations of the Royal Orthopœdic Hospital, for the cure of club foot, lateral curvature of the spine, and other contractions and deformities. It is stated that 14,000 cripples have experienced the benefits of the hospital—that 700 are now under treatment, and that nearly 300 are waiting to be received, whose admission must be deferred on account of want of funds and accommodations. A fund has been commenced for the erection of a large Hospital.—Provisions for the relief of infirmities of these descriptions, which are more incident to the children of persons in indigent circumstances, than to those who live in independence, is one of the most commendable of charities.

Two Englishmen went lately into a public house on the Quai de Gevres, and called for a bottle of Bordeaux, and a bottle of eau de Seltz. After drinking a little, they were seized with violent colics, and fancied themselves poisoned. They abused the landlord in violent terms and a crowd collected. A medical man was sent for, and he examined the contents of the bottles. He found that the waiter had given by mistake a bottle of Seidlitz water instead of Seltz. Excuses were offered to the Englishmen, who looked rather foolish at having taken a strong purge; and the crowd laughingly dispersed.

DRUNKENNESS.—Some of the domestic evils of drunkenness are houses without windows, gardens without fences, fields without tillage, barns without roofs, children without clothing, principles, morals or manners.—Franklin.

CHRISTIANITY.—If ever Christianity appears in its power, it is when it erects its trophies upon the tomb; when it takes up its votaries where the world leaves them; and fills the breach with immortal hope in dying moments.—R. Hall.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1853

ENGLISH ENTAILMENTS.

We are glad to see, as we do by a late article, condensed by the Boston Journal from London papers, that the British House of Lords, sitting as a High Court of Appeals, has decided a law case in favor of the obvious right, instead of the old precedent. It appears that the will of the Earl of Bridgewater, a nobleman of immense wealth, prepared with all the skill and learning which the most celebrated conveyancer of his day could bring to bear upon it, in order to carry out the wishes of his client, has been declared void, and that, too, by the House of Peers, and against the expressed opinions of a very large majority of the judges of the land.

Many years ago, the Earl, then one of the wealthiest peers in Great Britain, whose landed estates were spread over near twelve counties, and whose personal property was valued at many hundred thousands of pounds sterling, died, leaving a will which gave property then estimated at £2,000,000, and now of infinitely greater value, to the then Lord Alford for life, and to his male children, with remainder to his brother Charles Henry Cust, and certain other remainders over. This devise, however, was limited to a proviso, which declared that if Lord Alvord died without having obtained the rank and diguity of Marquis or Duke of Bridgewater, neither of which titles were then in existence, his children should be disinherited, that all jointures charged upon the estate should be void, and the estate itself go over and be enjoyed by those mentioned in remainder. The same proviso applied equally to Charles Henry Cust, the next entitled to the estate after the decease of Lord Alford and his male heirs.

Vanity, on the part of the Earl, seems to have been the origin of this extraordinary testamentary arrangement. He wished to unite the estates to the title of Marquis or Duke, and thus compel Lord Alford or Mr. Cust to do everything that they could to induce the Crown to create the titles upon which the possession of the estate was made to depend.—Lord Alford died about two years ago, without having been created a Duke or a Marquis, and left a son. The question was now raised by the family, whether this son should be disinherited, his mother's jointure declared void, and both be left dependent on charity and the help of friends, in conformity with the will of the testator; or whether the Legislature should interfere to prevent so monstrous an injustice, and to declare once and for all the illegality of making the accession to estates depend upon the acquisition of titles and dignities which by the constitution of the land are only intended to be granted as rewards for distinguished merit or eminent public services.

The opinions of the learned judges, ten out of twelve, who sat on the case, on the bare questions of law submitted to them, were believed to be in accordance with the authorities consulted, and with the principles laid down as the rule of interpretation by some of the most eminent lawyers of a former age—but it was contended, especially by the learned and venerable Lord Lyndhurst, that consequences of a serious nature would follow, should it be established as a rule, that effect should be given to testamentary dispositions of the nature of those in the Earl of Bridgewater's will. It was argued that men of wealth, whose vanity was sufficiently strong to induce the desire that the produce of their labors should purchase an empty title, would make the succession to it on the part of their natural heirs dependent upon their obtaining, by some means or other, the desired dignity. To found families with patents of nobility would be the wish of many of the fortunate men of the country, until at last peerages would become a drug in the market, and families would learn by experience to regret the burden which the vain folly of an ambitious ancestor had bequeathed to them with his wealth. Indeed, the question was regarded as one not strictly of law, but of expediency, policy, and justice. It was contended that the legislature, therefore, not the law, ought to decide matters of this kind; and that one use of the highest constitutional court of appeal in the kingdom was to do justice upon principles of equity, in such wise that the interest of society should not be sacrificed to legal technicality or dogmatism. No individual had the right to dispose of his property so as to work a great social inconvenience, or to invert that which Providence intended as a blessing, into little else than an entailed curse upon his posterity. If the Earl of Bridgewater had been guilty of a decided act of moral obliquity, there was no reason that the subtleties of the law should be called in to perpetuate the mischief of which he might, perhaps unwittingly, have been the cause.

This is to be regarded as gratifying progress for an English House of Peers, to break down the old musty decisions in which one century had copied another, simply because these old decisions were all wrong, violating common justice, and outraging common sense.

☞ Mr. Sanford, our charge at Paris, appeared at Court lately in a plain citizen's dress, and was graciously received and generally applauded. Our Foreign Ministers need not be coxcombs—but they ought to be gentlemen.

A Brute.—In the Court of Franklin Co., Mass., the present term, is to be tried a divorce case in which the lady of Rev. John Eastman, recently of Hawley, sues for divorce, on the ground of cruelty and abuse by her husband.

Fatal Accident.—On Wednesday evening, one of the propellers of the Delaware and Raritan Canal burst a flue abreast of Rossville, Staten Island, scalding three men, one of whom died this morning.

GREEN TEA.

All dear lovers of this "flagrant" beverage, as Mrs. Partington might call it, will be gratified to learn that in the midst of rebellion and revolution in China, green tea is not exterminated nor forgotten; and they will not be sorry their choice herb has fallen into the hands of the rebels, who being rather free traders, will be disposed to dispense it liberally to the outside barbarians, of whom we are chief.

A New York writer says, that letters received from China by the steamer Franklin, all allude to the difficulty of obtaining reliable information; though all agree in the facts of the whole country being in a state of extreme disturbance, and that in the districts especially there was great disorder. There is no longer any doubt that the few Oolong districts were at the mercy of the rebel bands. A letter from a missionary confirms this, as well as the statement of plunder having been carried on throughout that portion of the country.—Nan Chang is undoubtedly in the hands of the rebels. This place commands nearly all the green tea districts.

An old Farm.—Rarely do farms in New England pass to the third and fourth generation of the same line. But they do sometimes. Mr. Joseph Gregg, of Derry N. H., died recently, aged 74 years and 23 days.—He was the great grandson of James Gregg, one of the first settlers of Londonderry in 1790, and has in possession a part of the real estate owned by his grandfather, which has continued in the family 134 years. It now passes by the will of the deceased to his son, Joseph Gregg, being the third of that christian name who has occupied the estate for ninety years and upward.

Low Life above Stairs.—The Newport Mercury describes an assault which was made upon Mr. Isaac S. Hone, an aged and infirm gentlemen who has been passing the summer in Newport for his health, by two young men, Messrs. W. R. Morgan and Matthew Morgan Jr. Mr. Hone was getting into a carriage at the Atlantic House, being about to leave Newport, when Mr. M. Morgan, Jr., told him that his brother wished to see him at the Bellevue. Mr. Hone accordingly went there, when Mr. W. R. Morgan rushed upon him and struck him several blows with a cowhide, causing the blood to flow; the bystanders immediately interfered. The Morgans were arrested. The cause of the difficulty is said to have been the interference of Mr. Hone to protect Mrs. Morgan from alleged cruel treatment by her husband, a few days since.

The Messrs. Morgan must be a couple of chivalrous gentlemen, to beat a wife and cowhide an old man. We wish some newspaper would tell the public who they are; and give a certificate that they are sober men—if they are so.

FIREMEN'S MUSTER.

On Thursday the Firemen's muster took place in Lowell, and was most imposing and brilliant display. The copious rain of Wednesday night rendered the streets very muddy, but their condition, the cloudy weather and indications of a storm, did not materially affect the display. At an early hour companies from abroad began to arrive in the city with their engines, so that on the arrival of the Boston train there were not less than thirty-two or three out of town companies on the ground, besides the fifteen Lowell companies. Most of them were accompanied by bands of music, and being themselves in complete and splendid uniform, it was not strange that on streets along the entire route of the procession, the windows and balconies were thronged with men, women and children.

At ten o'clock the weather gave promise of being fair; the clouds broke away, and before noon the sun shone and the remainder of the day was bright and beautiful, with a gentle westerly wind.

The whole day was passed quite to the satisfaction of all concerned in the muster.

☞ John Chapman, the murderer of Mr. Cousins, at Sherburne, Mass., has been caught On Thursday evening, he was found stowed away in a barn, about half a mile from the scene of the murder. He will be examined on Tuesday next. The delay in the examination is made on the supposition that others will be implicated in the affair.

It is said that Mr. Cousins had in his house at the time $2400, which it was the object of of the murderer to obtain.

Mrs. Cousins still remains in a most critical situation, with no hopes of recovery.

A Handsome Way of Doing Things.—We have received from the Mayor of the city of Manchester, N. H., a polite invitation to attend the Fair of the New Hampshire State Agricultural Society, of which he is Treasurer, to be holden in Manchester, Oct. 5th, 6th, and 7th. Accompanying the invitation was a handsome badge, bearing the seal of the Society, and "admitting the bearer during the Fair," together with the valuable volume of "Transactions of the New Hampshire State Agricultural Society, for 1850, 1851, and 1852." The volume of Transactions is creditable to the State, and will doubtless prove useful to its agriculture.

There can be no doubt that a very great concourse of people will attend the fair.

The Yellow Fever is making terrible ravages at Thibodauxville, near New Orleans.

LOCAL.

RAILROAD TO GREAT FALLS.

We learn from a gentleman who has taken an active part in this important road, that an adjourned Special Session of the Governor and Council has been holden the present week, to act upon the Report of the Rail Road Commissioners in favor of the laying out of a Rail Road from Great Falls to South Berwick. The acceptance of the report was opposed by the Boston & Maine Rail Road and the Salmon Falls Manufactur'g Co. This opposition led to an extended and animated discussion.

John H. Wiggin, John H. George and Asa Fowler appeared in opposition of the Report, and W. H. Y. Hackett and Baker & Peabody in support of it.

The Report was accepted by the Governor and Council, and the Railroad Commissioners ordered to lay out the Road.

We now see no obstacle in the way of the speedy completion and great utility of the road from this place through Eliot and South Berwick to Great Falls and the country beyond.

Naval.—The U. S. Sloop of war Decatur, Commander Whittle, sailed from this port for Boston, Friday morning. She will refit and then join the African squadron, to which station she has been ordered.

Gunner Richard Dunn has been detached from the Portsmouth N. H. Navy Yard, and Benj. Bunker ordered to his place.

A Bean Stalk.—Not Jack's bean stalk, that grew so tall, but a very short one, of the pea bean kind, has been brought to this office, which bore 139 pods, each containing 6 beans. This is 834 fold. It was from Mr. Oliver Philbrick's farm in Kittery. No crop is more easily raised on most soils, than beans; and none more surely marketable. Green beans have been 8 and 10 cents per quart this year, in the markets of this city; and dry ones also 8 cents by retail. Beans will be likely to command good prices for coming years.

New Hampshire Boys.—At the recent commencement exercises of Brown University, Providence, R. I., George Donald Henderson of this city, delivered an oration upon "the Language of Emblems," and rececived the degree of A. B. Charles Bell of Chester, and W. Kingsbury of Tamworth, also received the same Degree.

Fair at Exeter.—Yesterday being a fine day, Exeter was thronged with people; and the out-door show and the exhibition of plowing, were good and satisfactory. The specimens of fruit were creditable to the County.—The address was able and well received. If we may judge from the number and character of the people, and the specimens exhibited, there is a feeling in favor of improvement in agriculture, which will have a good effect on the prosperity of Rockingham County.

Mutual Good Will.—On Wednesday evening, Mr. John L. Cook, late overseer in the Portsmouth Steam Mill, gave an oyster supper to his late coadjutors, the operatives in the mill, as he was about leaving his post, and took this method of expressing his friendly regard. And on Thursday the operatives made him a present of an elegant gold watch-chain and a silver cup; the latter bearing this inscription:

Presented to
JOHN L. COOK,
As a token of respect, by the Operatives of the Carding Department, in the
P. S. Factory.
Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 1853.

They also presented Mrs. Cook with a gold pencil. The presents were accompanied with the following complimentary letter:

Portsmouth, Sept. 15.

Mr. Cook—Dear Sir:—It is by request and in behalf of the operatives of the Carding Department, that I wish in few words to express the friendship and good feeling we cherish towards you, and the regret which we felt at your departure. In proof of this I now have the pleasure, in behalf of the Carding Department, of presenting these articles, which you will please to accept as a token of our friendship. We also offer the compliments of the ladies and gentlemen of the same department to Mrs. Cook, with this pencil, which she will please to accept as a token of our respect for her husband. We also return you our sincere thanks for the many favors we have received while in your employ, and the male part of the department return their sincere thanks for the favors of last evening. You will please accept our best wishes for your future welfare, that wherever you may be located you may live pleasantly and happily; that you may be prospered in all your lawful undertakings; happy in life and death, and finally enter in that mansion where the wicked shall cease from troubling and the weary are at rest.

Bay State Stoves.

THE Subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has for sale all sizes of this favorite Stove. Having sold them in this city for five years past, they have been thoroughly tested with wood and coal, and are found perfect in every respect.

Those put in operation four and five years since have had no repairs made upon them, and are to all appearance as good as ever. So great is the popularity of these Stoves, that many imitations of it are put into the market, such as the Granite State, Empire State, &c.; but none of them are equal to it in weight or quality of castings, cooking facilities, or economy of fuel.

To all who are in want of a GOOD Cooking Stove, we would say—buy a BAY STATE, and you are sure to get THE BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The subscriber has for sale, also, a variety of other Cook Stoves, Cooking Ranges, Parlor Grates, Office and Parlor Stoves, Funnel, &c. for sale low for cash. E. A. STEVENS,

MAINE.—So far as heard from, 66 Whigs, 46 regular Democrats, and 9 Morrill Democrats, have been elected to the House. The Kennebec Journal says, "from present appearances, we incline to the belief that the Whigs have carried the House and consequently the government. The Whigs and Morrill Democrats will certainly have a large majoity in that branch."

MAINE ELECTION.—For Governor, 249 towns and plantations give for Crosby, Whig, 31,772; Pilsbury, regular Democrat, 29,495; Morrill, Maine Law Democrat, 9480; Holmes, Free Soil, 7349. The Whig canidale has a plurality.

In the House of Represenatives, the Age counts—Democrats 66, (including Morrill Democrats,) 54 Whigs, and 9 Free Soilers.—Twenty-two districts are not heard from.

VERMONT ELECTION.—The following will be the political character of the Legislature:—Senate, 18 Whigs, 10 Democrats, 2 Free Democrats, and Grand Isle county tied. House, 95 Whigs, 84 Democrats, 34 Free Soilers—the town of Montgomery, in Franklin county, yet to be heard from. It will be somewhat difficult for the Democrats and Free Soilers to unite to a man in the election of state officers, for the Democrats are anti-liquor law, and nearly all the Free Soilers are strong law men. However, they may do it after all.

PARRICIDE.—At the Court in Franklin Co. Mass., on Wednesday, Adaline Phelps, alias Boss, was brought into Court and arraigned on an indictment charging her with administering poison to Elihu Phelps, her father, of Northfield, by mixing it with pies and food and drink, on the 1st of November last, and on divers other days between the first and 26th, on the last of which days her father died. She plead not guilty. The prisoner is a rather good looking young woman with a profusion of curls. The defence is to rest on two grounds, first that she did not commit the murder, and second that if she did she was insane.

The trial was assigned for the 27th of December.

THE RIOT AT SOMERSET, OHIO.—The Cincinnati Gazette of Sept. 13, gives the following particulars of the terrible riot at Somerset.

"A gentleman who has just arrived from Somerset, gives the following particulars of the riot at that place:

During the performance of Welch's circus on Wednesday evening several Irishmen annoyed the audience by smoking pipes. The gentleman whose business it was to seat visitors, &c., under the canvas, requested politely that they should desist smoking, as it gave annoyance to some in the audience. In reply to which he received a very rough answer, and immediately a mob attacked him, and carried him outside of the tent, and it was with great difficulty that his life was saved from the vengeance of his assailants; this proved a signal for a general attack. The mob proceeded to the armory, which contained 200 stand of arms, ammunition and a six-pound cannon of which they possessed themselves and renewed the attack, firing at every one they thought was connected with the exhibition.

One of Mr. Welch's men, a quiet inoffensive man, was found brutally murdered, in an alley in the rear of the tent, having received a gun shot wound in the abdomen.

One Irishman was found dead in the street. The mob upset every wagon on the street.—Fortunately a little boy spiked the big gun with a round file, which disabled that instrument of death.

The greatest excitement prevailed and many lives may be lost, before the mob can be subdued. The Governor telegraphed to the Sheriff of the county to retake the State arms at all hazards. Captain Graham's company of 100 men from Zanesville, and the Lancaster Company, tendered their services to the citizens of Somerset, and had arrived when our reporter left.

The above was taken from the Capital City Fact. Later intelligence informs us of the arrest of the murderer of Welch's man and the ringleader of the riot. The public arms have been recovered, and all is now quiet."

THE COURT OF BISHOPS.—New York, Sept. 15.—The court of Bishops to-day discharged the presentment against Bishop Doane on his confession; at the same time declaring that the presenters had acted in the matter in good faith, and with the single view to the maintenance of the laws of the church. Bishop Doane, after referring to the measures on foot for the liquidation of all his liabilities, says in conclusion that in the course of all transactions human infirmity may have led him into many errors which he deeply feels; he does not wish to justify or excuse them. If scandal to the church and injury to the cause of Christ have arisen from them, they are the occasion to him of mortification and regret; for these things, in all humility and sorrow, before God and man, he always felt himself liable and willing to receive friendly reproofs of his brethren in Christ Jesus, and especially of the Bishops of his church.

SCHOONER SUNK.—The Portland Advertiser says, the schooner Cape Ear, from Boston, laden with corn, while at anchor on Thursday morning, under Hog Island, was run into by another schooner and immediately sunk. The captain and his wife and crew barely escaped, with nothing on but their night-clothes. Between two and three hundred dollars in money were sunk with the schooner. The cargo was insured in Boston.

PHILADELPHIA, September 15.—William Seyggs, a fugitive slave, belonging to Dr Whithedge of Baltimore, was arrested in this city to-day, and had a hearing before Commissioner Ingraham. He acknowledged himself a slave, and was sent back without any excitement being caused.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sept. 15.—A collision occurred on the Hudson River Railroad, about two miles below this place, at a quarter past four o'clock this afternoon, between a single engine and the Poughkeepsie passenger train going south, by which one fireman and two brakemen on the passenger train, and both engineer and fireman on the single engine were badly injured. Names not yet ascertained. No passengers were hurt.—The engines are a complete wreck.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits, with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, can but be will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and scrreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

For sale by Hotchkiss & Co, 13 Court st.; Reding & Co., 18 State st.; Fetredge & Co., 15 State and 72 Washington sts.; and Wm. V. Spencer, 128 Washington st.—Boston, Mass.

In New York City, by Stringer & Townsend, Adriance, Sherman & Co., Dewitt & Davenport, Barnes & Co., and at 129 Liberty street, near Greenwich. 6misep22

HOME.

Home's not merely four square walls,
Though with pictures hung and gilded;
Home is where affection calls;
Filled with shrines the earth has builded!
Home—go watch the faithful dove,
Sailing 'neath the heaven above us—
Home is where there's one to love!
Home is where there's one to love us!

Home's not merely roof and room;
It needs something to endear it;
Home is where the heart can bloom,
Where there's some kind lip to cheer it!
What is home with none to meet,
None to welcome, none to greet us?
Home is sweet and only sweet,
When there's one we love to meet us!

PRESENTS.—When thou makest presents, let them be of such things as will last long; to the end they may be in some sort immortal, and may frequently refresh the memory of the receiver.—Fuller.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.
It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.
Depot and manufactory, No. 127 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.
Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity, and by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston.

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.
The recipe is from DR. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and
Affections of the Lungs.
But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing
DISSOLVENT POWER.
By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore
Anti-Expectorant,
And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by extreme action.
It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an
APPETISER
It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom
AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.
Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.
It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.
Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered. Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!!

READ! READ! READ!
DR. HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as
Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,
With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.
As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.
Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.
We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:
From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.
MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.
I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.
U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.
Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.
Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.
The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.
I am respectfully yours,

SINGULAR CASE.—We remember to have read somewhere an account of a most exemplary instance of a conjugal fidelity and devotion, which, if not apocryphal, is certainly without a parallel. A young nobleman of Genoa, who had large estates in Corsica, whither he used to repair every few years to regulate his affairs, had married a beautiful creature named Monimia, an Italian. They lived for some years in undiminished felicity, till, alas for the mutations of time, the devoted husband was compelled to defer no longer a visit to the land of his possessions.

During his absence, the island being at the time in a state of insurrection, a report reached the ears of the anxious spouse, that he had fallen a victim to the popular furor and revolt. About the same time, as he was passing along the harbor, he overheard some sailors, who had just arrived, talking of the death of a Genoese nobleman's wife, then absent from the republic. The name of his beloved wife was at length mentioned, when all suspicion yielding to the painful conviction that it was indeed her of whom they spoke, he became so overpowered with grief that he swooned away. On his recovery, he determined to lose no time in repairing to his home, in order to ascertain the certainty of the report.

Strange as it may appear, simultaneously with this, the equally distressed wife resolved upon a similar procedure. They both took ship—one for Corsica, the other for Genoa; a violent storm overtook both vessels, and each was shipwrecked on the Mediterranean. Marimi's ship first made land, and the disconsolate widower, wishing to indulge his grief, wandered into the embowered recesses of a neighboring wood. Soon afterwards the Genoese ship landed Monimia, with one of her maids; actuated by similar emotions, she bent her sorrowing steps to the same retreat.—They each heard the other complaining of their bitter fate; when, moved by a mutual curiosity to see their companions in grief,—judge of their amazement and rapturous surprise, they instantly recognized in each other the dear object of their ardent solicitude and affection. One long, straining and passionate embrace, and they immediately expired! Their remains were conveyed to Italy, and repose in their dreamless sleep, under a magnificent mausoleum.—Salad for the Solitary.

AFFECTING INCIDENT—YELLOW FEVER.—An incident of the most affecting and heart rending character occurred at the inquest of the desolate and ill-starred stranger, Mary Cotter—who died of yellow fever, as one of the gentlemen of the jury informed us, from sheer and absolute neglect! There was the corpse of the mother, pale and attenuated, but still beautiful in death—a child but three months old, was evidently seeking for her "milkless breast;" the poor father lay dying at the foot of the corpse—and yet, that smile which is known but to infancy and the angels, was beaming on the baby's face; Suddenly it turned, and with all the earnestness of mature years, fixed a long and steady gaze on a gentleman named Tyrrell. Mr. Tyrrell was deeply affected; he took up the infant and pressed it to his heart, and, with the consent of the dying father, has adopted the child as his own. May he who feeds the ravens of the valley, and who has said, "Suffer little children to come unto me," bless and reward him for this charitable deed.—N. O. paper.

The New Bedford Mercury has the following remark upon the disaster to the steamer Bay State, which, it will be remembered, was caused by the breaking of a pin.

Had the accident happened during the downward stroke of the piston, the result might have been the loss of the boat and many valuable lives. We have often heard the possibility of such an accident discussed, and we trust that the narrow escape will call the attention of engineers and steamboat builders to the invention and use of adequate protection against this contingency. The downward blow of the piston would have made a hole through the boat's bottom, at the point where a leak would be most fatal, and the passengers, mostly asleep in their berths and state rooms, would have been exposed to almost certain death.

ARABS.—In some of the Egyptian cities he courbash—a whip from the hide of the hippopotamus—is the chief instrument for settling difficulties betweeen contending parties. The head of the police in Alexandria—equivalent to our city marshal—carries one of them mounted with silver, the emblem of his authority. A blow from it is comprehended by an Arab.

SIR CHARLES NAPIER.

In the London papers, the death of General Sir Charles Napier, the conqueror of Scinde, is announced. He was 71 years of age, and had received in the course of his numerous campaigns a greater number of wounds than were perhaps ever survived by any other soldier. At the battle of Corunna his leg was broken with a musket shot, he had a sabre cut on the head, a wound in the back with a bayonet, and his ribs were broken by a cannon ball. Subsequently, at Busaco, he was shot through the face, and had his jaw broken. Nevertheless thirty years afterwards, he commanded in Scinde, with a vigor that excited universal astonishment, and with 2800 men attacked and defeated 22,000 of the enemy, after a desperate action of three hours. His figure was small, and his temperament was as keenly nervous as that of Nelson; so that his having reached the age of seventy-one, after what he had gone through, may be considered remarkable. He had been for some time ill, and a fatal termination of his disorder had been anticipated.

AMERICAN GOLD COIN.—The Queen of Great Britain has issued a proclamation, under date of August 19th, 1853, declaring the following rates at which the gold coins of the United States are hereafter to pass current in the British West Indies:—

The eagle at the rate of forty-one shillings sterling.

The half eagle at the rate of twenty shillings and sixpence sterling.

The quarter eagle at the rate of ten shillings and three pence sterling.

The gold dollar at the rate of four shillings and one penny.

A GENERAL meeting of Presidents and Directors of the various railroads in the United States, we see it stated, will convene at Washington during the month of October, to consider the adoption of a code of laws and the establishments of such general measures as shall guard against accidents on railroads, and give more confidence to travellers, and assurance that precautionary measures of the most reliable kind are hourly exercised upon every railroad throughout the Union.

MORE LIQUOR.—Deputy Marshal Hall seized, in Portland, on Thursday morning, six barrels of liquor from Boston, per steamer St. Lawrence. Three casks were marked for North Yarmouth, the rest for New Hampshire. The back room of the City Marshal's office, now presents the appearance of a well stocked wine-cellar.

NEW ORLEANS.—The Crescent of the 7th inst., says:—"Some of our printers crawled out from their sick rooms yesterday morning, looking the very pictures of hatchet-faced wretchedness, May their shadows never be less nor their faces sharper."

The yellow fever has made its appearance at Montgomery, Alabama, and thirteen cases are already reported. Nine of them were brought from New Orleans, and the remainder originated among an Irish family. Six of the thirteen persons attacked have died.

Professional Pomposity is well taken off in the following anecdote, which we found in a late English paper. Shields, doctor, (looking learned and speaking slowly.) "Well, marriner, which tooth do you want extracted? Is it a molar or incisor?" Jack, (short and sharp) "It is in the upper tier, in the larboard side.—Bear a hand you swab, for it is nipping my jaw like a bloody lobster."

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1853.

CHINESE REBELLION.

Dr. Taylor, an American Missionary, has recently returned to Shanghae from a visit to the rebel General, Loo, at Ching-kiang-foo, and Nankin. He was well received. We are quite interested in the account of Dr. Taylor's visit to the rebel camp.

He left Shanghae on the 2d of June in a small native boat, succeeded in passing the Imperialist fleet engaged in blockading Ching-keang-foo, and finally in reaching Silver Island, about two miles below the city. His boatmen refusing to go any further, the Dr. landed, and made his way on foot and alone, with his carpet bag in hand, stuffed with religious books, towards the rebel lines. On coming in sight of the stockades he made signs to the garrison, and he was beckoned on; and on he went, threading his way through the various fortifications by which the city was surrounded.

On coming within the stockade, he was immediately surrounded by fierce looking, long-haired men, who claimed him as a "brother," and set to work to find out who he was, and what his errand was. But this the Dr. declined telling any one but the General-in-Chief, and so to him he was finally conducted. The General received and entertained Dr. Taylor most hospitably, and accepted the Christian books with evident satisfaction. On leaving, Dr. Taylor was furnished with an escort of several hundred soldiers, who accompanied him to the river bank. Dr. Taylor remarked that the troops were under excellent discipline and subordination. They were chiefly armed with spears and swords, few of them having match-locks. Their stockades and batteries were all well furnished with guns of all kinds, from jingalls to large cannon. The whole force at the city was stated on all hands to be between fifty and sixty thousand.

The Dr. attended on their worship, which consisted of chants, of hymns and doxologies, and audible prayer while kneeling.—This was repeated twice or thrice a day.—They also had grace before meals. He, however, saw bowls of various kinds of food placed on tables as offerings to the Supreme Being, and three bowls of tea to the three persons in the Trinity. The chiefs informed the Dr. that they never moved without an intimation from their Heavenly Father.

ADDITIONAL FROM CHINA,—Our advices from China communicated the news of the sudden appearance of a Russian squadron in the waters of the port of Hong Kong. It was said there that Japan was the ultimate destination of the ships. The Overland Register of July 7 alludes to the fact of their arrival in the following terms:—

On Saturday morning the Russian screw tender the Vostock, of four guns, and on Sunday the Russian frigate Pallas, of fifty-two guns, arrived in the harbor. The appearance of these vessels, combined with some paragraphs in the last overland papers, have set the quid nunc agog. The question is, what brings them here?—to which there are a variety of answers. The Singapore Free Press says the frigate is going on to Kamschatka to join the Dwina, of ten guns, Capt. Bisarabogy, which vessel the Cape papers say goes to Kamschatka by way of Sydney.

Some in Hong Kong answer the question by referring to the following paragraph:—

A letter from St. Petersburg on the 25th ult., contains the following statement:—"There is much talk in the best informed circles of a secret mission of a Russian envoy, sent to China overland, and who, it is said, has already arrived at Kiatka, a town belonging jointly to the two governments. It is confidently reported that the object of his mission is to offer to the sovereign of the Celestial Empire the aid of Russia for the purpose of quelling the insurrection in his dominions."

THE WAY OF THE TRANSGRESSOR IS HARD.—It is stated of John Chapman, the murderer of Mr. Cozzens in Sherborn, that during the 24 hours between the perpetration of the murder and the time of his arrest, the wretched criminal had been entirely without food, having most of the time secreted himself in the hay-mow. On being discovered he fainted away, and subsequently swooned two or three times before removal from the barn, when he was questioned upon the subject of the tragedy.

More than eighty thousand barrels, halves and quarters, are used in Gloucester, for mackerel, in the course of the season. Only some three thousand of this number are manufactured in town, on account of the expense in getting the stock, and the low price which the mackerel barrels are sold for. The coopers can only make $1 per day at the business. Mackerel barrels are almost all made in the State of Maine, at Bangor, and at Dover, N. H., where the stock is very cheap and readily obtained.

The New York board of underwriters has issued a notice to California shippers, requesting that careful attention be given to the ventilation of vessels on all long voyages, and also to the proper stowage of cargo. It is stated that much damage has been done to goods shipped hence to San Francisco, and also homeward from ports in the East Indies, in consequence of the dampness of "sweating" of the hold, particularly between decks. This has been the case with some of the finest ships of New York, and is supposed to be caused by imperfect ventiation.

PORK.—We hear of no speculations in hogs this season; the stock or "crop," as is now the term, in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, is much larger than it has been for a number of years past. In this State the number of hogs has also greatly increased since last season. And owing to the abundance of corn in the country, the hogs are larger, and in better condition than they usually are at this season of the year.—Lexington Express.

LOCAL.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

A spectator informs us that he went with a crowd to Exeter, where the gathering amounted, as was estimated, to 4,000; other estimates say 6,000. All appeared to be pleased; no accident occurred; and no drunkenness was visible.

The first business of the day, was the exhibition of working oxen. This was really fine, and probably cannot be excelled.

Next the ploughing. Six teams entered, and the turf was laid upside down in double quick time. The dirt flew in front of the ploughs like the spray at the stem of a first rate clipper. It was admirable work, and quite exciting to the multitude of spectators, male and female.

The show of animals in the pens, was not very extensive. A litter of pigs, 11 in number and very fine, drew the best of any thing here.

In the Hall there was a crowd of people.—The specimens of Fruit and Vegetables were beautiful in appearance and excellent in size and quality—but exhibited in small quantities only. Thirteen loaves of nice Family Bread were exhibited, which were much admired by the ladies.

Butter and Cheese, fair in quality; moderate in quantity. Among the improved implements, were two yokes and an apple peeler, which received premiums.

The show of flowers, and that of needle work, were excellent and abundant.

There was in the procession a Rustic Car from Hampton Falls, drawn by 15 yoke of oxen, and containing forty or fifty young girls,—which was one of the most attractive features in the procession.

The Address was a sensible and earnest appeal in behalf of Agricultural Knowledge, recommending its increase, and showing how gradual its progress has been.

The orator spoke of the difficulty in persuading the farmer to try new methods of work, or to introduce new articles. He mentioned the introduction of clover, which was considerably known for 60 years before it came into general use. The farmers of olden time stated that they had to pay taxes, and could not attend to such trifles: but gentlemen might cultivate clover for ornament and perfume. It was 20 years after it was publicly proposed, before the method of planting corn in rows, was generally adopted; now the man who plants at right angles, saves much labor.

Ploughing or cultivating between the rows by a horse, was another difficult thing to bring about; but it is now deemed indispensable: and the orator stated that should all the steam power of the world be annihilated, it would be nothing in comparison to the discontinuance of the horse ploughing between rows.

The award of premiums were made by Mr. French, at the portico of the Squamscott House, in the presence of a vast number of pleased spectators—and short addresses were made by Messrs. Farnum, French and others, congratulating the society on its success and prosperity.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

An unusual occurrence took place on Saturday morning, about 9 o'clock, at Spring Market.

The attention of buyers and sellers of butter, chickens, berries, beans, peaches and melons, was suddenly arrested by the whistle of a whip lash and its smart wipe, as it wound itself around the unmentionables of a fisherman. It was wielded by one of the weaker sex, who had in some way taken dislike to the said strong man. The enraged piece of finer fabric stood off at a fair distance and cut him right and left, interlarding the stripes with admonitions for him to "be careful how he told his stories about her in the streets." Fortunately the man was a non-resistant—for resistance to such a lash, would have been in vain, as it would have been for the crowd, which witnessed the the scene, to have tried to refrain from hearty shouts of laughter.

The man finally retreated, leaving his castigatress mistress of the field, amid the applause of the populace. "What a noble stand is here made for woman rights, (says a correspondent,) the right to flog a man publicly, without the right on his part to flog back again.—'Boiling Rock' could not stand in such an unequal contest." His strength is never used in quarrels, we believe,—and the populace in this instance, we suppose, know nothing of the merits of the case.

☞ The U. S. sloop-of-war Cyane, Commander Hollins, arrived at the Navy Yard in this city, on Sunday forenoon, from the fishing grounds. The steamers Princeton and Fulton will probably arrive to-day, as a number of signal guns were heard at about six o'clock yesterday afternoon, apparently from two directions, which were answered by the Cyane. The fog was so dense as to render it unsafe for a vessel to run fast, while approaching the harbor.

CITY LYCEUM.—An advertisement of another course of Lectures, to be delivered in the Cameneum, will be seen in our columns this morning. The "New Lyceum" is to occupy Tuesday evenings—the "City," Thursday evenings. Able home and foreign talent is being engaged. Portsmouth can well support two Lyceums—and if judiciously and efficiently managed, both will be well encouraged. Everybody should certainly attend at least one, and the two will accommodate all as to time and place.

☞ The Theatrical Company, now performing at the Cameneum, are presenting our citizens with a series of very pleasing entertainments. Mr. J. P. Addams, the manager of the company, is well known as a versatile actor, and is doubtless the best delineator of Yankee character that has trod the boards since the palmiest days of "Yankee Hill."—Mrs. Addams is a charming little actress, and the company as a whole are well deserving of patronage. *

For the Chronicle.

MATHEMATICAL QUESTION.

Messrs. Editors:—Will you please give the following a space in your paper.

You will please notice in the Journal of last Saturday, the solution of the mathematical question which appeared in that paper, the week before.

The author of this solution, if he will review the question, will find he has not made a correct division of the $3 between A, B & C, which I will prove by the following statement.

If A, in 16 hours earns $1, how much can he earn in 21 7-13 hours? Ianswer:—$1,34 8-13, not $1,33 1-3, as given in the Journal.

The correct solution is as follows:

A works 21 7 13 hours, at 6 1-4 cts.=134 8-13
B " 11 7-13 " 8 1-3 " = 96 2-13
C " 5 7-13 " 12 1-2 " = 69 3 13

$3,00

Explanation.—As A works alone 10 hours and 6 hours with B, he therefore has worked 16-48=1-3 of the time it would take him to do the whole work; and B, by working 6 hrs with A = 6-36 = 1-6 of the time it would take him to do the whole work: A and B therefore do 1-2 the work = $1,50, before C begins to work. A earns $1,00 and B 50 cents, for this one half of the work. C now begins to work with A & B, for the other 1-2 of the $3 = $1,50, and of this 1,50 A earns 1-24, B 1-18 and C 1-12 in one hour. 1-24 † 1-18 † 1-12 = 13-72, 72÷13 = 5 7-13 hours; therefore all three together can earn the 1,50 in 5 7-13 hours. The proportions are 1, 2-3 and 1-2, or 3, 4 and 6.

A therefore wants 3-13 of 150 = 34 8-13
B " " 4-13 of 150 = 46 2-13
C " " 6-13 of 150 = 69 3-13

1,50

A 34 8-13 † $1,00=134 8-13
B 46 2-13 † ,50= 96 2-13
C 69 3-13 69 3-13

1,50 X 2 $3,00

The truth is, each man receives pay for the time he worked, according to what he can earn per hour, whether he works with A, B, C, the Pope of Rome or the rest of mankind.

We have received a similar solution from another correspondent, accompanied by the request that the same gentlemen who proposed the question in the Journal, will give an arithmetical answer to the following:

A man purchased a block of granite. The length was twice the width, and the width twice the thickness. It cost $10.24, which was twice as many cents per cubic foot as the stone was feet in lenght. How long was the stone?

The Weekly Chronicle also goes into every neighboring town and village, and has a growing list. Advertisements inserted in the Daily, appear at least once in the Weekly, in most cases without extra charge; which renders this an excellent medium for communicating with the entire public in this region.

PROTESTANTISM IN SOUTH AMERICA.—The Protestants are not allowed to build churches in Chili. They must meet in dwelling houses, or in buildings joining to dwelling houses. There are only two Protestant congregations in Valparaiso—an English Episcopalian and a Connecticut Presbyterian.—They are, moreover, thinly attended, though the pastors are both worthy men.

NEW FACTORY ACT IN ENGLAND.—A new act has gone into operation in England. By this act no child is to be employed before six o'clock in the morning, nor after six in the afternoon, nor after two o'clock on Saturday afternoon. There is, however, power given to employ children in the hours between seven in the morning and seven in the evening, from the 30th of September to the 1st of April, under certain regulations.

Bay State Stoves.

THE Subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has for sale all sizes of this favorite Stove. Having sold them in this city for five years past, they have been thoroughly tested with wood and coal, and are found perfect in every respect.

Those put in operation four and five years since have had no repairs made upon them, and are to all appearance as good as ever. So great is the popularity of these Stoves, that many imitations of it are put into the market, such as the Granite State, Empire State, &c.; but none of them are equal to it in weight or quality of castings, cooking facilities, or economy of fuel.

To all who are in want of a GOOD Cooking Stove, we would say—buy a BAY STATE, and you are sure to get THE BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The subscriber has for sale, also, a variety of other Cook Stoves, Cooking Ranges, Parlor Grates, Office and Parlor Stoves. Funnel, &c. for sale low for cash. E. A. STEVENS,

IRISH RIOT AT SOMERSET, OHIO.—The Zanesville Courier gives the particulars of the riot in Somerset, of which we have already heard through the Telegraph. During an evening exhibiton of Welch's Circus, an Irishman took his seat among some ladies and commenced smoking a pipe. He was requested to desist; but refusing, with indecent language, was immediately ejected from the tent. Thereupon the Irish of the town rallied and attacked the showmen, but were beaten off and badly bruised, and one of them killed.—During the night several of the showmen were arrested. But the Irish, not satisfied with this, got possession of the State arms, and attacked the hotel where the circus men were congregated. A number of shots were fired into the house, and two more of the circus men were badly, if not fatally wounded. They in the meantime defended themselves with the bricks torn from the hearths, the bedsteads, which they broke up for the purpose, &c. &c. The mob remained, however in possession of the streets until a body of volunteer troops from Zanesville arrived, when they immediately dispersed.

The Riot resulted in the death of one of the hands employed in Welch's Hippo drome, and the severe injury of another. They were not performers.

NEW YORK, ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC RAILROAD.—New York Sept. 17.—The New York, Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company held their first meeting at the Metropolitian Hotel yesterday. Robert J. Walker commenced the first subscription with the sum of ten millions of Dollars. Dr. Newcombe and others of Albany subscribed for nearly three millions. The capital stock of the company is one hundred millions.

AID FOR NEW ORLEANS AND MOBILE.—The net amount of M. Julien's concert for the benefit of the New Orleans sufferers, was $1500, to which M. Julien added $500, being the expenses.

Genin's benefit yesterday for the same purpose netted $366. The amount received from the Lessees of the Broadway theatre, being the receipts of the benefit performances, was $357. The total amount of the receipts up to yesterday was $220,000.

The total amount received for the Mobile sufferers is $20,000.

EUROPEAN PROTEST AGAINST CAPT. INGRAHAM'S CONDUCT.—Washington Sept 17.—It is rumored in this city that at a prolonged Cabinet meeting yesterday, the subject under consideration was a joint protest from all the principal Governments of Europe except England, against Capt. Ingraham's conduct on the Kosta affair. The protest, it is said, was received by the steamer Franklin.

BREAKING OF GROUND ON THE RAILROAD.—St, John, N. B. Sept, 15.—The first sod on the European and North American Railroad was turned yesterday at this place by lady Head, assisted by the Lieut. Governor, in the presence of about 25,000 persons.

A grand procession was formed, which extended to the length of two miles, composed of fire companies, Free Masons, citizens, &c., accompanied by three brass bands, and marched to the ground. Commissioner Shubrick and suit were present. A sumptuous luncheon was provided for the distinguished guests by the Railroad Company, which was partaken of by about 500 persons. Splendid fireworks were displayed in the evening, after which a magnificent ball was gievn by the citizens, under the auspices of the Company.—Unfortunately, towards the close of the ball, the gallery which had been constructed for the band, broke down, slightly injuring several persons, and one gentleman severely.

RAILROAD COLLISION.—Oneida, N. Y. Sept. 16.—The up morning train on the New York Central Railroad was run into at the Depot in this place this morning by a freight train. The passenger cars were smashed, and several badly injured. One man, named Buckley Thacher, of Medway, Ohio, was instantly killed; Patrick Wall of Manchester, Vt., had both his thighs broken, and his brother was severly injured: John Vaughan of Syracuse had both thighs fractured; Edward Jewett of New Haven was badly hurt. The express train is said to have been behind time.

DEATH OF GEN. MCKAY OF NORTH CAROLINA.—Baltimore, Sept. 16.—Gen. James McKay of North Carolina was taken sick in the cars, and died in a few hours, near Wilmington. He was a member of Congress from the Wilmington district of North Carolina for a period of sixteen years, and Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means at the passage of the tariff of 1846.

RAILROAD DIFFICULTY.—The Niagara Falls and Lake Ontario Railroad Company is calculated to run through the land of Messrs. Hotchkiss of Lewiston, who ask for the right of way ten times as much money as commissioners appointed by the courts have awarded to them; the company tendered them this amount which was refused. The land owners appealed, and the corporation then placed their men at work upon the disputed territory, while Mr. Hotchkiss sued out warrants of trespass. It was found impossible to capture and carry to court five hundred Irish laborers, so the Justice adjourned his session to the forest in the neighborhood of the scene of action, where the court was holden, for the benefit of the contestants, whose costs of litigation are enormous, and will exceed by several thousand dollars the entire sum in dispute.

FORGERY.—A Greenfield bank cashed a check for $950 recently, purporting to be drawn by a large business concern in this vicinity, and sent by express from New York for collection. On discovering that it was a forgery, the bank sent a messenger to New York, and found the money in the express office, the forger evidently having been afraid to call for it.

A conspiracy to rob the Crystal Palace, has been detected. The plan was to cut off the main gas pipe, and in the confusion of the consequent darkness, to plunder the exhibition. Great secresy seems to be preserved about the matter—probably for the purpose of detecting the conspirators. The report is given with the authority of the Albany Atlas.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence,

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted, by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred. If every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriages, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be Ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (postaged free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

ABSURD.—The practice of confining the name America to the United States. If we visit the Falls of Niagara, we hear of the American Fall and the Canadian Fall, as if Canada were in Europe, Asia or Africa. A most striking example of this ridiculous usage occurs in Hawthorne's Life of President Pierce, wherein he mentions that Gen. Pierce set sail "from America to Mexico."—Bizarre.

LIBERIA.—In May last Mr. J. J. Roberts was reelected President of the Republic of Liberia over Chief Justice Benedict. At the same time Stephen A. Benson was elected Vice President. At the end of the present term President Roberts will have served eight years as President and six years as Governor of Liberia—in all 14 years.

HEAVY FAILURE.—The Syracuse Standard says it is rumored about the city that Arnold Woodward, Son & Co., one of our largest dry goods firms, have suspended payment.—The amount of the failure is said to be between $600,000 and $700,000. They have several large stores in various parts of the state, and a very extensive jobbing establishment in New York, where the failure was first made public.

Bridgewater Paint

MANUFACTURED by the Bridgewater Paint Manufacturing Company, New Jersey. The Company have now on hand a supply of this Paint, which they offer to the public as the best article known for roofs, decks and bottoms of steamers and other vessels, and for brick and wood work generally; and from its spark and cinder proof qualities they can safely recommend it as the best and most perfect protection for railroad and other bridges, public buildings, &c.

The strongest testimonials of the virtues of this article from officers of the army, superintendents of railroads, insurance companies, captains of vessels, painters, &c. may be seen at the store of the subscribers, who have been appointed sole Agents for the same, offer it to the trade at the manufacturers' prices.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity, and by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston.

For sale in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the act of 1837) desires to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, MASS.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully, Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER.

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attention of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last dico vere Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the pub.lic as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this medicine sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proven beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!

N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

"[$60 00] On demand I promise to pay to the bearer FIVE MILLS for value received.

100 BBLS. PURE CIDER VINEGAR for sale by JOHN YEATON.

READ! READ! READ!

DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 28, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,
VERNON ESKRIDGE, Chaplain U.S.N.

MORNING CHRONICLE.

BY MILLERS & GRAY. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1853. VOLUME 3. NO. 44.

THE DAILY MORNING CHRONICLE

is published by
FRANK W. MILLER, SAMUEL GRAY, & THOS. W. MILLER,
At No. 4 Exchange Buildings,
Pleasant Street,.....PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

TERMS $4 a year, payable half-yearly; or $3 strictly in advance. If payment is made for a year, within six months of the time of subscribing, fifty cents will be deducted.

The Weekly Chronicle,
A family newspaper, containing the news of the week, with carefully selected miscellany, &c., is published every Saturday morning—at $1 a year in advance.

ADVERTISING.—For a Square of sixteen lines nonpareil, or less, one insertion 50 cts., three insertions $1, and liberal terms for continuance.

Yearly, quarterly or monthly advertisers liberally accommodated—and their advertisements inserted in both papers without extra charge, thus affording unequalled facilities to business men.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING Promptly executed.

V. B. Palmer, American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and subscriptions at the same rates as required by us. His receipts will be regarded as payments.

WELL TURNED.—A young lady, over the signature of "Kate," sends the following spirited article to the New Orleans True Delta.—We think she gives fashionable young men a well merited rebuke. Her remark "It will never do to commence the work of reform entirely on one side," is worthy of consideration. She entitles her piece—"How to educate Young America."

I read in a paper, she says, the other day, that some new ornamental branches in young ladies' education were coming out soon—"Cook-ology, Spin-ology and Weave-ology;" all honor to the projector of so happy an improvement; but, allow me to ask, when our young Misses become such pattern housewifes, in what "circles" they will look for suitable companions? Not in upper-tendom could they be found. Just fancy one of the be-whiskered, be-scented, moustachied, exquisites, in companionship with one of Solomon's maidens, who layeth her hand to the spindle, or plyeth the flying shuttle, or compoundeth rare cookery. What affinity would there be between them? The same that exists between a butterfly and a honey-bee—one all glare and glitter, and frisking movements, the other all patient industry and sobriety.

I cannot think of a more useless article, or one more out of place, in a room where work is progressing, than a fashionable young man. He knows so little about matters and things I feel in pain until he is safely lodged in the parlor, among the other things "more for ornament than for use," annuals and bijouterc.

It will never do to commence the work of reform entirely on one side. I propose three branches more to be added to the list of studies for finishing young gentlemen, fashionably; Saw-ology, Chop-ology and Split-ology, and that, in addition to the requisite number of "sheets, towels, spoons and napkin rings," each promising pupil be furnished with a new wood-saw and an axe, well sharpened, and daily exercise with them be practised. It will supersede the gymnasiums.

In our onward march to perfection, and in taking up the accomplishments of our grandmothers, we earnestly beg that some provision be made against being cut off from "best society," and such would be the result, unless the lords of creation are willing to keep pace with us. Their lily hands would scarcely, with the present views, be willingly united with those who bear the marks of labor; and what a dreadful state of affairs would occur in upper snob-dom, if one of the first families were to marry beneath their dignity.

Hasten then, the glorious era, when walking-sticks shall be converted into hoe-handles, crotchet hooks into knitting needles, and quizzing-glasses and flirtations be known no more.

We think she has turned the tables nicely; and we are unable to conceive of any thing more contemptible and useles than mere dolls or idlers, whether dressed in pantaloons or petticoats.

BREVITY.—It would be amusing, if anything sad could be amusing, to see how universally in the news-papers, the adjective brief is coupled with some other, by means of a disjunctive "but;" as if brevity instead of being a merit was a fault requiring an apology.—Thus they say "the following brief but beautiful passage occurs in a late article in Frazer's Magazine;" "Mr. Jones made a brief but eloquent address," &c. Why but? If the passage were beautiful, or the address eloquent, its brevity must have given it an additional charm. The first, second and third features of good writing are brevity, brevity, brevity. Short but sweet is not the old motto; it is "short and sweet."—Boston Advertiser.

A True Bill.—Portsmouth Chronicle.

At Ironton, Ohio, a respectable looking woman, Mrs. Marsh, the wife of a respectable mechanic, was arrested on the complaint of her husband, and lodged in jail in default of $500 bail, to answer at court a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, for beating her own daughter, a child of seven years of age, with a rope, until it was considered very doubtful as to its recovery.

☞ The following scrap is good, if it is old:—

I'm thankful that the sun and moon
Are both hung up so high,
That no presumptious hand can stretch
And pull them from the sky.
If they were not, I have no doubt
But some reforming ass,
Would recommend to take them down
And light the world with gas!

YOUNG AMERICA.—The Presbyterian Quarterly Review has an able article on this topic, from which we copy a few extracts:

"There is in this country a consuming passion for gain. The nation is mad. It rushes with incredible avidity after speculations, or works sixteen hours a day that it may have the means of a senseless provision and a glittering frivolity. Never was there a more avaricious people. * * *

"The increase of lunacy in this country is another frightful indication of the mad extravagance of the people. No wonder indeed that in a single new State they have built or are building three lunatic asylums. The whole land will be a lunatic asylum if from some quarter, from experience or observation, from statesmanship or scholarship, from the pulpit or the Bible, we cannot learn some degree of moderation. * * *

"The effervescence, of 'Young America' manifests itself as we all know, in its views of our 'manifest destiny,' to take possession of this Western continent, and the melancholy Cuba expedition is but one of its outbursts. * * * * *

"Fashion tyranizes over men as well as women, and conventionalities that no one really likes freeze up the life-blood of the nation.—The result is almost incredible, when one fairly analyses the life of our people. They alternate between solitude and crowds. They fill the streets and public vehicles; they crowd churches, lecture rooms, concerts, theatres; they jostle each other on 'change, in business places, and along fashionable walks; they whirl around in the intoxication of the dance, or exchange inane compliments with hundreds of people at a ball party. * *

"Is there not a more excellent way? Is there no such thing as moderation? Is the common sense which we claim as our characteristic to have no influence in moulding the manners of our people? Must men live in the most costly luxury until three out of four fail in business, and hide their heads in some obscure place, as if, though still honest men they had done some shameful deed?"

CHAPTER OF DEFINITIONS.—Time.—A precious metal that is measured by its length—its weight being depended upon circumstances in which it is taken.

Faith—The rock upon which knowledge is built.

Poetry—The language in which the book of Nature is written; they who can translate it are called poets.

Truth—A moral diamond upon which the file of falsehood wastes itself without making an impression.

Wealth—The sum which gives content, whether one dollar or one million.

Happiness—A butterfly, which when pursued, is always just beyond your grasp; but if you will sit down quietly, may alight upon you.

Religion—Light from heaven, which if we did not obscure it with a veil of sin, would dispense such radiance as would make it bliss to close our eyes to physical light for its enjoyment.

Books—Evaporations from the minds of great men, condensed so as to be perceptible to the sense of the multitude.

Life—A masked ball, where in struggling through the crowd, and trying to penetrate the disguise of our neighbor, we are apt to forget our own part, until the waning light warns us of the time to depart.

Experience—A looking glass which he will not believe reflects one's own destiny, until we have bought it.

MAINE ELECTION.

The Portland Advertiser of Monday, gives very full returns of the votes thrown in Maine at the recent election, and says,

The results, in a party point of view, are such as to afford no particular party any great cause for exultation, except at the thorough and complete defeat of their opponents.

Mr. Pillsbury has been defeated by a very large majority, and the complexion of the Legislature is such as to render it almost impossible for him to be elected by that body.

The Senate is yet in some doubt.

The Representatives chosen, are 151 in number. Of these 63 are whigs, 60 democrats, 19 Merrill democrats, and 8 free democrats.

In many cases it has been very difficult to decide just how to class members. We have probably set some down as democrats who might more properly be designated Merrill Democrats, as the distinction has not been recognized or indicated in some returns.

Votes for Governor,1853,

Crosby	Pillsbury	Merrill	Holmes
25,922	38,145	11,248	8,627

Votes for Governor in 1852:

Crosby	Hubbard	Chandler	Holmes.
27,001	39,126	20,621	1,272.

LATE FROM EUROPE.

By the steamer Arctic, which arrived at New York on Sunday morning, we have Liverpool dates to Sept. 7, at noon. The Arctic brings over two hundred passengers, among whom are Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beecher.

Breadstuffs are a shade lower. In the Liverpool Corn Market of the 7th, it is said that owing to the fine weather, and the decline in France causing resales of French orders, prices were irregular at 4d. decline on Wheat and 1s. on Flour since the Niagara's sailing. Indian Corn in moderate demand with little variation. At Havre on the 5th inst., it is said, Flour quiet; 500 bbls Genesee at 41f.

In the Liverpool provision market, 7th inst., provisions quiet; lard lower and dull.

Turkish affairs are unchanged; nothing is known of the Czar's intention relative to the amended note. Turkey has sent to the great European powers an explanatory manifesto.

It was reported that France had informed the Saltan that any further steps he may take are at his own peril; but on the whole, prospects are no worse than at last advices.

In Great Britain, the harvest is progressing favorably.

The French Government having fixed low prices for bread, was using every means to keep down the prices. Grain markets, &c., were reported lower.

The Prussian Government had concluded not to interfere with the grain prices in Prussia.

An immense accumulation of corn at Odessa was awaiting shipment.

AUSTRIA.—Lieut. Schwartz, notorious for his connection in the Costa affair, has been promoted.

The Turin Gazette publishes the law authorizing the Sardinian Minister of finance to carry out the Convention with the Transatlantic Co., at Genoa, to establish steam communication between Sardinia and America.

The Manufacturers and Exporters in Paris continue to do a good business, but the storekeepers are nearly idle, this being the dead season for retail, and made still more dead by the high price of provisions. The rise in the price of raw silk had been very much felt by the Manufacturers at Lyons, Nismes and D'Etienne, but fortunately for them, the large orders received from the United States enable them to keep their operatives employed. Velvet manufacture has been active in the above cities this year.

Three new cases of Asiatic Cholera had appeared at Liverpool.

The ship Sovereign of the Seas sailed from the Mersey, Sept. 6th, for Australia, with 65 passengers and cargo valued at £200,000.

Several failures amongst Grain dealers in Great Britain and on the Continent are reported.

☞ We are indebted to Messrs. John H. Thorndike, Charles G. King, and Pelham Bonney, for a complimentary season ticket to the Seventh Exhibition of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, for the encouragement of Manufactures and the Mechanic Arts—now open at Faneuil and Quincy Halls, Boston, and to remain so till the 1st of October. Visitors in Boston will be well repaid for attendance.

LABRADOR FISHERY.—The Herald of Monday, reports the arrival at Newburyport of the schooner Isabella, Joy, from Labrador, with 1000 qtls. fish. This is the last of the fleet from that coast, and they have all arrived with full fares, doing much better than the mackerel fishermen.

HURRICANE.—The new Clipper ship Matchless, of and from Boston, for California, was met two days out, by a hurricane, Aug. 8th, in which she lost all her topmasts, and had her deaks swept of almost everything. She returned to port for repairs.

☞ Flour fell in New York on Monday, 25 cents per barrel, with a limited demand at the reduced price, so says a despatch dated at noon.

LOCAL.

ROCKINGHAM CATTLE SHOW.

We give some farther particulars of the Cattle Show and Fair at Exeter, taken from the Exeter News Letter:

The grand entry of the Hampton-Falls delegation of members, with ladies, was a beautiful opening of the display. The band led by the marshal, went out to meet them a mile from the village, and escorted them into the town. Twenty yoke of handsome oxen with their horns tastefully dressed in blue and yellow streamers of ribbon, were attached to a car, mounted upon four wheels, and containing 27 young ladies of Hampton-Falls.—The car was roofed over with green corn leaves, for a screen from the sun, and carpeted and cushioned like a church. The outside was beautifully decorated with evergreens, and boquets of flowers. Indeed, no part of the wood, even of the wheels, could be seen, but it was an elegant combination of the brilliant colors of Autumn flowers, with the fresh green of the forest trees and vines.—Upon the sides, curiously formed in large letters, with vegetables of all kinds, was an inscription of the name of the town. Snugly seated among the fair occupants of the car, were seen the President of the Society, and Orator of the day, who had gone out to pay their early respects. On the square, teams from other towns were added to the procession, to the number in all, of some seventy yoke of Oxen, and at nine, by the music of the band, and with occasional songs by the ladies, amid shouts and cheers of the multitudes already assembled, the procession moved on to the cattle grounds by the depot.—Coaches were then furnished by the society to the ladies, who were driven about the grounds to view the animals, and then escorted by the marshals to the exhibition hall. All honor to the ladies of Hampton-Falls, who have set an example to their sisters through the County, of incalculable value to the new Agricultural Society.

About one hundred and twenty yoke of oxen were upon the field, and the pens contained, of horned cattle, about one hundred head.

But seven teams were entered for plowing. The plowing was tolerably well done, but many such trials are wanting, to bring the farmers of old Rockingham, up to their proper mark in this department. The show of Fruit was a surprise to all. Gentlemen present familiar with the Horticultural Shows of cities, said that no finer display of peaches and pears, could be produced in New England. Portsmouth is noted for its fine fruit, and much was hoped, by the Society, from that quarter, but no single specimen from Portsmouth, appeared upon the tables!

"Was that done like Cassius?"
"Should we have answered Caius Cassius so?"

Flowers painted in water colors, from nature, by Miss Sarah H. Foster of Portsmouth, deserved and received marked attention from the spectators, and exhibited much skill and labor.

A wonderful specimen of drawing with a pen, or of ornamental penmanship, by a German resident of Portsmouth, (his name modestly withheld,) exhibited the nicest skill of execution, superior to any which the Committee have ever before examined. It was all the more remarkable, from the fact that it was drawn by an invalid, in a sick chamber.

Miss Sophia Furber of Newington, also exhibited an interesting specimen of ornamental penmanship deserving particular notice.

Among the premiums we observe one for the Best Work Horse; Samuel Hoyt, Newington, on horse 5 yrs. old, 5,00

A German of Portsmouth. Ornamental Penmanship, (recomended,) 3,00

Miss Sarah H. Foster, of Portsmouth, (water colored paintings of flowers from nature, 1,00

Miss Sophia Furber of Newington, Ornamental Penmanship, 1,00

The number of strangers in Exeter, is set down in the News Letter at 8,000.

AN OLD MOURNING RING.—A gentleman of this city has a heavily chased gold ring, which was found by a member of his family, on the South Mill Pond, a year ago last winter. The ring, as she found it, lay on a tuft of eel-grass which had been uprooted from the muddy bottom and drawn upon the ice. The inscription on the inside of the ring is deeply cut and easily legible, reading as follows:

Eliz. Whale, ob. 25 Apr. 1729, Æt. 42.

The ring doubtless has a history, probably unwritten, and perhaps impossible to be written now. Who can tell us any thing about Eliz. Whale, or the Whale family? Who? (if any one) knows about the ring? But questions are of no use, without some clue to an answer.

ACCIDENT IN GREENLAND,—One day last week, as Mr. Edwin Pickering, a young man, about 20 years of age was driving an ox-team over land about to be sown with grass-seed, clearing it of stones on the farm of Mrs Brackett near the P. & C. Railroad crossing in Greenland, the oxen became frightened by a boy thrown down on their off side by another men, and ran, one of them stepping on the young man's foot, throwing him down. The whole of the cart which was heavily loaded, passed directly across the chest of the driver, from the hip to the shoulder, injuring him so severely that recovery is doubtful.

COURTS.—The U. S. District Court for the District of New Hampshire, commences a session at the Court House in this city, to-day, at 10 o'clock.

The Court of Common Pleas for Rockingham County, also begins its September term at the same time and place. We shall give full reports of the doings of both.

NAVAL.—The U. S. steamers Princeton, Commander Engle, and Fulton, Lt. Com'g. Watson, composing the remainder of the Fishing Squadron under Com. Shubrick, arrived below Sunday evening. The Fulton came up to the Navy Yard Monday morning. While running into the anchorage ground the Fulton run foul of a schooner, in the fog, stove her own quarter-boat, and carried away the schooner's jib-boom.

We are informed that the fishing grounds are quiet, and that the reports that have appeaned in the Gloucester and other papers are exaggerated, if not entirely without foundation.

Fish were plenty and many vessels had returned home with full fares.

The Cyane broke adrift from her moorings Sunday night, and would probably have gone against the bridge, had not a watchman at the Navy Yard discovered it, and made known the fact to the watch on deck. All hands were immediately called, and she came to an anchor opposite Central Wharf.

Capt. Lawrey, the Coast Pilot of the Cyane, and our fellow townsman, is spoken of in the highest terms by the captain and officers of the Cyane, for his professional ability, which they say is of the first order, the Cyane invariably going into port at night and in dense fogs.

The officers and crew are all well. It is said that the Cyane will fit out here for another cruise.

☞ Com. Shubrick and his Staff, Lieutenant Lewis and Col. J. S. Cunningham, came up to the city yesterday, and took rooms at the Rockingham House. When the Commodore strikes his broad pennann, he will depart by railroad, we learn, for Washington.

☞ Augustus A. Warren, of Kittery, Me., has been appointed a sailmaker in the naval service of the United States.

☞ Some smart chap entered a back window of Dr. Kimball's Store, on Sunday afternoon, and abstracted the change from the drawer. A bill which lay in a corner of the same drawer was unmolested, in the fellow's hurry.

CAMP MEETING.—The Second Adventists held a camp meeting at Concord, last week, commencing on Wednesday, the 14th, and lasting till Monday of the present week.—The attendance was not very large, numbering when we were there, on Saturday, only about four hundred, though the audience in the evening was generally much larger. Most of the speakers were unlearned men, handling the English language in a careless manner; and their hearers were the most credulous set of people we have seen collected together for a long time. The exercises were conducted in the following manner:—A speaker would get up, declaim and shout till he was hoarse, and walk from one end of the stage to the other till he was tired, and then another would take his place and proceed in a similar manner. They had congregational singing, of course, some of which sounded beautifully, as it echoed through the woods. Crying babies were present, in great numbers, which added much to the music. The tents were pitched in the western part of the city, near Sand Hill. *

MANCHESTER AND CANDIA.—A writer in the Manchester Mirror, speaking of the proposed Railroad from Manchester to Candia, says:—

The distance from Manchester to Candia is ten miles. There is but a slight, if any difference between the altitude of the two places. Massabesic shore is about the height of land—not highest point—between this city and Cass's Crossing in Candia, i. e. Draw a curve on the average height, and Massabesic would stand up to the centre of the arc, about twenty feet above Manchester and Cass's Crossing in Candia. An experienced Engineer—one who has worked on many of the roads in New England—says it is the most feasible route within his knowledge—will not cost over 12,000 a mile to set it running.

It is known that a road has been chartered from Nashua through Londonderry, Derry, down through, I believe, Hampstead, Danville, Poplin, Epping, Lee, &c., to connect with the great road to be built on the British Province East,—making a link from New York to New Brunswick. Now, a road through that region would get but little support on the way from the towns mentioned.—Manchester, on the other hand, would give a road more business than all the whole region from Nashua—Nashua included—to the boundary line between New Hampshire and Maine, and the New York and New Brunswick line, by coming through Manchester, would do more than double the business, than to go through the contemplated route; for it is quite certain that, aside from the business accruing from Manchester, the route will pay as much as through the towns referred to. Is not this a consideration worthy the attention of the New York route, and also all interested in the trade, prosperity and increasing wealth of Manchester?

A DEN OF SNAKES.—Benj. Hanson, Esq., of Somersworth, states that while at work on the highway in that town last week, a den of snakes of the adder species was ploughed up, thirty-six in number, and from 8 to 12 inches in length. The mother of this creeping family lay dead near by.

Bay State Stoves.

THE Subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has for sale all sizes of this favorite Stove. Having sold them in this city for five years past, they have been thoroughly tested with wood and coal, and are found perfect in every respect.

Those put in operation four and five years since have had no repairs made upon them, and are to all appearance as good as ever. So great is the popularity of these Stoves, that many imitations of it are put into the market, such as the Granite State, Empire State, &c.; but none of them are equal to it in weight or quality of castings, cooking facilities, or economy of fuel.

To all who are in want of a GOOD Cooking Stove, we would say—buy a BAY STATE, and you are sure to get THE BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The subscriber has for sale, also, a variety of other Cook Stoves, Cooking Ranges, Parlor Grates, Office and Parlor Stoves. Funnel, &c. for sale low for cash. E. A. STEVENS, s16 12 and 14 Daniel st.

THE FEVER.

The Picayune says that the yellow fever at New Orleans still continues very malignant; the blacks, however, are the principal victims. It also advises absentees to remain away until frost makes its appearance.

At Grand Gulf the fever is raging with great severity; half of the residents were taken down in one week. There was only one physician in the place, and he completely worn out with his arduous duties.

At Port Gibson the fever was more malignant than even at New Orleans.

At Vicksburg two hundred and fifty cases had occurred in one day.

At Natchez, and Vidalia, a small town opposite, the fever was raging violently.

Several plantations along the Mississippi were suffering dreadfully from fever.

At New Orleans on the 16th, the number of interments was 51; deaths from yellow fever, 32. At Mobile, on the 15th, the number of interments was 38; deaths from yellow fever 30.

Nearly all the stores at Mobile are closed, business operations are completely prostrated. The Battle house has been closed for want of servants.

THE GAVAZZI RIOT IN MONTREAL.—There appears to be no end to the complication of the Montreal riot troubles. The Protestants seem to be most thoroughly exasperated by the doings of the mob, the Mayor, and the soldiery, on the occasion, and manifest a determination to sift the matter to the bottom in spite of all the efforts of the local Romish government to cover and hush up the matter. After a long struggle with Romish influence, the indictment of Mayor Wilson was obtained, and his Honor was driven to resign his office. But here a new difficulty was raised. It was asserted that the Mayor could not resign, because the law required him to perform his duties under penalty of $400. Counsellors learned in the law having been consulted, the City Council were informed that the Mayor's resignation might be accepted by a two-thirds vote of the Council. The vote of that body, however, stood 16 for accepting the resignation, and 8 against it; and as 18 votes were necessary, his Honor remains Mayor of Montreal, while under arrest for the murder of sundry citizens of that place.

On the 13th, Lieut. Col. Hogarth, and Capt. Cameron, on the affidavits of 13 soldiers, who swore that the command to the troops to fire on the people coming out of the church on the day of the Gavazzi riot, was given by Col. Hogarth, commanding the troops. In turn, these soldiers have been placed under arrest by their commander for perjury, and the evidence given in the case has been sent to England.—Traveller.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.—The express train on the New York Central Railroad, which was run into at Oneida on Friday morning, was two and a half hours behind the time.—The freight train ran into the passenger train just as it was starting. The hands upon the train were reported to have been drunk. Patrick Wall of Vermont, who had his thighs broken, has since died. By the collision on the Hudson River Railroad, near Poughkeepsie, on Thursday, Charles Gilbert, fireman, and David Arnold, brakeman, were dreadfully mangled and killed, and many passengers were more or less injured. Several other operatives had limbs broken. The accident occurred through disobedience of orders. On the Pennsylvania and Ohio road, near Franklin, on Wednesday evening, the locomotive exploded, killing the conductor, engineer and fireman. Want of water was the cause, and the train was not in charge of the regular engineer. On the Central Railroad, near Macon, Ga., on Saturday, the cars were thrown from the track, killing Patrick Donohue of New York.—Boston Courier.

THE EXPLOSION OF THE BAY STATE.—Anna De Wolf, the eldest daughter of Mr. De Wolf, of Chicago, Ill., who was among the scalded on board the Bay State when the explosion took place on the 8th inst., died Saturday morning at the New York Hospital. Miss De Wolf makes the fourth of that family who have lost their lives by this melancholy catastrophe. She was 17 years of age. The father, F. De Wolf, Esq. was a native of Bristol, R. I., but had made his home in the West, and with his family had just made a visit to his old home to keep up the interest which he felt in the place of his birth. Three lovely daughters, fourteen, ten and seven years of age, were soon released from their agonies, and the fourth has now been taken.

SUPREME COURT AT GREENFIELD, MASS.—The jury in the case of Philbrook Whitney, brought in a verdict of guilty of murder of Chas. R. Weeks, and Judge Dewey addressed the prisoner and pronounced the sentence according to law. The prisoner was unaffected and indifferent. After this trial was over, Judge Bigelow commenced upon civil cases, and a divorce was granted to Elzorah Ring, against husband, Rev. Eleazer F. Ring. The case of Prudence W. Eastman vs. her husband, Rev. John Eastman, of Hawley, in which Horace E. Smith appeared for the persecutor in conjunction with Attorney-General Choate, has been commenced.

FORGERY BY A LAWYER.—Van Hovenburgh, a lawyer of New York city, gave forged papers of divorce to a lady in that city who again contracted marriage on the strength of them; and is implicated in another case of a similar character. He gave Mrs. Juliette D. M. Hale forged papers of divorce, and received therefor $75. Hovenburgh has left the city.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 17.—A collision occurred on the Roanoke railroad on Thursday last between an express and freight train, whereby the locomotives were completely smashed, and Nathan Shanan was killed. None else were injured.

A letter from the Summit House, on Mount Washington, dated 12th, says, we are in the midst of a thick snow storm, thermometer at 25, and it is impossible to stand erect where the wind has a fair sweep outside. On the 11th, the thermometer was below the freezing point all day, only rising to 29 at noon.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT!

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

For sale by Hotchkiss & Co., 13 Court st.; Redding & Co., 18 State st.; Fetredge & Co., 15 State and 72 Washington sts.; and Wm. V. Spencer, 128 Washington st.—Boston, Mass.

MORNING CHRONICLE.

BY MILLERS & GRAY. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1853. VOLUME 3. NO. 45.

THE DAILY MORNING CHRONICLE

is published by
FRANK W. MILLER, SAMUEL GRAY, & THOS. W. MILLER,
At No. 4 Exchange Buildings,
Pleasant Street,.....PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

TERMS $4 a year, payable half-yearly; or $3 strictly in advance. If payment is made for a year, within six months of the time of subscribing, fifty cents will be deducted.

The Weekly Chronicle,

A family newspaper, containing the news of the week, with carefully selected miscellany, &c., is published every Saturday morning—at $1 a year in advance.

ADVERTISING.—For a Square of sixteen lines nonpareil, or less, one insertion 50 cts., three insertions $1, and liberal terms for continuance.

Yearly, quarterly or monthly advertisers liberally accommodated—and their advertisements inserted in both papers without extra charge, thus affording unequalled facilities to business men.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING Promptly executed.

V. B. Palmer, American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized Agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and is duly empowered to take advertisements and subscriptions at the same rates as required by us. His receipts will be regarded as payments.

INDIAN HOSTILITY TO CHINAMEN.—The California Indians have a singular hatred of the celestials, and were they not restrained by fear of the law, would work them mischief.—They take special delight in seeing the miner's tax enforced by the government, and willingly lend their aid in the matter. A short time since one of the collectors came suddenly upon a large Chinese camp, when several of them immediately fled to the bushes to avoid payment. While the collector was settling with those who remained in the camp, an Indian who happened by and desired to render some assistance to the state, started in pursuit of the fugitives. He made a careful search in the chapparral, and as soon as one was found, he would collar the trembling delinquent, and bring him out on the road, would stand him inside of a well defined ring, which he cautioned him not to leave under the penalty of loosing the top of his head. In this manner the Indian collared about half a dozen, and then marched them in single file to the collector. It afforded the Indian unbounded satisfaction to see the celestials pay their dues, and he left highly delighted with the result of his labors.

JENNY LIND HAS GOT A BABY.—the "Otto of roses" is distilled. The fountain that has fed multitudes with the effluence of holiest song, now feeds holiest humanity that does its own singing. No more white gloves, enclosing frenzied fingers, applaud the virgin cantatrice, but little hands, softer than buds, put one another gently and joyously in the eyes of the young mother. "Ah mon fils" is sung no more over the parquette, but over the cradle. What a dear little darling the baby must be! We think we see Otto going into the room containing his double treasure. What to him is opera, as he bends over the sweet little snub nose that nestles in its noble mother's arms? Think of them all there together, and tell us, oh! ascetic old bachelor, and old maid unmarried from choice, (if there exist such a marvel) whether you think such happiness is to be cavalierly sneezed at? Does it not moisten the mouth of your imagination? We pause, for we have waked the baby. Jog the cradle, Otto.—Springfield Republican.

HOW TELEGRAPH MISTAKES ARE MADE.—An explanation of a recent blunder of the telegraph will illustrate the facility with which errors are committed through that medium of intelligence. A despatch from Baltimore, a few days ago, contained the following announcement: "Commodore Skinner is at Norfolk, where he has been seriously sick for some time. He is subject to fits." Now it happens that there is a telegraphic operator or agent of the N. Y. Associated Press at Norfolk, by the name of Skinner. An inquiry was sent from New York to Baltimore, to know what had become of said Skinner, from whom nothing had been heard for several days. The answer passed through the hands of an operator who had not seen the question, and who was unacquainted with the circumstances. He, considering that everything that passed through the telegraph was news, and that one whose health was an object of solicitude, must be a Colonel, or Commodore, or Professor, of course, ventured to prefix a title which he knew belonged to one of our gallant naval commanders, and thus to throw Commodore Skinner into fits, in the newspapers, when in reality that gentleman was perfectly well.

GREELY READS HIMSELF OUT OF PARTY TRACES.—Horace Greely, finding it too tough work to labor in party traces, thus reads himself into freedom:—

"We shall put up no ticket for State or other officers under our Editorial Head. We give this seasonable notice, in order that our course may not be misconstrued as implying dissatisfaction with the candidate or that ticket. Intending henceforth, while we cherish and advocate sound principles and beneficient measures, to act with entire independence of party usages, mandates or platforms, we shall treat the custom of displaying a ticket at the head of our Editorials as "more honored in the breach than the observance," and trust to our articles alone to vindicate our preferences and embody our convictions."

MISS MARTINEAU.—A correspondent writes that this lady is quite grey, and shows other signs of advancing age, but is very cheerful. She is now engaged in translating an infidel work entitled "Philosophie Positive," by Auguste Comte, the great French atheist, and is assisted in her labors by Professor Nichol, of Glasgow University, the celebrated astronomer.—N. Y. Express.

FLARE UP IN COURT.—The case of Thomas Butler coming up for trial in the Muncipal Court, in Boston, Mr. Mills, one of the jurors, asked to be excused from serving, his father being a witness. Mr. Samuel Wentworth, counsel for the defence, made some remark as to the ignorance of the juror of his father, when Mr. Mills said it he had said it anywhere else, he would have slapped his face. Judge Hoar ordered Mills into custody, but he subsequently begged the pardon of the court, and was released.

Judge Hoar did right in shutting up Mills; but he should have shut up Wentworth also, for presuming to browbeat a juryman and witness.

Judge Woodbury, years ago, used to say, "Sit down, Mr. ——," when Mr.—— went too far.

Mr. Cobden has just published a pamphlet with the significant title, "How wars are got up in India." The great champion of free trade has shown from official documents that almost any British officer having command in India may get up a quarrel with any of the native princes. It appears it was a certain Commodore Fletcher that began the Burmese war, by declaring the city of Rangoon in a state of blockade, and seizing on the King of Ava's shipping, just because he had been kept "a full quarter of an hour waiting for a reply" to a certain question he had proposed the Burmese government! This might well seem incredible, if not supported by incontestible British evidence.

A POOR MAN MADE RICH.—The Uniontown, Pa. Democrat says, Rev. Mr. Clawson, of the Methodist Protestant Church, who in many places is called the "wild man," in consequence of his eccentricities, is left heir to an estate in England valued at one million of dollars. Mr. C. was very poor, and has had to struggle thus far with a large and dependent family. The estate comes to him by his wife, and the business is so completely settled up that he can draw the amount through bankers either at New York or Philadelphia. He is travelling through a circuit near Clarksburge, in Western Virginia.

"TIME WORKS WONDERS."—The State Convention in New York, held under the auspices of John Van Buren and his political friends, have abandoned the famous platform constructed at Buffalo, and according to the New York Evening Post, their Convention "passed a string of resolutions that so far as we can see, are as thoroughly pro-slavery as the most impenetrable adamantine could desire." Shakspeare probably alludes to men like the New York politicians when he speaks of "Slippery people."

Rev. Thomas H. Stockwell, an eminent Protestant clergyman, now residing in Baltimore, proposes to issue the sixty-six books, which compose the Bible, according to the received version, in so many different volumes, each containing the text beautifully printed on large, open type, followed by an original dissertation, with explanatory notes, and everything essential to a fair understanding of the sacred text.

Three Irishmen, being intoxicated, took a whaleboat in Provincetown on Sunday last, and while attempting to row about the harbor, two of them fell overboard, and one of them was drowned.

The residence of G. P. R. James, Esq., British Consul at Norfolk, was fired for the fifth time. The flames however were extinguished without doing serious damage.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1853.

EDUCATION IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

We believe we have an able and industrious Board of Education in this State. Albert H. Hoyt is Commissioner for Rockingham county. Thomas J. Greenwood is President of the Board, and Hall Roberts Secretary.

The Board held a meeting in Concord on the 17th inst., and there prepared a Circular, in which they say:

They would recommend that much more attention be given in all our Schools to pronunciation and spelling, and that teachers require their pupils to spell in writing as well as orally; to pronounce the word correctly before it is spelled; to pronounce each syllable as it is spelled; to learn the rules of spelling, and the use of suffixes and affixes; to require every pupil that can read, to spell once or twice each day; to allow the pupils to try but once upon a word; and to adopt such methods as will make the exercises interesting and profitable. It was also believed that no pupil who attends school should be excused from giving careful and strict attention to orthography and orthoepy, and for the purpose of making progress in these important studies, that each pupil who can read in plain reading should be supplied with a dictionary.

As to the use of the Bible in our Schools, the belief was that it should be read at least once a day, and that, too, strictly for devotional purposes; that the selections be not wholly confined to the New Testament, but embrace, also, the preceptive and some of the historical parts of the Old; that geographical and all other allusions be explained; and that the exercises have particular reference to the wants of the school, and be so conducted as to awaken interest, and inculcate more fully than ever the principles of Christian morals.

The Board would look with favor upon the judicious introduction of the Physicial Sciences, as Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Botany, &c., into the Common Schools of this State, to illustrate and make interesting severer subjects, and to cultivate a taste for the pursuit of such studies; but they would entirely object to their taking the place of or crowding upon the primary branches, as Reading and Spelling, Writing, Grammar, Arithmetic and Geography.

At this meeting a description of the plan and arrangments of several School-Houses in the State was given, and the influence they have had in awakening a more general interest in the community in relation to School Architecture. In the structure of this class of buildings it was thought that reference should be had not only to durability and convenience, but, also, to taste and beauty. The rooms should be spacious and high-posted; the floors carpeted; the walls neatly papered and well supplied with black-boards; and in all other respects the apartments should be so arranged and furnished as to promote the order and quietness of the school.

The opinion was unanimously entertained that the time had already come when our School Laws should be so far amended as to require Teachers to be qualified to teach their pupils the elements of Hygiene and Physiology.

A resolution was unanimously adopted, declaring it as the sentiment of the Board, that more than one-third of the school money of the State is annually lost by a multiplicity of School Districts. Till this evil is remedied, scholars cannot, as a general thing, be properly classified, nor the Schools accomplish the good of which they are capable.

The subject of Teacher's Institutes was fully considered, and it was resolved that they should be conducted, 1st, with reference to the improvement of Teachers in the art of teaching—of governing, classifying and arranging a mixed school. 2d. That eminent experienced Teachers should be employed to give instruction therein. 3d. That they should be conducted in all respects upon the plan of the best model Schools. 4th. That the instruction should be of a practical character, and such as will meet the wants of our Schools. 5th. That a free interchange of the views and opinions of different members should be required, so that the experience of each may become the property of all—and 6th. That all the exercises should be conducted in such a manner as will enable the Teachers to shorten the way and make agreeable the road to sound learning, and interest their pupils in what is pure and lovely and of good report.

The sentiment was unanimously entertained that it was both legal and proper for the Teacher, in concurrence with the parent, to exercise a salutary control and influence over the pupil at all times out of school-hours, and that the good conduct and well being of youth require parents to encourage it, and Teachers to exercise it.

SUICIDE.—Mr. William Little, aged about 70 years, who for the past year has resided with Rodnia Nutt, Esq., in the south part of Manchester, N. H., was found dead, having committed suicide by hanging himself to a tree, on Friday morning.

☞ The Towns of Nashua and Nashville have both voted, by handsome majorities, to accept their united charter, by which they become one city.

DEATHS FROM FOUL AIR.—A few days ago, three Irishmen, who were doing some work about a cess-pool in a common sewer in Boston, were prostrated by the noisome gas which had gathered there, and were drawn up and carried home sick. Two of them have since died.

Mr. Miller, of Washington, fell backwards and died while praying at a camp meeting near Belfast Maine. He had been powerfully exercised about the conversion of two of his daughters.

Calculators think that upper Canada will have a surplus this year over that of any former season of four million bushels of wheat, value $4,000,000.

MATRIMONIAL INFELICITIES.—We have already mentioned the divorce, by a Court in Greenfield, Mass., of Rev. Eleazer F. King, at the suit of his wife Elzorah: and also the petition of Mrs. Prudence W. Eastman, for divorce from Rev. John Eastman, yet undecided.

The Newburyport Herald contains some particulars of both the cases, which may lead to a better understanding of them.

In the first case, that of Rev. Mr. King of Heath, the parties were married in 1844. Mr. King, eight months after marriage, brought charges before the church or council against his wife, to the effect that she charged him with preaching in bad grammar, and had advised him to give up preaching until he knew more. The council decided he had no just grounds of complaint; whereupon the faithless husband declared that he would, and did wilfully and utterly desert his wife, and to this day the charms of the fair lady have not availed to bring back the deserter. Wherefore the Court decreed a divorce, that the lady should resume her maiden name, and that she should have $100 a year as alimony in quarterly payments.

The other was the case of the wife of Rev. John Eastman, of Hawley. This case excites considerable interest, and a large number of clergymen and ladies were present as witnesses and spectators. The lady is Mr. Eastman's second wife, and they were married about eight years since. It is charged that Mr. Eastman, the respondent, from a short time after the marriage down to Dec. 22d, 1852, treated his wife with coldness and harshness, and on several occasions with violence; that he subjected her to drudgery, and neglected her in sickness, intercepted her letters and restrained her liberty; and that last December he carried her to the Brattleboro' Insane Hospital on a pretence of insanity.

The lady, who is said to be very well educated and accomplished, sits by her counsel. Two of her brothers, one of whom is a clergyman, and one or more sisters, were present as her witnesses.

The case was not decided at the last advices.

These cases seem to have arisen merely out of unsuitable matches. The high spirited lady in the first case, who was wedded to a clerical dunce or blockhead, ought to have ascertained his skill in dialectons before marriage. In the other, the black cloth only covered a brute, if the allegations are correct. We wish to see them shown up to the world with their masks stripped off. Let as know what denominations they disgrace, and let the seal of their reprobation be placed on them, if they deserve it, but not otherwise.

VERBAL CRITICISM.

In the Circular just issued by our Board of Education, we read this sentence:

"The Commissioners did not think it proper to make hardly any changes in the list of Text Books."

Now we take it upon us to say that the Commissioners do not mean what they have here said, but the very opposite. They have made hardly any changes; and they have certainly done as they thought proper; though the report says they "did not" so think.

We will not blame them too much, however, for almost any writer or speaker who suffers himself to use negatives and diminutives together, will be apt to get entangled, and probably tripped up, before he gets through the sentence into which he weaves them.

The best preventive against such accidents, is the cultivation of a direct style. Our simplicity should not degenerate into awkwardness; and our easy writing should never become careless.

Again we read:

"This subject, [that of school districts] should be kept constantly before the public attention."

Here is a slight inaccuracy; too slight for notice in almost any document, except on Education; yet it is inaccurate, and the newspapers have it better, when they say "keep it before the People."

The Board of Education mean the same thing, and would have come very near saying it, if they had stopped at the word public. This much they can do:—viz. "keep it before the public"—but the attention is quite another thing. I may invite attention to a subject, but I may not be able to command or keep it—or even to keep anything before (?) it.

Professor Andrews Norton, for many years connected with Harvard University, and a distinguished theological writer and eminent scholar, died on Sunday evening last at Newport, after a protracted illness, aged about 68 years.

STANZAS.

The sleepy vapors of the swamp
Came down in romping rain,
And sunny buckets from the clouds
Will dip them up again.
The semi-wreath which spans the earth,
By angel fingers wove,
Melts only that its hues may bloom
In some Elysian grove.

The shrub that seems in winter time,
A shriveled, lifeless thing,
Bursts forth like frozen rivulets
Beneath the breath of spring;
And are we less than buds or rain,
Or vapors in the sky,
That we should live, our all, our end,
To blossom, bloom and die? ***

Samuel Sinclair, Foreman of second Jury.

The Court were occupied throughout the day in calling the docket. About 140 cases were marked for trial.

No. 34 is in order for trial. The Court adjourned in the afternoon to 9 o'clock to-day.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

The U. S. District Court was in session in this city on Tuesday, Hon. Matthew Harvey, Judge.

The cases on the docket having been continued, no business except the naturalization of a few aliens, was done in Court. The Court adjourned in the forenoon, without day.

"NO ADMITTANCE."—"Three gentlemen from the South," have sent us a few lines of complaint, that they could not get admittance into the "Portsmouth Factory," on application; and ask the proper mode of obtaining admittance.

We have never found any difficulty in gaining entrance to a mill or factory. Gentlemen who wish to enter the Portsmouth Steam Mill, can do so by obtaining a pass at the Counting Room in front of it. The courtesy of a pass is always extended to proper persons; though for very obvious reasons, indiscriminate admissions are out of the question.

The Wheeling Gazette has an account of the arrest of the Postmaster at Henrysburg, Belmont county, Ohio, named Eaton, and his daughter, an educated and accomplished young lady, for robbing the mails. For several months suspicions had been aroused, and the secret mail agent, having learned that a marked bill had been passed by Eaton's daughter, went to the village, but found that the suspected parties had fled. Obtaining what information he could, he started in pursuit. Seven or eight miles travel brought to view a beautiful little cottage, before the door of which a gay and laughing group was assembled, wiling away the time right merrily. He detected the fugitives as part of the company and walking into their midst, startled them with the anouncement—"You are my prisoners."—The ladies shrieked, and their male friends coaxed, but all to no purpose. During the night however, Eaton escaped, leaving his daughter in the hands of the officers, who took her to Steubenville. She is represented as young, handsome and intelligent, and had been engaged in arranging her dresses for her marriage with one of the wealthiest men in that section of the country, which was to have taken place the next week.

However poetic an Englishman may get, he never allows himself to soar above comfort. If he goes to Nineveh, it is in company with a hamper of bottled ale. Meet him on the Great Pyramid, and it will be behind a mug of black tea, and a side dish of sandwiches. John never allows his reverence of the ancients to do injury to himself. Should he ever explore the internal arrangements of Ætna, it would be with three pockets filled with crackers and cheese, and one with London Porter. John differs radically from Jonathan. Let the former meet a native in the Great Desert, and the first thing he would inquire for would be the nearest hotel. The first thing Jonathan would ask for, would be the latest news from York, and "What is going on in Boston?" A friend of ours once met an Englishman and an American, on a cliff near the Falls of St. Anthony. The former was imbibing a little 'alf and alf', while the latter was going it blind on the Morning Herald.—John can do nothing till he eats; while Jonathan is non compos till he has imbibed the latest news.—N. Y. Dutchman.

Bay State Stoves.
THE Subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has for sale all sizes of this favorite Stove. Having sold them in this city for five years past, they have been thoroughly tested with wood and coal, and are found perfect in every respect.
Those put in operation four and five years since have had no repairs made upon them, and are to all appearance as good as ever. So great is the popularity of these Stoves, that many imitations of it are put into the market, such as the Granite State, Empire State, &c.; but none of them are equal to it in weight or quality of castings, cooking facilities, or economy of fuel.
To all who are in want of a GOOD Cooking Stove, we would say—buy a BAY STATE, and you are sure to get THE BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.
The subscriber has for sale, also, a variety of other Cook Stoves, Cooking Ranges, Parlor Grates, Office and Parlor Stoves. Funnel, &c. for sale low for cash. E. A. STEVENS,

ENGLISH TEETH BRUSHES—of very fine quality, sold by s10 JGM J. H. THACHER.

New York, Sept. 20.—A private letter from Mexico states that Santa Anna was endeavoring to effect a forced loan of seventeen millions from the clergy. He had succeeded in raising a large body of troops for his standing army, but was destitue of the means to support them.

A letter from Havana states that the health of the city proper was good, but the mortality among the soldiers and marine employees was excessive, and that all the hospitals were full of patients.

It was reported that Canedo had been removed, and that his successor was on the way.

The latest gossip from Washington states that John Y. Mason, of Virginia, will receive the French mission, and Ex-Senator Allen, of Ohio, that to China.

Kingston, N. Y., Sept. 18th.—The trial of the Rev. H. W. Smuller before the Classis of Ulster terminated yesterday; there was only one specification proceeded in—that involving a charge of adultery, on which the Classis acquitted the respondent of the graver charge, but adjudged him guilty of an infringement, alluded to, which occurred while on a visit to a very respectable married lady of this village.

Fire in Derry, N. H.—We learn from Cheney, Hill & Co.'s express, that the shoe manufactory of R. Boyd & Co., in Derry, N. H., was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning, 18th inst. Loss from $6000 to $7000. Insured $2500. The building was owned by Benjamin Eastman, Esq., and was insured for $1000. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Almost a Suicide.—We understand that an attorney, of more than ordinary talent, residing in a neighboring county, made an attempt to commit suicide a few days ago. We do not deem it advisable to give his name at present. He has for some years been a hard drinker, and was probably laboring under some mental derangement at the time, which induced him to attempt so rash an act. The circumstances, as we have them, are these:—He was attending the court in session in his county, and occupying a chamber at the hotel. He applied to the landlord for the loan of a razor, but indicating by his appearance that something was wrong, the landlord denied his request, and followed him to his room, where he found him with an open knife, in the act of attempting to cut his throat. Seeing the landlord, he leaped through the window, and plunged into the canal near by. Some two or three minutes elapsed before he was taken out, and it was with difficulty he was resuscitated.—Manchester Mirror.

A New Turn in the Temperance Movement.—A real, genuine, out-and-out Teetotaller, says he likes this Table-turning vastly; for though it keeps folks to the table, still it keeps them from the bottle. "The table may go round," he says, "but the wine does not circulate." There may be more in this teetotaller's chuckle than wine bibbers imagine.—We ourselves have heard of a wealthy city man, who is nearly as mean as the Marquis of Northminster, who spares his Port regularly, by proposing to his company as soon as the cloth is removed, that "they should try a little of this table-moving that is so much talked about." The decanters are removed, and he keeps his company with their fingers fixed upon the mahogany, until coffee is announced. We warn all persons who are in the habit of dining out, against lending their hands to this favorite trick.—Punch.

New York Liquor Sellers.—A meeting of keepers of restaurants, &c., of New York, was holden in that city on Friday evening, for the purpose of raising the price of glasses of liquor from six cents to ten cents. A resolve to this effect was passed, and the meeting was adjourned to Friday evening next. On the same day fifty liquor sellers, on a small scale, who had been refused licences, were arrested for selling illegally. They plead guilty, and are to be sentenced on Wednesday.

A Decoy.—The Bangor Mercury of Saturday, says:—We understand a seizure of a hogshead of river water was made by the police this morning, at a house which had been watched during the night. The hogshead was conveyed to the premises as a decoy.

Scarcity of Seamen.—Shipping merchants at New York complain greatly of the continued scarcity of seamen. The best sailors are said to be in the California, Australia and East India service. The present rate of wages to Liverpool is $18 a month, $20 a $25 advance; to Havre, $16 a $18, with $20 advance; to East Indies and California, $12, and two months' advance. To New Orleans it is still very difficult to procure seamen. The wages paid is $16, and $12 advance; a few days since, when the fever was at its height, $20 advance was offered.

On Saturday evening about 5 o' clock, as the Saxonville train, on the Worcester Railroad, was passing Keenland street, the locomotive came in contact with a horse and carriage, when the fore legs of the animal were cut off below the knee. The vehicle was dashed in pieces. In it was a drunken Irishman, together with a woman. The latter fortunately escaped harm, and the Irishman was not seriously injured.—Boston Times.

Lawless Lawyers.—Two well known members of the Suffolk Bar had a personal encounter in the lower passage way of the Court House on Saturday. After a smart round in the pummeling line, they grappled and rolled upon the floor like beasts. This rare bellicose demonstration grew out of an examination in the Police Court.—Boston Bee.

Singular Death.—A child ten months old, died in the cars recently, on the London and Western Railway. It had ridden in charge of its mother, all night in the third class cars, lying on its mother's knee the whole time. It was decided upon a post mortem examination, that it had been suffocated from the foul air of the car.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as there are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as her or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (sealed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

For sale by Hotchkiss & Co., 13 Court st.; Reding & Co., 18 State st.; Fetredge & Co., 16 State and 72 Washington sts.; and Wm. V. Spencer, 128 Washington st.—Boston, Mass.

THE POEM—"THE DYING HEBREW."—We published in our paper of Saturday morning, a poem, which was delivered at the commencement at Bowdoin College, by one of the graduating class as his own property. Our reporter, who was present, through one of the Professors of the College, requested a copy of it for publication. The copy was not then given, but was afterwards sent to us, and knowing it to be a poem which was very much admired, we published it without examining it. We have since discovered that it is taken entire from and English poem, entitled "The Devil's Progress," and published in the Court Journal, in 1849.—State of Maine.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP Has reproduced the story of the intended marriage of Caleb Cushing with a rich Catholic lady of Maryland, with the addition that if the lady would be gratified by a winter at Paris, as the lady of the American Minister, the Attorney-General would take the vacant Ambassadorship.

The Vermont State Fair came off at Montpelier last Wednesday. The St. Johnsbury Caledonian says "the display of horses and sheep was large and excellent; of cattle moderate; and dito in almost everything else."

Bridgewater Paint

MANUFACTURED by the Bridgewater Paint Manufacturing Company, New Jersey. The Company have now on hand a supply of this Paint, which they offer to the public as the best article known for roofs, decks and bottoms of steamers and other vessels, and for brick and wood work generally; and from its spark and cinder proof qualities they can safely recommend it as the best and most perfect protection for railroad and other bridges, cars, depot buildings, &c.

The strongest testimonials of the virtues of this article from officers of the army, superintendents of railroads, insurance companies, captains of vessels, painters, &c. may be seen at the store of the subscribers, who having been appointed sole Agents for the same, offer it to the trade at the manufacturers' prices.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the act of 1837,) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, TWENTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all papers for patents and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and former accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ——

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NEGATIVE PRINCIPLE, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting disease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

Doctor Alfred G. Hall may be consulted by letter, or in person at his rooms, No. 15 Winter St., Boston, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. ☞ Medicines, &c. forwarded by Express to any part.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidence of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself.—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest praise has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity, and by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&w6m je22

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and efficient remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and efficacious tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

Respectfully yours,

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered. Consumption can be cured! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!

N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

Recollections of Old Acquintance.

JUDGE LIVERMORE, as sketched by N. P. Rogers.—We did not know Judge Livermore—but have heard his fame. We did know Mr. N. P. Rogers, as a fine writer and a noble man,—and therefore cheerfully adopt the following article, which we find floating in the papers without an owner.

THE LATE JUDGE LIVERMORE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.—A few years since, the late Nathaniel P. Rogers, one of the noblest men and one of the best writers that New Hampshire ever produced, wrote a series of letters to the New York Tribune under the signature of 'The Old Man of the Mountain,' in which he gave some very graphic descriptions of the great mountains and great men of the Granite State. In one of these letters he thus spoke of Judge Livermore, who has but recently died:

"Old Judge Livermore, I said, was another eminent native here, who had the magnanimity to stay at home. He was sometimes at the Bar and sometimes on the Bench. He was not a man of books, though he occasionally looked into them to see if they agreed with him in opinion. If they didn't it was their hurt, not his; and when they did differ, they said he was oftenest in the right.

'It is laid down so and so, in Coke Littleton, please the Court,' said a Counsel once to him in an argument.

'Coke was an arbitrary man,' said the Judge in reply.

Said the Counsel, 'A Massssachusetts' Judge of some standing, was of the same opinion in such a case—Theophilus Parsons!'

'Mr. Parsons was a great adherent to precedent,' said the Judge; 'the law is not so in New Hampshire.'

And they said the Judge was right. He would decide for himself, if all the Judges in Old England and New were of other opinion. It bothered the lawyers more than it did the people. You have not a Judge on your Empire Bench, Mr. Tribune, that can stand up (he always stood up, long after other New Hampshire Judges used to sit down, and had the jury stand up too) and charge a jury, with the clear strong sense and old Shakspeare English, that our New Hampshire Judge Livermore could, and that he could now, if he he has got bodily strength left, though he might be eighty.

They sent him to Congress at the time John Randolph was there. Randolph thought he looked a little too stately and baronial for a Northerner, and thought he would make him aware that he did not come from Old Virginia. Livermore had made a few remarks in his peculiar way; and not to Mr. Randolph's mind.

He immediately got up and in the Roanoke vein and manner, said that the gentleman from Vermont had said so and so, &c.

The House felt the taunt all around—all but Livermore, who not noticing it at all quietly rose when Randolph had done, and said—

'Mr. Speaker: I respect the opinions of the gentleman from Rhode Island, but must differ from him in this instance,' &c., going directly into the argument as though no mistake had been made.

Randolph put on his fur cap and went out to see what had become of Juba and Sphyax. The sensation throughout the House may be imagined. Henry Clay was writing a letter at the moment; on finishing a sentence of it, he went to Judge Livermore and told him that he had been writing to Mr. ——, of Philadelphia, of the extinction of Randolph.

Mr. Randolph did not mistake Judge Livermore's State after that—though if the haughty Virginian had but known, it was a greater honor to come from Vermont than from his own worn out tobacco field—the Old Dominion."

QUEEN VICTORIA.

The English papers are filled with accounts of the Queen's visit to Dublin. We are gravely told that the Queen bought season tickets to the Dublin exhibition, and inspected the articles therein exhibited with great minuteness, making several purchases. It is stated that—

"Whilst viewing a collection of toys, her Majesty ordered a hobby horse and some other articles; but, not satisfied with this, when his royal parents had proceeded on their tour, the Prince of Wales, accompanied by his tutor, returned to the fascinating collection, and invested some of his pocket money in the purchase of a mechanical model of a coach driven by a black coachman, and a spinning top, both selected with all the care and circumspection of a connoisseur in such matters."

During the visit of the royal family, the young Prince of Wales presented to the boys of the military school a pair of colors, making the following speech:

"I have sincere pleasure in presenting you with these colors; you are soldiers' sons, and know how to value them. I hope you will keep them in remembrance of this day."

Subsequently the Royal family in great state, proceeded to the pleasure grounds in front of the Vice-regal Lodge for the purpose of planting four trees in commemoration of the Royal visit. This was a commendable ceremony, and will doubtless make tree planting very fashionable, in which case future generations will have cause to bless the amiable Queen, and her estimable consort. The account says:

"The trees selected for planting on the occasion were presented by Mr. Nevin, landscape gardner. They comprised two fine specimens of the 'Cryptamera Japonica' and two of the 'Auricaria Inabicata.' The former were planted by her Majesty and Prince Albert, and the latter by the Prince of Wales and Prince Alfred. A thriving young Irish oak was also supplied by Mr. Nevie, which her Majesty planted. The trees having been placed in the position assigned them, her Majesty, with a silver trowel, with which she was presented by the Lord-Lieutenant, threw in some earth on their roots from a mahogany tray. The same was done by the Royal Princes in the planting each of their trees; but Prince Albert wielded a shovel vigorously in throwing in the earth around the roots of his tree to the quantity required."

Various other festivities commemorated the visit of the Queen, which terminated on the 3d. On that day the Queen and her suite proceeded to Holyhead, and thence to Scotland.

A man purchasing ducks in the Washington City market, laid a 5$ bill on his basket, when a hungry duck snapped at and swallowed it, to the merriment of the spectators.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1853.

POLITCAL TIT BITS.

There is something remarkably crooked about party politics the present year. Since President Pierce took his seat in the big chair, everybody seems to think the Union is safe enough, and so every party, faction and clique is engaged in agitation. Their confusion puts us in mind of the old training field at Portsmouth Plains, on a fall muster day, forty-five years ago. The regiment was marching round, at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, with drums a beating and colors flying, carriages were going every way, horses rearing up, negroes and sailors fighting, and a noise and fuss generally, was growing, as Handel said, "worser and worser."

We can think of nothing more like this year's politics, than that old muster. Here are some rare items from late papers.

"HAVE WE A DEMOCRATIC FREE SOIL BEAMONG US?"—Not one! All have 'caved.' Gen. Dix capitulated in his letter to Georgia. John Van Buren, Martin Grover, John Cochran, &c., surrendered at Syracuse, where the ship 'Free Soil' was scuttled. Her crew was taken from the wreck by the clipper ship 'Soft Shell,' Capt. Seymour, whose courage and humanity in rescuing the sufferers, is highly commended. Not a plank of the "Buffalo Platform" remains. John Van Buren's recorded oath, to devote the remainder of his life to the cause of Free Soil has been "expunged;" and hereafter, when that ebony champion, S. R. Ward, makes a free soil speech, he must get sombody else to hold his hat, for Mr. Cochran has become a healer of "bleeding wounds," and a setter-up with the Union!—Albany Journal.

THE ELECTION.—The long agony is over! The legitimate democracy are incontinently floored! "So mote it be!" The reader who has watched the current of things, will not expect us to grumble. We were forearmed, and have come to be very philosophical about everything. The democracy has been oversloughed by every sort of ism—every kind of combination—wherein men seized upon every hobby—and professed a hypocritical interest in everything but the old democratic organization.

When Coleridge was in Cologne, as we remember, he found there several smells, which describes, perhaps, with some exaggeration:

"Eighty-seven different stinks, all well defined,
And several stenches."

We had almost as many parties—and our illustration is not far out of the way. All sorts of incongruous and misshapen flags have been nailed to every kind of crooked and ungainly mast.

Now, what ought we to do? The complexion of the Legislature (which will have the Governor to elect) is hardly fixed. But one thing is certain—if the whigs do not have it, they and the Morrill men will. There is no making anything out of such material, and the whigs will no doubt have the unrestrained freedom of the yard, for one or two years.—Again, "so mote it be." Let the democracy walk together through the fires of purification. It will do us good, and then we will start again, and see if professed democrats will—

"——still be hammering treachery.
To tumble down their party and themselves,
From top of honor to disgrace's feet.

THE "PRINCE" OF POLITICIANS.—John Van Buren, in a speech at the convention in Syracuse, made some capital hits in telling his political experience. He said:

'I have heard that, during this Convention, several axes have been seen in the crowd, but I have seen none. I knew there were several who came here with axes to grind, but they had brought them to the wrong place. [Laughter.] I have been in many Conventions, and, as a matter of course, my seat is always contested. [Renewed laughter.] I have attended five Conventions, in some of which I have been turned out, and in others have been received. In this Convention however, my competitor had not the courage to face the music, and therefore I had an opportunity to take a long run.—[Great laughter.]

TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER.—In the Boston Municipal Court, on Monday, Patrick Fleming was put on trial on a charge of having hastened the death of his son, by withholding from him suitable food and other comforts. His counsel, Messrs. J. A. Bradley and E. N. Moore, moved that the indictment be quashed on the ground that the son being of age, the father was not legally bound to support him. The Court sustained the objection and the defendant was discharged.

The Court did wrong, as we think, entirely wrong. A sick stranger comes to my door, and I take him and lodge him in my cellar or attic. I am "not legally bound to support him," say more than I am my son who is of age;—but if I let him starve or suffer there from neglect, when by a word I might send him to the Alms House Hospital, I am guilty of a crime and ought to be punished. Perhaps it may not be, as we think it is, manslaughter, but it is a crime, beyond question; and though this brute of a father is discharged from the custody of an earthly tribunal, he can by no means escape the penalty of that higher and better law which is as certain in its operation as it is just in its infliction.—Murder may not kill him; but the mark of Cain is on his brow; and his money—which he loved better than his child—may perish with him.

In many of the slave States a proposition is now being agitated, having for its object the exemption of negroes for sale under execution. That will be an important step in the abolition of Slavery.

A CLASSIS.—What is a classis? asks a reader, who saw a paragraph, stating that the classis of Ulster had reprimanded a clergyman for some unchaste advances.

A Classis is a judicatory of the Dutch Reformed and French Churches, somewhat similar to a Presbytery among the Presbyterians, an Association among Congregationalists, or a Conference among Methodists. It is the body which looks after the manners and morals of its clerical members.

The Ulster Classis, in the case mentioned, sat in Kingston, N. Y., on trial of the Rev. H. W. Smuller, of the Dutch Church, and gave the following verdict:

"That the Classis cannot say that Brother Smuller was guilty of any adulterous intent. That it appears to this Classis that Brother Smuller has committed an infringement on the laws of decency and decorum, in regard to which the Classis feel themselves bound to express their earnest disapprobation and reproof."

It is generally understood that the "infringement" alluded to, occurred while Mr. S. was on a visit to a very respectable married lady in Kingston.

The Classis are right in stating matters so plainly in regard to "Brother Smuller," who appears to be one of these lecherous clerical scoundrels who are a disgrace to the church and a pest to the world.

COPY RIGHT OF MAGAZINES.—Some persons advance the idea that the Copy Right of Putnam's Magazine, being on the Number, does not protect the separate and several pieces of which the number is composed; and therefore, they maintain that the Harpers did not infringe any legal right by copying "Uncle Bernard's Story."

We consider these persons to be rather "fast" lawyers; for if this dictum of theirs were law, then the printers of newspapers might copy as much as they pleased from the Magazines; and the copy rights of the latter would not be worth a copper.

MOSQUITOES.—A mail contractor in Texas, alleges in excuse for several recent failures on his route, that the mosquitos are so bad there as to actually endanger the life of man and beast. The Washington Star does not doubt the truth of the statement.

An interesting country that, to read newspapers in. Of course they could not be printed there, unless the compositors were kept in a glass case or a cheese safe.

GOOD ENOUGH FOR HIM.—In Dorchester, Mass., on Saturday afternoon, a gentleman and lady were walking near the railroad bridge, Washington Village, when a man rudely accosted the lady, and insulted her in the most gross manner. At that, her companion attacked him, gave him a severe thrashing, and sent him home with a bloody nose and battered head. Officer Geo. W. Tuckerman arrived just after the affray, but did not arrest the man who gave the beating, thinking the recipient well deserved the punishment he received.

WAGES IN SAN FRANCISCO.—The following are the rates of wages in San Francisco, as fully established by the recent strikes, combinations, and compromises, per day:—

Bricklayers $10; stone-cutters $10; shipcarpenters and caulkers $10; plasterers $9; house-carpenters $8; blacksmiths $8; watchmakers and jewellers $8; painters and glaziers $6; tailors $4; along-shore men $6; hod men $6; shoemakers $100 per month without boarding; teamsters $100 to $120 per month, finding themselves; and farm hands $50 per month and found.

DEATH OF REV. MR. FREEMAN.—Rev. Charles Freeman, the well known pastor of the Congregational Church, in Limerick, Me., died on Monday. He was a son of Judge Freeman, a distinguished citizen, intimately connected with the early official history of Portland.

MACKEREL FISHERMEN.—A gentleman writing from Gloucester, under the date of the 20th, says:—

The following vessels arrived from the Bay of St. Lawrence yesterday:—Schooner Isabella, Kendall; Mary Jones, Carter; and Golden Rule, Bartlett. They have been absent about three months, and met with poor luck, the three vessels having only 200 barrels of mackerel. They will not pay their expenses. There were mackerel in shore, but they dare not venture in on account of the vigilance of the British cruisers.

They bring news up to the 12th inst, and spoke a large number of Gloucester vessels, with only small fares of mackerel, not averaging more than 50 barrels each. The prospect is now that it will be a poor season for the Gloucester vessels on the North-East coast.

The new clipper schooner 'Winged Racer,' Parker, was spoken on the 7th inst, North of Gaspe. She had been taken (not seized) by some of Her Majesty's fleet for a United States revenue cutter, and the usual civilities were about to be shown, when they found that the "Winged Racer" was a Gloucester fishing clipper.

Mackerel are on the rise in this market, and there will not be more than one-half the number of barrels packed here, or landed, that there were last year.

The schooner Harp, Siles, arrived at Rockport last week from the Bay, with only 50 barrels.

LOCAL.

NAVAL.

The Fishing Squadron is dispersed, by the orders carrying the vessels to different destinations. The Princeton goes to New York; the Crane to Washington; the Fulton to Philadelphia; and the Decator is already at Boston fitting for distant service. We learn that the Commodore will, probably, haul down his broad pennent to-morrow. All the vessels of the Squadron have been on the most energetic service since July. They have passed over nearly twelve thousand miles in their several cruises. The Fulton, alone, under her indomitable and gallant Watson, has accomplished four thousand miles. She would make an effective despatch vessel for the emergencies of the Navy Department—and she ought to be retained for that purpo se.

Reported for the Chronicle.

Court of Common Pleas—Sept. Term.

WEDNESDAY, 21st.

Case No. 34, James Palmer and Benj. Barker vs Stephen Smith, was commenced this morning. This is an action on the case for diverting water from plaintiff's mill, situate in Derry, on Beaver Brook, opposite defendant's mill. Each party owning a mill, one on one side, and one on the other side of the river. The evidence for the plff. consisting of depositions, was concluded in the afternoon, and the case was opened for the deft. by Mr. Marston. The deft's evidence was not closed when the Court adjourned to nine o'clock Thursday morning.

Stickney & French for Plffs.; Porter & Marston for Deft.

Nos. 35, 37 and 45 are next in order for trial.

☞ On Sunday last, fishing sch. Charles Augustus, of Cohasset, anchored in our lower harbor, near Fort Constitution, and at night all hands turned in. By some means the anchor got foul, and as the tide rose the vessel tripped her anchor and drifted silently up river three miles, until she struck Portsmouth Bridge, where she carried away her main boom and main mast. The crash awoke the crew, as also Mr. Hurd, the veteran toll-gatherer, who rushed to the rescue, lantern in hand, about the time the crew got on deck.—He was ready to answer their anxious enquiries as to where they were and how they should get clear.

FORESTALLING.—A novel excitement has just sprung up in Cincinnati. Some of the market people, both farmers and hucksters, have been arrested, fined and imprisoned, under a city ordinance. They carried on the system of forestalling, by which the prices of domestic produce are greatly raised on the citizens. The farmers wholesaled the products of their farms during market hours to hucksters, and the latter bought up all of certain articles, so as to command whatever rates they chose to demand in retailing them.—The arrests led to the holding of a large indignation meeting of farmers last week, at which they resolved to vote for no man for the Legislature who would not pledge himself, in writing, to vote to deprive every city and town in the State of the power to pass any such ordinance as the one now in force in Cincinnati, and also in favor of repealing the law creating the Cincinati Police Court, which imposed the fines.

A RUFFIAN DISPOSED OF.—On Thursday morning last, as we learn from the Commonwealth, a middle-aged man called at the house of Geo. Wright, in Acton, Mass., and (in his absence) requested Mrs. Wright to give him some breakfast. It being past their breakfast hour, Mrs. Wright sat some cold food upon the table for the applicant, and told him he was welcome. He refused to eat it, and, raving like a madman, declared if she did not cook him a warm breakfast in ten minutes, he would split her head open. Mrs. Wright's daughter immediately ran for assistance, and in the meantime, she pretended to be complying with the villain's wish. The little girl very soon returned, however, with Col. Faulkner, (late Senator from Middlesex,) and Mr. George Todd. The Colonel told the ruffian he must go with him to Concord.

The man refused at first, but upon being told that if he hesitated he would be ironed, he consented to accompany the gentleman, who proceeded to Concord, where he was taken before Justice Ball, and after examination, sentenced to the House of Correction at Cambridge, for six months. He had a trunk with him, marked "S. R." containing a broad axe.

For the Morning Chronicle.

TO MY OLD GLOVE.

Tried friend, and faithful! must I give thee up!
Thou, who hast borne me company so long?
I read reproaches in thy finger ends—
I will enshrine thy memory in my song.
The meek companion of my every walk
Can I desert thee now? ungrateful thought!
Thy color bright, in my own service dimmed,
Thy palm looks up with indignation fraught!

Thou, who hast joined with me in friendship's clasp,
And ever moved obedient to my will;
Example thou of holy precepts taught
Returning good to the who used thee ill.

Thou too, hast saved my hand, my poor old glove,
From many a murderous scratch by thorn or brier,
And shelter given from wind, and rain, and sun!
Oh who would not such constancy admire?

Farewell! farewell! old friend! I'll lay thee by—
For thou, like all things else, art growing old,
Yet in my heart I'll cherish all thy deeds,
And think of thee when e'er my hands are cold.

The Vermont State Banner says one of the Whig Senators in Bennington county, Wilmington, was elected over Martin, Democrat, by a majority of one. That makes the list of Whig Senators 16, instead of 15, as we made it the other day. As yet, Grand Isle shows a tie for want of one more vote.

Bay State Stoves.

THE Subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has for sale all sizes of this favorite Stove. Having sold them in this city for five years past, they have been thoroughly tested with wood and coal, and are found perfect in every respect.

Those put in operation four and five years since have had no repairs made upon them, and are to all appearance as good as ever. So great is the popularity of these Stoves, that many imitations of it are put into the market, such as the Granite State, Empire State, &c.; but none of them are equal to it in weight or quality of castings, cooking facilities, or economy of fuel.

To all who are in want of a GOOD Cooking Stove, we would say—buy a BAY STATE, and you are sure to get THE BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The subscriber has for sale, also, a variety of other Cook Stoves, Cooking Ranges, Parlor Grates, Office and Parlor Stoves, Funnel, &c. for sale low for cash. E. A. STEVENS,

THE FEVER AT THE SOUTH.—Baltimore, Sept. 20.—New Orleans papers of Wednesday are received. At Madisonville the fever was committing great ravages.

Cincinnati Sept. 18th.—A Dr. T. J. Trimble accused of being an abolitionist, and of kidnapping slaves at Union, Bourne county, Ky., has been arrested and held to bail in the sum of $15,000.

So great is the excitement in that vicinity that they threaten violence against any person who offered to become his surety.

Mobile Sept. 19.—The interments on Saturday were 30, deaths by fever 26; yesterday 20 fever 18.

THE FEVER.—Among those who died by yellow fever at New Orleans on Saturday, was R. W. Hill, Esq. He was among the most wealthy citizens of New Orleans, and certainly no one excelled him in benevolent deeds. Soon after the fever broke out, he gave instructions to the treasurer of the Howard Association to draw on him for $100 weekly during the continuance of the fever in that city. He gave liberally to every association for religious and charitable objects, not sparingly, but when the cause required it, by thousands. It is but a few weeks since a new Methodist Church was dedicated, and if our memory is correct, Mr. Hill gave $10,000 towards the debt then due on the building.—New York Com. Adv.

ROME, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The Oneida Independent Convention have concluded their deliberations, having made their nominations, endorsed the Maine Law, &c.

Edward Loomis is their nominee for Senator, and Thamas G. Frost for Attorney General.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 20.—700 or 800 men, with 300 or 400 teams, are at work on the break in the Canal at Bushnell Basin. It will probably be navigable again by Sunday.

Wheat is selling here for $1.23 a $1.25, a decline.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20.—The Mobile papers of the 14th state that there was no abatement of the fever, but that patients were increasing both in hospitals and in private practice.

WHOLESALE INDICTMENT OF LIQUOR SELLERS.—New York, Sept. 21.—The Grand Jury of this city have indicted over one thousand persons for illegally selling liquor.

TERRIBLE MURDER IN PENNSYLVANIA.—A most brutal murder was committed in the town of Perryopolis, Pa., on the night of the 8th instant. Two robbers, named George Ward and Malcom Gibson, visited the house of William Secrist, and proceeded to enter it by violence. They were resisted by Mr. Secrist, but he was overpowered and shot through the head. Mrs. Secrist, seeing the situation of her husband, sprang to the fire-place, and, seizing a poker, commenced a vigorous attack upon the villains, when a murderous blow from a mattock felled her to the floor, upon which the fiends beat and stamped her until she was dead. The robbers then, having robbed the house, fired it in several places, and supposing Mr. Secrist to be dead, left with their plunder. But Mr. Secrist revived a little, crawled through a window, and then after walking a few paces fainted. Although bleeding from the wounds in his head, and quite exhausted from loss of blood, he succeeded in crawling to a neighbor's house, a distance of three quarters of a mile, and gave the alarm.—Search was made and the robbers were arrested, and a portion of the stolen money was found on them.

RAILROAD FINED.—At the February term of the Court of Common Pleas for Belknap county, N. H., the Boston, Concord & Montreal Railroad was indicted for causing the death of Owen M. Roberts, of Holderness, at the collision at the Weirs last October.—The case came up at the recent term of the Court, and there being no appearance on the part of the road, the judges decided to enter a default, and a fine of $1800 and costs was imposed. The case is to go to the Superior Court, however, on a writ of error. On the part of the road it was held that the statute was not sufficient to warrant a default; and that in a similar case under a like law in Massachusetts, an additional law has been passed to remedy this difficulty.

BURGLARY.—On Saturday night, a house in Boston was entered by a rogue who ransacked the rooms of the lower story, but was frightened away by the man of the house.—The next night the gentleman, for great security, placed his pants, containing fifty dollars, and the silver ware, between the beds on which he slept. In the night the house was again entered, and the pants and contents stolen.

LAUNCH OF THE GREAT REPUBLIC.—This magnificent ship, the largest clipper in the world, will be launched from the ship yard of Mr. D. McKay, at East Boston on the 4th of October. Her hull is now nearly finished, and is daily inspected by visitors from all parts of the country. While in the course of construction, she has been visited by over 50,000 persons, during working hours, and by perhaps as many more on Sundays and holidays. She is a wonderful vessel, and every time we look at her, we cannot but admire the genius and skill which have produced her. She is between 6 and 7000 tons stowage capacity, and is the longest and sharpest ever built in this country. She is 325 feet long, 53 wide, and 30 deep, with four decks, and is of a model so perfectly beautiful, as to seem perfection itself. Mr. McKay, her owner and designer, intends to sail her himself, that is, to transact her business; and she will be commanded by his brother, formerly Captain of the "Sovereign of the Seas." We advise those who have not seen her to pay her a visit before she is launched. When fitted out, she will proceed to New York, and there load for San Francisco.

REDUCTION OF THE HOURS OF LABOR.—We hear it rumored on the street, that several corporations of this city reduce the hours of labor to eleven in their different manufacturing establishments, after this date during the fall and coming winter—the regulations to be that the machinery will be run from 7 o'clock A. M. to 7 P. M., with one hour out at a dinner time.—Lowell News.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT!

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglects to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.
[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is now

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as the work is of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mail. ed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

For sale by Hotchkiss & Co., 13 Court st.; Reding & Co., 18 State st.; Fetredge & Co., 15 State and 72 Washington sts.; and Wm. V. Spencer, 128 Washington st.—Boston, Mass.

In New York City, by Stringer & Townsend, Adriance, Sherman & Co., Dewitt & Davenport, Barnes & Co., and at 129 Liberty street, near Greenwich.

ANCIENT CANNON.—We have had the pleasure of seeing a very antique piece of ordnance, brought by Gov. Seymour from Mexico. It was found in the castle at the City of Mexico, where about twenty pieces of the same character had been deposited. When the munitions of the Castle were re-delivered to the Mexicans, a present was made to Col. Seymour of this curious piece. It is not more than eighteen inches in length, while the diameter of the interior of the muzzle or bore is as much as five inches. It is made of welded iron, with several strong iron bands encircling it; some of which pass through the small irregular shaped piece of wood, in which the cannon is imbedded, and are riveted with screws firmly on the under side. No recoil could detach the piece from the block of wood to which it is attached. This block is of old oak, very strong and quite discolored by age. We doubt whether Mexico contains a species of oak of a similar fibre and strength. The piece was undoubtedly used on board small vessels and on the benches of boats, to throw bits of iron and stones at an enemy.

The Mexicans have no tradition respecting the origin of these pieces. They have been in the castle beyond any record. Antiquarians conjecture they might have been cannon employed by Cortez on board his ships, and used on the causeways in his attack on Mexico. They are, unquestionably, of great antiquity. When Cortez launched his brigantines on the Mexican Lake, according to Prescott, vol. iii., page 89, he had fifteen falconets, or cannon but they were made of brass, and the cannon which Cortez cast for the subsequent defence of Mexico were made of the copper of the country.

We trust that Gov. Seymour will deposit this curious relic in the rooms of our Historical Society.—Hartford Courant.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S

Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a grocer upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity, and by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&wtm ja22

DR. CONINE'S

SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.

The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe, from DR. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, stands

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and as nutritive, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

DR. HAMPTON'S

VEGETABLE TINCTURE!

The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and am sorry to inform gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND, Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the first ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered. Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!

PARSONAGE LIBRARIES.

For the Chronicle.

The time has come, by reason of the growing intelligence of the age, when intellectual power must have sway over the minds of men; when sound without sense, and stormy words without a connection of ideas, will no longer take with the intelligent part of the congregations which assemble for religious purposes. And hence, a large demand is now made upon the purses of country ministers, to buy books and furnish the means for intelligent and successful preaching. This burden falls most heavily upon that class of ministers who are itinerant, and who do not expect to spend more than one or two years in a place.—Should they have the means of buying, and should they buy what they need, the result would be the accumulation of a library so great in magnitude as to be inconvenient of removal. Moreover, repeated removals are a great injury and damage to the books themselves. It is well known, also, that a large proportion of the books with which a professional man's library is to be furnished, are such as he wants for reference only.

Now we would suggest to the various religious societies that they could aid their ministers much, and themselves more, by commencing the enterprise of furnishing all of their Parsonages with a well selected Library, which shall there remain, for the benefit of their minister and his successors in the sacred office. I am well satisfied that this work could be easily accomplished, that the burden would never be felt by those contributing, and that they would soon reap a rich harvest in the way of better productions on the part of those who serve them as pastors and teachers.

Many persons in every religious society, have more or less books which they have purchased and laid by, which are now gathering dust, and to them are nearly valueless, but to the minister would be a great help by way of reference. Now let some enterprising man or woman but take this matter in hand, and at once commence forming the nucleus of a set of Parsonage Libraries; other persons would speedily join them, and I am sure the eyes of their servants would sparkle with delight, their hearts would be warmed with gratitude, and their ability would be vastly increased to "feed their flocks with knowledge and understanding."

The libraries thus commenced, could be extended from year to year, by the payment of a few cents on the part of each church member, and of others friendly to the work; and thus in a few years, whoever occupied the Parsonage would gain at once by the state of the library, some knowledge of the standard of preaching expected of him on the part of his people.

A MINISTER WHO WANTS A LARGER LIBRARY.

THE HUMP-BACKED COUSIN.

From the French.

Behold an extraordinary occurrence of the latter days. If it were not an extraordinary occurrence, one need not relate it.

A father of a family inhabiting the Rue de Michodiere, received last summer, a letter from his nephew, who was in the employ of Hyder Abad. The letter concluded thus:

'I have received the portraits of my two cousins, Marie and Margaret. I have never had the pleasure of seeing them, as I have lived with Hyder Abad since my youth, but I am sure that these two portraits are resemblances. I will arrive at Havre, by the ship Ingos Ego, about the first of October, and on my return I am determined to marry the beautiful Mar—'

The breaking open of the letter had destroyed the rest of the name. It is impossible to tell if the cousin asked Marie or Margaret in marriage. The two sisters, united previous to this time, have commenced to live in misunderstandings, each of them positive that it was the rest of her name which was torn off in breaking the seal.

The father employed his eloquence in calming the anger of his daughters, when a servant, sent in advance, arrives from Havre, announcing that his master went to Paris with the evening train.

The servant, overwhelmed with questions, replied that his master was ruined; and that he had, moreover, the horrid protuberance which caused, according to Palanude, so many misfortunes to Æsop, the Phrygian.

The two cousins determined to remain single forever, before marrying a cousin, hump-backed and ruined.

As they took this oath for the twentieth time in twelve hours, the cousin arrives. The uncle warmly embraced him; the cousins make a polite bow, and turn away their eyes. The uncle then explains the incident of the torn letter and asks the intentions of his nephew.

'It is my cousin Marie whom I came to marry,' he replied.

'Never—never!' screamed Marie, 'I am contented with my condition, and shall remain in it.'

'Mademoiselle,' said the nephew, 'I have adopted the customs of the country where I have been educated. Read the customs of Hyder Abad in Travernier. There, when a young man is refused in an offer of marriage, he withdraws himself from society as a useless being.'

'He kills himself!' exclaimed the good Margaret.

'He kills himself!' replies the nephew, in the tone of a man about to commit suicide.

'This poor cousin,' said Margaret, weeping, 'to come from such a distance to die in the bosom of his family.'

'I know,' said the nephew, 'that my deformity affects the sight of women, but in time the eyes of women become habituated to all things. I know, also, that my commercial prospects are not prosperous. Thrown very young into the diamond business, the only occupation of Hyder Abad, I lost there all the fortune of my father, but I had acquired experience—I am young, active and industrious. These are riches in themselves.'

'Yes, yes, hump-backed and ruined,' muttered Marie aside, in a bantering tone.

'Poor young man!' said Margaret, and she adds, 'my cousin, I am refused, and you pay no attention to it.'

'And by whom refused?' inquired he.

'But to your cost, by you, since you prefer my sister to me.'

'Eh bien!' said he, 'will you accept me if I ask you in marriage from my uncle?'

'I will engage my father to let my cousin live.'

'What!' exclaimed the hump-back, 'do you consent my lovely Margaret, to ——,'

'Save the life of a relative. Indeed, I'll not waver a moment.'

'This is very well of my daughter,' said the uncle, affected by the scene. 'Remonstrances have not spoiled you. I have a very small income, but I ought not to abandon the son of my brother, in misfortune. I will keep him here as a kindred, for where there is enough for three, there is for four.'

The cousin threw himself at Margaret's feet, saying:

'You have saved the life of an unfortunate man.'

Marie uttered to herself:

'My sister has courage. As for me, I would let hump-backed cousins die.'

'Uncle,' said the young man, 'allow me to make a slight toilet before breakfast.'

He pressed Margaret's hand, bowed to Marie, and left to change his attire.

The uncle and his daughters were at the table, and awaited their guest.

The servant announced the cousin of Hyder Abad.

The two girls uttered two screams, but on different keys. They see enter a charming young man, tall, without any hump-back, who embraced Margaret, and placing before her a basket, says:

'Behold your marriage portion.'

It was a basket of diamonds. It was, moreover, the hump, which had thus arrived free of duties.

'See what I have carried on my shoulder,' said the cousin, 'from Bombay to Havre, to offer it to that one of my cousins who would accept me with my false poverty and feigned deformity.'

There was great joy in the house, which, strange as it may seem, was participated in by Marie. It is true that Marie loved her sister dearly, without detesting the diamonds.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1853.

THE MUSIC IN NEW YORK.

The New Hampshire Patriot says:

The worst fears of the Democracy of the country have been realized in the New York State Convention. The party in that State is divided into two sections, called "hards" and "softs," with various other names. The "softs" include most of the former Barnburners, together with the friends of Gov. Marcy, being in fact those who really sustain the national and State administrations. The "hards" are those who are dissatisfied with the administration. This, as we understand it, is the real distinction between the two sections, though it may not apply to all who take part in the quarrel.

It will be seen by a perusal of the resolutions that both sections of the party in New York stand squarely upon the Baltimore platform—both emphatically endorse the sentiments of the Inaugural—both fully and decidedly support the compromise measures, and discountenance a renewal of the slavery agitation. In these respects both sets of resolutions are as explicit and decided as any man could desire, or as language can well make them. But in another particular, there is a wide difference between them. While the "softs" speak out openly and frankly in approval of the course and policy of the administration, the "hards" are entirely silent upon that point. It may be that the "softs" are utterly insincere and hypocritical in their declarations; but what evidence is there of it? We see none. On the contrary, taking the proceedings of both parties as our guide, we can see no reason for supposing that the "softs" are not as sound upon all national questions as the "hards;" and to find any such reason it will be necessary to go behind the Baltimore Convention.

On the other hand, the New York Evening Post denounces the platform adopted by its own section of the Democratic party at Syracuse, and condemns the Convention for thus going beyond its proper sphere of action, and says:

"Both Conventions, [of the Democratic party] upon the Slavery Question, adopted a stereotyped set of phrases, which no more express the opinions of their constituents than if they were a recognition of the Greek Mythology as the religion of the country."

Any man, who knows the state of public opinion in New York and New England, half as well as do the editors of the Patriot and Post, knows full well that the institution of slavery has few admirers or advocates in all the region. We have published the Patriot's own statement, that the Democratic party in New Hampshire passed strong anti-slavery resolutions at a recent period; and we have no doubt those resolutions expressed the real feeling of thousands of the party.

To be sure the party, (very like their opponents in this thing) have since passed sundry resolutions or platforms, about compromise, and finality, and so forth, but we suppose they did not mean a great deal by it; they felt obliged to say something to save the Union, and the Constitution, and the party. They said this, and all three of them were saved.—The finality of the business seemed to be a great humbug then; and everybody sees it to be so now.

We do not profess to understand the real issue between the hards and softs in New York, or between the Old Guard and Patriot in New Hampshire. We can see who have got the offices; but we cannot see why one class of expectants ought not to have them as well as another.

We see the confusion and hear the noise; but can hardly tell what it is all about.

MANUAL LABOR SCHOOL.

The New York Courier has no faith in the working of Mental and Manual Labor Colleges and Schools as they are called. We quote:—

"In the profitable union of study with manual labor, we have not the least faith. No man can serve two masters; for either he will cleave to the one and hate the other, or he will hate the one and cleave to the other.—The Union of Study with Labor has been, and must ever be, a fatal union to both. We write not without personal knowledge of the subject. The appeal speaks of Institutions in which from want of means, work could not be provided for all, so that those who could afford it refrained from work, thus "re-establishing the distinction of Patrician and Plebeian"—the last expression striking us a very foolish piece of demagogueism. But we speak from a personal observation of two years in an Institution where all worked, the son of the man who was worth hundreds of thousands of dollars beside him who was not worth as many cents, and it was a failure; a failure as regarded the men themselves.—Those who worked well did not study well, and those who studied well did not work well."

On the contrary, we have the utmost faith in the union of study with manual labor—and this too, "after a personal" experience of forty years in Institutions where everybody worked, and a good proportion of them studied also.

Baltimore is participating in the general prosperity. The Patriot of Saturday says:—

"Our railroads and other modes of transportation continue actively employed in transporting and shipping goods. Travel is unusually brisk. The city is thronged with strangers, the hotels crowded, and the entire aspect of affairs, in point of business, together with the blessing of good health which we enjoy, decidedly prosperous and encouraging.

PLEASANTRIES.

Under this head, in the State of Maine newspaper of the 22d, Mr. John Neal has an article of near four columns in length, on the general subject of the Maine Law, partly written in answer to some queries of ours.

We said, some time ago—

"Just this question arises in our minds about the law, viz: Does it do good? We wish for more facts yet, before we decide. One thing is quite clear—if these bad statements are half true, something ought to be done! Will Mr. John Neal please to tell us what?"

To this, Mr. Neal replies—

"Yes, Mr. John Neal not only will tell us what—but is doing so now, day after day, and means to do so, till he has told all."

Now, as we read this, we supposed we were to have Mr. Neal's way of promoting temperance, but in this we were disappointed; it is not in the four columns; yet we presume it will come.

In these four columns, however, we have several items worth copying.

Here is one:

"I only said that in part of Maine I believed more liquor was drunk, than at any other time for the last twenty years. Have I ever said, or suggested, or intimated, that it was sold openly—everywhere? No, I have said nothing of the sort; for up to the day when the true character of this foolish and wicked law, came to be guessed at—I do not say understood—for to this hour, it is not well understood, even by its authors, to say nothing of courts, juries and lawyers, who do not pretend to understand it, the progress of temperance and charity, and compassionate care, and brotherly love, was most encouraging and hopeful, notwithstanding some faults, and many deficiencies in our legislation, and notwithstanding the melancholy state of public opinion everywhere. It was the editor of the Boston Transcript, himself, (and not John Neal), who stated these things, both of his own personal knowledge and upon the testimony of merchants and public men! here in the State of Maine."

And here is another:

"I have no doubt of the fact that much less is sold in Portland, for consumption elsewhere—than at any other time far twenty years. But no thanks to "Mr. Dow," nor to the Liquor law of Maine, for all this. Year after year, the amount has been regularly diminishing—while the population has been as regularly increasing through the whole neighborhood, though not in Portland itself, till we took a new start on the Atlantic & St. Lawrence Railway.

But the liquor business of Portland is now done in the street, and by people who pay neither rents nor taxes. Orders are taken by regular brokers, from hogsheads down to bottles, of rum, brandy, wine or whiskey, which are furnished from the great reservoirs of Boston and New York."

Now we assure Mr. Neal that we are by no means anxious to convict him, or any one else, of falsehood; but we are somewhat anxious to find out the truth. And now we have his testimony to this point, that less liquor is sold in Portland, now, to be consumed elsewhere, than at any time for twenty years.

One thing is quite certain: careless, hasty, impulsive writers, forget what they do say.—Let the reader look at Mr. Neal's assertion above, "I only said that in a part of Maine, &c."—and then at the following, which we have just now cut from one of his former articles

"There is more intemperance and more drinking in this city, [Portland,] and neighborhood, and probably throughout the whole State of Maine, with here and there a doubtful exception, than there has been at any other time for twenty years."

MAINE LAW IN MAINE. The Republican Journal, at Belfast, thus concludes a review of the World's Temperance Convention:

And now to wind up, we will state such an observation as a daily contact with the world will show any one to be true of Maine. Liquor is sold in Maine, and in large quantities. Nine out of ten of the larger hotels sell. Sometimes it is almost common at the legal agencies, and sold from thence to be drank under the noses of the law men. We think as many drink in Maine as ever, and more young persons especially. People who never cared about such a thing before, drink, perhaps out of curiosity, and to see what this thing is that men make such a hullaboo about. The law is not specially enforced by temperance men. We know no organization to enforce it in this city. It is like other laws, in the hands of the constituted authorities.

Very green men must they be, who drink out of curiosity, and dont know what liquor does to men. Why we passed a man, just now, sitting on the sidewalk in Penhallow street, singing.

MAINE LAW IN GEORGIA.—Messrs. Jenkins and Johnson, the candidates of the two parties for the office of Governor of Georgia, having been called upon to define their positions relative to the Temperance question, now exciting some interest in Georgia, have made a joint publication, in which they announce that whilst they are "friends of the Temperance Reform, and bid all enlisted Godspeed in every legitimate effort to advance it," they "think the cause is more likely to be injured than benefitted by being connected with the political contest of the day."

This is a very beautiful dodge for a couple of politicians, and will answer very well where there are two parties only; but in New England and New York we have parties by dozens. Every moral question that connects itself with legislation at all, must become an element in our elections, whether we choose to have it so or not.

LOCAL.

Reported for the Chronicle.

Court of Common Pleas—Sept. Term.

THURSDAY, Sept. 22.

In the case No. 34, Palmer et al. vs Smith, the evidence was concluded in the afternoon. The case was argued by Mr. Porter for the deft, and Mr. Stickney for the Piffs.

On account of the lateness of the hour, at the conclusion of the latter gentleman's argument, the case was not given to the Jury last evening. The Court adjourned to nine o'clock Friday morning.

Cases No. 35, 37, 44 and 45 are next in order for trial.

ACCIDENT.—The last down train on the Concord Railroad, ran over an ox at Candia, Thursday afternoon, throwing the engine off the track. No one injured.

The train had not arrived when we went to press, at 6 o'clock Friday morning.

☞ The Guns fired yesterday at noon, were a salute, as Commodore Shubrick's broad pennant was lowered.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—My attention was called this morning, (Sept. 21st,) to a question (I having been absent at Boston since Monday morning) published in your paper of the 19th, from J. P. P. I hasten to reply.

As the whole cost of the stone was $10.24, it is apparent that this amount embraces the cubic feet in the stone, multiplied by the price per foot; this being the case, then the square root of 1024, will give the contents of the surface, or one half of the whole contents of the stone. Therefore the square root of 1024 is 32, which multiplied by 2 is 64—whole contents. The question then resolves itself into this: What two numbers multiplied together will make 32, whose relationship are as 1 to 2? The answer is easily found by double position or algebra, which is, 8 feet long, 4 in breadth, and of course 2 deep, from the conditions of the question. Or it can be determined in this way: 64 feet being the whole number of cubic feet in the stone, what must be the dimensions of the same, when the length is double the width, and the depth one half of the width? The square root of 64 is 8, and the cube root of 64 is 4. Answer—Length 8 feet, breadth 4, depth 2. Yours, N. D. JR.

I do not admit the correctness of the answers of J. N. F. and J. P. P., in your paper of Monday last, in reply to the question submitted in the Journal—but nous verrons on Saturday. In the mean time let me propose this to J. N. F.:

Find three numbers such that 1-2 of the first, 1-3 of the second, and 1-4 of the third, shall be 62; 1-3 of the first, 1-4 of the second, and 1-5 of the third, shall be 47; and 1-4 of the first, 1-5 of the second, and 1-6 of the third shall be 38—with an analysis of the same.

And to J. P. P.:

Find three cube numbers, such that their sum shall be both a square and a cube number; and if that sum be squared, it shall be a cube, and if it be cubed, it shall be a square.

THE SONS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE held a meeting in Boston, at the Revere House, to make arrangements for the proposed festival. Hon. M. P. Wilder presided. A committee reported Wednesday, November 2d, for the time of holding the festival. In the mean time the most extensive arrangements are to be made to give the occasion all proper eclat.

The Concord, N. H., Reporter says Dr. Prescott, of that town, has a harpsichord which once belonged to Eliza Wharton.

TRIMBLE OR TRUNDLE.—In yesterday's Chronicle there was a telegraphic item about the arrest of one Trimble, in Kentucky, as an abolitionist and kidnapper. Now he turns out to be one Dr. J. Trundle, of Union, Bourne county, in Kentucky; and he was arrested on the 13th inst., for kidnapping a number of slaves belonging to different neighbors. Under the pretext of aiding their escape, it is charged that he sent them, by his agents, to New Orleans and sold them. On his trial, where Governor Morehead and others appeared for his defence, the facts were so far established that the heavy bail of $15,000 was required. The public excitement was so great that violence was threatened to any one who should become his bail. With these additional facts, the case is all plain. Under the pretence of being an abolitionist, he was really a kidnapper. This drew down upon him, as a matter of course, the indignation of both the lovers and haters of slavery. The poor man is in a sad predicament; his sins have found him out.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 12, 1852.

MR. S. GILBERT, Dear Sir—

Having been afflicted with a diseased Liver, attended with pain in the side. I was advised by a friend to try your Extract Polypodium, and am happy to inform you that it has not only cured me of the above disease, but it also relieved me of a Chronic Diarrhea which I contracted in the war with Mexico, to cure which I had tried the popular remedies of the day to no effect. I can cheerfully recommend it to the public as the best medicine for the above complaint of which I have any knowledge. I have also proved it to be an invaluable purifier of the blood.

Respectfully yours. WM. H. FRANKLIN

The above excellent Medicine is sold at wholesale or retail by the proprietor, S. GILBERT, at his Medicine Store, No. 18 Pleasant street. s23

LARGE FIRE AT MANCESTER, N. H.—The Printery of the Manchester Print Works was destroyed by fire on Thursday morning at 5 o'clock. The current reports are, that the building was totally destroyed. The mill of the company are not injured. The building destroyed, together with the machinery and stock therein, was insured for one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, of this amount, $100,000 was insured in Boston.

Manufacturers' Mutual office	$30,000
American Insurance Co.	15,000
Merchants' " "	15,000
National " "	15,000
Neptune " "	15,000
Agency of the Monarch office, London,	10,000
Total in Boston	$100,000

The Hartford offices have thirty thousand dollars divided between the Ætna, Hartford and Protection offices in sums of $10,000 each. The Commercial Mutual Co., of Providence, have $15,000. The Northwestern, of Oswego, N. Y., $5000.

The total loss is estimated at from $200,000 to $250,000.

The main building was 300 feet long, 60 feet wide, and the L 225 feet long, and the same width—all six stories high. By this conflagration about 400 men are thrown out of employment. There was at one time immediate danger to Granite Bridge, which our readers must bear in mind is composed of wood.

ACCIDENT IN HOPKINTON, MASS.—On Monday George A. E. Freeland, son of Deacon Freeland, went into the field to catch a horse. After catching him and putting the halter upon his head, he tied the halter around his own body with a slip-knot, and in that way was seen leading the horse home. He was afterwards found dead, with his head terribly smashed, and the halter very tightly drawn around his body. It is supposed the horse became frightened and ran, dragging him several times across the field, as his boots and hat were found in different places. His body was found near a stone wall, over which the horse had jumped from the pasture. Mr. Freeland was about 21 years old.—Traveller.

TOBACCO.—The Glasgow, Mo. Times says that the recent cool nights, and very slight frosts, have made our tobacco growers a little nervous. The crop is looking well and ripening fast. But little is ready for the knife yet, but with favorable weather for the next ten days, a large proportion of the crop will be cut.

Very light frosts have been noticed elsewhere, both in the northern part of Illinois and Missouri, but we doubt whether any injury has resulted from this change of the weather. For two or three days past it has been much too hot for comfort, without any very great prospect of change.

THE TAPESTRIES AT THE CRYSTAL PALACE.—The French Government has sent for two pieces of the Gobelin, the "Lice et sa Compagne," and "Le Loup et l' Agneau," to adorn one of the imperial residences, which is being fitted up with great magnificence for Louis Napoleon and his Empress. The visitors of the Crystal Palace will therefore soon be deprived of the sight of two of the finest specimens of the French tapestry.—New York Evening Post.

THE POPE AND THE EMPEROR.—The exclusively religious journals of Europe bitterly deplore the pacific solution of the Eastern question. Catholicism they say is dead.—The universal Pope of Rome has now a rival and a successful one. It is the Czar—High Priest of Schism, the Pontiff Emperor!—Nicholas has now reached the ideal of the old Roman Papacy—such as it was for a brief period under Gregory.

The Bath Mirror, of Saturday last, gives a list of fourteen ships now on the stocks in that city, and whose aggregate tonnage amounts to fourteen thousand tons. The Mirror further remarks that these vessels will be got off the stocks within six weeks, and that fifteen in addition to the above will be launched by the early summer months of 1854.

Mr. Griswold, of Michigan, has been appointed a Purser in the Navy, vice Fauntleroy, deceased. The President has directed all applications for pursorships, since the 4th of March, to be sent to him from the Navy Department. It is ascertained there were were twelve hundred. Griswold was not an applicant.

A PIECE of outrageous cruelty was lately committed on two noble horses in Orramel, Alleghany County, N. Y. They were raced eighty miles for a stake of $400, the winning horse making the distance in eight hours and eight minutes, and the other dying in less than an hour after the race.

DEATH OF A NEWLY ELECTED SENATOR.—The Burlington (Vt.) Free Press says that Mr. Bogue, Democrat, who at the late election was chosen Senator, from Franklin county, by two majority, died at Fairfax on Saturday evening. There is no provision in the Constitution by which the vacancy can be filled.

The Norfolk Argus says that a faithless wife, who lately eloped from that city with her paramour, for California, via New York, took passage in the Georgia, which was driven into the port of Norfolk, and thus brought back the guilty pair in a few weeks, to confront those whom they had injured, in the very place from which they had fled.

A PANIC IN SPAIN.—The Madrid journals state that the appearance of the comet has excited great alarm in that city, as it is considered "a symptom of divine wrath, and a presage of war, pestilence, and affliction for humanity."

The editor of the Galena Jeffersonian, who is a doctor "by trade," gives it as his deliberate advice that whiskey should not be drank in warm weather. He is equally decided on an other point, namely, that it should never be drank when the weather is not warm.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during childhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years? And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1294, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

For sale by Hotchkiss & Co., 13 Court st.; Reding & Co., 18 State st.; Fetredge & Co., 15 State and 72 Washington st.; and Wm. V. Spencer, 128 Washington st.—Boston, Mass.

FIRST USE OF GAS.—In the year 1792, Mr. Murdock made use of gas in lighting his house and office at Redruth, in Cornwall, England, where he then resided. The mines at which he worked being distant some miles from his house, he was in the constant practice of filling a bladder with coal gas, in the neck of which he fixed a metallic tube, with a small orifice, through which the gas issued; this being ignited, served as a lantern to light his way for a considerable distance he had nightly to traverse. This mode of illumination being generally unknown, it was thought by the common people that magical art alone could produce such an effect.

"NOTHING TO DO."—This is the plaintive caption under which the editor of the Mobile Advertiser, on Wednesday last, says—"Our editorial chair is, at present, almost literally a sinecure. We have actually only one compositor at work upon what is generally designated as reading matter, and he can only give a part of his time to it. No others are to be had for the love of money."

Samuel T. Adams, wire-worker, died at the Boston Insane Hospital on Saturday, from insanity, the effects of a sun stroke received some time since. He was thirty eight years of age.

PATENTS.
American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be resulted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE,
"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.

FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 950,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the explanations given of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

Depot and manufactory, No. 137 Broadway, New York. Retail price 25 cents a large bottle.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity, and by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the United States, and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c., and by Weeks & Potter, Brewers, Stevens & Cushing, and Wm. Brown, Boston. d&w6m je22*

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER,

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as NATURE'S KINDEST REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where as an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom
AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the best family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

As a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schaffer, G. Dunan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND,
Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant —— of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of Dyspepsia.

I am respectfully yours,
VERNON ESKRIDGE, Chaplain U.S.N.

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered. Consumption can be cured!! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fall disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the pub. as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE!

N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

"($600 00) On demand I promise to pay to the bearer FIVE MILLS for value received.
WILLIAM DEVINES."

Certificates of cures to be relied on, found in the circulars left with the agents. Let all the afflicted try it faithfully. Sold by Druggists and Dealers generally.

Sold at retail by NIGHT.

LINES FROM LYRUNA.

"Night, care-soothing Night, O I would win Thy Crown of Peace, and wear it on my brow."
A. L.

LYRUNA.

Like a ship's sail upon the placid deep,
The pearl-eyed, star-draped moon is sitting on the blue.

With what a monarch like, and beautiful disdain,
She sits upon her throne of clouds, surveying at a glance,
A queenly glance, her vapory domain;
How sad and pale in her beatitude!

The sympathizing clouds wipe tears from off the stars,
Thy weeping dew-drops—as the bloodless moon
Grieves over throbbing earth. Sadly she smiles;
The stars intoxicated with its beams
Of gentle radiance, dance amid their turquoise realms
Like foam upon the sea.

'Tis such a night as I build castles in.
'Tis in such holy hours as these my thoughts,
Those bright and airy ghostlings of the soul,
Those never sleeping workmen of my brain,
Shape columns out of clouds and fluted pedestals,
With chiseled gems of asphodel and gold;
They hew deep arches in the creamy sky,
Festooning them with spangled clouds intwined
With braided stars; they chisel lofty colonnades
And cap them with the moon. I have enameled Heaven
With dreams as many as there are of gems
Upon the trailing flounces of the night;
And could they each be petrified as dews
In winter time, the sky would be
A palaced land, a Fairy Metropolitan!

The moon is measuring her ribbon by the yard.
She ties the ocean with it and the quiv'ring pines.
She girdles earth—the puffing Falstaff earth,
And gives it moony ribs like some bleached skeleton.
O! 'tis of moons the very maddest moon!
Yet calm and lovely as a sleeping lake.

I feel the moonbeams stealing thro' mine eyes,
Making a night couch of my panting soul;
Folding themselves contentedly to sleep,
Like Day reclining on the breast of Eve,
Or, as the dark-tressed Twilight, full of love,
Twines her dim arms around the Daylight's neck
And bears him to the sea; calm as the winds
That faint away at night, or flowers that close
Their petals up, for fear of taking cold.

Night, debonairest night!
Thou sad and weeping widow of the Day,
O, I could mourn thy buried spouse
But for thy pensive loveliness. T. B. A.

New York, 1853.

MRS. ADOLPHUS SMITH SPORTING THE "BLUE STOCKING."—Well, I think I'll finish that story for the editor of the Dutchman.—Let me see where did I leave off? The setting sun with his last rays—"Ma, I want some bread and molasses," (yes, dear,)—gilding with his last rays the church spire. "Wife, where's my Sunday pants?" (Under the bed, dear,)—the church spire of Inverness, when a—"There's nothing under the bed but your lace cap." (Perhaps they are in the coal hod in the closet,)—when a horseman was seen approaching—"Ma'am, the pertaters is out; not one to boil for dinner." (Take some turnips)—approaching, covered with dust and—"Wife, the baby has swallowed a button."—(Reverse him, dear, take him by the heels,) and waving in his hand a banner, on which was written—"Ma, I've tore my pantloons,"—liberty or death! The inhabitants rushed en masse—"Wife will you leave off scribbling" (Don't be disagreeable, Smith, I'm just getting inspired) to the public square, where the De Begins who had been secretly—"Butcher wants to see you ma'am"—secretly informed of the traitor's—"Forget which you said, ma'am, sausages or mutton chops"—movements, gave orders not to fire less than twenty—"My gracious, Smith, you havn't been reversing that child all this time; he's as black as your coat—and that boy of yours has torn up the first sheet of my manuscript.—There! It's no use for a married woman to cultivate her intellect. I must wait till I'm a widow. Smith, hand me those twins!"—Fanny Fern.

The late Mrs. F. Gideon, of Atalanta, Georgia, by her will, liberated twenty-nine slaves, and provided for sending them to Liberia.

LICENSE TO ROWDIES.—The following facts show the boldness of rowdies in New York city, and the provoking worthlessness of our police in protecting peaceable citizens. On Friday night last, about one o'clock, a young man was, without any provocation, attacked in Nassau street, between Fulton and Ann, by a half drunken rowdy, who was soon joined by a number of confederates. The young man fled down Nassau, leaving fragments of his coat in the hands of his assailants. The rowdies pursued, and seeing two persons standing close in on the side-walk, corner of Fulton and Nassau, supposed they were policemen. The leading rowdy, adopting an old ruse, addressed the supposed policemen, (whose protection the young man was claiming), with the familiar command, "Now, I wish you to arrest that fellow," pointing to their frightened victim; "he has assaulted me." But immediately discovering his mistake, he drew off and knocked one of the two persons down, and repeated his unprovoked ruffianism several times. Some men in our composing room heard the "muss:" and when we asked them why they took no notice of it, they remarked that "musses" and quarrels are so common in the neighborhood, at night, that they thought that it was only one of the ordinary kind! What a commentary upon the way the peace is preserved in one of the most public and most traveled parts of the city. Now, as we wish to do what we can to put down rowdyism, and as the affair of Friday night was a most flagrant outrage, we hereby offer fifty dollars as a reward for the arrest and punishment of the chief person engaged in the commission of the outrage.—New York Sun.

TOO SENSITIVE.—The New York Evening Post tells us of an incident at a place of public amusement in that city on Monday Evening, when J. Sheridan Knowles's five act comedy of "Love, or the Countess and the Serf," was performed in the presence of a large assemblage of citizens and strangers.—The editor says:

In the third act the Duke discovers that the serf loves his daughter, and to prevent their union he calls Huon before him, and requests him to sign a paper for his marriage to Catherine. This cuts Huon to the quick, as he loves the Countess, and he refuses to obey the Duke. The latter threatens the serf with death for his disobedience, but it has no effect. Here a little excitement arose; when Huon, replying to the Duke, said:

"What is death compared to slavery."

The last word was delivered with such emphasis, that almost the whole audience began demonstrations of applause, while a few persons in the boxes, probably Southern gentlemen, hissed energetically. There was no allusion to slavery in the South, and we could not divine the cause of their displeasure, unless the hated word, in any form, grates harshly upon their consciences.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1853.

DEMOCRACY IN MASSACHUSETTS.

The great Democratic party of Massachusetts held a convention of Delegates at Worcester, Sept. 22,—and another convention in Boston at the same time.

The first, or Worcester Convention was composed of Coalitionists, so called, and was quite numerous.

The committee on credentials reported that there was 733 candidates present, representing almost every town and city in the state. Two delegations were reported from Charlestown, and both admitted to seats in the Convention.

The committee on resolutions then reported a series. They pledge the fidelity of the democratic party to union principles, and to the administration of Gen. Pierce. They express satisfaction with his preference of Hon. Caleb Cushing as one of his executive officers; approve the conduct of Capt. Ingraham at Smyrna, in the Kosta affair; reprobate the law of 1842, establishing a military superintendance in the national armories; also oppose the theory advanced by the British government in relation to the fishery question.—They go on to approve of the new state constitution; recommend the election of a legislature favorable to the principles of that instrument; commend the principle of the ten hour law of last session; and conclude by pledging the convention and the democratic party of Massachusetts to elect Messrs. Bishop and Dowley as Governor and Lieut. Governor of Massachusetts. The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

The second, or Boston Convention, was less numerous, and was composed of Anti-Coalition, or National Democrats. The whole number of votes were 130; and they nominated Dr. Bradford S. Wales for Governor, and George Osborne for Lt. Governor.

On leave, Mr. Barstow of Salem, made a lengthy explanation of his course in reference to Caleb Cushing. It had been said by Mr. Cushing that the national democrats were responsible for what he (Mr. Barstow) had said, and therefore it was due to the Convention to explain. He had made charges against Mr. Cushing and he would now proceed to prove them.

And now, gentlemen, I charge Caleb Cushing with deceiving the President, with being a Whig, a Coalitionist, and abolition agitator.

And first, as to deceiving the President.—Let us see what Franklin Pierce stood pledged to do upon commencing his administrative career. If he has pledged himself to one thing, and done another, either he has broken his promises or he has been deceived in his agents.

He proceeded to show the course of the administration in Mr. Cushing's county. Lewis Josselyn, "notorious coalitionist," had been appointed Surveyor of Customs at Lynn. J. G. L. Colby had received an appointment in the Custom House at Newburyport. George B. Loring had received the appointment of Postmaster at Salem. He proceeded to show that Caleb Cushing is a freesoiler, receiving offices at the hands of that party, and supporting by loans freesoil presses, and endorsing notes for the support of other freesoil organs. He read several extracts from Cushing's creed in reference to the Baltimore Platform, taking up several sections and showing his freesoil tendency and his departure from consistency as a national democrat. Mr. Cushing, he said, was at one time a whig.

He then went on to prove that Mr. Cushing was an abolition agitator, and that his charge to this effect was true. He closed thus:

And now gentlemen, I am done. I started by asserting that Caleb Cushing was a Whig, a Coalitionist, and an abolition agitator. I have laid my proof before you, and you must judge. And now, what shall be done? Shall we yield to the pressure around us? Shall Mr. Cushing force us into Coalitionism?—Proscribed at Washington, read out of the party at home, shall we yield one jot or one tittle of the principle we have adopted? No! no!! a thousand times no!!! Let us keep up our organization. Let us nominate our candidates. Let us nail our flag to the mast, and wait for better times.

This body passed 16 Resolutions, condemning the Coalition, the new constitution, and the liquor law, and almost condemning the President. For example see the following extracts.

7th.—Resolved, That we cordially approve of the Baltimore platform and the President's application of its leading principles in the inaugural Address; commending the straight forward fidelity and truth with which these authoritative expositions proclaim the comprehensive tenets of the American Democracy;

* * *

8th. Resolved, That, in the opinion of this Convention, the mere adoption of the party platform in this State, furnishes no conclusive test of National Democracy, unless its adoption precludes all connection and co-operation whatever, with the party which is the most bitterly hostile to that platform, namely, THE FREE SOIL PARTY;

* * *

9th. Resolved, That while our chief reliance for protection from such corrupting alliances, is upon the integrity and self respect of the people themselves, we cannot refrain from appealing to the distinguished Chief Magistrate whom we all so zealously and cheerfully united to place in power, to carry into full effect the true intent and meaning of the party platform, as those constituencies understood it by whom he was nominated and elected; extending this appeal at the same time to the democratic portions of both branches Congress, with the expression of our fullest confidence that they will in due time appropriately respond to the solemn admonition of the President himself, that "if we of the North, who have stood by the constitutional rights of the South, are to be abandoned to any time-serving policy, the hopes of Democracy and the Union must sink together."

There: we trust the president and Mr. Cushing will understand that: if they don't, they are not the men we took them to be.

SILVER COIN.

The Washington Star notices the complaints made against the Philadelphia mint, with regard to silver change, and speaking apparently on authority, says: "Some twenty or thirty millions of dollars in silver coin are really necessary to supply the vacuum in our circulating medium by the withdrawal of the old coin, while the utmost capacity of the Philadelphia mint, working night and day, with two sets of hands, is only able to turn out with their silver coinage machinery, about $800,000 per month. So it will require still a long time thus to furnish all the small change the country requires. At Philadelphia by-the-by, their gold coinage operations are now almost entirely confined to production of small gold coins, by way of doing away with the public's want of silver."

At various times during the year past, we have called attention to the fact that silver change is really scarce, and likely to be so for a long time to come: and we have also pointed out the only remedy for the evil which is within our reach, viz: the lawful, authorized issue of change bills.

The same want was felt in Rhode Island, and the Weybosset Bank issued a large number of what was called fractional bills, viz. bills for 1,25 or 1,50 or 1,75 cents. Four states in New England had laws against such bills; Massachusetts passed one quite suddenly; and Rhode Island has suicidally forbidden the issue of such bills by her own banks.

Now we wish our readers to look at the statement above quoted from the Washington Star, and see that about two years must elapse before the vacuum of silver coin is filled. Let them go to the Markets, Groceries, and Rail Road Depots, and see whether there is a plenty of change, or a general scarcity. Then let them calculate, if they can, how much time is spent every day in this city, in trying to get bills changed. Every retail trader here knows how troublesome the change difficulty is and has been: and many of these may be surprised when we tell them that no reason has been offered in any paper whatever, against the use of change bills, nor has there been any attempt to provide a supply of change or a substitute for it, except by the Weybosset Bank, as above stated, and one or two similar attempts by other banks.

The mint is doing what it can. Let it work. But there is no reason why the working and trading men of a country should be compelled to waste their time in beggining from door to door to get a bill changed. There was a time, in the Republican days of New Hampshire, when we had, for public convenience, a currency of change bills, 50 and 75 cts. which were a great convenience to everybody in the State, and an injury to no one.

Will any editor or writer in the State or elsewhere, be so kind as to offer one reason why we should not have such a currency now? If he will, we will engage to publish the article, for if there be any reason we wish to know it.

LICENSED AND UNLICENSED.—We believe we have already published a statement that the Grand Jury of New York have indicted over one thousand persons for illegally selling liquor; that is for selling it without a license. We have since seen it stated there are, in the same city, six thousand licensed houses or shops for the sale of liquors. It is to be hoped somebody will make a note of the fact that there is a vast deal of drinking, and considerable drunkenness in New York, now; as that hereafter, when something like a prohibitory law passes there, (if such a strange thing should happen,) no one may say that the unjust and tyrannical law created all the intemperance, or the greater part of it.

THE GREAT FALLS JOURNAL has just completed its sixth year, and commences its seventh volume next week. It is the only paper published in the town, and has succeeded as an independent sheet, while several trials of party papers of various shades have failed. It is well conducted, and deserves a good support from the citizens of Great-Falls, for its devotion to home-interests.

Of the Universalist persuasion, there are 123 ministers and 213 societies in the United States.

So says a little scrap going the rounds—but it gives a very erroneous impression regarding the numerical strength of the Universalists in this country. It had reference, probably, to some single State. The true number of ministers is about 640, and of societies 1091.

LOCAL.

Reported for the Chronicle.

Court of Common Pleas—Sept. Term.

SATURDAY, Sept. 23.

The case 31st, Palmer et al vs. Smith, was given to the Jury on Friday forenoon.

At 5 P. M. the Jury came in, and being unable to agree upon a verdict, were discharged from this case.

Case No. 35, Rockingham Bank vs William Claggett, was next commenced.

The suit was upon a promissory note to the Bank, signed by Defendant and two others. The latter paid the note to the Bank, and the Defendant assigned to them as security a judgment vs. James Smith, for about $160; and they afterwards assigned the security to Jas. Pickering, and delivered to him the note which had been paid to the Bank. The suit was for the benefit of Smith.

The defence was that inasmuch as the evidence was explicit that the note had been paid bona fide to the Bank, without any transfer, assignment or conditions, it was cancelled in law, and could not afterwards be assigned or negotiated, and also that Smith could not maintain the suit because the Bank by their officers testified that no authority had been given by them to commence the suit and that the Bank had no claim against Claggett.—The jury, however, decided the law otherwise, and returned a verdict for Plff. for $150.25.—Emery for plff., Wells for deft.

The case is transferred to the Supreme Court.

Case 112. George C. Batchelder vs. Enoch A. Wheeler & Tr. was next tried. This is an action brought to recover a balance of $29.60 for making and fitting 120 pair of shoes, a 33cts per pair.

The deft. is a shoe manufacturer and dealer, in Lynn, Mass.; the work claimed was done in Northwood.

The deft. contended that the plff. had proved no case, and also that the work claimed was done so poorly that the stock was entirely ruined and worthless.

Deft. offered as a witnesss, his foreman, who testified that the shoes when returned were not worth the original stock, being cut and made very badly, and that they never have been or never can be sold. The shoes in question were produced in court & their defects shown. The defts. testified that the shoes as made were not worth 25 cents; if properly made would have been worth 95 cents, and that the stock cost 66 cents.

Mr. Hartshorn, foreman of Hill & Carr's shoe store, also testified that the shoes were made in an unworkmanlike manner, and that the shoes were not worth as much as the original stock had cost.

The case was submitted to the jury without argument, and the Court adjourned before a verdict was returned, to nine o'clock Saturday morning.

YANKEE ADDAMS, has been giving Theatrical Entertainments at the Cameneum, every evening this week, and has drawn good and increasing houses. The exhibition of his tact as a Manager, and his talent as a delineator of genuine Yankee character, has greatly interested our play-going people. Mrs. Addams and Miss Lewis are attractive actresses in their respective spheres, and the whole company is quite well arranged and efficient for one so necessarily limited in numbers. All who wish to witness their spirited and life-like representations of character and passion, will do so in the first half of the next week, as their present season will close on Wednesday evening.

☞ This evening, being Saturday evening, a Concert takes the place of the Theatre, when songs, recitations, dances, &c. will be performed, at the Cameneum.

☞ Rev. Justin Spaulding is to preach at the Pleasant Street Church, to-morrow. The Methodist Church not being ready for occupancy, the Pleasant Street Society have invited their Methodist brethren to listen to their own Pastor in their Church.

☞ "The papers" state that Isreal Kimball, Esq. is purposing to open a private school in this city, in October.

For the Chronicle.

THAT SUM AGAIN.—Messrs. Editors:—I notice in your paper of the 23d, the question proposed by N. D. jr., requesting of me the analysis. When the gentleman acknowledges that the solution he has given of the question, which he published in the Journal some three weeks ago, is incorrect, then I will endeavor to give him the required analysis; and if he will submit the question to any gentleman in Portsmouth, who is now or has been a teacher in any of our public or private schools, and that gentleman does not give the same solution which I have given, then I will not only acknowledge that I am wrong, but I will agree with him that the moon is made of green cheese. But until he does this, I cannot grant his request, as I do not and cannot understand his arithmetic—I cannot see how it is that B can earn the same sum in 5 7-13 hours as he does in 6 hours, at the same price per hour; and A & C can earn a less price per hour when they work with B than when they work alone. J. N. F.

☞ That sum of N. D. jr.'s, or rather his solution of the question, seems to be attracting considerable attention. We have received a solution similar to those of J. N. F. and J. P. P. from another able mathemetican.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 12, 1852.

MR. S. GILBERT, Dear Sir—

Having been afflicted with a diseased Liver, attended with pain in the side. I was advised by a friend to try your Extract Polypodium, and am happy to inform you that it has not only cured me of the above disease, but it also relieved me of a Chronic Diarrhea which I contracted in the war with Mexico, to cure which I had tried the popular remedies of the day to no effect. I can cheerfully recommend it to the public as the best medicine for the above complaint of which I have any knowledge. I have also proved it to be an invaluable purifier of the blood.

Respectfully yours. WM. H. FRANKLIN.

The above excellent Medicine is sold at wholesale or retail by the proprietor, S. GILBERT, at his Medicine Store, No, 18 Pleasant street. s23

ARRIVAL OF THE AFRICA.

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Royal mail steamship Africa arrived at 8 o'clock P. M., with 135 passengers.

The English papers reprint from American papers Lord John Russel's manifesto on the tripartite guarantee of Cuba. The document is a surprise to the British public.

Nothing decisive on the Turkish question is received. The Czar's reply cannot arrive by courier for some days, say the 15th, but the fact that he hesitates to telegraph his reply had awakened symptoms of renewed anxiety, and had depressed British and French funds; his answer many however yet think may be peaceful.

The French government were anxiously laboring to make it seem that it is not interfering with the legitimate course of trade in buying breadstuffs. The Moniteur publishes an announcement that the government is not buying up corn, a most extraordinary statement, it being notorious that it has purchased immensely. All is quiet in France except some insignificant bread riots at Bois le duc, &c. The Emperor is still at Deippe. The navigation dues have been repealed till December on all vessels passing on French rivers or canals with corn.

The Roman territories are in a very disturbed state. The nominal cause is scarcity of food.

Com. Vanderbilt had arrived at the Bosphorus, in the steamer yacht North Star.

Latest.— It is rumored from Paris on the authority of the Russian Embassy, that the Czar will refuse to accept the modifications emanating directly from the Porte.—London Times.

The frigate Constitution was at Sierra Leone Aug. 17th. All well.

LIVERPOOL CORN MARKET, Sept. 10.—Breadstuffs lower in the early part of the week, but partially rallied after the sailing of the Arctic, and closed with a decline on the week of 3d on Wheat and 6d a 1s on Flour, with fair sales. Indian Corn 6d dearer, with free inquiry. W. C. Flour 28 6 a 29s; Baltimore 29 a 29s 8d; Philadelphia 29 a 29s 6d; Ohio 29s 5d; sour 25s 6d a 26s. Indian Corn—Yellow 32s 6d a 33s; white scarce and held at 34s.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE YELLOW FEVER AT THE SOUTH.—New Orleans papers have further accounts of the prevalence of the fever on the Gulf Coast, and at towns, plantations, &c., along the river.

The sixth child of Captain Smith, U. S. Engineer, and the last of the family, had died.

A letter from Pensacola, dated the 12th, mentions the continued fatality of the epidemic there.

Southern papers continue to record the serious damages to the cotton crop by heavy rains.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—The number of interments reported this morning were 37, including by yellow fever, 17.

MOBILE, Sept. 21.—The number of deaths to-day were 18—from yellow fever 15. Among the victims yesterday was Dr. Randolph, Sanative Physician.

TREMENDOUS FIRE IN BROOKLYN—LOSS $150,000.—NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Oil and Candle factory of Johnson Sanford & Co. in Gold street, Brooklyn, was burnt last night, with all the stock and fixtures. Loss estimated at from $130,000 to $150,000. Insured for $90,000 in New York offices. Curtis & Mitchell's Oil factory, nearly opposite, was somewhat damaged, and three wooden dwelling houses were also burnt.

APPOINTMENTS. The telegraph on Thursday, announced that the President had appointed Mr. E. C. Bailey, Postmaster of Boston; Isaac Davis of Worcester, Sub-Treasurer, and Col. Isaac O. Barnes, Pension Agent.

The Boston Courier remarks on these appointments, Mr. Bailey has been Chief Clerk in our Post Office for many years, and has had the requisite experience to enable him to discharge the duties of his post. Mr. Davis has been a leading Coalitionist for some years in this state, and is somewhat distinguished as an advocate and opponent of a plurality system in elections. Col. Barnes has had so much experience in government offices, that we have no doubt he is qualified to do justice to the duties of Pension Agent.

FATAL COLLISION.—The steamer Utica, on her passage from Poughkeepsie, to Catskill on Thursday night, came in collision with the sloop Jane Grant. A young lady name not known, was knocked overboard and several passengers injured. The body of the young lady was recovered next morning. Both vessels were considerably injured.

CONVENTION OF UNIVERSALISTS.—Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 21.—The United States Convention of Universalists met in this city to-day. Delegates from most states were present, and B. B. Mussey of Massachusetts was chosen Moderator; Messrs. Curry of Indiana, and Roberts of New York, as clerks. The occasional sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Williamson of Alabama.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 22.—The Universalist Convention adopted unanimously a series of resolutions against the sins of slavery, intemperance and war. A resolution fully endorsing the Maine Law passed, with but one dissenting voice. A resolution in favor of establishing a Theological Seminary in the State of New York, has also been adopted. Sermons have been preached by the Rev. Messrs. Williamson of Alabama, Brooks of Mass., Maurie of New York, Moore of New Jersey, and Bacon of Penn. The Convention will adjourn this evening after the communion service.

The Cuban Junto of New York have published a letter upon the strictures of the London Times, on Gen. Soule and his mission to Madrid, in which they distinctly avow the hostility to the Cubans to the scheme for purchasing Cuba. They also say that the elements of revolt in the Island are now in readiness, within and without its limits.

MARRIAGE.

Happiness and Competence.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, scarce in the meridian of life broken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (within the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands.

In view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglects to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S

Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundreth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price 50 Cents.

[ON FINE PAPER, EXTRA BINDING, $1 00.]

First published in 1847, and it is not

SURPRIZING OR WONDERFUL,

Considering that EVERY FEMALE, WHETHER MARRIED OR NOT, can here acquire a full knowledge of the nature, character and causes of her complaints, with the various symptoms, and that nearly

should have been sold.

It is impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage, but no female desirous of enjoying health, and that beauty, consequent upon health, which is so conducive to her own happiness, and that of her husband, but either has or will obtain it, as has or will every husband who has the love and affection of his wife at heart, or that of his own pecuniary improvement.

UPWARDS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES

Have been SENT BY MAIL within the last few months.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

BE NOT DEFRAUDED!

Buy no book unless "Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, 129 Liberty Street, N. Y." is on the title page, and the entry in the Clerk's Office on the back of the title-page; and buy only of respectable and honorable dealers, or send by mail, and address to Dr. A. M. Mauriceau, as there are spurious and surreptitious infringements of copy-right.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER!

No excuse for Ignorance, when Ignorance is Misery to those we hold near and dear, and when to dispel our Ignorance is within our reach.

To enable every one to decide upon the indispensable necessity of possessing a copy, and that no wife, or mother need remain uninformed upon the many causes, which, sooner or later, are destined to make fearful ravages not only upon her health, unless guarded against, and that no considerate and affectionate husband have cause to upbraid himself with neglect of the welfare of his wife—a pamphlet of thirty-six pages, containing full Title-page and Index of Contents, together with extracts from the book, will be sent free of charge to any part of the United States, by addressing, post-paid, as herein.

When Knowledge is Happiness, 'tis culpable to be ignorant.

☞ On receipt of One Dollar (for the fine Edition, extra binding,) "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent (mailed free) to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid, and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1224, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty Street, New York.

PROGRESS IN CRIME.—It appears that Chapman, the murderer of Mr. Cozzens, in Sherborn, was up to one year ago—a young man of as good character and as fair prospects as any one in the same rank in life in town. But then he appears to have commenced his downward career in earnest. In the first place he yielded to the solicitations of some young men, and without consulting his nearest and best friends, let himself to tend in the refreshment room at the Depot at S. Nramingham. He soon formed bad associates and became the victim of vice and petty crime. When he found his honest earnings insufficient to answer his demands, he is supposed to have taken money from his employer. For this he was a number of months since dismissed from his service.

From that time he has had no steady employment. He lived a few days only in a place, and has spent much of his time in drunken dissipation. He has been for some time past much addicted to pernicious reading—such as the lowest class of novels, and the details of crime. While the things already noticed here had their influence, it is evident that strong drink has been the leading agent in making him what he is.

Whether he drank any liquor on the evening of the fatal day is not as yet known. He was prepared by his previous short but rapid course in vice for any crime.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL,
AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the NEGATIVE PRINCIPLE, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE, by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting disease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months' attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions, for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments, and to every form of disease. His works, "Views of the New Theory, &c.," "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

Doctor Alfred G. Hall may be consulted by letter, or, person at his rooms, No. 15 Winter St., Boston, from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. ☞ Medicines, &c. forwarded by Express to any part.

PROF. ALEX. C. BARRY'S
Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound.
FOR beautifying, curling, preserving, restoring and strengthening the Hair, relieving diseases of the Skin, curing Rheumatic Pains and healing external wounds. Bounded by no geographical lines, the reputation of Barry's Tricopherous pervades the Union. The sales of the article of late years have increased in a ratio that almost exceeds belief. Prof. Barry, after a careful examination of his sales book, finds that the number of bottles delivered to order, in quantities of from half a gross upward, during the year 1852, was within a trifle of 50,000.

It is unnecessary to present at length the evidences of the wonderful properties of the Tricopherous when the public have furnished such an endorsement as this. The cheapness of the article, and the extraordinary effects of its chemical action upon the hair, the scalp, and in all cases of superficial irritation, first recommended it to the attention of the people. This was all that the inventor desired. Every bottle advertised itself—The effects of the fluid exceeded expectation. It acted like a charm. The ladies would not be without it. Country dealers in every section of the United States found they must have it; and thus was built up a wholesale trade of an extent hitherto unheard of as regards articles of this kind.—The highest point has not yet been reached, and it is believed that the sales this year will be a million and a half of bottles.

DR. CONINE'S
SYRUP OF GINSENG & MALVA.
The Great Chinese Remedy.

THIS Medicine depends more upon its own virtues and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public.

The recipe is from Dr. CONINE, a gentleman who travelled many years in China, and in the islands of that vicinity where this compound is the potent and effectual remedy for the numerous diseases arising from a disordered or debilitated stomach, and

Affections of the Lungs.

But what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing

DISSOLVENT POWER.

By which it at once removes ALL PHLEGM or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore

Anti-Expectorant,

And from attentions of trial here, it is now offered as a NATURAL'S KINDER REMEDY for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs, by precipitating the Phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration.

It is AROMATIC, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilarating qualities of the Tea Plant, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all India beyond the Ganges, where at an

APPETISER

It probably has no equal in the Vegetable Kingdom

AS A DYSPEPTIC REMEDY, IT IS UNEQUALLED.

Its natural, genial warmth keeps the digestive powers ever in proper tone, soothing all irritation of the nerves, &c.

It will prove a more pleasant, safe and effectual Tonic than any Sarsaparilla or other boasted tonic remedy, and even nutritious, as well as exceedingly palatable. It will continue to be prepared in the best manner—no expense being spared—and in quart bottles.

Besides the numberless testimonials which we are receiving daily, of the good effect of the above medicine, we are allowed to refer to several physicians, who are now using the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva with great success.

DR. HAMPTON'S
VEGETABLE TINCTURE!
The Great Restorative and Invigorator of the System.

THIS article, which has made so many wonderful cures, was discovered by DR. JESSE HAMPTON, of Louisville, Ky., now in fine health in the 79th year of his age, and is acknowledged by those who have used it to be the BEST family medicine in use, and is WARRANTED FREE FROM ALL MINERAL SUBSTANCES. By its mild action on the STOMACH, LIVER AND KIDNEYS, it will cure the diseases of those organs, with all chronic complaints, as

Dyspepsy, Cough, Asthma, Bronchial & Lung Affections, Pains in the Back, Side and Breast, Consumption, Scrofula, Fits, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Fistula, Fits, Bowel Complaint, Worms, Nervous Debility,

With all Diseases arising from Impure Blood.

AS a FEMALE MEDICINE it has no equal! It will change the Complexion from a pallid to a blooming one.

Wherever introduced its success is unbounded. It has certificates from Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. R. M. Johnson, Vice President of the United States; Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore; the Spanish Consul; Judge Davis; Lund Washington; from a Chaplain of the U. S. Navy; from the State Department, Washington; from the brother of the Physician to the Emperor of France, who was cured by it after all other remedies had failed; and from hundreds of others, making up an amount of Testimony never before given to any other discovery of Medicine. A trial of it will convince the most skeptical.

We invite the public to call and get Pamphlets and see certificates of Cures. Read the following certificates of undoubted testimony:

From Hon. John H. T. Jerome, Mayor of the City of Baltimore.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Baltimore, Aug. 23, 1852.

I take great pleasure in stating, that I have examined the names of those who have signed certificates respecting Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and among them I recognize gentlemen of the first respectability, viz: Jos. K. Stapleton, William A. Schafer, G. Duuan, and others. I also cheerfully testify to the high standing of the house of Messrs Mortimer & Mowbray, who, for the past twenty years, have enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem both of our merchants and citizens generally.

JNO. H. T. JEROME.

A Voice from the Birth-place of Christopher Columbus, the Discoverer of America.

U. S. SHIP CUMBERLAND, Genoa, Sardinia, January 17, 1853.

Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray—Gentlemen: The first Lieutenant of this ship, who has been suffering many years from the Dyspepsia, and who has been nearly restored to his usual health by the use of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," desires you to send him one dozen bottles of that medicine.

Lieutenant ——, of the U. S. Navy, now on board this ship, also wishes you to send him one dozen of "Hampton's Vegetable Tincture," by the store ship which leaves the United States in February or March, for Spezzia.

The Tincture you sent me was received in good order, and I take pleasure in informing you that it has been used with great success by several of our officers in cases of DYSPEPSIA.

I am respectfully yours,

"A Splendid Remedy."

THE GREAT REMEDY is at last discovered. Consumption can be cured! and Coughs and Colds, the parents of that fell disease that so often brings woe to the homes of our land, vanish, as if by magic, before this SOVEREIGN REMEDY. This is that which has so long been sought for, and is in full faith offered to the public as a certain cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma and Consumption, and will in any case where lungs sufficient are left to sustain life, check the ulceration and raise the patient to health. This is not an idle boast, nor is this remedy sent into the market without a thorough trial, but has proved beyond a doubt that what has been asserted CAN BE DONE.

N. B.—BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS, and observe the following Promissory Note, with the fac simile signature of the proprietor, on every genuine box:

"$100 00 On demand I promise to pay to the bearer FIVE MILLS for value received.

CATHOLIC VIEW OF POLITICS.

The Boston Pilot has an editorial on the State Elections, from which we extract a couple of choice paragraphs.

Most of the States which have hitherto enacted the comedy of elections, since July, have elected men commonly known as democrats. As for the democratic party, no such thing exists. We have had occasion to point out the fact that the whig and democratic party organizations are dead. The old questions which once divided them are no longer talked of. New questions are before the people, and they are such that whigs and democrats do not take sides upon them. These questions are—free trade, abolitionism, manifest destiny—the real issues before the country.—Both the whigs and the democrats are divided upon these,—so much so, that it is not very easy to tell who are for and who are against them. The administration of Gen. Pierce has acted, in those three points, very much as that of Mr. Fillmore acted, or as the once possible one of Gen. Scott would undoubtedly act.

The democratic party, like the whig, did not, last fall, come before the nation with a single principle of action. Any whig might have stood upon the democratic platform. It is now a-days a matter of perfect indifference whether you cast a whig or a democratic vote, —provided the latter be really democratic. There is but one party now in existence—it is the freesoil party. It is young, strong, and united. It means mischief. It has done much, and will do more. It is not strong enough in any State to walk alone, so it unites —in one state with the whigs, in another with the democrats. It always gets the best end of the bargain. It always makes whatever party it coalesces with, its bond slave. The abject slavery of the democrats here in Massachusetts to the freesoil party is beyond parallel.

THE FIRST BOOK PRINTED.—It is a remarkable and most interesting fact, that the very first use to which the discovery of printing was applied, was the production of the Holy Bible. This was accomplished at Mentz, between the years 1450 and 1455.—Guttenburg was the inventor of the art; Faust, a goldsmith, furnished the necessary funds. Had it been a single page, or even an entire sheet, which was then produced, there might have been less occasion to have noticed it; but there was something in the whole character of the affair, which if not unprecedented, rendered it singular in the usual current of human events. This bible was in two folio volumes, which have been justly praised for the strength and beauty of the paper, the exactness of the register, and the lustre of the ink.

The work contained twelve hundred and eighty-two pages, and being the first ever printed, of course involved a long period of time, and an immense amount of mental and mechanical labor; and yet, for a long time after it had been finished and offered for sale, not a single human being, save the artists themselves, knew how it had been accomplished.

Of the first printed Bible, eighteen copies are known to be in existence, four of which are printed on vellum. Two of these are in England, one being on the Greenville collection. One is in the Royal Library of Berlin, and one in the Royal Library of Paris. Out of the fourteen remaining copies, ten are in England, there being one copy in each of the libraries of Oxford, Edinburgh, and London, and seven in the collections of different noblemen. The vellum copy has been sold as high as $1300.

The only copy on this side of the water, is in the library of J. Lenox, of Louisville, Ky., which was bought in London, at auction in 1848, for $2,220. It came to this country free of duty, in consideration of its character, and being so rare a curiosity.

THE MAINE LAW IN ENGLAND.—The Temperance men in England are about to petition their parliament for a prohibitory liquor law. There are 2,527 licensed Brewers in the British Islands, 88,400 persons licensed to sell spirits and wine, and 38,658 licensed to sell beer. In 1851 there were 31,000,000 gallons of spirits consumed in one year, with nearly 6,500,000 gallons of foreign wine. The whole amount thence accruing to the public revenue was over fifteen millions sterling. It will be seen from this statement, that the Temperance men have a formidable opposition to encounter.

LIGHTHOUSES.—Experiments are in progress to test the efficiency of an apparatus, claimed by its inventor, Professor Robert Grant, to posess advantages in some respects superior to any other light. An opportunity will soon be offered for comparing the merits of the new invention with those of the Fresnel light, described in yesterday's paper, as Professor Grant has contracted with the proprietors of the Latting Observatory to illuminate the lantern on the top of that edifice with the new light, termed by him the Calicum Light; while the Fresnel apparatus is on exhibition at the Crystal Palace. The Observatory Lantern will probably be lighted up in the course of next week.

Professor Grant has also contracted with the U. S. Treasury Department, to furnish an apparatus to be tested by the Light House Board, an appropriation of $5,000 having been made by Congress for that purpose.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

FOWL STORIES.—The Hampshire Gazette is responsible for some tough hen stories—one is that Mr. Ira Hamlin of Plainfield, has in his keeping nineteen hens, all of the common kind. From these hens Mr. Hamlin has obtained one thousand nine hundred and eighty-nine eggs since the first of last January, one hen, on an average producing one hundred and five eggs in six months. The other story is of an egg with a handle to it, like an old fashioned flask! The handle is supposed to have been appended for convenience in sucking!

CONSUMPTION OF WINE.—The Home Journal, in answer to the query, "Are we not a wine drinking people?" says, during the first year of the existence of the Metropolitan Hotel, its consumption of wine was nearly seventy thousand bottles! This would only make about two hundred bottles a day, or one to every four patrons of the house.

Benjamin F. Ferris, of Ithica, New York, late Secretary of State of Utah, just returned, reports that not half the degradation of the Mormons has been told; that seditious feelings are rife throughout the community; and in short that both women and men are in a state of deep degradation.

Gen. Almonte, the Mexican Minister, has received information that gold has been discovered on the Rio Mesilla, on the route of the Mexican Ocean Mail Company, and that thousands of Mexicans are flocking there.

A story is going the rounds, of a party of young ladies who were caught in a shower, and had the color washed from theis cheeks.—A lady at our elbow, thinks the color in some of the gentlemen's cheeks will not be washed out with water, at present.

Young Mr. Whitehead, who hung himself on one string in Bridgeport, Conn., was courting a lady who had two strings to her bow.

It is a great pity that a young man with so much soul as he must have had, should hang himself for such a lady as that.

FACTS FROM MAINE.

We presume our readers wish for facts on important subjects, rather than fictions.—Among the statements from Maine, we have just seen one from Rev. W. H. Hadley, minister-at-large in Portland, dated Sept. 6, from which we make the following extracts, interesting, we suppose, alike to dealers, drinkers and total abstinents. They need no comment.

"I am prepared to say, that during my residence here as minister to the poor for the space of four years and five months, there never has been less demand for charity in cases where intemperance has been the cause, than during the past five months.

As to there being "more drinking in Portland than ever,"—this is such a palpable falsehood that it needs no refutation here.

I have embraced every opportunity for a month past, to collect statistics of the former liquor traffic in this city and through the State. My information was not derived from 'rumroods' nor from enthusiastic admirers of the Maine Law. Much of it is received from those who were opposed to it when it went into effect—nearly all from those who have been extensively engaged in the trade or manufacture of the article, and several of whom did not relinquish it till compelled by the statute in question. And what is the result of my researches and inquiries?

First—of distilleries. Of these there were for many years previous to the year 1836, seven in operation, some with two, some with three coppers. One of those with two coppers—by no means the largest or most efficient, was accustomed to turn out 500 gallons a day, regularly, month after month, year after year! One single copper in another establishment was of sufficient capacity to produce 900 gallons a day. Allowing 250 gallons to each copper, and two of the distilleries to have three of these—a calculation below the truth, we have the amount of 4000 gallons per diem, or 1,252,000 gallons a year, to say nothing of Sundays. One man told me that several of these distilleries were accustomed to operate on the first day of the week!

Then, there was a time when 400,000 gallons came through the Custom House in a year. In my hasty note to Mr. Chapin, I supposed this to be when the distilleries were in full operation. There may be a slight error in this calculation. But be it as it may—the most respectable merchants in this city, whose statements are beyond question as to veracity, who have been most extensively engaged in the trade, assure me that the most of their sales were of liquors brought from Boston, New York, &c., not through the Custom House. The language of one of the most intelligent and respectable of these men is, that what came through the Custom House "was but as a drop of a bucket," and he gave it as his cool, deliberate opinion, that not more than one fiftieth part as much liquor is now sold and consumed in this city and throughout this State, as there was twenty and thirty years ago,—when the population of both city and State were not much more than half what it is at present.—Others, equally well qualified to judge, express a similar opinion.

One of our most respectable merchants positively asserts that he has sold four times as much himself in a year, as he has any reason to believe has been sold in the same time here, since the enactment of the law, and at the same time there were nine or ten large wholesale liquor stores in the city, some of which sold much more than he did, to say nothing of what was sent out directly from the distilleries. If there is any necessity for it, I presume these gentlemen will allow me to use their names, but I choose not to do it without their permission. One of them asserts that he seldom if ever sold a bill of goods, in the times alluded to, that was not headed by a hogshead of N. E. Rum; next, a barrel of W. I. Rum, &c., &c. I have made particular inquiries as to whence came the foreign liquors, wines, brandies, gins, rum, &c., and the uniform response has been "they were manufactured chiefly in Boston and New York"—they were "mixed."

Now, admitting what is provable to a demonstration,—that about a million and a quarter of gallons were manufactured here—and what appears to be undoubted—that almost as much more was brought here from abroad, besides what came from the Custom House, which was but a "drop in the bucket," we have the snug little amount of 2 1-2 millions of gallons, when our population was not more than 16 or 17 thousand. We ought to have at least 4 millions now, to make the equal proportion! How is it? Have we really more than 1000 gallons a week brought into this city in coat pockets, flour barrels, and cases in imitation of Bibles? I do not believe it. It is true that there is a little illicitly smuggled in, and that occasionally some of our "promising" young men are "guzzling" it in their rooms. What then? Why, the law has not yet wholly annihilated the use of alcohol, nor corrected the vicious habits of all the slaves of appetite.—But it has closed more than three hundred grogshops—and stopped the open trade entirely. We have not now a drop manufactured here—none comes through the Custom House, and most that is used is secreted in Irish dens. Genteel and fashionable families make use of some wines and liquors,—not a fourth part as much as formerly, and not more than they did three years ago. But, perhaps you or some one may ask if the traffic in liquors did not greatly diminish before the enactment of the law. I will let these wholesale dealers answer—the very men who say that it has diminished forty-nine fiftieths. None of these have put the diminution at more than two-thirds before June, '51; most of them say one-half. Call it two-thirds. Then public opinion and human progress diminished it from its worst state, about 33 parts (or two-thirds), and the Maine Law 16 parts, or sixteen seventeenths at once! This is not derived, I repeat, from the special friends of the Law, but partly from its enemies, and mostly from those who have become its friends by seeing its operation. There are many such among our most influential citizens.

I would no more dispute a man who says that there is more drinking in Portland than ever, than I would dispute one who should say that he had seen Tom Thumb and Goliah standing on a level, and that Tom was head and shoulders higher than Goliah. But I do not claim so much for the Law as my informants allow. I do, indeed, think that the sale and consumption has fallen off 49-50, but I think that the Law has only reduced the amount to about one-tenth on the whole, of what it was three years ago.

I wish to speak of the retail trade as I found it, and as the Law found it, and of its effects, but time will not allow at present.

Finally, [it has been reported that] "I have said I wished the law repealed." Did I say so? when? where? to whom?

I now simply say, that this is an absolute unqualified falsehood. I never said any such thing, NEVER. I would not have that law repealed at this time for all the wealth of this city;—I think I would not to save my own life, without a proper substitute. I have said that I would be willing to have it exchanged for anything better. So I would. Let me know what is better. There may, for aught I know, in the progress of human skill, be something better discovered. It has already been improved; it may be made still better. But it has proved a thousand fold better than all its predecessors in the character of legal enactments. It is growing daily more and more in favor with our people. I thought I knew of one man who was once in favor of it who is now opposed to it, but he declares that he was always thoroughly opposed to it, and so I do not know of one who has changed his opinion against it, but of hundreds who were opposed or distrustful, who are now its ardent supporters.

We wish Mr. Hadley would procure and publish the Police, Criminal, and Pauper statistics of Portland, for the year ending last March—and those to this time, if he can.

RAILROADS TO THE PACIFIC.

Public convenience calls for one Railroad from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Adventurers, speculators, and politicians, clamor for four such roads. No one man calls for all the the four; but all the four are called for by different men, in different parts of the country.

If all the outside pressure, which is now divided among the four routes, was concentrated in favor of one, and made to bear on any party in power at Washington, the scheme must prevail, and would break down any administration which opposed it.

It is quite possible, however, as the case stands, that the different routes proposed, may form as many parties, and while they complicate the existing political parties still more, may also postpone the completion of any one, for a number of years.

The State of Maine thus describes the four routes:

1. The Southern route, running from some point near the western boundary of Louisiana, through the northern counties of Texas, to a point near El Paso, and thence by the most feasible course to the port of San Diego.

2. The Middle Route, from the western bank of the Mississippi river opposit, Memphis, through Arkansas and along the valley of the Kansas, to a pass in the mountains near El Passo, or further north near Alberquerque, and thence by some to be surveyed route to San Francisco.

3. From St. Louis, by what is known as the Ram's Horn Route of Col. Benton, (from its tortuous course through the southern counties of Missouri,) to Taos, in New Mexico; or by some other more direct route through the mountains, and thence to San Francisco.

4. The Northern Route, running from the terminus of the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada, opposite Detroit, through Michigan, the northern part of Illinois, and the southern part of Iowa, to Council Bluff; and thence along the valley of the Platte, through the mountains to the shore of the Pacific, at San Francisco, or the mouth of the Columbia river, only on an embankment of the line to both points as may be found best.

Our opinion is rather in favor of Col. Benton's route than any other, as at present advised.

'L'ONCLE TOM'.—This title of Uncle Tom, Frenchified, is to be seen on some pretty good pictures in Mr Foster's Bookstore window. All the world knows, and the rest of mankind are hereby informed, that Uncle Tom's authoress, Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, reached New York, last Sunday week, in the Steamer Arctic. A few days before her leaving England, at a Grand Levee in the city of Leeds, at which the Mayor of the city presided, a member of Parliament presented her with a Silver Fruit Basket, containing one hundred Sovereigns, "from as many readers of Uncle Tom." She will probably get more than one growl for every sovereign, from sundry presses in this country, whose vocation seems to be that of the Bandog, growling at his betters.

BLOOMERS & BROOMERS.—The New York Journal of Commerce calls the long dresses so much in vogue, "broomers," and suggests that the dust they create in sweeping Broadway, should be allayed by a plan recommended by Punch—having a boy with a watering pot for every two ladies.

The name Broomer is quite appropriate for a most inelegant and sluttish fashion of walking dresses. For a carpeted parlor a trailing skirt is not ungraceful. In a dirty street it is absurd.

PLEAD GUILTY.—In the city of New York, among the one thousand indictments for selling liquors without license, one hundred and seventy-four of those indicted having been arraigned in the Court of General Sessions, have pleaded guilty.
